MRS. TYSON HURT IN A RAILROAD WRECK—Mrs. Edward Tyson, formerly a resident of this place, was on the 1:25 Valley train on Saturday afternoon when it was in collision with a freight at Beech Creek station. She was on her way to Buffalo with her son-in-law Townsend Moran, and family, after a visit with friends in Philadelphia.

While she was not seriously injured she suffered a bruised nose and chin and had her back quite painfully wrenched.

Speaking of the accident the Lock Haven Express says:

The coolness and presence of mind of Carson Smith of this city, engineer of the Bald Eagle flyer, prevented what might have been a serious wreck on Saturday afternoon, says the Lock Haven Express. The flyer on the Bald Eagle valley road is due at Lock Haven at 2:10 p. m., and Saturday afternoon, while the train was on the main track at Beech Creek station, engineer Smith saw a freight come around the curve. He quickly began to back his train, but the engines came together with a crash, giving the passengers a sudden jolt and throwing many of them against the seats in front of them. No one was seriously hurt, but quite a number of persons were slightly bruised and one lady from Renovo had a gash cut on her face. The engines were both somewhat damaged and the glass in the windows of the passenger cars were broken. Engines from this city were sent to Beech Creek and one of them brought the passenger train in, while the other took the freight train to Tyrone.

A young man who was riding on the rear platform was bounced right through the window and landed in a woman's lap in the inside of the car. He did not receive a scratch but the woman was considerably out by the broken glass. Another woman had her false teeth broken in her mouth.

Mr. Dumont did not appear on the grounds. He expects to leave tomorrow for Paris, taking the gas bag with him to be repaired. He may return to St. Louis within six weeks if the attempt to repair the gas bag is successful.
