Are Almost Forgetting the Game Law.

From the Mercer Press. A valued correspondent asks this paper to publish the law respecting hunting game on Sunday. The law nearest at hand is embraced in the Fourth Commandment. We really think this ought to carry as much force as a Penn's legislative enactment.

—The pretty story to be found on page 2 of this issue is from the pen of Alfred Terry Brisbin, U. S. N. He has been writing tales of his travels in foreign waters for the WATCHMAN, but this is his first attempt at story writing; consequently it is decidedly interesting.

THE CHRISTIAN.—The Christian, which will be presented at the opera house Tuesday evening, April 4th, will be given the same powerful production as characterized its tour in past seasons. It is hard indeed to recall a drama that has proven so unqualifiedly acceptable, as every care has been continually exerted to keep the production up to the very highest artistic standard. It is interesting to note the organization is headed by Mr. Kirk Brown and Miss Helen Grayce, two exceptionally talented artists. The first appearance of Miss Grayce in Bellefonte promises to attract special attention from the fact that she is a daughter of the late General Brisbin, a sister of Misses Daisy and Kate Brisbin and a niece of Col. J. L. Spangler, her early life having been spent in Bellefonte. She has been on the stage for the past five years and is considered one of the most promising of the younger school of actresses.

THE TEMPLE QUARTETTE CONCERT COMPANY.—The W. C. T. U. is to be heartily commended on the high quality entertainments they gave to the people of Bellefonte in their season's Star course, the closing number of which will be next Monday evening, April 3rd, when the Temple Quartette Concert company will appear in Petrieth hall. Any person who was present at any of the former entertainments will not want to miss this one as it will be one of the best of the year. The company comes to Bellefonte well heralded by press and public, and if you have not a course ticket you want to secure one or more single tickets at once. The following notices show how they were received other places; Brookfield audiences have doubtless never enjoyed a finer entertainment than the one on Thursday night. Every piece was encored.—Brookfield (Mo.) Gazette. Miss Cole is the equal of any reader that ever appeared on the Ashland stage. She has a variation of voice and countenance and an ease and grace of action that one cannot imagine could be improved.—Ashland (O.) Press.

JUDGE A. V. LARIMER.—A telegram received in this place last Saturday announced the sudden death, that morning in Chicago, of the Hon. Adam V. Larimer. No particulars of his death have been received up to the time of going to press and the cause thereof is therefore unknown. The remains were taken to Omaha, where the funeral was held on Tuesday.

Deceased was the son of James and Mary Larimer, one of the leading families and among the pioneer settlers of the county. He was born, March 31st, 1819, on the old Larimer homestead near Pleasant Gap, now the farm owned by Mrs. Speer. He worked on the farm in summer and attended school in winter at what was then called Harrisonville, now included in Pleasant Gap. Being of a studious, energetic nature he successfully passed through the common school and prepared himself for college, taking a full course in Lafayette, at Easton, from which he graduated with honors in 1849.

He at once began reading law in the office of the late ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin and in January, 1852, was admitted to practice at the Centre county bar. The next morning he went to Look Haven with the purpose of opening up a law office but during the night he changed his mind and decided to go west. He came home and in a few days left to carve out his future in the west, which was then just opening up and presenting to the young man many excellent opportunities for advancement. He located in Council Bluffs, Iowa, and began the practice of law and it was not many years until he became a leader among the best lawyers of the State. Some years ago he was elected a probate judge, and in this official capacity he won an enviable reputation for wise judgment and fairness.

After retiring from the bench he went into the real estate and cattle business in which he proved very successful. He associated with others in a number of leading enterprises of the west and thus was a very influential man. About eight years ago he became afflicted with the gout and since then had been unable to do anything except go from one place to another trying to obtain relief. He finally located in Sioux City where he established a very comfortable home. He was a man of unusual generosity of heart and it was one of his greatest pleasures to help those in distress.

About four years ago he was united in marriage with a young English woman, who survives him with two sisters, Mrs. W. T. Speer, of this place, and Mrs. Ellen Furey, of Pittsburg. There are also a number of nieces and nephews.

FETZER.—On March 20th, Mary C. Fetzer, a highly esteemed lady, died at the residence of her sister, Mrs. B. E. Yarnell, of Snow Shoe. The deceased was 47 years, 1 month, and 4 days of age. The funeral was held on Monday, the remains being brought to this place for interment in the Union cemetery. Mr. Dixon enjoyed the distinction of a wide acquaintanceship and was one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Snow Shoe. A peculiar co-incidence in connection with his death was his burial here on Monday, the same day of the funeral of Henry P. Harris, the two men being the oldest undertakers in the county.

CLARK.—Mrs. John Clark died at her home on Lamb street, Wednesday evening of brain fever after an illness of five weeks. That same day there was a noticeable improvement in her condition and her friends hoped for her recovery, but about 5 o'clock she began to sink and died in a half hour. She is survived by her husband and a number of children. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon, interment to be made at Pleasant Gap.

Surviving her are one brother, Frank B. Stover, of Altoona, and the following sisters: Mrs. Jonathan Musser, of Altoona; Mrs. George Kapp, Boalsburg; Mrs. Henry Giegerich, Linden Hall, and Miss Della, at home. The funeral services will be held this evening at 5 o'clock and the remains will be taken to Boalsburg, tomorrow morning, for interment.

Mr. Markle was twice married and is survived by two children, Laurie, of Pittsburg, and George, of Jeanette; also three step-children, Samuel Ray, of near Roopersburg, with whom he made his home; Mrs. Ellsworth Miller and Mrs. John Coughanour, of Greensburg. The funeral took place, Monday morning, from the house, interment being made in the Union cemetery.

Deceased was a native of Ferguson township and was raised to manhood in Pine Grove Mills, where his father kept a hotel. For a number of years he has lived in Renovo where he was employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad shops. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, Dr. Mothersbaugh, of Eagleville, and Owen Mothersbaugh, of Boalsburg, and one sister, Mrs. Samuel Glenn, of the Branch. The remains were taken to Reading for burial.
