THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

—“Hearts Courageous” begins in this issue.

—Daniel Switzer and Wm. Evey are ill at their homes at Prosserville.

—J. H. Roush has moved from Spring Mills back to his old haunts about Madisonburg.

—Last evening the co-workers of the Lutheran church gave an oyster supper at Hazel's restaurant on Bishop street.

—Rev. W. K. Shultz will conduct a series of meetings in the United Evangelical church of Milesburg, beginning March 21st.

—Miss Grace D. Mitchell was one of the five out of town winners in the Philadelphia Press county puzzle contest last Sunday.

—Robert Barnhart, flagman on the Lewisburg freight, fell while turning a switch on Tuesday afternoon and broke his right arm.

—From the appearance of the streets here on Monday and Tuesday one would have thought that winter had set in earlier than usual this fall.

—George Rider and his family have moved to Scottsdale where Mr. Rider has been contracting at his trade as a mason for some time.

—Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Hiller had a little girl born to them in Philadelphia on Wednesday. Bellefonte friends offer congratulations.

—J. H. Lingle, who has been quite ill at his home on Linn street for several weeks, is able to be up and about the house a little each day now.

—Chief burgess W. Harrison Walker entertained the members of town council, the solicitor and clerk, at a dinner at his home on east Linn street on Thursday evening.

—Remember, if you intend reading the strong story, “Hearts Courageous,” which will run in the WATCHMAN for the next twelve weeks, it begins in this issue.

—The ladies of the Lutheran church will hold a bazaar and give a supper in Petriken hall Thursday, April 5th. A great variety of useful and beautiful articles will be sold.

—D. G. Stewart and Thos. Beaver have been elected to the board of governors of the Nittany country club to take the place of Robert Morris and the late John M. Dale.

—Joseph Smith, Samuel Smith, Charles Hardisty, Lewis Borden and Walter Skull, all glass workers of this place, left for Washington, Pa. last week to work in a factory there.

—On Monday the superior court sustained the verdict of the court of Centre county in the case of Mary S. Thomas vs. Burdine Butler. It was an appeal carried up by Mr. Butler, the defendant.

—Anna Keichline gave a masquerade party at her home on east Bishop street on Saturday evening. They say there were guests present from every place between the South Sea islands and Alaska.

—A car load of horses arrived in this place on Tuesday and were taken to Baum's stable to be fed and watered. They were taken on to Millburg Wednesday morning and sold there that day.

—Edward McCloskey, of Prosserville, took Horace Greely's advice and went west the latter part of last week. Word received at his home is to the effect that he is getting along nicely.

—Subscribers who may contemplate moving and will want the address on their paper changed should remember to send their old address, as well as their new one, when writing to have the change made.

—S. J. McClintick, of Potters Mills, writes: “I see my subscription has expired so enclose one dollar for renewal for another year.” Would that a lot more of our subscribers had good eyesight like Mr. McClintick.

—Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Troupe are “It” over on south Thomas street just now. The Parkers have had their sway for too long. The Troupes have a dear little girl, too, and naturally enough grandma Bell sides with them in thinking it the oddest one.

—Mrs. Farish's singing class is preparing to sing the comic opera Pinafore at some time in the spring. Miss Bradley's class is at work on an oratorio which she intends conducting some time soon, so that there are several musical attractions of considerable pretense to look forward to.

—The Bellefonte athletic club basketball team went to Altoona to play the three A team of that city Monday evening and were defeated by the score of 23 to 15. The first half ended 6 to 6. When the Altoona players were here last week our boys won; making it a game a piece. Now for the rubber.

—The fourth game of the basketball series between the Bellefonte Athletic club and the Academy teams was by far the hottest ever played in the armory. Up to almost the last moment of the play the Academy was leading by a narrow margin and excitement ran high, when the Athletic club boys made a final rally and turned defeat into a victory by the score of 25 to 22.

SMALL-POX ABOUT BELLEFONTE.—It will be a matter of considerable surprise to our readers to learn that small-pox is increasing alarmingly in the vicinity of Bellefonte and unless radical steps are taken at once there is no telling where it will end, not to speak of the far greater infection that will certainly follow next winter unless every attention is paid to vaccination and fumigation.

