THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

You may talk about your various trusts—Trusts both strong and weak; But the "worstest" trust of all the trusts, Was the turkey trust this week.

Next week is court week.

Jerry Kerns moved his family from Cincinnati to Bellefonte last week, Mr. Kerns coming here to assist his brother Milton in the barbing business.

Mr. Robert Adams and family have shaken the dust of Phillipsburg from their feet and gone to Dudley, Huntingdon county, where they will make their future home.

The last accounts from the Klondyke hunting club, of Tyone, encompassed this year on Cold stream, south of Phillipsburg, had one deer, a 140 pound doe to their credit.

Last Saturday State College defeated the Geneva college foot ball team by the score of 44 to 0, while the Bellefonte Academy defeated the Altoona High school team 17 to 0.

The Episcopalians will hold a turkey supper in the Petrikon hall cafe on Thursday evening, December 1st. Everybody is invited and all are assured of getting plenty to eat.

While a guest at the home of Samuel Slack, near Potter's Mills, last week, Aunt Mae Fortney, of Centre Hall, had the misfortune to fall and break her leg near the hip. Owing to Mrs. Fortney's age the accident is a serious one.

There will be four eclipses during the year 1905, two of the sun and two of the moon. The dates of the sun eclipses are March 5th and August 30th, the former not being visible here. The eclipses of the moon occur February 19th and August 15th, the latter only being visible in America.

When the U. S. fish car arrived in this place Wednesday morning it was found that one of the journals had been broken square off in transit here from Huntingdon and it was only a miracle that a smash up had not occurred. The car was repaired here before proceeding on its journey to Altoona.

Randall Matern, son of Mr. J. K. Matern, of Julian, while hunting one day recently on the Allegheny mountains, five miles north of Beaver Mills, shot and killed a bear, which, when dressed, weighed 300 pounds. The meat was shipped to Tyone and sold for $12, while the pelt is a beauty and is valued at $25.

While Messrs J. H. and Fred Weber, of Boalsburg, who are working as painters at State College, were on their way home, Tuesday evening of last week, their horse frightened and ran away. Both men were thrown to the ground the latter being severely cut about the face, it requiring six stitches to close the wound.

Before daylight Monday morning game wardens Joseph Berrier and O. F. Bruner had a thrilling experience effecting the arrest of Howard Miller and Geo. Shaner, of Baltimore, who were hunting over at the Bear Meadows without having procured the necessary license. The men paid their fines of $173.12, surrendered their guns and were then released.

The Centre county teachers' institute, which by the way was one of the most successful held in years, closed last Friday morning, after which about seventy-five of the teachers went to State College on the 10.30 o'clock train to witness the dedication of the new Carnegie library, returning in the evening and many of the number spending the night in Bellefonte, returning to their homes on Saturday.

A party of hunters composed of Charles and Torrence Hunter, of Beech Creek; Milford Pletcher, Joseph McCloskey and Jerry Renner, of Eagleville; Charles Bechtel, chef at the Fallon house restaurant Lock Haven; C. H. Fernbaugh and C. S. Angus, of Dresden, N. Y., while hunting on Panther run, on Tuesday, killed four deer in just ten minutes. Where is the party of hunters that can beat this record?

Mr. Philip Garbick confirms the report that he has offered the old Bellefonte glass works company the sum of $3,000 for the site of the old plant and that if they will accept same he will guarantee to have a tank plant erected there within six months. All that is now left is for Mr. Garbick to satisfy the American Limestone company that his assertion as to a plant being built will be carried through and they will willingly waive their option on the site.

Mr. J. Linn Harris has taken hold of the Bradley patent metallic railroad tie, invented by Mr. Benjamin Bradley, of this place, with the intention of pushing it to at least a trial by some one or more of the leading railroads of the country. Mr. Bradley's patent, which consists of a framework of iron or steel with wooden blocks as rail bearers, is possessed of considerable merit than the most of the metallic ties that have been invented and tried for years past but all of which were discarded because of their extreme rigidity. For the sake of the patentee we hope Mr. Harris will be able to secure for the Bradley tie a thorough test and that such a test will show it as practicable.

