The Japanese May Stick to the Sea. Russian General Staff Does Not Think They Will invade Manchuria.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—Apparently reliable information in the possession of the general staff leads to the belief that the objective of the Japanese campaign does not involve the ambitious invasion of the interior of Manchuria with the purpose of reaching and overwhelming the main Russian army.

If the Japanese ever entertained the hope of accomplishing a task similar to that which Napoleon set himself, present advice indicates that they have abandoned it and have adopted a much more cautious and less hazardous program.

IT WILL STICK TO THE SEA. If this information is correct there will be no advance upon the army concentrated at Liao Yang and Mukden with its attendant constant lengthening and weakening of the Japanese line of communication. Instead there seems to be a determination to stick as close as possible to the sea, where lies Japan's natural base of communication, she having established herself in Korea.

The general staff reports say that the Japanese still have three other objectives, the occupation of a line across the Liao Tung peninsula, for the purpose of cutting off Port Arthur, the isolation of Vladivostok, and the establishment of a junction between the army of Korea and the force at the head of the Liao Tung peninsula.

The last mentioned movement might be accomplished by a landing near the mouth of the Ta Yang river, which by threatening the flank of the Russian position at Feng Hoon Cheng might render it untenable and make the advance of a column from Korea comparatively easy.

RUSSIA'S GRAVE DANGER. If these plans should succeed, the life of both Russian squadrons in the Pacific would be menaced with the sea and a fleet lack of her every point, Japan could fortify the positions thus gained and, with tables turned, compel General Kuropatkin to come forward and attack.

General Kuropatkin, however, is in possession of the latest advice received by the general staff and it is safe to assume that if the Japanese campaign is to have the lines indicated he will be ready to make such disposition of his forces as will meet and checkmate it.

KUROPATKIN TO BE SOLE COMMANDER. ST. PETERSBURG, April 25.—General Kuropatkin, it is believed, in the highest military circles here, is destined to become commander-in-chief of all the Emperor's forces, both military and naval in the Far East.

Admiral Alexieff may remain there for some little time as Viceroy, but his reign is considered practically ended. He will not be humiliated, but in order to effect harmonious relations a way will be found to secure his elimination.

While Alexieff and Kuropatkin are on fairly good terms, harmonious relations between Vice-Admiral Skrydloff and the Viceroy are considered impossible and with the three enjoying independent commands, it is realized that friction ultimately would be bound to arise which might endanger successful operations.

SKRYDLOFF IS WILLING. Skrydloff and Kuropatkin, on the contrary, are warm personal friends. With Alexieff removed from the theatre of war and in view of the patent necessity to have a supreme commander of both the army and navy on the ground, as well as to insure perfect harmony, Vice-Admiral Skrydloff, because of the minor role which the fleet will play, has already expressed his willingness to accept the post of commander of the naval forces under General Kuropatkin as commander-in-chief.

General Kuropatkin has played a strong card in the game of strategy. A large portion of General Rennenkampf's Cossack cavalry division has been thrown across the reaches of the Yalu and a considerable force of cavalry which crossed the Tumen some time ago is moving down to the southwest to effect a junction with it.

WOULD HAVE JAPS AT DISADVANTAGE. Together with this force, which is believed totals 2,000 men, he will threaten Lieutenant General Ito's left flank when the Japanese are ready to cross lower down on the Yalu. Being composed of cavalry, with a few mountain guns, Rennenkampf's force is extremely mobile.

Unless it should be dislodged it will compel the Japanese to leave a very strong army to guard their communications, whereas if a Japanese force should be sent to drive it out it would have to move directly away from the main army, while the Russian army, if compelled to fall back, can recross in the direction of the Russian troops concentrated in Manchuria.

Broke all Records. WASHINGTON, April 24.—The year 1903 stands as the high water mark of prosperity in the anthracite coal trade, according to a report of the Geological Survey about to be issued.

It says that the tonnage of that year exceeded by more than 6,000,000 tons that of any previous year and that the demand for coal enabled a fair return to all concerned in the industry. The consumption of the smaller sizes of coal increased 2,468,694 tons over 1901, despite the opinion expressed at the close of the anthracite coal strike that bituminous coal had largely supplanted anthracite for steam purposes.

The year showed an increase of 15 cents in the average value per ton of the mines. The total production was 66,351,713 tons valued at $122,036,448. The average price per ton was $2.50; number of men employed 150,483 and average number of days each man worked 206.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West. Pawnee Bill and his mounted heroes of the world will pay us a visit on Tuesday, May 10th. Every detail of western frontier life, realistically reproduced in the monster arena of this great exhibition will be seen here. Many hundreds of men and horses are employed and one of the many features is a great grand national and international military contest.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West. Pawnee Bill and his gathering of hero horsemen from many climes are coming here with their splendid exhibition. All the stirring scenes will be enacted by genuine Indians, Cowboys, Cossacks, Mexicans, Australian Bushmen, Arabs, Gauchos and natives from many lands. The detachments from the foreign armies together will give a grand military review. Over a thousand men and horses are employed.