In the “Big Hollow,” in Benner township, there are many cases and all the result of the school, some say; while others trace it directly to a young woman who had visited in Howard.

Six members of the family of John P. Isler, have had it already. Wm. Isler, who lives on an adjoining farm, has it now; Arthur Morris' family and Reuben Brown's family are infected. While the disease is only mild and was at first thought to be chicken-pox, which was prevalent in that vicinity some time ago yet in some instances it might develop into the most malignant and dangerous type, as was Mrs. Bible's case at Oak Hall recently.

Right out on the hill south of town the five out of town winners in the Philadelphia Press county puzzle contest last Sunday.

The time has come when everyone should be as careful as possible.

Co. B INSPECTED.—The annual spring inspection of Co. B, N. G. P. in the armory Tuesday night proved quite a function. The big drill hall was crowded with spectators and the Coleville band was there to add something a little more harmonious to the music than the usual martial band.

Capt. Taylor's company lined up with fifty-five men and three officers, only two having been absent and he it said to their credit that besides excellent drilling in all the formations their equipment was in such shape that the only flaw that was found was a small button off a khaki uniform in one of the lockers.

Some time ago an N. G. P. officer who was here, unofficially, and happened to see Co. B manuevering and drilling said to a WATCHMAN representative, “Well, that is about the best drilled and best handled company I know of in the Guard,” so the fact that the boys showed up so well at inspection was not so much of a surprise.

Major Samuel W. Jeffries, of the Second Brigade N. G. P. and Capt. Peter C. Harris, of the United States army, were the inspecting officers. They were assisted by Col. Rufus C. Elder, of the 5th Regt., Capt. William Simpson, Company H, 12th Regt., and Lieutenant and assistant surgeon R. G. H. Hayes, of the 5th Regt.

It is rumored that the guard will be taken to St. Louis on an eight days trip in July.

A REMARKABLE ACCIDENT.—Frank Harris who lives up about Matternville, met with an accident last Thursday that was more thrilling than disastrous, though he and a team of horses might very readily have been killed. He was crossing the mountain toward Martha Furnace with a load of produce. It was made up of applebutter in crocks, eggs in crates, apples in bags and such other articles as a farmer has to sell. He had roughed his wagon to go down the mountain and was getting along all right until he struck a very icy place and the front carriage slid over the side of the road. Horses, wagon, produce and all went sliding down over the ice and rocks until finally they lodged against something that stopped their flight. Harris was quite badly bruised and cut up. In fact it was about all he could do to get down the mountain for help. The men who went up to save the team found the one horse standing up, the other down and almost choked to death.

Surprising as it may seem only a little of the applebutter was spilled and about two dozen of the eggs broken, notwithstanding the wagon was broken in two.

ACADEMY RE-ENGAGES TEACHERS.—It will be very interesting news to all friends and patrons of the Academy to learn that Prof. James R. Hughes has succeeded in engaging all of his present strong and successful corps of teachers for another year. The Academy teachers won a triumph this year when they took in charge a student from a distance who had failed to enter The Penna. State College in September, and not only enabled him to make up his preparatory work, but prepared him in the Freshman year studies for the February examinations so successfully that he went to State and passed all the examinations with not a grade lower than “B” and with several “A's”. Now he is a Freshman high standing. Such facts as these speak volumes for the kind of work our Academy can do and is doing.

FELL AND BROKE HIS NECK.—Steve Squire, a young Hungarian who had been in this country only five months, fell through a 15ft. trestle at the Bellefonte furnace, on Monday morning, breaking his neck and dying instantly.

He was just 20 years old and was said to have been a very worthy young man. He was supporting a widowed mother in Austria.

Mass was said for him in St. John's Catholic church Tuesday morning and interment was made that afternoon.

Mrs. Hettie Gramley 88, Mrs. Susan Shottrecker 86 and former judge Samuel Frank 83, are a trio of remarkable old people who live in Rebersburg; apparently as young as some people of 40.

The Howard Creamery Co. offices are to be moved to the second floor of Temple court on April 1st.

