The injured member is healing up nicely and contrary to expectations will not be crippled to any extent. The patient withstood the operation all right but Saturday morning she collapsed and death followed soon after. Miss Tanner was born in Reno, and had she lived until July 31st would have been just 19 years old. Her mother, who is a sister of J. Kennedy Johnson, Esq., moved to Bellefonte about five years ago and Miss Florence attended the Bellefonte High school from which she graduated with honors last June. She passed a very creditable examination before county superintendent C. L. In the closing days of 1880 the deceased came to Phillipsburg, engaging in the insurance business and operated the Baltic mine in connection with T. Barnes and Jos. Reilly. Later he disposed of both of these, but always was more or less interested in the coal business. He was a most enterprising man and took an interest in almost every project that promised to be of material benefit to the town. He was for several years interested in the publication of the Phillipsburg Ledger. He is survived only by one nephew, Sanford Grant, of California, and one niece, Mrs. Louis Gorman, of Phillipsburg. He went home about 11 o'clock and went to his room where he was found by an inmate of the household, at 1:30 o'clock in the morning, lying alongside the bed, dead. THAT WOODWARD SENSATION.—There were no new developments in the Woodward robbery sensation during the past week nor is there likely to be anything further until the case comes up for trial in April. The only incident in connection with last week's wholesale arrests was the release on bail, on Friday, of Wilson Haines, who had been arrested for receiving stolen money. Edson and Mrs. Fuliz expected to get out on bail but up to this time the necessary bondsmen have not been secured. William Kessinger, father of Harry Kessinger, visited his son, on Wednesday, and will probably arrange to have him released on bail soon. In the meantime the entire party is making the best of the bad situation they have gotten themselves into. GEN. CURTIN IN BRONZE.—At a meeting of the Vicksburg battlefield commission in the City hall, Philadelphia, last Friday, the award of the contract for the accepted design of the Pennsylvania monument was made to Albert R. Ross, of New York. The contract provides for bronze medallion busts of the five Pennsylvania commanders, who took part in that famous battle, and one of the five is our own well-known townsman, Gen. John I. Curtin, who by the way, is the only one of the generals who took part in the contest now being held by Gen. Curtin is a nephew of the old War Governor and was a brave and gallant soldier. THE BODY OF J. B. CONSIDINE FOUND.—On the evening of January 9th John B. Considerine, of Lock Haven, was walking across the railroad bridge over the Bald Eagle creek, just east of that place, when a freight train came along and in order to avoid being struck by the train Considerine jumped into the creek and was drowned. Although his sons have kept up a persistent search for the body it was never recovered until Sunday afternoon, when it was found by a son, Anthony Considerine, about 600 feet below the bridge. The body was in a good state of preservation. KILLED IN A WRECK.—Sunday night an extra freight on the Bald Eagle Valley was wrecked at Vail, near Tyrone. Monday morning when the wreck was cleared away the body of a man was found under it, which proved to be that of Wm. A. Thompson, a son of Joseph Thompson, who was killed in a wreck at Howard about ten years ago. The young man was aged about 28 years, was unmarried and lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Brower, of Vail, from where the funeral took place, on Tuesday. JOHN C. HOFFMAN, of Philadelphia, one of the most expert counterfeiters of silver dollars, halves and quarters in the country, was arrested up Buffalo Run, Wednesday of last week, by a secret service officer of Philadelphia who had been on his trail for some time. Hoffman and a gang of five others had made and passed spurious coin in Scranton, Harrisburg, Altoona and Pittsburg and when arrested he had on his person $95 of the stuff. All the other members of the gang were likewise captured. Hoffman was tried in the United States district court, at Scranton, on Wednesday of this week, found guilty and sentenced by Judge Archibald to ten years in the penitentiary. One of the hottest scraps in years between the Sophomores and the Freshmen took place at State College, last Thursday, when the latter attempted to steal away for their annual banquet at Williamsport. About 250 Freshmen attempted to go but only sixty got successfully away, all the others were held prisoners in various barns and stables and, in fact, in the college and private houses. But the banquet at the Park hotel was a success as the class president and toastmaster, W. V. Dunn, was one of those who managed to get away. The North American, of Philadelphia, is just now engaged in trying to throw some light on the dealings and standing of the Storey Cotton company, of Philadelphia and Liverpool, in which quite a number of people of Centre county are financially interested. So far the North American's efforts have resulted in disclosing the fact that the three principals of the company are Messrs. Storey and Quinlan, of Liverpool, and Manager Howard, in the Philadelphia office, but there the revelations stop. Charles Stansell, the Phillipsburg agent for the American Express company, was placed under arrest, last Friday evening, owing to an alleged shortage in his accounts. An effort made on the part of his friends to settle the matter by making up the shortage, which is said to be about $500, was accomplished on Tuesday, when his father paid the above amount to the Express company and the prosecution was withdrawn. Just two weeks ago today Mrs. Orpha Pletcher, of Howard township, celebrated her 80th birthday and on that occasion a large number of friends gathered at her home and gave the good old lady a surprise party which proved a most enjoyable event. Quite a number of presents—mementoes of the occasion—were given Mrs. Pletcher by her friends and relatives. The eighteen-months-old son of Mrs. Nancy E. Rawley, of Water street, died last Thursday and was buried, Saturday, at Snow Shoe. The child had the measles and caught cold which resulted in its death. Charles Hays, the six-year-old son of Thomas Hays, who lives in the same house, died Saturday night from the same cause. The remains were taken to Snow Shoe, on Tuesday, for interment.

