Quite a number of Halloween parties are booked for next Monday evening and the young people evidently intend to have a good time.

Sunday morning a collection was taken up in the Presbyterian church for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital and the sum of $15.05 was realized.

A baptismal service will be held in St. John's Reformed church, next Sunday morning, at 10:30 o'clock, at which time a number of children will be baptized.

After a close down for the purpose of installing a new battery of boilers the Salona quarries of the Bellefonte Lime company resumed operations last Friday.

A lot of chairs, tables, beds and other household effects will be offered at public sale in the basement of Pretriken hall on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 29th, at 2 o'clock.

It is rumored that the death of Emil Peterson, at Avis last week, might have been the result of foul play and not by being killed on the railroad. An investigation is being made.

The ladies of the United Brethren church will hold a chicken and waffle supper in the lecture room of the church tomorrow evening. Everybody is not only invited but urged to attend.

Thursday evening, of last week, Thomas M. Weaver Jr., of Bellefonte, and Miss Mary A. Shaffer, of Zion, were married at the Methodist parsonage by the Rev. J. A. Wood Jr.

On Wednesday Mr. Frank E. Nagin, of the Bellefonte Lodge of Hepatosoph, forwarded to Mrs. Samuel H. Lewin, of Philadelphia, a check for $5,000, being the amount of insurance held by her late husband in that order.

Mr. C. T. Gerberich was seized with an attack of vertigo last Saturday morning and since that time he has been confined to his home on south Thomas street. His condition has at no time been serious and now he is on the mend.

Mrs. Rowe, wife of Recorder John C. Rowe, was taken to Philadelphia, last Friday afternoon, for treatment in the German hospital. Mrs. Rowe has been ill for more than a year and her friends now look forward to her recovery.

What's in a name? A great deal when it concerns a moving picture exhibition. Have you ever been humbugged? Don't forget that Edwin J. Hadley, the moving picture expert, formerly with Lyman H. Howe, is coming. Mr. Hadley's experience antedates that of his competitors.

Mr. J. M. Bricker, Mr. Frank Clemson's Buffalo Run farm superintendent, and Mrs. Susan Williams, of Bellefonte, were married at the groom's home, Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. David F. Capp, in the presence of a large number of invited guests. Mr. Harry Kiester, of Bellefonte, played the wedding march.

On Tuesday Milton Johnson and his crew of workmen finished putting down the new stone pavement along Spring creek on south Water street. The pavement is an exceptional good piece of work and now there is not a more delightful walk in Bellefonte than just along Spring creek, from Waite's implement store north to the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania station.

This evening Mr. George Kiernan, reader and impersonator, will appear in Pretriken hall in the first of the W. C. T. U.'s star course entertainments. Mr. Kiernan is not only interesting as an entertainer but is an educator as well. He is a man of the Leland Powers type and you will miss a rare treat if you fail to attend. The general admission is only 35 cents, children 20 cents.

At a meeting held last week the Panther hunting club, that organization of Bellefonte nimrods famous for the amount of game they do not get, decided to go out for their annual camp this year on Monday, November 21st, to remain until the close of the season. They have not yet just fully decided where they will go as the committee on location has knowledge of a number of good places where game of all kinds is just standing around waiting to be bagged, but then the Panther people don't want to go to a place where there is any danger of being run over by the game.

THREE ROBBERIES.—During the past week robbers have been plying their nefarious profession in and around Bellefonte with exceptional success. On Saturday night they broke into Wagner's mill, at Roopburg, and forcing a drawer in the desk secured five dollars in cash. No attempt was made to blow open the safe.