—There is said to be a scarcity of houses in Phillipsburg.

—Senator and Mrs. J. Henry Cochran departed on last Thursday for a trip in the Mediterranean. They sailed from Boston on the White Star liner Canopic.

—The Wilson-Fry concert company will appear in Petriken hall on Friday evening, April 1st. The concert will be for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A.

—The Salvation Army had competition in the street services on Tuesday night in a trio of Gospel Workers from Williamsport who were here selling charts and calendars for a few days.

—Dr. R. Armstrong, of Lock Haven, was given a banquet at the Fallon house in that place on Friday evening. It was his anniversary of fifty years in the profession.

—The Lutheran Sunday school has in preparation a unique and attractive entertainment for Easter Monday night, to be given in the church. It is the first Easter, the resurrection scene. It will be of unusual attraction, biblical and impressive.

—Two foreigners, Andrew Brown and Michael Smith, working in the clay mines at Monument, suffered some bad injuries on Friday because a car they were riding down an incline got away from them and collided with an engine that was standing at the bottom of the incline.

—The new public library which Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Boal are to present to the Harris township schools will be known as the George Jack Boal library, after the donor's father. He purchased the old Methodist church and will fit it up as a modern library for the use of the people of that community.

—John Rodgers, a son of Samuel Rodgers, of Phillipsburg, died at their home in that place on Saturday morning, at the age of 30 years, 2 months and 10 days. His death was caused by hemorrhages from the stomach which followed an illness of only a few hours' duration. Interment was made from his late home on Tuesday afternoon.

—The commissioners of Clinton county have offered a reward of $250.00 for the arrest of Sherman Jamison, the man who shot and killed constable Deegan near Keating about two weeks ago. The action is a little late to stimulate as much activity in the hunt as would have been the case had it been made before he had so much start of would-be captors.

—Mr. W. M. Mellick, the proprietor of the city pharmacy in Phillipsburg, was married to Miss Caroline Kessler in that place on Saturday evening. Owing to the very serious illness of the bride at the time the ceremony was not attended with the gaiety that otherwise would have celebrated the wedding of two as popular persons over there as Mr. and Mrs. Mellick are.

—Blanchard & Blanchard have just scored a victory in the Superior court in the case of J. L. Kreamer vs. William Vonada. It was an action in ejectment and involved some valuable timber land in the vicinity of Woodward and was lost by Wm. Vonada in the courts here. Upon being carried to the Superior court, however, Judge Love was reversed and a finding ordered for Mr. Vonada.

—The ladies auxiliary of the Bellefonte hospital are contemplating having a progressive euchre party in the armory some time soon. If they do we would suggest that they offer a free operation for appendicitis for the first prize and saw the right arm off the booty without cost. With such premiums to go after the ladies would not be as keen to win as they usually are.

—The eldest son of the Rev. G. P. Sarris, formerly pastor in charge of the Pleasant Gap Methodist charge, figured in a double elopement at Altoona last week. In company with another young man and two young ladies he went to Philadelphia and was married by a magistrate in that city. The young lady Mr. Sarris had selected for his bride being a Catholic there was objection to their marriage and they took this way to circumvent the objection.

—Tonight the fifth game of the silver cup series of basketball games between the Bellefonte Athletic club and Academy teams will be played in the armory. Should the former win it will make four out of the seven games and give them the cup, so it may be inferred that the Academy boys will not let them win it if it is at all possible to prevent it. The games have all been very interesting and have attracted good crowds. You should go down tonight, as this will likely be the hottest game played.

—The Rev. Wm. Brown, who for the past three years has been the very efficient pastor of the United Evangelical church in this place, has been assigned to and on Sunday evening delivered his farewell sermon to the congregation here. During his pastorate the church property has been very materially improved and the strength of the congregation augmented so that his resignation is a matter of much regret here, for besides being a conscientious, indefatigable christian worker he is a very pleasant, wide-awake citizen. Rev. W. B. Cox, of York, will succeed Rev. Brown. We welcome him and hope that his fruits may be even greater than those of his predecessor.