Not the least of the strong attractions are the sharpshooting contests in which May Lillie, the champion woman shot, figures prominently. During the performances the spectators will see the strange accoutrements worn and carried by Kit Carson in '49.

The show itself has so many good features that it is hard to particularize them. There is so much that is instructive and novel in the entertainment and so attractive that an afternoon or evening passed in the company of Pawnee Bill and his associates cannot prove alike agreeable to young and old.

Major Gordon W. Lillie is better known to the world now as "Pawnee Bill." This sobriquet he earned by serving the government among the Pawnees and by having been chosen by that band of warriors and useful nations as its own white chief and interpreter.

A new and added feature is the juvenile wild west for the children. Indian, Arab, Cossack and Western boys and girls participate.

Cannot Reinforce. Russian Commander of Mediterranean Fleet Baffled at Suez Canal. ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—Rear Admiral Wrenius has just returned from his unsuccessful attempt to reinforce the Port Arthur fleet with his squadron, consisting of the battleship Oslabia, the cruisers Aurora and Dimitri Donskoi, eleven torpedo boats and two transports.

In an interview the Admiral complained of the stringency of the neutrality at Suez and Port Said. The British authorities would not allow the vessels to remain more than twenty-four hours and permitted them to take on only a meagre allowance of coal. The Admiral said: "We met the cruisers Kaesga and Nishin in the warships purchased by Japan from Argentina and now with Togo's fleet, at Port Said, but we had not the slightest desire to stop them. They had all the appearance of merchantmen and their rough crews dangled their legs over the sides of the vessels. My ships have returned safely after a voyage longer than that to Port Said."

The torpedo boats are now at Liban, where their engines are being overhauled.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS. BARN BURNED.—The large barn on the farm of David Rothrock, along the Buffalo run road, about 3 miles west of Bellefonte, took fire in some unaccountable way Monday night and was totally destroyed. Three good horses, six calves, several hogs, all the grain, implements and other contents of the barn were destroyed, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars.

The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin. He had $1,350 insurance.

MRS. WESLEY HEVERLY BURNED.—Mrs. Wesley Heverly, aged about 60 years, was burning brush and dead weeds in the garden at her home at Eagleville on Friday afternoon, when her clothing became ignited and burned almost entirely off her; burning her lower limbs frightfully.

Medical aid was summoned to attend her suffering as speedily as possible. At first it was thought she could not survive her injuries, but there are better chances of her recovery now.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by orphan's court clerk, A. G. Archey, during the week: Ward K. Shultz, of Milesburg, and Maybelle Keller, of Centre Hall.

D. M. Sharer, of Zion, and Rebecca Miller, of Bellefonte.

Wm. J. Fetters and Mary M. Houtz, both of Bellefonte.

John P. Pearl and Rose T. Doll, both of Bellefonte.

D. Oliver Hazel, of Philadelphia, and Mary A. Flack, Bellefonte.

Chas. D. Bartholomew and Annie Lutz, both of Centre Hall.

A MUSICIAN MARRIES.—The Chester Evening Times, of April 21st, publishes the following notice of the wedding of Bernice E. Frynsinger, who was a daughter of the late Elizabeth Faxou and a grand-daughter of Myron and Martha E. Faxou, formerly residents of Bellefonte and Milesburg.

Miss Bernice E. Frynsinger, daughter of Ed. J. Frynsinger, the well known journalist, and J. Leonard Lewis, of Philadelphia, were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, at 712 Madison street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis M. Tait, rector of St. Paul's P. E. church in the presence of only the relatives of both bride and groom. The couple were unattended.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white, becoming in the extreme. Immediately after the marriage a reception and dinner followed and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left on a wedding trip to the national capital and other southern points. They will reside in Philadelphia on their return, where Mr. Lewis is connected in business with a large iron concern.

The young wife is a talented musician, having a large clientele in Chester as pupil. The couple have many friends who extend their sincerest wish for a happy married life.

A YOUNG MINISTER MARRIED.—The marriage of Rev. Ward K. Shultz and Miss Maybelle Keller was celebrated at the bride's home at Centre Hall, on Tuesday morning, April 26th, at 6 o'clock.

The wedding was very unpretentious, there being only a few of their most intimate friends present to witness the ceremony. After it was performed a wedding breakfast was served and Rev. and Mrs. Shultz departed on the early train for a honeymoon trip in the east.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Keller and is said to be a very charming girl. For several years she has been an operator in the United telephone exchange at that place. Rev. Shultz is one of the younger ministers of the Evangelical church and has been doing quite a successful work at Milesburg for several years.