DEATH OF REUBEN MARK MAGEE.—The many friends of Mr. R. M. Magee were shocked Wednesday morning when news was received that he had died suddenly late Tuesday afternoon, of apoplexy, at his home, 3619 Powelton Avenue, Philadelphia. Though Mr. Magee had not been in the best of health for several years back no one anticipated such a sudden ending to a life that has been characterized from boyhood as one of the busiest any man could live.

Deceased was 66 years of age and was a son of James Magee who came from Ireland to this country and settled in Brush valley, where the subject of this sketch was born. Working hard every summer while yet a boy he laid the foundation of a superior education by attending the public schools of the county in the winter time. When but twenty-eight years of age, or in 1866, he was elected county superintendent of public schools which office he filled three terms—nine years—being twice re-elected. While county superintendent Mr. Magee took up the study of Blackstone and came to Bellefonte to read law in the office of Alexander & Orvis. He was admitted to the Centre county bar in April, 1874, and at once entered into an active practice of his profession. A number of years after he entered into a copartnership with H. Y. Stitzer, under the firm name of Stitzer & Magee. When the field of law became crowded Mr. Magee took up the insurance business as a side line but he soon found it more lucrative than the law business and dropped the latter to a great extent to devote his entire time to insurance. About sixteen years ago Mr. Magee moved his family to Philadelphia to accept the position of State agent for the Equitable Life Assurance Society, later being made manager of the same, which position he held at the time of his death. He was also a member of the Underwriters' Society. Mr. Magee was an Odd Fellow for many years and since his residence in Philadelphia had been vice-president of the Centre county association organized there. In politics he was an uncompromising democrat and was vice-president of the Tariff Reform association of Philadelphia. As a citizen and neighbor Mr. Magee was typical of the best, a man any neighborhood can ill afford to lose.

Deceased is survived by a wife, who prior to her marriage was Mary H. Nolan, of Tyone, and three sons, William A., Forrest N. and Boyd H., all of Philadelphia. Also two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Bierly, of Ohio, and Mrs. Jennie Harper, mother of Mr. J. C. Harper, of Bellefonte. Funeral services will be held at the late home of the deceased in Philadelphia this (Friday) evening after which the remains will be brought to Bellefonte, arriving here on the 9.28 train tomorrow morning. From the train they will be taken to the Reformed church where services will be held after which interment will be made in the Union cemetery.

ALVIN KINSLOE BURNED TO DEATH.—Alvin Kinsloe, one of the best-known men in and around Snow Shoe, a man 85 years of age, a veteran of the civil war and a cripple met a most horrible end Monday night by being burned to death. Kinsloe lived all alone in his small cabin on the outskirts of the village of Snow Shoe. About twelve o'clock Monday night his cabin was discovered to be on fire and before any concerted effort could be made to fight the flames the small building, which was dry as tinder, was burned to the ground.

It was the universal hope that Mr. Kinsloe had escaped from his little home in time to avoid cremation but a search revealed the remains of the old man lying about fifty yards from where his cabin had lately stood. The body was burned to a crisp and it was evident that Kinsloe, while all ablaze, had crawled that distance in the double hope of putting out the fire which was burning his life out and of meeting with help from any one who may have been attracted to the spot by his burning cabin. When the body was found life was already extinct. There is no knowledge as to just how the fire was started, but it is the general supposition that Kinsloe was smoking in bed, as he was an inveterate smoker, and that in some way the bed clothes were set on fire and the man, being old and crippled, could not get around quick enough to either put out the fire or make his escape from the building in time to save himself. And owing to the fire occurring at midnight very few people knew anything about it until the cabin was in ashes and the man's dead body found.

Mr. Kinsloe was one of the most familiar figures in the Snow Shoe region and was known throughout many parts of the county. He was a man of good intelligence and exceptionally bright and witty. Several years ago his limbs were so badly frozen that both legs had to be amputated, since which time he made his way about by means of canes. There is a feeling of universal regret in the community where he lived over the sad ending of the old man. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon.

—Miss Laura L. McEwen, daughter of Adam McEwen, late of Hubersburg, died on Saturday morning last at her home in that place after a lingering illness with stomach trouble. She was a young woman of admirable traits of character and a general favorite among those who knew her. A mother and brother are the only relatives left to mourn her passing away. The funeral was strictly private.