JOHN GOODHART.—John Goodhart, a son of the late William Goodhart, of Penna valley, died at his home at Crescent, Pa., very unexpectedly on Monday morning. He was an engineer on the Cambria and Clearfield division of the P. R. R. and was supposed to be in his usual good health when a sudden attack of neuralgia of the heart caused his death.

The body was taken to the home of his mother in Spring Mills, where the Rev. Schuyler, of the Presbyterian church, conducted funeral services on Wednesday afternoon and interment was made in the Union cemetery. He is survived by his mother, his brothers, William L., of Cleveland, Ohio; Robert, of Altoona; Samuel, and Frank, at home, and his sisters, Myra and Margaret, matrons of the Bellefonte hospital, and Mrs. Edward Foreman, of Youngstown, Ohio.

MARY HALDERMAN.—Mary J., the daughter of the late Alfred and Clara Halderman, died at the home of her grandparents at Lemont on Saturday evening, of consumption, with which she had suffered most of the winter.

Deceased was a very promising young girl of 12 years, 7 months and 9 days. She was of a christian character in whom was centered the affection of a large circle of friends. Surviving her are her grand parents, her brother Frank and her sister Maude. Interment was made on Tuesday morning, after Rev. Heckman, of the Methodist church, of which she was a member, had conducted services.

MRS. IRVIN LEICHTY.—Annie, wife of Irvin Leichty, died at their home at Mackeyville, on Monday, at noon, at the age of 41 years. Though she had not been in good health for several years her condition did not become real serious until about three months ago since which time her suffering had been intense. Surviving her are her husband, three sons and one daughter, among the former being John, who is employed at the Lingle foundry in this place.

Rev. Brown, of the Reformed church, of which she was a devoted member, officiated at her funeral at Mackeyville yesterday morning.

MRS. MARGARET MCKINNEY.—Aged Mrs. Margaret McKinney, relict of Andrew McKinney, passed away at her home along the mountain near Pleasant View, on Tuesday afternoon. She had had a stroke of paralysis and had been a partial invalid for nearly two years.

Mrs. McKinney was born in Donegal, Ireland, 95 years ago and came to this country with her husband in 1851. Mass will be celebrated in St. John's Catholic church this morning at 10 o'clock and interment will be made in St. John's cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM EARNSHAW.—Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson Earnshaw, widow of Rev. William Earnshaw, is dead at her home in Dayton, O. Mrs. Earnshaw was born and raised at Warriors-mark, but for years had resided in Dayton, where her husband was chaplain of the Soldier's home. She was a sister of the late A. C. Hutchinson and Mrs. Samuel T. Gray and is survived by several children as well as a number of relatives in Half-moon valley.

FRANK BOAL.—After a long illness with paralysis that had effected his limbs Frank Boal died at his home at State College on Tuesday of last week; the direct cause having been dropsy that developed recently.

Deceased was born at Pleasant Gap, in October, 1862. He had been employed about the College until about two years ago, when he suffered the stroke that incapacitated him for further work.

He is survived by a widow and two children. Interment was made at Houserville last Thursday afternoon.

—Michael E. Hess died at his home in Knox, Clarion county, on the 23rd ult., at the age of 77 years. In 1898 he was married to Miss R. Emeline Jordan, of Aaronsburg, this county. He was a leading business man of that community.

—Mrs. Mary A. Lee died at noon on Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. P. Rynder, in Erie. She was formerly a resident of Milesburg. Her body was taken to Tyrone for interment yesterday.

—The remains of Amos Colby were taken to their former home at Coburn yesterday for interment. He had died at the age of 78 years, at the home of E. C. Harter, in Lewistown, on Tuesday.

—Five members of the family of W. N. Auman, of Millheim, are ill with typhoid fever.

—F. G. Hosterman has retired from the lumber business in West Virginia and returned with his family to live in Coburn.

—There will be a lot of big sales next week. Henry Sampel will have his on the Shugert farm at Pleasant Gap on the 24th and Isaac Tressler's, in Harris township, 1 mile west of Linden Hall, will be held March 25th. Of course there will be many others, but these two will be worth your particular attention if you are looking for bargains.

