

A dark yellow dog came to J. C. Struble's residence on the old H. M. Meek farm several weeks ago. The dog is evidently lost and the owner is requested to come after him.

D. A. Grove circulated among the farmers of this section this week buying a car load of dollar wheat and a car load of horses for the eastern market.

One night last week the beautiful old home of D. G. Meek at Fairbrook came very near going up in flames. Frank Fry is the tenant and fortunately was sleeping in the northeast bed room. Soon after retiring Mrs. Fry noticing the smell of smoke, got up to investigate and discovered the mantle and all of the wood-work back of the stove in the kitchen in a blaze. The immediate application of plenty of water prevented the fire from doing any more damage and it was most fortunate that it was discovered when it was for the house would surely have been destroyed. It was built more than fifty years ago by George W. Meek and is one of the most substantial and comfortable houses in the valley in addition to the sentiment that is connected with it. D. G. Meek has most of his furniture stored there pending the completion of his new home at State College, and of course Mr. Fry would have lost his household belongings too.

HARVEY B. YARNELL.—Another old veteran has answered to the last roll call and on Saturday at 11 o'clock Harvey R. Yarnell peacefully passed away at his home near Bloomersd after week's illness of heart trouble and dropsy. He was aged 67 years, 6 months and 26 days. He served in the war of the rebellion as a member of Co. H, 7th Penna. regiment. He was a member of the Pine Grove Presbyterian church, a member of Captain J. O. Campbell G. A. R. post and a stalwart Republican. He is survived by his second wife, who was Jennie Condo, and to whom he was married last February, five of his six sons, James, Grant, Griffie, Elmer and William. Boyd was bush whacked in the far west a few years ago and his three daughters Annie, Virginia and Mrs. Benjamin Corl.

Interment was made in the Branch cemetery on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. His pastor Rev. Walter Harnish officiating with Revs. A. A. Black and C. T. Aikens present. His comrades had charge of the services at the grave.

A MID-WINTER WEDDING.—On Thursday, the 18th, the home of J. W. Sunday in the Glades was beautifully decorated for the occasion of the marriage of his daughter Elizabeth, and Mr. John E. McWilliams, of Fairbrook. Just at 12 o'clock Mrs. M. J. Watt began the wedding march which was a signal for the appearance of the wedding party. Rev. Edgar Heckman, of the Methodist Episcopal church, pronounced the ceremony and the bride and groom were attended by Miss Sadie Keichline, as maid of honor, and Mr. Harry Sunday, a brother of the bride, as best man. There were thirty-five guests present and the wedding breakfast served was a veritable feast.

Amid a copious shower of rice and old shoes the young people departed on the afternoon train for Lancaster where the honeymoon is to be spent. They are both well known throughout the valley and they begin their married life with the most auspicious promises. The groom is a son of G. W. McWilliams and is one of our energetic young farmers. He is well able to supply his wife with the comforts of life and she is fully capable of doing her part to make their home one of peace and happiness. After the 1st of April they will occupy the D. G. Meek residence at Fairbrook.

MARCH ST. NICHOLAS NOTES.—"A Tale of the Cannibal Islands," told by Herbert Baird Stimson in the March St. Nicholas, is a true story and relates an experience of the writer's father, the late William Stimson, who at the time was a naturalist to the North Pacific Exploring Expedition, and who was later a member of the Academy of Natural Sciences.

Spring Mills.

W. P. Alexander of Allison's flouring mill, has been on the sick list for several days.

Homer Zerby, quite an active young man who has assisted in the postoffice here since last summer, has in a manner, retired from the department.

Hall Hering in driving over the railroad track on Saturday last with a sled load of poles, stuck fast, and seeing the east bound train coming down the road, he hastily unhitched his team, and he had no sooner done so, when the train struck the sled scattering the poles in all directions, of course smashing the sled and damaging one of the coaches. It might have been a very serious wreck.

Spring Mills castle K. G. E. held their annual banquet in their spacious hall on Saturday evening last, and it proved a very elegant and delightful entertainment. The hall was brilliantly illuminated, giving the interior decorations a beautiful and attractive appearance. The tables were artistically arranged and set with exquisite taste and judgment, evidently the work of skillful and able hands. All the tables were furnished with choice dainties and eatables of a substantial and inviting character. It was a feast fit for the gods.

During the evening Prof. Ward Gramley, of the Boalsburg Academy, and J. A. Grenoble Esq., of our village delivered short and lively addresses. The sparkling dialogue entitled "The Reason Why" between Lula and Maud, daughters of W. P. Alexander, was rendered in a very pleasing and creditable manner. The "Spelling Bee" with the versatile John Smith as pedagogue, was a very amusing school scene, and was received with shouts of laughter. The music and singing was of a high order of excellence. Misses May Smith and Ida Condo, two of our handsome and accomplished young ladies, sang several pieces in a very charming manner. Owing to the indisposition of Mrs. Maggie Ruhl, several popular songs were necessarily omitted. C. C. Barges, quite an expert musician, played and sang a number of pieces in his usual inimitable style. The Arabian clan, arrayed in costumes of a grotesque character, paraded around the hall creating considerable merriment. The "Arabian" is an old degree, and is frequently enacted for amusement during the session of the castle. The weather on Saturday evening was clear and cold, and about two hundred were present, quite a number from a distance. Towards midnight all retired to their respective homes, expressing themselves as having been very agreeable and delightfully entertained by the members of Spring Mills castle, No. 169, Knights of the Golden Eagle.

Spring Mills castle is in a highly flourishing condition, is numerically and financially strong, and among its members are some of our most intelligent and influential citizens.

Lemont.

Al Knoff, after spending a few weeks in the lumber woods, has returned home.

Mrs. John Weaver, is improving slowly and it is hoped will soon be well again.

Mrs. John R. Williams has been on the sick list this week, but is slowly improving.

Mrs. William Karstetter and family, of Boalsburg, Sundayed at the home of M. A. Williams.

Ralph Lowder departed for Tyrone, Monday evening, where he is employed in the telegraph office.

Many persons in and around this town are suffering with pink-eye and many others with severe colds.

William S. Williams, a young man who has gone from this town to Phillipsburg to work for Platt-Barber & Co., is reported quite ill.

Jared Mayes, a bustling young marble dealer from this town, intends locating at Allentown this spring and it is hoped that he will make a success of his venture.

E. K. Smith made a trip to Philadelphia the forepart of last week to close a contract, with the Home Correspondence School, of Springfield, Mass., as agent for this part of the State.

Notwithstanding the cold weather the election was very well attended, so much so that the election board had to call on the commissioners for more tickets as the supply sent would not hold out.

Jacob Houtz, who has been very ill for some time past, is not much better at this writing and by the nature of his disease it is feared that he will be no better as he is suffering with heart disease and dropsy.

Your correspondent, sent for the U. S. map that was advertised in the WATCHMAN a week or two ago, and your advertisement did not recommend more than can be expected for the map is worth many times the amount asked for it and if anyone wishes to be convinced they can call and see the copy in my home.