MARRIED TUESDAY MORNING.—The wedding of Mr. John Pearl and Miss Rose Doll was celebrated in this place on Tuesday morning at 7:30. Their nuptial mass was celebrated in St. John's Catholic church by the Rev. P. McArdle and they were attended by Mr. John Higgins, of Coatesville, as best man and Miss Bridgie Pearl, a sister of the groom, as bridesmaid.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party was driven to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rachel Doll, on Allegheny street, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served before their departure for the bridal tour, after which they will be at home at Donora, Pa., where the groom has been employed for some time.

Both the bride and groom are well known in Bellefonte, where they have spent most of their lives and have host of friends who will join in our wish that their married life may be pleasant as a perfect summer day.

PROTECT THE FISH.—It would be a very good plan if the fishermen of Bellefonte and vicinity would agree under a code of honor not to fish for trout in the body of water that forms the out-flow of the Big Spring. Naturally it is a fine trout pond and forms a sort of retreat to which the speckled beauties can retire for feeding. The water is clear as crystal and the presence of the fish there is a source of much pleasure to those who do not try fishing at all, but at the rate they are being hooked out now there will be few, if any, of them left when the season closes.

Unfortunately we have several persons in town who cannot rest as long as they know where there is a trout still in the stream. They are after them every day and seem determined to take all they can get. Of course no one questions their legal right to do such things, but is there not a moral obligation they owe to their fellow sportsmen?

It seems to us that if the little bit of water at the back of the Spring were to be declared a sort of neutral zone for the fish everyone would feel in honor bound to keep off. In such an event there would be a natural retreat for the trout and a breeding bed as well.

The April Sitting of the Court of Quarter Sessions. A Fairly Large Calendar, a Large Attendance and Much Dispatch Characterize the April Term of Court.

The regular April term of quarter sessions court opened Monday morning with Judge Love presiding and Prothonotary M. I. Gardner and all the other court officers present. There was an unusually large attendance, due to the long list of cases for trial on the calendar, but early in the week it became evident that many of them would never be called because settlements seemed to be the order of things.

The morning session Monday was taken up, as usual, with the reports of constables and other routine of organization. The appointment of John P. Harris as foreman of the grand jury started that body to work on the bills presented and while it was in the act of finding something for the court to try a number of petitions for roads and bridges were presented. The real business of the session was taken up and disposed of as follows:

Charles Fravel vs Daniel Long, appeal, settled.

George Robb vs Evan R. Lucas, appeal, settled.

J. H. Weber vs George Geuzel, appeal, continued.

Eunice H. Jackson vs D. D. Woods continued at the costs of plaintiff. This was an appeal taken from the judgment of a justice of the peace in Phillipsburg.

Commonwealth vs Charles Bathurst, who was charged with the crime of larceny, and that of receiving stolen goods. Walter Fulton is the prosecutor. Bill ignored and costs were put upon the county.

Laokawanna Fertilizer Chemical Co. vs John Mitchell, an appeal from the facts in the case. It appeared that the plaintiff company made a contract for the sale of fertilizer etc., with the defendant, he to receive certain commissions according to the grade of fertilizer sold. For some reason or other the terms of the contract were not as desired and the contract was rescinded before any orders were sent in by the defendant. The plaintiff brought suit in pursuance with the said terms and the defendant took the appeal. The jury after argument of counsel and charge of the court found a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Commonwealth vs Thomas Park, charged with an assault etc., the grand jury ignored the bill of indictment and put the costs on the county.

Commonwealth vs James Cunningham, who was indicted for assault and battery, bill ignored and placed the costs on the county.

Commonwealth vs David Pearce and Miss Pearce who were indicted for assault and battery, John C. Bair was the prosecutor in the case. A true bill was returned by the grand jury in the case but a nolle prosequi was entered.

Commonwealth vs Barney Mendleman, a Russian peddler from Philadelphia, Louis Finberg was the prosecutor. From the facts in the case it appeared that the defendant and the prosecutor had some words which meant fight. Each party indulging in the use of names, slurs, etc., and in the wind up they used fists to end it. Finberg showed to the court and jury a finger that was about bitten off by Mendleman. The jury found the defendant not guilty and divided the costs equally between the prosecutor and defendant. Their fun cost each of them from $50 to $75.

Commonwealth vs Hillary Viard, charged with assault and battery on the person of James Cunningham. From the evidence in the case it appeared that the defendant stood by the prosecutor when on his way home from work on March 10th between four and five o'clock. Some swearing and vile language was indulged in by both the parties. Verdict of guilty and sentenced to pay costs and $5 fine.

Charles Fravel vs Daniel Long, appeal, settled.