—The Episcopalians of Clearfield have called Rev. Auman, of White Haven, to the rectorship of that parish, and the call has been accepted. Rev. Auman is a son of John Auman, of Millheim, and a grandson of Rev. Tobias, a former minister of Rebersburg.

News Purely Personal.

—James L. Gilliland, of Oak Hall, was in town on Monday on business.

—Frank Deratine came down from Altoona on Sunday to spend the day at his home here.

—Ollie Campbell came over from Clearfield on Saturday to spend Sunday with his family here.

—Miss Mary Brown, of Lock Haven, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Kyle McFarlane, in this place.

—Paul Holloway came down from Altoona to spend Sunday with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Holloway.

—Mr. and Mrs. Boyd B. Wilson, of this place, spent Sunday at Mrs. Wilson's former home at Beech Creek.

—Mrs. T. Clayton Brown, of Philadelphia, is here for a visit of three weeks with her parents and other relatives.

—Miss Linnie Benner left for Yonkers, N. Y., on Friday, to spend a few weeks with her niece, Mrs. H. S. Cooper.

—William Keichline, of Altoona, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Keichline, of Willowbank street.

—C. Bruce Garman went down to Philadelphia on Tuesday to accompany Mrs. Garman home from a hospital in that city.

—James A. Shook arrived home from Albright college at Meyers town, on Friday evening, to spend his spring vacation.

—Mrs. Leida Snyder and her daughter Leidazell, of Moscow Mills, Md., are visiting at the Stewart home on west Linn street.

—Lieut. P. F. Garbrick, who has been working in a glass factory at Jeannette, came home on Saturday with an incipient attack of malaria.

—Mrs. Louis Grauer and her little son Edward went to Philadelphia yesterday for a visit with their relatives, the Lichten and Gordon families.

—Miss Edna Williams departed for Buffalo, N. Y., on Wednesday; expecting to make her home with her grandmother and an aunt who reside there.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Porter Lyon, with Deborah and George Porter, arrived at the Mitchell home in this place, for a week's visit last Thursday.

—Read master Thomas Hishel of the B. C. R. R., entered his mother, his brother and the latter's wife over Sunday at his home in this place.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hunt, of Renovo, with their little daughter, arrived in town on Wednesday evening for a visit of a few days at grandfather Woodring's.

—Rev. J. Victor Royer, of the Allegheny district of the Methodist church, arrived in town Monday to be here for the inspection of Co. B on Tuesday evening.

—Miss Ellen Downing, of Downingtown, who had been a guest of her sister, Mrs. Jacob D. Valentine in this place for a few weeks, returned to her home on Friday.

—J. C. Mullinger, of Pleasant Gap, was in town looking around on Wednesday, and, by the way, John is looking just a little better than we have seen him for some time.

—Dr. George Green, of Lock Haven, came up on Saturday to spend Sunday with Mrs. Green who had been in town for a few days because of her brother Fred's presence here.

—D. F. Poorman, of Runville, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday; having come down to look after a few matters of business and, incidentally, to do a good turn for the printer.

—Just before the closing hour Saturday evening Robert A. Miller, of State College, dropped in a few moments chat. Mr. Miller expects to move to Oak Hall about April 1st.

—John Carner, who lives up the Run and reads the WATCHMAN in peace and contentment at his home, was in town on Saturday and added the New York World to his list of papers.

—David Bohn, of Boolsburg, was in town on Saturday and made the printer's heart glad with a nice contribution to the special fund that has been growing so nicely during the past few weeks.

—Chas. Larimer, who had been at his home in this place for several months following an operation for appendicitis, left for Clearfield on Monday to resume his work for the new local telephone over there.

—Misses Lyde and Mary Thomas, who had spent most of the winter here because of the illness of Mrs. Isaac Mitchell returned to their respective homes in Downingtown and Philadelphia on Friday.

—James R. Hughes, of the Academy, and Geo. R. Meek are in Philadelphia on a business trip. They went yesterday noon and the former will visit his sisters in Baltimore and Washington before returning home.