Sunday night some person broke into the office of Manager A. G. Leas, of the Pennsylvania Telephone company, on the second floor of the Bush Arcade, pried open his desk by forcing the lock from its fastenings, and got away with about $42 in cash and $2.50 in stamps. The robber gained an entrance by prying loose the facing strip of the door frame when it was an easy matter to force the lock of the door. There was a safe in the room but Manager Leas, who went away Saturday and did not return until Monday, had placed the money in an envelope with a lot of checks and put it on his desk, which he locked. The checks were not disturbed. The safe was pretty well scratched up, indicating that the robber or robbers had evidently tried to force it open, but either were afraid or not prepared to blow it open. The door leading into the booth was open and the light out, and the box of the pay station telephone was scuffed and scratched, evidently the result of trying to get it open. There is no clue to the perpetrator of the theft and no knowledge as to the time it was done. The night operator, Miss Mona Struble, did not hear a sound and the only thing she remembers of the occurrences of the night were that at 12 o'clock she went across the hall to the work room to get a glass of water and she noticed then that the light in the booth was burning. When she opened up the exchange at 6:30 in the morning the light in the booth was out and when examined later it was found that the globe had been unscrewed from the socket. About two o'clock in the morning Miss Struble had a call and on answering it was greeted with the question, "Were you asleep?" On being answered in the affirmative the voice replied, "Oh, well; that's all right. Go to sleep again," and the receiver was hung up.

Another and the biggest robbery of all took place at Coleville early Tuesday morning when one man entered the house of Mr. Geo. Eokley, made his way to the bedroom where Mr. and Mrs. Eokley were asleep, took $94 from beneath the pillow of Mrs. Eokley and, though discovered by the woman, successfully made his escape. Mr. Eokley works for the American Limestone company and had gotten his pay on Saturday. He came into town on Monday and drew some money from the bank as he wanted to make a payment on his property on Tuesday and the total sum Mrs. Eokley had placed under her pillow on retiring. The robber gained entrance by pushing the key from the lock of the front door and unlocking it with a skeleton key. Mrs. Eokley got awake at just four o'clock and went to look what time it was by a small alarm clock kept on a stand near the bed. The clock was gone and she got up to look for it when she discovered a man just stealing from the room. She gave a scream which aroused her husband but the man ran down the stairs and escaped. In the excitement that ensued at the time neither Mr. or Mrs. Eokley noticed the man sufficiently to be able to give even an indistinct description of him.

It is very evident that all the above robberies were committed by some person or persons who are not entire strangers in the neighborhood and it behooves the authorities as well as everybody else to keep a sharp lookout for him.

THE BELLEFONTE FURNACE BLOWN IN.—In only a little over five weeks from the time the word to go ahead was received the old lining in the Bellefonte furnace was torn out, a new one put in and the furnace fire relighted.

The torch was applied on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 by little Margaret Kelly, the daughter of furnaceman William Kelley. The customary demonstration over such an event was missing because president J. W. Gephart was so anxious to get the furnace going again that he had given orders to light the fires the instant all was in readiness. The anxiety was not without warrant, either, for orders have already been booked for the output for three months ahead, all of it foundry iron, the highest grade they make.

Here's hoping that the present run of the Bellefonte may be the longest and most profitable it has ever made.

SHOT IN CHURCH.—At 3 o'clock last Sunday afternoon when the scholars were gathering for Sunday school at the Forge church Russell Miller, aged 17 years, was fooling with an old revolver when it was suddenly discharged, the ball penetrating the left arm of his cousin, Lewis Miller, also aged 17 years, who was one of a group of boys standing nearby. The accident occurred in the vestibule of the church and naturally caused considerable excitement. Young Miller was assisted to his home at Vernona where a doctor extracted the bullet after a painful and tedious operation.

At this writing young Miller is getting along all right while his cousin, next Sunday, will likely carry his Bible instead of a revolver to Sunday school.

NATIONAL PROTECTIVE LEGION.—A local lodge of the National Protective Legion was instituted at Howard, last Thursday evening, by district manager R. H. Merritt. The officers elected were as follows: Past president, Wm. H. Long; president, Morris Miller; vice president, Michael N. Zeigler; secretary, Sumner J. Wolf; treasurer, I. J. Lucas; chaplain, D. A. Irwin; Con., Lewis Pletcher; guard, Christ Wagner; Sent., H. A. Kline; trustees, D. Allison Irwin, Arthur M. Long and John N. Wagner.