ROYER.—Mrs. Henry Royer, a sister of ex-county commissioner Daniel Heckman, died last Thursday evening of diabetes and abscesses, aged 66 years. Deceased was a member of the Reformed church and is survived by a husband and two sons and one daughter, John, Harvey and Edith. The funeral took place Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, interment being made in the cemetery at Penns Cave.

—Matilda Cole, an aged woman of Port Matilda, was found dead one day last week in the lot back of her house. She had evidently gone out to out some kindling as a few freshly-cut sticks were found lying alongside the body, which was lying face downward with arms outstretched. The dead woman was found by a little girl of Zene Woodrings.

—Mrs. Martha Ray, widow of the late James Ray, died at her home near Leinmont, Thursday morning of last week, aged 70 years.

—Ephraim Lytle died at his home near Fillmore last Thursday morning, aged 72 years. He is survived by his wife and one son, Henry.

—Rev. D. J. Davis will preach in the U. B. church, at Paradise, next Sunday at 10.30 a. m., instead of 7.30 p. m.

—The feast of Chanucha will be fittingly observed by our Hebrew brethren the week commencing Sunday, Dec. 4th.

—The Robert Mann party of hunters who are camped on Eddy Lick Run have captured four deer so far this season, two of which were stolen from them while making a drive a few days ago.

In the burning of the Moshannon Manufacturing company's plant at Phillipsburg, Tuesday night of last week, Wallace Schimmel lost tools valued at $500. The very next day his house on north Centre street was gutted by fire, involving a loss of $800, on which there was but $400 insurance.

—James Dunlap, one of the best prospectors in the Phillipsburg region, while prospecting, last Friday on the land at Stony Point, near Phillipsburg, located a vein of coal three feet, four inches thick and still rising. A number of prominent coal operators inspected the find and pronounced it a good one.

Perry Hines, who has been with a hunting party out above Scotia returned home to Hubersburg on Monday and reports deer and big game in that section exceedingly scarce. He says that the mountains are so dry that a hunter can be heard for great distances and if there is any game it gets wind of its danger long before the sportsman is within shooting range. The same party with which Mr. Hines camped, at this time last year had captured ten deer. They have but one so far this year.

On the 9.28 train, Wednesday morning, there arrived in Bellefonte from the U. S. government hatchery twenty-seven cans of trout—fingerlings—for distribution in the streams adjacent to Bellefonte. The trout were from two to four inches in length and averaged about two hundred to a can, so that the total number of trout received would aggregate 5,500. They were taken in charge immediately by local members of the Sportsmen's League and conveyed to the various places along stream where they were placed in the waters of Spring creek.

We have been a long time wondering just how varied—not how few—are the accomplishments of our good friend David Stewart. We have long known from personal experience that he knows all about running a paper because he has repeatedly given us wholesome advice, while as a newspaper he has few equals. He is a fish-keeper and gardener and a champion pumpkin raiser, as was shown by the monstrous pumpkin he had on exhibition at the last big fair; and now again he comes to the front as the champion progressive euchre player, he having won the gentleman's prize at the progressive euchre held in the Catholic hall on Tuesday evening. Verily, Davy; thou art a man of untold wonders! Miss Jennie Noonan won the ladies' prize at the euchre.

Last week water superintendent Samuel Ryan decided to get after some of the big trout which have made themselves so conspicuous of late in the Reynolds' mill dam. He improvised a box trap with the result that he landed a speckle beauty that might properly be termed a leviathan. It measured twenty-six inches from tip to tip, was about six inches deep through at the widest part and its weight was estimated at from five to six pounds. Mr. Ryan caught a number of other very large ones and put them in the big spring where they have since been viewed by many. There is no doubt but that if all the large trout were removed from Spring creek there would be more average-sized ones in a couple years, as the large eat the smaller.

MCCARGAR GETS A LOVING CUP.—Last week J. S. McCargar was at Pittsburg and came back with a large silver "loving cup" awarded him by the Pittsburg agency of the Equitable Life Insurance Company for securing the largest amount of business during the month of September. The trophy is on exhibition at Blair's jewelry store, this place and is much admired. Mac, has a right to feel proud of it and we congratulate him upon the success he has made in his insurance work in this field. He is one of the greatest insurance hustlers in this vicinity.

