THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

John Porter Lyon has another new auto.

The regular term of April court begins next week.

Mrs. Jared Harper entertained a number of her lady friends at a party last evening.

Mrs. Isaac Thomas is ill at her home on Thomas street, suffering with a bad attack of rheumatism.

Harry McCoy, formerly of this place, is now agent for the Adams Express company, at Tyrone.

George W. Glace, of Centre Hall, will move to Look Haven in the near future, where he has purchased a home.

Mr. A. M. Brown, of Pennsylvania Furnace, recently bought the timber on the Shippen farm, near Tyrone, for $1,700.

Edward Lucas, well known in Bellefonte, has been made manager of Fabian's general furnishing store at Chester.

Owing to this being Good Friday all the banks of the town will be closed and at least some of the employees will go a-fishing.

When you hear the fire alarm blow every day at noon don't think there is a fire. The whistle is blown merely to keep it in proper condition.

The All-Stars contemplate accepting the challenge of the base ball team, of the Volunteer Organist company, to play them a game next Tuesday afternoon.

A boiler inspector from Harrisburg inspected the boilers at the shirt factory, yesterday morning, in consequence of which the fifty or more girls working there had a few hours vacation.

About twenty-five men are now at work for the Howard Brick company, finishing the plant, building railroad and getting things ready for putting it in operation as early a date as possible.

Though not an avowed candidate for re-election Mr. C. L. Gramley announces that if his friends desire it and re-elect him he will serve another term as county superintendent of school houses.

The game of ball between the Academy and All-Stars, last Friday afternoon, ended in the seventh inning when the All-Stars left the field with the score 8 to 7 in favor of the Academy.

According to the Altoona papers Alderman John J. Irwin, who came down to Bellefonte for the opening of the trout-fishing season, last Saturday, went home that evening with sixteen nice trout.

Miss Elsie Rankin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rankin and a recent graduate of Pott's Business college, Williamsport, has accepted a position as stenographer for the Bellefonte Furnace company.

We were in error last week in stating that Mr. Adam Wagner had purchased the Penn's Cave property and farm for $7,200. He has purchased it but the price paid for it will run up close to $9,000.

Residents of the northern part of the town were considerably inconvenienced, yesterday, by the water being turned off without notification, on account of making the connections on the twelve-inch water main in the Diamond.

A very slight fire on the roof of the house on Logan street occupied by Benner Graham and family, on Tuesday afternoon, caused an alarm of fire to be sounded and consequently a little excitement, but the fire was soon extinguished and the excitement as quickly subsided.

The Bellefonte Masons contemplate purchasing a steam or gasoline launch to use on the dam at Curtin while they occupy their summer quarters at Camp Cooney; and from the trouble they are having in making a suitable selection one might be led to think that they had in view the purchase of a whole fleet of battleships.

If you are at all interested in the Bellefonte hospital and at the same time a lover of music you want to attend the concert to be given in the opera house, next Tuesday evening, April 25th. With the talent that will participate on that occasion it will be one of the few rare musical treats that Bellefonters have ever had the privilege of enjoying.

Last Friday night it blew up cold and Saturday morning there was freezing weather. Sunday morning there was an inch of snow in places where it had not melted and then for three days we were treated to cold, rain, regular northwestern snow squalls and every other kind but nice, gentle spring weather. It is to be hoped that this will be the last of this kind of weather we will have this season.

Catharine Allison, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Allison, met with quite a painful accident, Wednesday afternoon. She had not been very well during the day and in the afternoon, with some other children had gone out driving in Chalmers' pony cart. When on East Curtin street Catharine, who was sitting in the rear, suddenly grew dizzy and fell from the cart, sustaining a broken collar bone. It was several minutes before she was missed and when found she was tenderly taken up and conveyed home. While quite a painful mishap the injury is not of a very serious nature.

PARDON REFUSED.—As announced in the WATCHMAN last week the case of Ira Green and William Dillen, the two men now under sentence of death in the Centre county jail for the murder of turn-key Jerry Condo, was taken before the board of pardons, on Wednesday of this week. Ex-Judge A. O. Furst and Henry C. Quigley appeared in the interest of the condemned men, while the Commonwealth was represented by District Attorney W. G. Rankie and E. R. Chambers.

The case was called second on the list for argument. Mr. Furst asked for a continuation of the case for one month on the grounds that he was not physically able to properly present the facts and argument to the pardon board, but after a brief consultation in executive session the board refused to grant a continuance and declared that the case should be heard at once. Judge Furst then proceeded with his argument, speaking for almost one hour. E. R. Chambers spoke briefly on behalf of the Commonwealth. And after taking all the facts into consideration the board of pardons decided that they could not interfere with the mandate of the law, as already laid down, and refused to grant either a pardon, commutation of sentence or even a respite, so that the last hope for Green and Dillen is gone and they will have to hang on Tuesday, May 9th, unless some miraculous providence intervenes.

