The erection of the Soldier's monument and Curtin Memorial in Bellefonte now being an assured fact, the contract having regarding the money in sight and the amount to be yet raised, as well as the collection of a correct list of the names of old soldiers to be inscribed thereon, as given in General Beaver's letter to the Centre county Veteran Club at its annual rennion at Hunter's park, Sept. 10th, will be of interest. Gen. Beaver says : "As all are doubtless aware, the final contract for the erection of our soldier's monument has been consummated. The agreement has been signed by the Commissioners of Centre county, assuming the payment of $10,000 of the entire cost of the monument, by the state commission for the erection of the statue of Gov. Curtin, assuming $10,000 for its erection, leaving $13,000 to be raised and paid by the citizens of our county. Our veteran associa-tion, as you know, subscribed $1,000. If all outstanding obligations can be collected, we have the money now in hand to pay this subscription. Might it not be well for us to assume and promise at this meeting to pay an additional sum of—say $250.00, which we can doubtless raise in the ordinary way during the next two or three years? 'Two other things are necessary for us to do in order to carry out the details of the monument and bring the design to a successful completion. As you know, the design embraces the name of every soldier who enlisted from Centre county as well as those of others who have made Centre county their home since the war. In order to have these complete, it will be necessary to have an organization in every township in the county to secure the names, particu-larly of those who may have enlisted in or-ganizations which were not raised in Cenganizations which were not raised in Center county proper. There will be little difficulty in securing the names of the men of the 2nd, 7th, 10th, 15th, 5th Reserves, 45th, 49th, 53rd, 56th and 148th Regts. of infantry, and the 1st, 2nd, 7th and 16th Regts. of cavalry. There were a number of men, however, particularly in the border townships of the county, who enlisted in organizations from other counties and indeed from other states. We ought to be able to secure the name of every one of these men and, in order to do this, it will be essentially necessary that we make a careful and close canvass of every town-ship, in order that the name of no Centre county man who enlisted in the service may be omitted. It is probably not the province of our veteran club to take charge of this matter but we can co-operate with our monument association in helping to secure these names and it is essential that we begin at once and prepare lists of all the men in the several townships who served in the Union army during the Civil war. I mention this now so that all who are interested in it may begin, each in his own neighborhood, to secure the names of such as are the least likely to be known, so that they may be communicated to the committees which are likely to be appointed by our monument association.

Another practical subject requiring attention and earnest efforts will be the raising of the additional amount necessary to complete our monument. I cannot speak definitely as to the amount in hand and already pledged but, in a general way, I should say that it did not much exceed $8,000. It will, therefore, be necessary for us to raise in some way between this and the time of the completion of our monument at least $5,000. This will require a careful canvass of the county.
"I speak of these things now so that the ward them and that they may be thinking of plans by which both the money necessary and the names of our comrades may be had in proper time for use in casting the bronze plates may which the names of the control of th bronze plates upon which the names are to be borne and in securing the money to pay for the monument by the time of its com-pletion, which is likely to be—say a year from this time. In this effort let me bespeak the active and hearty co-operation of every member of our veteran club, of every old soldier in the county and of every friend of those who are deceased.

"The idea of preserving the name of every man who served from the county is rather unique and commends itself to all who have learned of it but, in order to This is my first letter to you. Although I make it the success which it ought to be, we must be careful that not a single name is omitted. There will be plenty of room for every name but it will be difficult, after the plates are cast, to add the names of any which may be omitted and it is, there-fore, of the first importance that we should not only be careful in securing the names but in having every name in full and each one properly spelled. The mistakes of Bates' history and of other published rolls must be carefully corrected. It might be well, as you have opportunity, to furnish to our secretary, who is also the secretary of the monument association, a list of names from the several townships from which a selection of a proper committee for securing the names for the monument might be appointed."

Books, Magazines, Etc.

McClure's for October is timely in the best ense. It reads vigorously and intelligently some of the important lessons of the hour. In its serious articles McClure's does not deal with the cursory and the superficial, but with the vital, fundamental thing, and interprets its real meaning and application. It is impressing itself tremendously on the life and thought of the day by its weighty and authoritative way of doing Follette and the fierce political war which is rending the State of Wisconsin, Lincoln Steffens has found material, not only for a stirring story, but for the presentation of facts and principles of the gravest significance to the Republic. The fight here, as elsewhere, he finds, is for self-gov ernment, representative of all the people. He keenly analyzes the opposing forces and defines the issues. In sharp contrast to this sordid his tory of "Enemies of the Republic," and the disturbing stories of civic and commercial disgrace which McClure's has published recently, appears an inspiring sketch of George William Curtis-
