THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

—Are you reading "Hearts Courageous?" It is a fine continued story running in this paper.

—The Bellefonte shirt factory is to be enlarged so that more machinery and more hands can be put to work.

—Alex McConnell has renounced his allegiance to England and became an American citizen.

—Dr. Edith Sebald has moved her office and residence from east Linn street into her own house on north Thomas street.

—The Lock Haven Normal basket ball team defeated the State College Reserves, on Friday night, by the score of 16 to 9.

—William Bilger, of Pleasant Gap, is rebuilding the county bridge over Bald Eagle at Unionville. The bridge was washed out on the last flood.

—The moving picture show is moving this way. Keep it in mind, you people who make it a rule never to go to the "op'ry" except to see Uncle Tom's Cabin or a moving picture show.

—Judge Love has consented to be present and address the gathering at Mann's school house, Curtin township, on the occasion of the extraordinary celebration of Arbor day there, on April 8th.

—Green's pharmacy is advertising Red Cedar Flakes just now, because it is house-cleaning time, when good housekeepers are looking for moth. And, by the way, Red Cedar Flakes are a very effective preventive.

—The industrial chemists of The Pennsylvania State College ate away this week inspecting various plants in Pittsburg, Buffalo and other cities in which work in which they expect to be engaged some day is done.

—A reception was given in the Methodist Episcopal church last evening by the members of the Epworth League for Rev. John A. Wood, who is just home from conference, and the new members of the church.

—Dr. A. W. Hafer has moved his dental parlors from the rooms over the Post-Hoy hardware store to the rooms over F. C. Richards' Sons' jewelry store, where he is surrounded with every modern improvement for comfort and convenience.

—Steve Langer, an Austrian, died in the Altoona hospital on Wednesday and will be buried from St. John's Catholic church this morning at 10 o'clock. The Coleville band will lead the funeral procession to the church and cemetery.

—In a play that will surpass in wit and humor the successful production of last year the Thespians of State College will present "A Troublesome House" at Garman's on Monday night, April 9th, under the patronage of Bellefonte chapter D. A. R. Tickets can be secured from any of the ladies of the chapter.

—The Breach of Promise Suit advertised to be tried in Pine Grove mills, April 8th, has been postponed for the present, as the defendant has found it difficult to get suitable witnesses represent him and feels that he must be strongly equipped with the best legal defense possible. The date for this interesting suit will be announced later.

—Easter services in the Lutheran church will be of special interest. Preparatory services will be held on Good Friday evening. The Holy Communion will be administered on Easter morning and evening. There will be special music and the church will be appropriately decorated. There will be a reception of members by confirmation and baptism at both services—morning and evening.

—It is said there are at least fifteen vacant houses in Bellefonte. This is unusual and has not occurred for several years, but from the way they were going on Wednesday and Thursday it is a wonder half the houses in town are not empty. James Houser moved to the Gap, Condos to Howard, Mrs. Bickel to Lock Haven, Grahams to Beaver Falls. Dr. Klump to Williamsport, Holdermans to Altoona and Wallace Maikle to McBride's Gap.

—A strange dog that was thought to be mad ran amuck among the children on Second street, Philipsburg, Monday evening. It bit a little daughter of James Calburn several times and also scraped the skin on the arm of Philip Fryberger, a son of C. T. Fryberger. A large dog owned by James Munson having been bitten Mr. Munson killed it at once. The wounds of the children were promptly canterized and while no serious outcome is anticipated their parents were necessarily frightened for a little while.

—Brooks-Royer.—Miss Lyde J. Brooks, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks, of Pleasant Gap, was married to Mr. John M. Royer, a son of B. W. Royer, of Marion township, last Thursday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at the Lutheran parsonage in Centre Hall, by the Rev. Stoncypher. Miss Kate Royer, a sister of the groom and Edward Brooks, a brother of the bride, attended them during the ceremony.

—After the nuptial knot was tied a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. James Brooks, with whom she has resided for some time.

Mrs. HUGH S. TAYLOR.—Not for a long time has the announcement of a death in this community been received with more genuine sorrow and regret than was that of Mrs. Catharine Bauer Taylor, wife of sheriff Hugh S. Taylor, who passed away at the family home, on east High street, last Friday evening after a week's suffering of acute Bright's disease. Mrs. Taylor's condition had been most critical from the Monday previous and several physicians or trained nurses were with her constantly and from Friday morning it was generally known that there was no hope of her life being spared.