In addition to a complete history of the case, all the evidence adduced at the trial, etc., counsel for Green and Dillen presented to the pardon board the following reasons on which they based their application for a pardon or commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania vs. Ira Green and William Dillen. No. 2, August sessions, 1904. And in the Quarter sessions, 1904. No. 45, August sessions, 1904.

Verdict, murder in the first degree, under which sentence of death has been imposed by the Court.

To the Honorable: William M. Brown, Lieutenant Governor; Frank M. Fuller, Secretary of the Commonwealth; Hampton L. Carson, Attorney General; and Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, constituting the Board of Pardons for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The defendants above named, Ira Green and William Dillen, respectfully apply to your Honorable Board for pardon or commutation of the sentence of death to imprisonment for life, and herewith submit and file the following reasons sustaining said application:

First: The trial of the case in the court below was had on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 26th, 27th and 28th days of August, 1904, within a month after the death of Jeremiah Condo, while the public mind was highly inflamed and public excitement almost to the extent of lynching existed in the community, so that no fair and impartial trial could be then had. The facts in relation thereto appear in the accompanying history of the case.

Second: Two of the jurors empaneled in the said cause, viz: C. L. Gramley and George Garbrick, had expressed opinions hostile to the defendants which disqualified them for serving upon the jury, but which opinions were not known to the defendants nor to their counsel until after the trial. The opinions so entertained by the said jurors were of such a character as to disqualify them absolutely from sitting as jurors in the cause.

Third: George Garbrick, one of the jurors empaneled in the cause, within two or three days prior to the sitting of the court, at the instance of the Commonwealth, exhibited the evidence of three witnesses that your petitioners were guilty of murder in the first degree. That hanging was too good for them, and they should be burned at the stake like the "niggers" in the south. These facts were unknown to your petitioners, or their counsel until after the trial. That the said George Garbrick not only had formed and expressed his opinion of the guilt of your petitioners, but had declared his prejudice in such a manner as rendered him incompetent to sit as a juror in the cause.

Fourth: That the evidence of previously formed opinions of the said jurors, and the sworn testimony in the cause heretofore exhibited to your Honorable Board by numerous witnesses, including C. C. VanVels, appellant, appendix, page 142, etc.; Charles Schrad, page 132; Thomas, page 138; Mrs. Wm. Thomas, page 162; Miss Lulu Thomas, page 164; Clement Dale Esq., page 167; J. Thomas Mitchell, page 172; H. C. Quigley, page 191; Harry Dalkeman, page 195; Samuel Decker, page 202; and Daniel Woodring, page 204.

Fifth: That your applicants for pardon or commutation did unfortunately and unintentionally cause the death of Jeremiah Condo in their attempt to escape from the jail of Centre county on the evening of the 29th day of July, 1904, which fact they have never denied, but they never formed a design to kill or to take the life of the said Condo.

Sixth: That the conviction of applicants of murder in the first degree is unwarranted and not sustained by the evidence in the cause.

Seventh: That six of the jurors empaneled in the cause, from the time they were charged by the Court on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock until Sunday morning stood firmly for a conviction of murder in the second degree; that one of the said six jurors, viz: J. H. Sands, became suddenly sick during the night; that during all that time the two jurors aforesaid, viz: C. L. Gramley and George Garbrick, insisted upon a conviction of murder in the first degree; that the other five yielded with him. That the verdict of murder in the first degree was not the free, unadvised opinion of the said jurors.

Eighth: That owing to the prejudice existing against your applicants at the time of the trial and before, no fair and impartial trial could be had at the August sessions of the court. The facts upon which this application are based appear in the history of the case accompanying the same.

Wherefore, we most earnestly urge and pray your Honorable Board to grant either a pardon to your petitioners or a commutation of sentence, and such other relief as the justice of their case requires, and as in duty bound they will ever pray, etc.

WILLIAM GREEN, IRA GREEN, WILLIAM DILLEN.

JUNIOR ORATORS SELECTED.—The declamatory contest by members of the Junior class of the Bellefonte High school was held on Monday afternoon in the presence of a large crowd of visitors. The room was neatly but artistically decorated for the occasion with potted plants and the class colors. The program of declamations was interspersed with music on the piano by Misses Louisa Braebill, Edna Meyer and Rachel Shuey. The judges were Messrs. George T. Bush and A. G. Aroby and from nineteen contestants the following ten were selected as qualified to enter the Junior oratorical contest on Monday evening, May 29th: Misses Anna W. Keichline, Mildred H. Ogden, Mary L. Grimm, Winifred M. Gates, Pearl M. Knisely, Maud A. Johnston, Lizzie M. Yohay and Sara R. McClure, and Thomas G. Haugh and John A. Rankin.