ROBBED OF $1,000.—Two weeks ago the WATCHMAN made mention of the robbing of the Eby brothers, Michael and Henry, of Haines township. The Centre Reporter is authority for the statement that they were robbed of $1,000. The Eby's are farmers and live one mile northwest of Woodward. They do not believe in banks and all their wealth that is not invested in real estate is in cash, hidden in various places in their house. Both the men are bachelors. Regarding their robbery they say that as near as they can calculate it the exact sum taken was about $1,000.

In the same room from which this cash was taken, and near-by in a drawer, lay undisturbed several thousand dollars, according to a statement made by one of the Eby's. The robbery was perpetrated while the brothers were eating their evening meal in a summer house. The one thousand dollar check dropped at the foot of the stairs was discarded, it is supposed, rather than lost in haste. The robbers left no clue and everyone is at sea as to who they were, where they came from or whither they went.

A BAD MIX-UP.—Sometime last January Mich Young, of this place, and Mrs. Isaac Sager suddenly disappeared and rumor was current at the time that they had run away together. No special effort was made to apprehend either until the night before election when they reappeared together. Mr. Sager at once had a warrant sworn out for the arrest of Young. The latter was apprehended and was given a hearing before Justice Keichline last Saturday night. When Young was brought into the justice's office he was searched and a big revolver and a black-jack were found on him. Mrs. Sager was also searched and a big revolver found on her.

At the hearing it developed that Young and Mrs. Sager were both at the same lumber camp in the Allegheny mountains where the woman is doing the cooking for the lumbermen. After hearing all the evidence Young was held in $500 bail for trial at the November term of court. Mrs. Sager was not detained and, on Monday, again departed for the lumber camp in the Alleghenies.

KILLED AT CURWEESVILLE.—Edward Swartz, a son of John Swartz, of Milesburg, was killed at Curweesville about 9 o'clock Monday night. Swartz was a flagman on a freight train on the Tyrone & Clearfield railroad and was on his regular run when the accident occurred. There was a car on the siding the crew had to pick up and they attempted to push it out on the main track by means of the push-pole. In some manner the pole slipped, struck Swartz on the head, literally mashing it to a pulp. His death was instantaneous.

Swartz was about 35 years of age. He was married and lived at Curweesville where his wife, who was formerly Miss Bertie Way, of Snow Shoe Intersection, with two small children survive. His father, John Swartz, of Milesburg, and one brother, Ambrose Swartz, of Bellefonte, also survive. The remains were brought to Milesburg where the funeral was held Wednesday afternoon.

TWO OPERATIONS.—Last week Misses Mona Shultz and Ella Alters were admitted to the Bellefonte hospital where each underwent an operation for phosphoric necrosis, a disease of the jaw-bone caused by working in the phosphorous at the match works, where Miss Shultz had been employed prior to going with the Pennsylvania telephone company as substitute operator and where Miss Alters has been working for some time past.

Phosphoric necrosis is caused by the phosphorous getting into a hollow or decayed tooth. Medical works speak of it as a very rare disease and one, once firmly rooted very hard to combat. The operations on Miss Shultz and Miss Alters were performed by dentist J. J. Kilpatrick, assisted by Dr. Feidt. At this writing both patients are getting along splendidly and good hopes for a speedy and permanent recovery are entertained.

"A LITTLE OUTCAST."—This well known and popular melodrama, which has proven a genuine success in all the large cities during the past season will be offering at Garman's on Thursday evening, Dec. 1st.

The wealth of special scenery and mechanical effects that has tended in a great measure to insure its success will be used in the local production. The management make a point of presenting the production in its entirety in all towns where "A Little Outcast" is presented. Many of the present cast have appeared in their respective roles during the entire life of this popular play.

Master Bobbie Young, 5 years old and Little Edwin Young, 8 years old will be seen as little Paul and Maggie. The entire cast is composed of capable people.