Through her husband's prominence in military and political circles Mrs. Taylor enjoyed an acquaintance with an unusual number of people and, although of a very quiet and rather retiring disposition, was endeared to everyone of them by her pleasing personality and considerate graciousness. A daughter of the late Nicholas and Mrs. Marion Bauer, her entire life was spent in this place where she was born 37 years ago on the 19th of Feb. Her marriage to Captain Taylor took place in November, 1894, and her home relations were particularly happy. As a hostess she was exceedingly generous and thoughtful and to those in need gave most unselfishly both of her time and means. She was a devout church woman and took an active interest in most of the charitable organizations of the town, but pre-eminent above all her characteristics devotion to her family and home ranked first.

She is survived by her husband and four little children, Hugh, Vincent, Frank and Mary. The infant son, who was born at her death, died on Wednesday and was laid by her side. Of her father's family her mother, her sister Josephine and two brothers, Vincent and John, are living.

Funeral services were held in the Catholic church on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Father McArdle officiated at requiem mass with the largest congregation present he had ever had on a similar occasion. His tribute to her memory was the highest possible to be paid a human soul. The floral offerings were beautiful and the body with its pall of Easter lilies and roses was carried to its final resting place in the Catholic cemetery by Ellis L. Orvis, J. Mitchell Cunningham, William Lyon, Calvin Harper, Mitchell I. Gardner, Dr. Joseph Brockerhoff, A. G. Archey and Thomas H. Harter.

DAVID F. SHOPE.—After a brief illness, David F. Shope, a former well-known citizen of Centre county, passed away from earth at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jessie A. Kephart, of West Johnsburg, Pa., on March 23rd, 1904, at the ripe age of 76 years, 1 month and 3 days.

The larger portion of his life was spent in Centre county. From 1847 and until about 3 years ago he resided in Holt's hollow near Milesburg. He was baptized into fellowship with the Baptist church there in 1848. He died triumphant in the faith of Christ. He is survived by two sons, Joseph B., of State College, and Augustus, of Little Rock, Ark. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Jessie Kephart, of West Johnsburg. A brother, Andy G. Shope and a sister, Mrs. Martha Harley, both of Clearfield county, also survive.

On Saturday the body was brought to Milesburg where services were held in the Baptist church and interment was made in the Messialh cemetery along side of his wife who preceded him about one and a-half years since.

Mrs. NANCY GUNSALLS.—Mrs. Nancy Gunsalls, wife of James Gunsalls, of Milesburg, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Carson, in Tyrone last Friday evening. She had been in failing health for some time and went to that place about three months ago, hopeful that the change would be beneficial. She grew worse, however, and failed in health until death came.

Mrs. Gunsalls was a member of the Columbia avenue Methodist church, Tyrone, and interment was made there Monday afternoon.

Of her twelve children eleven are living as follows: Mrs. Jennie Carson, Mrs. Annie Colobine, William and Frank Gunsalls, of Tyrone; Richard, of Bellefonte; Harry, of Warriorsmark; Abram, of Union county; Robert, of Johnstown; Charles and Mrs. Mary McGinley, of Milesburg, and George, of Youngstown, Ohio. One brother and two sisters survive, viz; Abram Dickey, of McKeesport; Mrs. Lizzie Brown, of Sugar valley, Clinton county, and Mrs. Belle Craze, of Renovo.

HENRY YEARICK.—Blind for seven years and a constant sufferer with rheumatism for more than twenty years the venerable Henry Yearick found blessed relief in death last Friday. It occurred at his home in Jacksonville.

Deceased was born at Madisonburg 82 years ago and in his active days was one of the progressive men of the community. Funeral services were held in the Reformed church at Jacksonville Monday morning and interment was made at that place.

He is survived by the following children: Alfred, of Nebraska; Cinoeta, of Detroit; Mrs. Tillie Peck, of Houston; Mrs. Mary Schaffer, of Madisonburg; Nathaniel, Charles, John, Mrs. Sarah Hoy, Mrs. Laura Martin, Mrs. Ida Holmes, all of Jacksonville.

