

The Coburn Canning Co. is to get a charter on August 2nd.

The Millheim Reformers cleared $30 at a pink social in the town hall on Saturday evening.

Among the strangers in town on Monday and Wednesday was Mr. J. J. Tressler, of Oak Hall, who for the past several months has had his hands quite full settling up the business of his estate.

In the midst of a heavy down-pour of rain on Tuesday evening a shock of wheat in G. W. Homan's field near Pine Hall, was set afire by lightning and burned entirely up.

ARE YOUR TREES INFESTED BY CATERPILLARS?—In many parts of Centre county the voracious apple-tree tent caterpillar is again making its appearance in such large numbers as to not only give concern to many of our orchardists, but actually cause the loss of much fruit, as well as considerable damage to trees.

They have been the object of study of biologists for years and science has given to the public, from time to time, the results of its investigation. Unfortunately, however, no one seems to pay serious heed to these matters of vital import until their own property is endangered, then there is a cry for help that is needless as it is sudden.

For the benefit of those who do not know how to destroy the caterpillar and are still of the opinion that a corn-cob soaked in kerosene is the only effective means of ridding themselves of the pest we publish the following digest of a very timely pamphlet recently sent out by the Department of Agriculture.

The caterpillars leave the tent early in the morning, if it is not too cold, and are soon scattered over the tree, following trails of silk, if they have been on the limb before. If they are compelled to seek food on new limbs they go slowly and cautiously, leaving behind a trail of silk. By means of this trail they can return to the tent. After a few trips the new trail is well established, and now the caterpillars will follow it without spinning as they go.

HOW THE TRAIL WINDS.

When compelled to turn out for a fellow coming in the opposite direction, they must leave the path, or cling only to the edge of it, and as they do so they spin a thread, and thus the trail gradually becomes wider. In this way the trail may finally cover the smaller branches.

The injury caused by this insect is usually confined to wild-cherry and apple. A vigorous tree will be affected but little by one or two colonies, but frequently so many are present that the entire tree is defoliated. All the energies of the tree are now devoted to putting forth new leaves and no fruit will develop during the season.

The next spring may show many dead limbs on the trees as a result of this struggle. Peach, plum, rose, birch, oak, maple, hawthorn, shad-bush, elm, willow, poplar, and probably many other trees are occasionally attacked by them.

In 1903, throughout Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey, the caterpillars were attacked by a parasite, which is either a bacterium or a fungus. It killed them off by thousands. From twelve infected colonies only ten healthy moths were obtained.

Several species of beetles will attack them when the caterpillars are on the ground, as they may be when seeking a place to spin their cocoons.

Some of the vertebrate enemies are toads and frogs, which will devour them by the dozens, whenever the opportunity presents itself, and several species of birds, among which are the yellow-billed cuckoo, black-billed cuckoo, crow, robin, Baltimore oriole chickadee and the vireos.

Affected trees may be cleared of the pests by spraying with a solution of one pound of paris green to 150 gallons of water.

Fine Grove Mention.

Most of the wheat is in the barns by this time.

Misses Merl and Millie Markel have been ill with tonsillitis.

Mrs. Ann McAfee, of Altoona, has been visiting friends here.

Miss Millie Meek, of Tyrone, spent last week among friends here.

Don't forget the harvest home picnic at Pine Hall next Saturday.

Wm. Cramer and wife, of State College, enjoyed the hospitality of Amos Koch.

Miss Elsie Peters, of Oak Hall, spent last week with her brother James in the Glades.

The Baileyville picnic will be on August 30th and not April, as we stated in our last letter.

Hereafter Adam Cramer will pull the whistle cord; having purchased H. M. Cronoble's steam thrasher outfit.

Dr. Krebs and Walter Weaver have blood in their eyes looking for the gentleman who laid rough on rats out and killed their dogs.

Mrs. John Musser is out in Clearfield this week seeing just how they conduct a centennial. She thought she might not see the next one.

Miss Cora Homan, of Oak Hall, is visiting in Altoona.

J. P. Lucas, of Moshannon, did business in this section last week.

Harry Knarr has returned from a visit to his son William at Greensburg.

Mrs. Alice Buckwalter and little Howard, of Lancaster, are making their annual mid-summer visit to Centre county relatives.

Col. John W. Stuart, postmaster at State College, is in Philadelphia in the University hospital undergoing a surgical operation.

J. H. Weber, who has been ill with typhoid fever for the last two months, is again able to be around and attend to his business.

Daniel Lowder is remodeling his home with new porches and windows. It is also being brightened up with a new coat of paint.

Wm. Glenn, on the Major Ross farm west of town, made 100 four-horse loads of hay this season. He and his wife spent Sunday at Lemont.

Frank Krumrine, a trusted fireman on the Pennsylv at Altoona, is at his parental home not at all well. His wife and little Bruce are with him.

J. A. Decker and wife, Fred Bottorf and Mrs. A. J. Tate, H. H. Goss and wife all of this place, were among the mourners at Mrs. Wm. Ripka's funeral at Tusseyville last Sunday morning.

John Denis Danney, of Wadsworth, is now at his old home with his aged mother. He is accompanied by his son Alfred. During his absence his large store will be in charge of the two older sons, Charley and George.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vaughn, of Blair county, are visiting relatives here and at State College. Mr. Vaughn is slowly recovering from injuries received that effected his nervous system. His wife was Miss Sadie Taney of this place.

A love affair at our quiet Shingletown has stirred up the ire of some of the young bloods to a fever heat, so that shot guns were almost brought in play. But better judgment prevailed and the civil authorities had a legal job to dispose of. Register Archie can look for a license fee from that quarter.

The new brick works at Pine Hall are in full blast now. This week will complete the first burn of 150,000. That many more are in the moulds. The next set will be 300,000. The Detroit Bros., of Buttmere, are superintending the ranch for Krumrine, Grieb & Co. The first venture one year ago did not prove a success but this will be a go.

One of the pleasant social events of the season was that at Squire John Miller's home in the Glades last Saturday evening, when more than fifty young people assembled to remind Miss Gertrude of her birthday. Many valuable and beautiful presents were brought. Refreshments were served and the guests had a royal good time.

Geo. W. Johnsonbaugh Esq., of Fredrick, Md.; Jerry Johnsonbaugh, of Bradock; and Mrs. Henry Norris, of Fillmore, constituted a happy party who were royally entertained at Wm. Collin's home, several days this week. Mrs. Collins is a sister and it has been many years since they were all together, consequently some of their locks are whitening with age.

Lemont.

The M. E. sociable was rather a success Saturday evening.

William Shney is much better at this time and able to be out again.

John M. Coble is visiting among friends at Altoona and DuBois this week.