A SUNDAY BUTCHERING.—Sunday afternoon, about two o'clock, two Bellefonte men were out driving and when going through the Curtin narrows, from the Jacksonville road to Curtin, they came onto a party of four men, two women and two children just finishing the butchering of what appeared to be about a twenty-months-old steer. The animal had evidently been caught and thrown down, its throat cut, skinned and the insides taken out. The latter had already been carried into the woods and secreted and the party ready to make off with the meat. The Bellefonte men did not know anyone of the butchering party and their looks were not enticing enough to attempt to make their acquaintance.

News Purely Personal.

—Miss Ella McClain is spending this week at the home of Mrs. Jacob Thomas, in Philadelphia.

—C. P. Long, the John Wanamaker of Spring Mills, transacted business in Bellefonte on Monday.

—Mr. J. Malcolm Laurie came over from Winburne Wednesday evening to spend Thanksgiving in Bellefonte.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. Murray Andrews have closed their home in this place and gone to Philadelphia for the winter.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warfield spent Monday in Williamsport, the former on business and the latter for pleasure and recreation.

—After spending ten days very pleasantly with friends in Williamsport, Mrs. Witmer Smith returned home Monday evening.

—Frank P. Davis, of the Standard Safe Works, who has been home on a visit with his family, returned to Beaver Falls on Saturday.

—Miss Elsie Rankin came home from Bucknell college, Lewisburg, Saturday and spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rankin.

—Mr. Boyd A. Muser, who is now one of the important people with the Penn Bridge company at York, was an arrival in Bellefonte on Tuesday evening.

—Mr. Paul Holloway, who came down from Altoona Saturday to visit his parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Holloway, returned to the Mountain city Tuesday morning.

—Messrs Pat. McDonald, of Unionville, and Thomas Murray, of Julian, adjoining section foremen on the Bald Eagle railroad, spent last week taking in the sights of the St. Louis exposition.

—Mrs. Jno. Lauth, of Howard, who is never lacking in judgment as to the best that is to be had, while in town the other day complimented the WATCHMAN by insuring its weekly visits for coming year.

—Mr. Harry Gehrel, who handles the throttle on the motive power attached to R. S. Brouse's delivery wagon, returned the latter part of last week from a ten day's trip to Pittsburg in which both business and pleasure combined.

A letter from Mr. W. A. Stierret of Milroy, assures us that he is still interested in matters that interest Centre county people, and his enclosure is evidence that he knows exactly how to keep booked up in the things he wants to know.

—Misses Mae Haupt and Sue Dixon, who spent last week in Bellefonte as the guests of Miss Louise McClellan, dividing their time between attending the teachers' institute and taking in the big day at State College on Friday, departed for their home in Tyone on Saturday.

—Mr. Andrew Kniesley, of Shamokin, was an arrival in Bellefonte Sunday evening. He spent the night with his parents here and the next morning made one of the members of the Panther hunting club that went to Fisher's Hill, on the Alleghenies in quest of deer and other big game.

—Mr. Herbert Shaeffer, of Pittsburg, was an arrival in Bellefonte on Tuesday and it is now his aim to see his friends, get a good Thanksgiving dinner or go a hunting—and we'll bet a big red apple that if he has the time to stay long enough it will be a hunting he'll go.

—Mrs. Rachel Goodfellow, of Philadelphia, has been visiting Mrs. Will Daly and other friends in Bellefonte. Mrs. Goodfellow, like every one else who has ever lived in Bellefonte, has a warm side for the old town, and is always glad to get back to its pure water, pretty streets and exhilarating atmosphere.

—Mrs. Jos. L. Montgomery of East Linn street, was taken to the University hospital, on Monday last, for treatment or an operation, for an injury to her knee, from which she has been suffering for several months. Her many friends here hope her stay there will be short and her recovery rapid and complete.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Garman closed their home here last Friday and departed for South Carolina where, if they like the country, they will spend the winter. Mr. Garman, however, is so much of a migratory gentleman that his friends here will not be surprised if he is back in Bellefonte again in time for the Christmas celebration.

—Low Wallace, Milesburg's experienced and popular brick-maker, and whose work is always up to date don't intend to be behind either in his business, or his news matters. He makes the best bricks in this section and is determined to have the best paper going. That is the reason the WATCHMAN will go to him in the future.