Everybody wants to go down to the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon and see the football game between the Bellefonte Academy and the Bellwood Athletic club elevens. It will be remembered that these teams played two games last season, the Academy winning both by the very narrow margin of 2 to 0. The Academy boys are playing good football this season and Bellwood is putting up a good game, so that tomorrow's contest should prove a close and exciting one. Don't fail to attend. You will enjoy the game and the team needs your patronage; and again, this will be the last game here this season until December 5th, as every game next month the Academy plays away from home.

HADLEY'S MOVING PICTURES.—Next Monday evening, Oct. 31st, at Garman's, Edwin J. Hadley, the expert, will present his exhibition of moving pictures, an attraction which is without question one of the most wonderful of its kind in America, and besides which all others are but feeble imitations. A visit to this truly great exhibition will be of incalculably more practical value to yourself and your children than years of study from books. Thus it will be a pleasure and a duty you owe your children to see this wonderful collection of animated pictures. In the quality and cost of the equipment of this attraction, it far exceeds all other organizations of its kind, and Mr. Hadley will give to amusement-goers a galaxy of entertaining and instructive features guaranteed to please. As this entertainment is for the benefit of Gregg Post, No. 95, there should be a very large attendance.

KILLED AT BEECH CREEK.—Blair Yeager, conductor of the switching crew on the Beech Creek railroad, was instantly killed at Beech Creek station, Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock. Yeager left Jersey Shore that morning for Clearfield with a train of seven cars. The train was stopped at Mill Hill to attach several cars and while this was being done the unfortunate man unconsciously stepped from the storage track to the main track almost in front of the locomotive drawing his own train. He was knocked down and the ponderous wheels of the engine passed over his body severing the right arm and the right leg close to the trunk. The crew hastened to his assistance, but he was beyond human aid and almost immediately expired. Deceased was a son of the late David H. Yeager, of Snow Shoe township, and was aged 41 years. He is survived by a wife and eight children. Yeager was one of the oldest conductors in the service of the company on the Beech Creek division, but Wednesday morning's fatal run was his first trip as conductor of the switching crew.

WILL RE-OPEN HIS FEED STORE.—In order to better handle the trade of Bellefonte and vicinity C. Y. Wagner will reopen a flour and feed sales room in this place for the product of his Roopburg mills. He has rented the Brookerhoff room on Bishop street and the store will be opened on November 1st. All local customers will be supplied from that place.

MATINEE RACES TODAY.—This has been decidedly a hospital week in Bellefonte. The ladies auxiliary have met with amazing success with their country store. The first day it opened the cash receipts amounted to $160 or more and the following days have been equally successful.

Today the men are to take a hand at raising funds for the needy institution and, manlike, they are going to have horse races. All of the local horses, fast and slow, are going to take a try at it on the fair grounds this afternoon and 25c is the very small price that you will have to pay to see the fun.

W. V. Larimer, M. B. Garman, Dr. Jones and Mr. M. Fauble have kindly consented to start their racers in one of the events.

Each livery man in town will enter a contestant in the running event and the greatest race of them all will be the one in which all the fellows who think their horses can go will start and when honesty compels us to class DeLann Stewart, Hard P. Harris, Col. E. R. Chambers, Christ Bezer, Isadore Baum and George Doll all in this class you will have an idea of the fun there will be watching these gentlemen maneuvering for a start then trying to get around that track in less than four minutes.

You'll be there, won't you? It will be for a good cause.

OSMAN.—William F. Osman died at his home in Grant City, Mo., recently of throat trouble. He was a son of Uriah Osman dec'd, of Centre Hall, and is survived by one brother, Alfred Osman, of Centre Hall; and a sister, Mrs. Amelia Zerby, of Salt Lake City, Utah; also one half-brother, T. Milton Osman, of Mercur, Utah.