—Dr. Edward H. Harris, of Butler, spent Monday night with his parents in this place. He was on his way back from Philadelphia to which city he and Mrs. Harris had been called by the very unexpected death of Mrs. Harris' father.

—Bellefonte will be sorry to lose the family of William Parks, but their goals are already on the way to Beaver Falls and just as soon as they arrive there, Mrs. Parks and her sons, John and Fred will go out to make the new home which we hope will be a pleasant one in that city.

—Mrs. Joseph Haynes, of Phillipsburg, spent Monday night with old friends in this place. She was on her way to visit her sister in Williamsport. While Mrs. Haynes will be remembered by our older residents only she is a remarkably young looking woman. She is a sister of Henry Stone, who in his day, was one of the best known fellows about town.

—Mr. and Mrs. William P. Smith and their little daughter arrived in town Wednesday evening from Wellsboro to visit their relatives here and at Unionville. Their stay is rather indefinite, as Will has disposed of his studio at Wellsboro and has been so successful financially that it behooves him to wait the finding of a desirable location.

—Adam Bucher, the Altoona contractor and builder, who still has pleasant memories of his old home in Centre county and keeps in touch with his many friends here, wrote the other day to put two years between the WATCHMAN and the catching up place. George E. Bridges, of Jersey Shore, another former Centre county, also wrote to have his paper continued.

—Col. Austin Curtin, who is treasurer, and Gen. John I. Curtin, of the 4th Pennsylvania, who is one of the committee of the five commands engaged in that historic battle, left for Vicksburg, Tennessee, on Monday morning, to join the battle commission of Pennsylvania, of which they are members. During the itinerary the commission will visit Chattanooga, Look-out Mountain, and Knoxville.

—Mrs. John D. Hall and her daughter, Miss May, went to Lock Haven Monday afternoon to spend a day with relatives before going on to Sunbury, where the family are visiting Mrs. Hall's sister this week. On Monday, the 21st, they leave for Atlantic City, where they have leased a very comfortable house, number 115 South Carolina avenue, and will make it their home for the summer at least. Mr. and Mrs. Hall have been residents of Bellefonte for the past ten years and the closing of their home here, of course, means eventually the removal of the entire family, although Mr. Hall still avers that he intends to stay with the C. R. R. Their going is a distinct loss to the community and while we wish them every success in their new undertaking—the success is assured, for they are capable, most energetic and excellent managers—yet had far more need of them here than in New Jersey.

THE Y. M. C. A. NEW BUILDING.—The plans and specifications for the additions and improvements to be made on the Y. M. C. A. have arrived and are in the hands of the contractors who will have their bids ready by next Wednesday.

On the evening of that day there will be a joint meeting of the trustees and board of directors to consider the bids and decide what shall be done.

State secretary Bard will be present at this meeting and will spend a few days, following this in town helping the board complete the canvass which was dropped when it was learned that the association would not be able to get full possession of its property until this spring.

ZERO WEATHER.—Although the ground-hog's reign expired on Tuesday the little tyrant evidently decided to give us a few more days of his weather for good measure. There has been no cessation of the cold this week except just at mid-day when the sun shone, and even then the breezes were very wintry. Yesterday morning J. D. Brown, of Loganton, telephoned that the thermometer there registered only 8 degrees above zero while at Tea springs at the eastern end of Sugar valley it got down to zero.

—These are anxious days for Methodist ministers. Conference is only a few days distant, and all the important question of where each will be stationed is uppermost in every mind. There are desirable and undesirable charges, and the presiding elders and bishop will have many a trying hour in locating pastors in churches to the satisfaction of both parties. The war in the east is a trifling question in many a Methodist household as compared to the query, “What will the conference do?”

—The proudest man in town this week was C. M. Parrish and it was entirely unnecessary to ask the reason after seeing the windows of his drug store on Tuesday morning. They were fairly covered with numerous and conspicuous notices done in white paint of “Me and My Son.” The junior member of the firm is a fine, little fellow of twelve pounds, and we are not surprised that “Buz” is elated.

—The Nelson-Fry concert company will appear in Petriken hall Friday evening April 1st, for the benefit of the furniture fund of the Y. M. C. A.