Mr. Thomas Hamilton came up from his Williamsport home to spend last Sunday with his brother, Mr. Thad Hamilton, of Howard street, who by the way, is getting along as well as possible with that injured hand of his. Though his paper was paid for quite a time in advance he just paid another year on top of it for fear he might forget it the next time he is down. Would that there were more such men in the land. J. L. DeLong was up from Blanchard on Tuesday looking anything but well. It was his first trip to this place since last fall. Meanwhile he has been doing his best to recover from a partial stroke of paralysis and we trust that the brighter weather of spring will bring better health to him. Frank Curtin, son of James Curtin, who the past several years has been in the employ of the Hoy Hardware company as order clerk, has tendered his resignation and will depart for Arizona, next week, where he has accepted a position on the ranch of John B. Stinson, the millionaire hat manufacturer, of New York, hoping that the rarified atmosphere of that western State will be more beneficial to his health than the changeable climate of Pennsylvania. May success and prosperity attend him. It was to be expected that the advent of Dr. F. K. White and H. D. Rumberger in town on Wednesday would cause a little stir, not only because both of them have so many friends here but also for the reason that there has been a great deal of talk lately of Dr. White's entering the field as a candidate for county treasurer. Of course he said his visit was purely on business about some coal operations and Rummy was selling oil, but everyone knows that pair well enough to know that they will likely be sitting up on the sides of their graves talking politics when old Gabriel comes "round tootin' his horn for the rest of us to waken up. However, they did get away from town without reducing the theory of the Doctor's candidacy to a condition. The list of good folks grows from time to time and it would be folly to say that we do not watch their growth with feverish pleasure. With- out any booming or agitation whatever, the Watchman list has been steadily growing for the past few years; notwithstanding the knocking off of a great many who had come to believe that the paper was theirs by divine right and that it could keep on publishing even without an occasional back collection. Many have been sent to the delinquent bone yard and there have been more than enough new ones added to keep the gain regular. The Watchman is a good paper and its readers know it. They tell others who soon become convinced of the fact and the result is a steady, healthful growth. It is a pleasure to note, too, that the latter day newspaper subscriber, as a rule, is a prompt payer and we sincerely trust that before many years all may become incoerated with the same habit. For reminiscences this week we thank T. L. Wallace, Milesburg; Geo. Harpster, Bellefonte; Geo. Noll, Milesburg; Geo. Wm. Allison, Spring Mills; Mrs. L. C. Lonsberry, G. NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.—The Thespians, the State College dramatic organization, opened the season with their first performance in the auditorium at the College, last Saturday evening, in the deservedly popular play, "The Boomerang." This week The Thespians have been away on their annual trip through the central part of the State, playing to good houses in Hollidaysburg, Huntingdon and other places, drawing large audiences wherever they appeared. Bellefonters will have an opportunity to see The Thespians next Monday night, March 6th, when they will appear at Garman's opera house for the benefit of the Womens Guild of the St John's Episcopal church. A full house should greet their appearance here. Up to the present time there are six or more applicants for the pastorate of the Lutheran church, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. H. C. Holloway. Among the number are Rev. J. M. Reaick, of Centre Hall; Rev. C. T. Aiken, Pine Grove Mills, and Rev. William Reaick, of West Milton. All the applicants will be heard in trial sermons before any selection is made. The Bellefonte Academy contest for the two $5.00 prizes offered by the D. A. I. for the best essay writers was held last Friday afternoon. The girls' prize was won by Margaret Wiener, whose subject was "What France did for America," and the boy's prize was taken by Howard B. Creighton in an essay on "Why the British did not win." The judges were Mrs. Geo. Isaac Brown, Mrs. F. W. Cridler and Mrs. Evelyn Rogers. When the Verna May company went to Garman's opera house, Monday night, to open their week's engagement, Miss May refused to play until more heat was furnished in the dressing rooms and it was necessary for the managers to scurry around and secure oil stoves with which to warm up the apartments, and by that time it was past 9 o'clock, but the show went on.