DIXON.—Charles S. Dixon only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon, of Philipsburg, died suddenly at his parents home, at 11:30 o'clock, Wednesday night of last week. Mr. Dixon had been employed in Philadelphia but came home the Saturday previous to his death sick. On Tuesday he made a trip to Winburne, Wednesday he walked out to the old tannery with his father and that night when he started up stairs to go to bed he fell dead. Deceased was aged 40 years and was never married. He was a member of the order of Red Men. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon Rev. F. J. Clerc officiating.

DIED IN RENOV.—Mr. Chas. Miller, one of Spring Mill's most respected citizens died at the home of his son, in Renovo, on Friday of last week, aged 81 years. Mr. Miller had not been in the best of health for over a year, though during the past summer he was better and more active than he had been previously. About ten days prior to his death Mr. Miller went to Sunbury on a visit to his daughter. He was enjoying his trip from home so much that he concluded to go to Renovo to see his son. He had been in Renovo only two days when he died very suddenly from pneumonia, the result of a cold contracted some days previous.

Deceased was well known throughout Pennsylvania, he, for many years, having been a large dealer in wool. He also conducted a tailoring establishment in Spring Mills, in which business he was engaged up until the time of his death. Mr. Miller was an active and influential member of the M. E. church and took a great interest in church work generally. A true christian, a gentleman of the old school, he was always affable, courteous and kind. He was of a most charitable disposition, his purse-strings always being open to the call of the distressed and no deserving one ever appealed to him for help in vain.

Mr. Miller is survived by his wife and two daughters, namely: A. E. Miller, of Allegheny; M. N. Miller, of Centre Hall; H. B. Miller, of Renovo; Mrs. C. C. Cummings, of Spring Mills, and Mrs. W. T. Stealy, of Sunbury.

The remains were brought to his late home at Spring Mills on Saturday from where the funeral took place on Monday. Services were conducted by Revs. G. W. McIlroy, W. C. Bierly, D. M. Wolf and W. H. Schuyler, of Centre Hall.

MRS. WILLIAM HEPBURN.—After a protracted illness with kidney trouble, dropsy and asthma, which lasted through four long years, Mrs. William Hepburn died at her home at Lyontown, Monday evening. Deceased was 70 years old last March. Her illness was of such a nature that for more than two years she sat up in a chair and in this position she died. Mrs. Hepburn's maiden name was Jennie E. Collingwood. She was twice married, the first time to a Mr. Beatty. Of this union, three children survive, Harry, of Poxnastown; Augustus, of McGees Mills, and Lewis J. of Clearfield. After the death of her first husband Mrs. Beatty married Mr. Hepburn. Four children were born to them but all are dead and the husband alone survives. Mrs. Hepburn was a member of the Methodist church and a most exemplary woman. Funeral services were held at the house yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, after which burial was made in the Union cemetery in Bellefonte.

MRS. HARRIET STOVER.—At 6:55 o'clock Tuesday morning Mrs. Harriet Stover died at the home of her son D. F. Stover, 505 Second Ave., Altoona, of stomach trouble after an illness of several months. Deceased was born at Woodward, and was aged 74 years, 8 months and 28 days. She was a member of Bethany Lutheran church and was esteemed by a wide circle of friends. She was the widow of Jonathan Stover and is survived by two sons, D. F. of Altoona, and T. A., of Brooks Mills. She is also survived by three brothers and one sister: William Hess, of Philipsburg, Pa.; Michael Hess, of Bellefonte; Jonathan Hess, of Williamsport, and Mrs. Lydia Stover, of Altoona.