—Sevilla Catharine, aged 2 years, 6 months and 20 days, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shem Hackenberg, on Saturday morning, of stomach trouble. Interment was made Wednesday morning.

Mrs. MARGARET A. HILL.—After a long illness of Bright's disease, although she had been confined to bed only one week, Mrs. Margaret Hill, widow of the late Joseph Hill, died at her home on Beaver street, on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock by her pastor, Rev. John A. Wood, of the Methodist church, of which she had been a member for eighteen years. Interment will be made in the Union cemetery.

Mrs. Hill was a native of Millersburg, but had been a resident of this place since 86. She was a daughter of George and Margaret Utz and was 60 years of age. She was a conscientious, industrious and thrifty woman, devoted to her family and greatly beloved by her neighbors and friends. She is survived by three children, William H. and May, of this place, and Edwin J., of the battleship Iowa. A sister, Mrs. Ellen Jennings, of Peoria, South Dakota, and a brother, William Utz, of Rankin, are also living.

KITCHEN.—A very sudden death Wednesday evening about 9 o'clock was that of Mrs. Jane Kitchen, widow of the late Joseph Kitchen, of Milesburg. Mrs. Kitchen had been to make a farewell call at the Rev. Wharton's, and, though not in the best of health, was no worse than she had been the past winter. She went home short, by after 8 o'clock and had not been in the house long until she died, her death evident, by being the result of heart failure. Deceased was aged 76 years and was a daughter of Thomas and Nancy Caldwell, old settlers in the Bald Eagle valley. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary McClain, of Altoona, and Miss Nancy Caldwell, who resided with the deceased. At this writing no arrangements for the funeral have been made.

TRESSLER.—Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Tressler, of Houserville, died last Friday, of consumption, aged 40 years, 8 months and 20 days. Deceased was a faithful member of the German Reformed church, and leaves to mourn their loss her parents, one brother and four sisters. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, the Rev. Miss May Whitehead conducting the services.

PHILIPS.—Mrs. Lucy Philips, wife of Cyrus Philips, of near Madisonburg, died Sunday morning after an illness of but a few hours, aged 41 years. She is survived by her husband and ten children, two sisters and one brother. Rev. Frank Wetzel conducted the funeral services which were held on Tuesday in the Madisonburg Reformed church.

James John Blair died at Bataira, Ill., on March 11th, of typhoid fever. Deceased was an uncle of F. P. Blair, of this place, and was born at Bald Eagle, December 27th, 1830. In 1852 he was married to Miss Caroline Starkey in this place, and in 1870 went to Bataira, where he conducted a jewelry store, having been "at the bench" for fifty-four years. His widow, three sons and four daughters survive him.

Mrs. JANE BIDDLE.—Mrs. Jane Biddle, widow of Hiram Biddle, who died in 1854, passed away at her home near Waddle, Thursday of last week, at the advanced age of eighty-six years. Burial took place in Boalsburg on Saturday.

Deceased is survived by her brother, Freddie Newman, of Potters Mills, and two sons, Fletcher and Wesley, of Waddle.

LEATHERS.—Mrs. Charity N. Leathers, wife of Nathan M. Leathers, died Monday morning at their home, 4026 Westminster Ave., Philadelphia. Deceased was 66 years of age, and was the only daughter of Nathan J. Mitchell. The funeral took place in Philadelphia Wednesday morning.

WAY.—William R. Way, one of the prominent citizens of Half-moon township, died at his home in Stormstown, Tuesday morning, of consumption, aged 57 years. A wife and three children survive him. The funeral was held yesterday morning, interment in the Friends' cemetery.

THE JUNIOR ORATORS CHOSEN.—The preliminary oratorical contest through which those who will be permitted to compete in the contest during commencement at the Bellefonte High school was held Monday afternoon and resulted in the selection of the following: Myrtle Barnhart, Louisa Brachbill, Goldie Cain, Mary Garthoff, James Harshberger, William Kuhn, Edna Meyer, Arthur Thomas, Chapman Underwood, Mable Wagner.

Edward Gates, who is in the hospital very seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia, was entered for the contest and prepared for it, but was unable to take part.

WON THE CUP.—The Bellefonte Athletic club put the final crimps in the Academy basket ball players at the armory Friday night and won the series and the silver cup. The score was 14 to 9.

