Books, Magazines, Etc.

THE DELINEATOR FOR MAY-Among the women's nagazines none will be read with greater pleauser than the May Delineator, which appears with a varied and attractive table of contents. The news of the fashion world is reported in a number of special articles, and the choicest of the season's dress productions are illustrated. Chief among the literary features is Albert Bigelow Paine's serial story, "The Lucky-Piece," which grows upon the reader with the second instalment and promises most interesting developments in the succeeding chapters. Sewell Ford and Seumas MacManus also contribute fiction, the latter an inimitable story of Irish life. N. Hudson Moore William Mayes' tenant house ; John Allen Manual." "A Duet in Brittany" is an enjoyable writes concerning old chairs in "The Collector's is to be equipped with all modern fixtures veteran Anthony Kanepp is happy in his W. R. C. Latson contributes an article on "House work as a Recreation." illustrating the proper to the Henry McCracken farm : George methods of performing household duties so that they become profitable and pleasurable instead of disagreeable tasks, as they are usual y regarded. Dr. Murray discusses "The Child's Bath" in a paper that will be helpful to young mothers, and Allan Sutherland tells something of the origin and romance of Keble's famcus hymn, "Sun of My Soul." For the young people, there are amusements of various kinds and stories by such entertaining writers as L. Frank Baum, Grace MacGowan Cooke, Lene Harrington Wright and others, and a large amount of space is devoted to domestic topics, among which attention may be called particularly to the article in the series, "The Making of a Housewife." NEW BOOK" ON CALIFORNIA - Colorado and Cali. fornia is a pleasantly written narrative anent the country between Chicago and San Francisco traversed by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, and its western connections. The story eleverly carries the traveler from place to place long the route, pointing out the prominent and attractive features en passant, and while it goes fully into particulars it does not become tiresome or dull, and the illustrations which adorn the tale are all ample, graphic, and well executed. The make-up is admirable, showing discriminating taste, and that definess which comes from long experience; the text is in leaded 10 point on coated book, with the marginal sub heads in Bismarck brown, and the covers show mountain and canon scenery in colortype on delicate azure-tinted plate, with the title embossed in bronze.

Large delegations are going from all the lodges in this county, as it will afford them excellent opportunity to inspect the orphans' home at that place, an institution that has been a great oredit to the order.

who are his parents: On Tuesday afternoon a strange boy, about 13 years of age, came to the residence of George Bender, 2110 Eleventh avenue, and claimed he had no home. Alderman John J.!rwin and humane officer McGraw were notified, but when the humane officer arrived at the Bender house, a strange woman had preceded him and carried the little waif away with her.

The officer made a diligent search yesterday for the pair and succeeded in learning that the loy's name is Harry Green and that his home is in Bellefonte. He also learned that the boy's father was an inmate of the Centre county almshouse and that his mother had eloped with an Italian. The boy walked three miles from Bellefonte and boarded a freight car at Miles-burg and rode to Tyrone. At Tyrone some one gave him a quarter, which he

for the remainder of this month Rev. Irl Hicks says that the 7th and 8th are central dates on and touching with reactionary changes to storm conditions. These eastern sections, being followed by rapid rise of the barometer, and much cooler. Electrical Venus storms until past the middle of April should be warnings of sudden change to cooler with frost. A regular Vulcan storm period extends from the 11th to the 15th. The changes that go before the formation and approach, the cloudiness and the storms will appear to the westward as we enter this period touch numerous localities in their progress over the country. The mercury disturbances blended with those of Venus at this time, will almost surely prolong and intensify storm conditions so that little or no intermission of settled weather will follow this period before the beginning of another.

The next storm period includes the 17th to 20th inclusive. The Easter full moon on the equator and in perigee are embraced WHO IS HE?-Yesterday's Altoona in the 17th to the 19th. Very threatening tornadio in places in the west and central are possible, and, probable at this time.

These storms will break up into snow squalls over much of the country northward, and they will be followed by several days of bleak and frosty weather. Late sleet storms will visit many sections on and touching the 17th and 19th.

The next regular storm period is central on the 24th, covering the 23rd to 27th. The barometer will fall generally during the progress of this period, and April showers will thicken into wider and heavier thunder storms. At all the periods in April, up to this period, many parts of the country will get more rain than for many months past. Lowlands in all central and western States will have too much.