The funeral took place Thursday at 2:30 o'clock, the services being conducted at the house. Interment was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

YEARICK.—Mrs. B. Frank Yearick died at her home near Woodward, last Saturday evening, at 9 o'clock after a protracted illness with typhoid fever. Deceased was aged 55 years. She was a daughter of the late George and Catherine Kustaborder and was born on the old Conard Fry farm near Pine Grove Mills. Early in life she became a member of the Reformed church and continued active in church work until her death. She is survived by her husband and three daughters, Catharine, of Baltimore, and Annie and Mary at home; also one brother, Levi Kustaborder, of Lincoln, Neb., and a sister, Mrs. J. H. Neidigh, of Pine Hall. The funeral occurred Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. Book, of the Evangelical church. Interment was made at Woodward.

JACOB H. WYLE.—One of Aaronsburg's prominent citizens in the person of Jacob H. Wyle died at his home in that place, Monday afternoon, from a complication of diseases, aged 74 years. He is survived by his wife and three sons, W. C. Wyle, of Mifflinburg; J. R., of Huntingdon, and B. W., of Aaronsburg. Also one brother, A. C. Wyle, of Reading, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Reed, of Vicksburg, and Mrs. Lydia Heimback, of Lewis, Iowa. Darning his life Mr. Wyle filled many township offices and for twenty-three years was one of the school directors of Haines township. The funeral services were held in the Reformed church Thursday morning, Rev. G. W. McIlroy, officiating, assisted by Rev. F. E. Lauffer.

PARKS.—Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock, Margaret Frances, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Parks who live in the Brown row, died suddenly of convulsions, after but a couple days illness. DIED IN LEWISBURG.—Miss Caroline H. McClure, who was quite well known in Bellefonte from having frequently visited here, died at her home in Lewisburg, on Monday evening, of dropsy of the heart. Humes, of Bellefonte, consequently a cousin of William P. and Miss Myra Humes. The funeral took place from the old homestead, at Lewisburg, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

News Purely Personal.

—J. C. Meyer, Esq., Hon. A. O. Furst and Clement Dale, Esq., were three Bellefonte attorneys who attended the sessions of the Superior court in Philadelphia this week. They were all interested in the Taylor-McCafferty appeal.

—Miss Myrtle Longacre and Fanny Knisely, two of the Pennsylvania Telephone company's accommodating operators, returned Monday evening from Shamokin where they spent their two weeks vacation with the latter's brother, Mr. Andrew Knisely.

—Mr. Frank B. Stover came down from his new home in Altoona this week for a few days sojourn with old-time friends here. Mr. Stover has not been at all well ever since moving to Altoona but is feeling better now and hopes soon to recover his usual good health.

—Dr. J. M. Brookerhoff returned last Friday from a ten days trip to West Virginia where he had been looking after his large lumbering interests in that State. On the way home he came around by Philadelphia where he interviewed some of the state political leaders.

—Richard Brouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Brouse, and who is a cadet on the schoolship Saratoga, returned home last Thursday evening. It was thought Dick would get enough of sea life on his first trip but he didn't and declares he is going back at the expiration of his three weeks shore leave.

—Mr. Morris Yeager returned on Wednesday from Jacksonville, Florida, where he had gone on a business trip selling porch swings. Mr. Yeager prior to his going had shipped a large amount of swings to Jacksonville and he not only succeeded in disposing of all of them but closed a good, big contract for the sale right of the swings in the entire State of Florida.

—Among our callers Friday was Mr. John H. Puff, of Centre Hall, who a year or more ago voluntarily placed himself on our sure list of annual callers. After paying for several years subscription at back rates Mr. Puff very sensibly came to the conclusion that he would never do that again, so now he comes regularly to renew each year and we are very glad to see him.

—Genial and pleasant and full of business as ever Jim Watt, of Tyrone, was in town Friday looking after his trade here. Jim can always be relied upon to be specially alert about election time because while he doesn't live in Centre county he has property interests about his old home in "the Glades," up in Ferguson township, and many have been the campaigns in which the result of James' manipulations have been very apparent.