It was a great game, furiously contested and kept the large audience in a whirl of excitement from start to finish.

—Queen ALEXANDRA ate a nine cent dinner at a factory girls' cafe on Thursday, just to see how the working girls of London live. She expressed herself as very pleased with the cheapness and quality of the meal she got, but didn't say she would abdicate in order to enjoy the real thing of being a factory girl.

A SUGGESTION AS TO THE RETROGRADATION IN TEETH.—Professor Wm. A. Buckhout read a very interesting paper on "Teeth" before the Natural History club of State College, Wednesday evening, March 23rd. This is a subject which is arousing interest, scientific and popular, and is of vital importance as the opinion has been hazarded that we are to become a toothless and hairless people and there is no disputing the fact that there is a gradual decadence in these epidermal appendages. Even though this decadence may indicate an advanced stage of intellectual development, as has been suggested, it is so marked a blemish in physical development that it would take ages to accommodate our ideas of perfection to such a change and present generations will continue to be interested in methods best calculated to develop and preserve the hair and teeth.

Professor Buckhout offers the rather novel theory that the teeth are perhaps being too carefully nurtured and are suffering from disuse; to illustrate—we caution a child against biting crusts and other hard substances, rather than encourage him to develop his teeth by just such exercise. Primitive man would, of necessity, be obliged to use his teeth as weapons and utensils and, would subject, them to usage much more constant and rigorous than is now deemed desirable and it may have been just this that gave us a structure, beautiful hard and serviceable as a tooth.

After hearing and discussing the paper, the club entertained informally in honor of Professor Buckhout, who is the pioneer in natural history work at the College and to whose interest in this subject is largely due all that has been developed along these lines at the State College.

CENTRE COUNTY PROHIBITIONISTS

The Prohibitionists of Centre County held their convention in Philipsburg on Tuesday. John D. Gill, Jr., was elected county chairman to succeed Rev. J. Zeigler, while John Botwright was elected secretary and George Kellock, treasurer. All the above are Philipsburgers. John D. Gill, Jr., was elected a delegate to the national convention. The State delegates are: C. C. Shuey, Bellefonte; C. H. Davis and John Botwright, Philipsburg, with Asbury Gill and George Kellock, of that place, and E. C. Smith, of Oak Hall, as alternates. A county ticket was nominated, as follows: Legislature, T. W. Murray, Philipsburg, and C. H. Elise, Milesburg; prothonotary, Newton S. Bailey, Bellefonte; and auditor, F. Potts Green, Bellefonte. The delegates to the state convention were named as congressional conferees, and a committee was appointed to make additions or fill any vacancies that may occur.

SMALL-POX MAKES FIGHTERS.—Dr. Kurtz, of Howard, came up to Bellefonte on Monday looking and, we have no doubt feeling, decidedly worse than any of the small-pox victims of that community. He is the state quarantine officer at Howard and on Sunday morning, in company with a young assistant, went to the home of Mrs. Wensel, in which there had been small-pox, to fumigate it and raise the quarantine. Boarding with Mrs. Wensel is John Mokie, who is said to have a grudge against the doctor, whom he blames with having set his leg improperly after he had fallen off a load of hay some time ago and broken it. Mokie is said to have remarked that if the doctor came near the place he would go out faster than he went in.

Appearances are very much to the effect that Mokie knew what he was talking about. The doctor has had him arrested on four counts and he is under $500 bail for his appearance at court.

It is NOW MAJ. TAYLOR.—At a meeting of the line officers of the Fifth Reg. N. G. P. in Altoona on Tuesday Capt. Hugh S. Taylor was elected to succeed Major John H. West, of Hollidaysburg, who was placed on the retired list on March 1st.

Sixteen of the regimental officers were present, though Capt. Taylor was not there by reason of the great sorrow he has had in his home so recently. The honor came to him entirely unlooked for as partial recognition of his long and enthusiastic connection with the Guard. He enlisted as a private in Co. B in 1866 and ten years later rose to its command; a position he has held ever since. During his leadership the company has attained the highest rank in the State and won several medals for proficiency.

KILLED AT NIAGARA FALLS.—While crossing the Erie railroad tracks at the 24th street crossing, Niagara Falls, last Monday a week Darwin J. Tressler and Harry McHenry, of Berwick, were struck by a Michigan Central passenger train and both were instantly killed. The young men had gone to Niagara on the previous Wednesday to secure employment and on the fatal morning were on their way to work when the accident occurred.