—Mr. Robert Larimer, who is in the firebrick business and who now makes his headquarters in Philadelphia, was a visitor in Bellefonte this week. Bob was up in this part of the State on business and whenever he gets within reach of Bellefonte there is always that old hankerin' to come around and see old friends, and he comes.

—Chas. W. Scott Esq., representative of the American School Book company, ex-postmaster of Williamsport, one of Lycoming's Republican bosses, and with a first class gentleman, was in Bellefonte to attend to some business matters and incidentally assist in making the proceedings of the teachers' institute a little more interesting.

—Mrs. Isaac Thomas and her son Isaac Jr., departed on the 1.25 train Monday afternoon for Jersey City to attend the funeral of Mrs. Thomas' daughter-in-law, wife of William Thomas, who died in that city Sunday afternoon, of consumption. Mrs. Thomas spent the past summer in Bellefonte in the hope that the change of air would be beneficial to her health but it availed little. The deceased is survived by her husband and three children.

—Pennsylvania Furnace may be what our Republican friends rejoice in—one of their strongholds—but there are many good Democrats thereabouts who make life bearable in that "neck o' woods" by reading the WATCHMAN, and Mr. J. H. Heberling is one of them. He says it would be pretty tough getting along, considering his political surroundings, without a weekly visit of his paper. Others would be happy if they would follow Mr. Heberling's example.

—Mr. Frank Frain has resigned his position as book-keeper with McCalmont & Co. and has accepted a position to travel for a New Jersey implement firm. They are already breaking up housekeeping in this place and Mrs. Frain, who before marriage, was Miss Maize Humphreys, will go to her parents home down Nittany valley until Mr. Frain becomes fully acclimated to his new position and decides on where he would like to locate his future home.

—It is not often that Mr. Ed. Gilliland, of Pottsville, gets to town but when he does there are always scores of friends to greet him. He came over on Saturday last to attend to some business matters and returned home on Monday, leaving the printer the happier for his visit and his many acquaintances regretful that his visit could not be prolonged.

THE STAR COURSE 1904-05.—The course will open Dec. 3rd, in Petrikon Hall, with the celebrated and popular Katharine Ridgeway Co., each performer an artist high in his profession. Season tickets of 5 entertainments only $1.50.

Miss Ridgeway grows in popularity every year, and the courses which have had her every season since her first appearance in Lyceum work are again engaging her, and we feel as if any word from us is useless.

As to her company, we believe that we this year present the most popular and strongest support she has ever had.

Mr. Kerr is a most popular basso, and will be remembered by many as the one who so greatly pleased his audiences two seasons ago while traveling with Miss Ridgeway.

Miss Brewster is a western girl who has an exceptional soprano voice and a most pleasing stage presence, and we believe she will simply captivate every audience before which she appears.

Mr. Lambertson, pianist and accompanist for the company, has recently returned from studying abroad.

COLE—EWING.—Wednesday evening of last week a very quiet wedding occurred at the home of the bride at State College, when Mr. Franklin T. Cole, of Lima, Ind., a member of the class of 1900, and Miss Mary M. Ewing were united in marriage by the Rev. J. O. Denniston. The extreme quietness of the wedding was occasioned by the recent death of the bride's father and because the groom was unexpectedly called home.

The wedding is the culmination of an attachment begun while Mr. Cole was a student at State. After his graduation he secured a position in the Howe school as commandant of cadets, later coming to State College as a tutor in mathematics and special student in biology. Mr. and Mrs. Cole departed Thursday morning for the groom's home in Indiana where they will remain some time.

CORLI—HOMAN.—At noon, Thursday of last week, Mr. Alvin Corli and Miss Margaret Homan were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Homan, of near State College. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. T. Aiken in the presence of a few friends of both parties. The bride was accompanied by Miss Harpeter, of Warriorsmark, as bridesmaid, while a brother of the groom was best man. Two little Misses, Mary Homan and Naomi Stover, acted as flower girls. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served following which Mr. and Mrs. Corli departed for a honeymoon trip among their many relatives.

PARKS—MURRAY.—A quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of the groom's brother, Edward J. Parks, of Tyone, last Wednesday, when Harry J. Parks, of Tyone, but formerly of this county, and Miss Melissa Murray, of Snow Shoe Intersection, were united in marriage by the Rev. Geo. T. Gunter. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony.