—Skurrying home from the cooking lesson at Seehlers Friday morning Miss Mary Butts dropped in to leave the editor something useful for purchasing the condiments the demonstrator was buying. We would have thought that her great hurry was through fear lest she would forget some of the receipts of the delicious concoctions she did not know so well that Miss Butts can forget more than many girls know in this direction and still make a lot of dainties that few others can devise.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Baisor, of Johnsonburg, were in town on Tuesday on their way home from a visit of four weeks among relatives and friends up in Buffalo run valley. There was a day, not so many years ago, that Sam was a leader among the Democrats up there and a good one too, as his work in Patton regularly attested. Mrs. Baisor will be remembered as Miss Mollie Edmiston before her marriage and she was quite popular during her life in Bellefonte.

—Bellefonte has been a mecca the past week for the staff correspondents of the city dailies. Walter G. Darlington, of the North American, started the ball rolling last week and this week it was given a couple good pushes along by Peter Bolger, of the Philadelphia Record, and L. R. Gohorn, of the Pittsburg Post. Both the latter were here hunting the same kind of facts that Darlington got last week, and the judgeship contest and Mr. Bolger even found a few new ones to sandwich with the old in an interesting article in Wednesday's Record on the Centre county fight.

—The Twintires have been having a little family reunion during the week, that is, so far as the boys of the family are concerned. Of course Joe lives here, so he is always as near home as living within a few doors of it will allow, but on Saturday night Wilbur, who has worked himself up to the rank of a sergeant of the hospital corps of the regular army and is stationed in Washington, D. C., dropped in and then, on Sunday, Alton, the oldest son, who lives in Johnstown, and might as well be in Japan, so far as getting home often is concerned, came along on the morning train, so that the trio of ex-foot-ball and base-ball players are having all the enjoyment that is possible.

WILLIAM WADDLE PROMOTED.—Worth and perseverance will invariably bring its reward, though sometimes it seems a long time coming. In the case of our friend Mr. William Waddle due recognition of his estimable services as an employee of the Nittany Iron company has been shown by his election, at a meeting of the board of directors of the company on October 9th, to the responsible position of secretary and treasurer of the company. This announcement may seem to come a little late but it is all owing to the extreme modesty of treasurer Waddle who is averse to anything that even savors of public notoriety. Mr. Waddle first went into the employ of the Bellefonte Furnace company in 1898 as bookkeeper and later served as paymaster until July, 1904, when, upon its re-organization, he accepted a position with the Nittany Iron company as bookkeeper and paymaster, in which capacity he served until his recent promotion.

THE BELLEFONTE TRUST COMPANY LIMITED, ORGANIZED.—A meeting of the stockholders of the new Bellefonte Trust company, limited, was held in the offices of the Jackson, Hastings & Co's bank, Saturday afternoon, and an organization of the new company effected by the election of the following officers: President, Col. J. L. Spangler; vice president, Ross A. Hickok; treasurer, John P. Harris; assistant treasurer and secretary, Isaac Mitchell; board of directors, J. Henry Cochran, C. T. Gerberich, Ross A. Hickok, A. C. Mingle, Claude Cook and John P. Harris. The Bellefonte Trust company will take the place of the present banking firm of Jackson, Hastings & Co., and will begin business under the new name on or about December 1st. The company has a capital stock of $125,000.

UNCLE JOSH SPRUCEBY.—There is the fragrant perfume of the apple blossoms and the clover all through the story of "Uncle Josh Spruceby," and one seems to breathe the balmy air of the country as the many interesting scenes are being enjoyed. See this play and see how much better you feel after witnessing the scenes on the old farm, and the natural acting of the company. You will find the comedy the genuine article, and no matter how old a theatre goer you may be you will smile, and smile loudly, at the many clever lines and funny situations with which the play abounds. At Garman's, Saturday afternoon matinee and night, October 29th.

Last Saturday State College defeated Washington & Jefferson, at Exposition park in Pittsburg, by the score of 12 to 0, and the Bellefonte Academy defeated the Philipsburg football team by the score of 5 to 0. Tomorrow State will play Westminster at State College and the Academy plays Bellwood at the fair grounds.