Tressler was 27 years old and was a son of Henry Tressler who once lived up in the "Big Hollow" having been a shoemaker by trade.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by orphan's court clerk, A. G. Archey, during the week: John N. Royer, of Walker, and Jane Elizabeth Brooks of Pleasant Gap.

Oscar Atkey, of Roland, and Carrie Boop, of Wingate.

James Lewis Brown, of State College, and Grace V. Barnhart, of Oak Hall.

John M. Parker, of Lemont, and Stella Lucas, of Roland.

News Purely Personal

—Ollie Campbell spent Sunday at his home here.

—Miss Jane Furst, of Linn street, is visiting friends in Clearfield.

—Mrs. F. C. Montgomery returned from a visit to Philadelphia on Monday.

—Hugh Crider is home from school in Philadelphia to spend his Easter vacation.

—Harvey McClure was home from Youngstown, Ohio, for a few days last week.

—James A. McClain, cashier of the Spangler bank, was a Bellefonte visitor over Sunday.

—Cap. C. T. Fryberger, with his children Philip and Dorothy, were in town on Friday.

—Mrs. C. T. Aikens, of Pine Grove Mills, spent Wednesday as the guest of Mrs. J. A. Aikens in this place.

—John Munson, Hugh Crider and most all of the Bellefonte college boys are home for their Easter vacation.

—Lieut. S. D. Gettig, of Co. E, was present at the meeting of the regimental staff officers at Altoona on Tuesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Lukenbach, of Tyrone, arrived in town Saturday night and spent Sunday with relatives here.

—John Todd, the Philipsburg coal operator, was in town on Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hugh S. Taylor.

—D. H. Krebs, of Penna Furnace, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday and made a short call at the WATCHMAN office.

—Mrs. Harriet T. Kurtz arrived home Wednesday afternoon from a month's visit with relatives in Philadelphia and New York.

—E. A. Humpton, of Snow Shoe, who is to be one of our next county commissioners, was in town on business on Saturday.

—J. L. Ripka, of Mill Hall, a son-in-law of J. A. Ott, of this place, has resigned a place in the Mill Hall axe factory and will move to Bellefonte.

—G. Dorsey Green Esq., of Briarly, was in town Wednesday having a look at the things in the shop windows and a talk with his many friends here.

—Mrs. Robert Gilmore is here from Philadelphia for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Joseph Gessler, and other friends in Bellefonte and vicinity.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Westcott and Mr. and Mrs. Todd Massey came down from Reynolds, Pa. on Tuesday to be here for the funeral of Mrs. James Hull.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fay, of Altoona, came down Saturday night, to spend Sunday as the guests of Mr. J. H. Sands, at his home on north Allegheny street.

—Harry Taylor arrived home from Baltimore Saturday evening and Sunday evening his brother James, who is a cadet at West Point, got here. Both came for the funeral of Mrs. Hugh S. Taylor.

—Former sheriff Cyrus Brungart, of Centre Hall, former prothonotary W. F. Smith, of Millheim and Mr. P. J. McDonald, of Unionville, were in town on Tuesday for the funeral of Mrs. Hugh S. Taylor.

—Misses Myra and Margaret Goodhart, who have been staying with their mother in Centre Hall since the death and burial of their brother John several weeks ago, returned to their duties at the hospital on Monday.

—J. W. Raymond, of Houserville, who long ago made it a rule never to read a paper or smoke a cigar that isn't paid for, was in town early Monday morning buying a little harness and looking some of his savings up in the bank.

—George E. Lamb, who would like to be the Republican nominee for prothonotary, and J. N. Schoonover, who was the nominee for Legislature, two years ago, were well-known Philipsburgers in town for the convention on Tuesday.

—Ernest Detrick, of Hublersburg, was in town on Saturday attending to a little business for his father, D. A. Detrick, and making preparations for going to Lancaster this week. He expects to enter Franklin and Marshall Academy there for the spring term.

—Miss Margaret Stuart was another State College visitor who gave a touch of color—she carried a red umbrella—to our streets yesterday. She is home from Bucknell for her Easter vacation and was in Bellefonte for the afternoon doing some shopping.

