like were at the helm and one could always feel assured of at least an interesting time, however hopeless their cause. But Tuesday the entire regime was new. Ex-Judge John G. Love presided over the convention, the first time in many years, and in his zeal to shove the treasurership nomination down Penns-valley he even forgot his parliamentary tactics with the result that he failed in the only one thing he tried to accomplish. But then the Judge is new at the business and was not properly backed up by his prompters, Sammy B. Miller and George Wellington Rees.

The convention started off slow, as it was just 11:08 o'clock when county chairman Phil D. Foster rapped for order and had the call for the convention read by Secretary Rees. The roll call showed 134 delegates out of a total of 135 present, but the absent one sent his instructions and these were voted in his absence.

Charles F. Cook nominated Judge Love for permanent chairman of the convention and he was elected by acclamation. On ascending the rostrum a few of the delegates wouldn't work. The ex judge was most profuse in his thanks to the convention for the honor conferred upon him and in his grateful little speech announced that "Republicans do still exist," a fact he must have had some doubts about before.

The convention was fully organized by the selection of S. M. Miller, of Philipsburg, and Charles F. Cook, of Bellefonte, as secretaries and G. W. Rees, as reading clerk. On motion of T. M. Gramley the chair appointed the following committee on resolutions: T. M. Gramley, Dr. R. G. Allison, C. D. Motz, John P. Eves, A. C. Bowes, H. C. Woodring and H. S. Stewart. Mr. Noah H. Swayne II, presented a resolution outlining the order of business to be followed, which was adopted.

The chair then announced the convention open for the nomination of candidates for the various offices. S. M. Miller, of Philipsburg, nominated Henry Kline, of Spring township, for sheriff. There being no other nominee Kline's nomination was made by acclamation.

L. E. Swartz, of Walker township; Isaac Underwood, of Bellefonte, and H. M. Allison, of Spring Mills, were the candidates presented for the nomination for treasurer, and it required four ballots to make a choice. After the second ballot Underwood, who was the lowest man, was dropped and a third ballot taken, but before the result could be announced H. C. Quigley, who was not even a member of the convention but who very likely was building on his prerogative as prospective county chairman, strode rapidly forward and challenged the vote, declaring that under the prevail-

the names and spelling thereof on our soldiers' monument, we will publish from time to time the lists of certain companies so as to enable those who are interested to suggest changes in initials or spelling, and also to suggest the names of any persons who may have been omitted from the rolls. This is the last opportunity which will be given to our people and to the survivors or friends of deceased soldiers who served from Centre county to have these names corrected. The Committee, therefore, appeals very earnestly to all who are interested in the subject to carefully scan all the names

o ascertain 1st, whether any have been omitted; and 2nd, whether the names of those already contained in the rolls are properly spelled. It is also very important that the names of soldiers who enlisted in organizations outside of the county or state should be secured, in order that they may find their place among the nation's defenders upon the monument. This is perhaps the most important thing which the Committee has in charge, the organizations from our own county, has knowledge of a citizen of Centre couny who enlisted in organizations outside of the county and state, it is speccially important that their names should be ascertained, so that they may find a place among those who enlisted at home.

Any communication in regard to these names addressed to Gen. John I. Curtin cr prompt attention.

THAT BELLEFONTE HOSPITAL BENEFIT county being already well known. If, MUSICALE.-The additional talent which tried to get up an "applause" for him but it therefore, any person, in or out of the bas been secured for the musicale to be given in the court house, next Tuesday evening, for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital, promises to make this an entertainment par excellence of anything of the kind ever heard in Bellefonte ; and on behalf of the ladies' auxiliary we wish to thank those who have so kindly volunteered their services. Miss Knowles has a rich William H. Musser, Bellefoute, will receive contralto voice and her artistic singing bas won her pronounced success as a superior vocalist, both at home and abroad. Dr. Lee B. Woodcock, of Scranton, hardly needs an introduction to a Bellefonte audience. They fully appreciate the privilege of again hearing his voice. Another of our talented former townsmen who will add to the attractions of the occasion is Mr. George Nevin Brandon, pianist. Noah H. Swayne II, whose fine voice has won him such notoriety since his residence in Bellefonte, is also down on the program for one or more numhers. The above-mentioned would be quite sufficient to make the musicale delightful. but in addition the services of two wellknown artists of Philadelphia have been secured in Miss Helen Frame, one of the leading sopranos of the Quaker city, and Miss Edna Turner Bradfield, a young violinist. The latter has studied from her ohildhood with Gustav Hille, a master of violin technique who says he has only one pupil more talented than she. Miss Rebecca Pagh Lyon, whose ability is so widely known, will be one of the accompanists. It is indeed most unusual to have presented for one entertainment a musicale so full of variety and artistic merit, and it is boped all will avail themselves of an opportunity so rare. cemetery.

The Pennsylvania railroad company put up a cattle yard near town, which will make it handy for persons shipping stock to or from this station.

John McCormick was looking up the interests of the United Telephone company in and around town Wednesday, as all telephones needed attention after the storm.

The first three days of this week brought snow and high, cold winds. It seems that we have Indian summer in the fall, so this must be Indian winter, although there is not much smoke in evidence.

Spring Mills.

Mrs. W. O. Gramley, who has been very ill since last week, is not improving very rapidly.

Quite a number of our fishermen were on the shores of trout streams on Saturday last, the first day of the season, but met with indifferent success. The weather proved a trifle too cool.

In repairing the pike bridge over Penns creek, last week, one of the workmen had the misfortune to slip and fall into the water, over his head. Excepting a cold bath, no injury resulted from the mishap.

Earl Bartley, one of our active and energetic young men, recently purchased a new machine for wool clipping, which does the work admirably and expeditiously. Mr. Bartley has had very little idle time since operating the machine.

Eggs are becoming very plentiful. They will soon decline to about ten cents per dozen. The little folks are talking about Easter eggs, and they want sugar ones too, and a good many of them. It is to be hoped their "eggs pectations" will be fully realized.

D. H. Schlegel, of this village, has been quite ill for over a week, but is now rapidly mending. Mr. Schlegel is not only an expert plasterer and paper hanger, but deals extensively in wall paper and curtain fixtures, being general agent for several firms in Philadelphia and Chicago. He is doing quite a large business.

The snow squalls, stormy and cold weather we had here on Sunday last and the fore part of the week, was a first rate imitation of winter. The turnado of ten days ago played havoc with fencing and trees in this neighborhood, several dwellings were more or less damaged, and one or two peach or-chards have hardly a tree left; boards, fenc-ing and trees were scattered everywhere.

ing and trees were scattered everywhere. The Penn Hall carriage works, located at Penn Hall, a short distance below the village, is certainly one of the institutions of the meighborhood It is quite a large and com-modious building, and in addition to the manufacture of vehicles an extensive black-smith shop is attached which frequently em-ploys a half dozen or more workmen. The warerooms at present are stocked with vehic-les of almost every description, from the or-dinary road wagon to the high grade and elegantly finished carriage and buggy, so highly polished that the panels look like mirrors.