—Calvin Stamm, of Boalsburg, was a Bellefonte visitor on Saturday and among other things he had to do was send his label along for another year. Calvin is one of our younger readers, but he has started on the right track and believes it to be better to be ahead than behind.

—Former County Treasurer John Q. Miles, of Huston township, passed through Bellefonte last evening on his way home from Millheim where he attended the Beezer and Genzel horse sale. Mr. Miles was the purchaser of a team of horses which he averred were "very fair critters."

—Looking a trifle more mature, perhaps, but with the same frank, genial manner of his boyhood, Tom Brew dropped in from Haledon on Sunday evening to spend a few days with his sister, Mrs. Fenlon, at the Bush house, while looking after the remodeling of their property on north Spring street.

—Mr. Samuel Decker and his family have moved here from Zion and taken the Kline house on Spring street. While they had a very pleasant home in the pretty little village in Nittany valley they left it in order that their children might have advantage of better schools. The Deckers are a very desirable acquisition to our citizenship and we welcome them.

—Will Floray, of Pleasant Gap, was in town on Wednesday and in reply to a question "What are you doing now Billy?" he said: "Oh, just wandering around." That isn't his regular occupation, however, because he is quite a carpenter and just as soon as the spring opens up right he expects to go to Winburn to help the Karsteters along on that big contract they have out there.

—Harvey Bowersox, of State College, was in town on Monday attending to a little business for himself and some of his friends up there. Though only a young man Harvey has practically retired and calls himself a "gentleman" now.

Well, he always was that only in his earlier days he worked so hard that he hadn't time to think much about it. As a result of his work, however, he owns a nice home at State College, a good little farm north of that place and don't need to care much whether Sally and all the other speculators in the country bust.

—Prof. and Mrs. L. E. Reber have left State College for a six month's absence. Mrs. Reber, Mrs. Josiah Jackson, and the two Reber boys spend three months in Mississippi where the family of Dugald Jackson are spending the winter. Professor Reber is going to St. Louis where Mrs. Reber will join him in June to remain until next fall. During their absence their house at the College will be occupied by Arthur Shoffstall class of 1900, who is now one of the instructors in the Department of Chemistry.

—There has been quite a material falling off in the letters received this week. In fact there wouldn't have been any had it not been that Mrs. Wm. Rouse of Pine Grove Mills, E. I. Gilliland, of Pottersdale, J. M. Keller, of Allegheny, and E. J. Stephens, of Raven, saved the day. The latter was born and raised at Port Matilda and is a son of Samuel Stephens, deceased. He is now in the South operating a saw mill for Geo. W. Woodring. We can't account for such a sudden falling off unless it is because every body is moving. Taking lot grants and this is the reason we will be looking for a lot of returning letters next week.

—Mr. H. C. Holter, of Howard, was in town on business on Monday and brought his little son up with him to enjoy the day in Bellefonte. Mr. Holter is one of the staunch old Republican soldiers who has been given the cold shoulder by his party many a time. He has frequently applied for the Howard post-office, but it seems that all the use they have for him is his vote. He is one of the deserving who has never been recognized.

—Perhaps the rain of yesterday suggested to Mr. John M. Homan that a roof for one's head is a good investment, as he braved the inclement weather and came to Bellefonte to consummate the final arrangements whereby he becomes possessor of the Cori property at State College. When comfortably provided with a home who can make a man's fireside more complete than his home paper? So thinks Mr. Homan and he accordingly renewed his subscription. May his household gods continue to smile!

—Mr. B. F. Thomas, of Snow Shoe, is a heartsome visitor to have on a rainy day such as yesterday. He has perhaps never considered himself a poet but there is more consolation in the silver lining he gives the editor's cloud than in all the poets, "Behind the clouds is the sun still shining!" It may have been the consciousness of the satisfaction he was bestowing that made his smile seem so pleasant and his appearance so prosperous and a good look on. Snow Shoe must be an all right place to live in nowadays. It is certainly a good place in which to have subscribers, judging from Mr. Thomas' generosity.

Smulton

Reuben Smulls are painting the outside of their house.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mallory were at Madisonburg on Friday.

Mrs. Lowell Bierly left Monday to visit friends in Clinton county.

Mrs. Geo. Fehl, of Aaronsburg, was at Amos Fehl's on Sunday.