John Chauncey Lamborn, a Clearfield county school teacher, last Wednesday, eloped with Eva, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Morrow, of Pittsburg, went to Ashtabula, Ohio, where he is now living there.

Charles Wrye was recently appointed postmaster at Morrisdale Mines.

J. Frank and Harry Bible, of Potter township, have gone to York to locate.

Archie Allison has put a new fire alarm whistle on the electric light station.

Supt. Samuel Rine began the laying of the big water main, on Allegheny street, yesterday.

C. H. Stover has opened a new confectionery and grocery store in Aaronsburg.

The Senior class of the Bellefonte High school delivered their Easter orations yesterday afternoon.

Mr. William Hart is lying very seriously ill with congestion of the brain, at his home on East Bishop street.

A merry-go-round has been put up on the green near Gamble & Green's mill, and will be operated there during the next ten days.

Phillipsburgers are jubilant over the prospects for the establishment of a factory in that place for the manufacture of certain lines of gents' and women's clothing.

The thirty-sixth annual convention of the Centre county Sabbath school association will be held in Millheim Wednesday and Thursday, May 31st and June 1st.

Percy Smith, a passenger train fireman on the Bald Eagle valley railroad, and Miss Maude Zesinger, of Look Haven, were married in that city Wednesday evening of last week.

The farm house of Wallace Walker, near Smullon, was entirely destroyed by fire, on Monday. Less than a year ago Mr. Walker's barn was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

The home of John Geary, in Centre Hall, was quarantined a few days the past week because Mrs. Geary had been visiting in Reedsville, at a house where smallpox broke out soon after she left.

Mrs. Ed. Swiler, of Beaver street, who the fore part of the week was threatened with appendicitis, is getting along very nicely now and unless further complications follow will speedily recover.

The prospecting for oil and gas by the Pennsylvan Oil and Mineral company has been brought to a standstill for the present because parties owning land in that section refuse to lease their property.

Rev. H. F. Long, of Harrisburg, will be in Bellefonte and occupy the pulpit in the Lutheran church this (Friday) evening; he will also preach Easter Sunday, morning and evening, at 10:30 and 7:30 o'clock respectively. Holy communion will be administered in the morning. All are invited.

General Beaver's friends are arranging to give him a royal send-off at the State Republican convention, in Harrisburg, next Wednesday. A large crowd of local politicians will leave here in a special car, on Tuesday, and will be joined by a crowd from Phillipsburg at Tyrone.

Centre county had but two cases in the Supreme court, this week. They were appeals in the cases of Rosie L. Pierce vs. O. L. Schoonover and J. L. Kreamer vs. Wm. Voneda, Wm. Cloce and Wm. Fees. The attorneys who were interested in the presentation of the cases were John Blomhard, J. C. Meyer, A. O. Furst, S. D. Gettig, John J. Bower and W. D. Zerby.

Blauche Bard, of Aaronsburg, employed as a domestic in Altoona, was in the act of getting off a trolley car, Sunday afternoon, when the car started and she was thrown violently to the ground. She was removed to the hospital where an examination showed that she had sustained a contusion of the right hip and other body bruises. Miss Bard was at one time employed at the Bellefonte hospital.

THE VOLUNTEER ORGANIST.—On Tuesday night, April 25th, at Garman's, will be William B. Gray's four act drama, "The Volunteer Organist," a beautiful drama of New England life. It is an extremely impressive play, portraying true to nature scenes and characters found in the most picturesque of Vermont's rural sections. The play has as one of its central characters a young minister, and the story told is one that appeals very forcibly to all classes of theatre goers.

A slight fire on the roof of the Henry Walkley house on Logan street, occupied by David Wireman, brought out both fire companies, last Friday morning, but the incipient blaze was extinguished with a few buckets of water. Going home from the fire Alf. Baum, who was hauling the Undine steamer, ran into Mart Cooney's buggy tearing off a rear wheel. Cooney struck Baum's horses with his whip, the animals jumped, dished the engine and threw Baum from the seat to the ground. Later in the day Cooney prosecuted Baum who waived a hearing and the case is bound over to court for trial.

FOUND $100; GOT REWARD OF $10.—While taking a stroll on the boardwalk, last Saturday, Miss Lillian Hall, the 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. J. D. Hall, of "Hallwood," South Carolina avenue, Atlantic City, had the good fortune to find a pocketbook which contained $100. Diligent inquiry was at once made and in a few hours the person who lost the pocketbook was found and, strange as it may seem, he proved to be a Methodist minister, who was visiting at the shore. The divine was most profuse in his thanks to the young Miss Hall and as a reward for her honesty gave her $10.

OPENING OF THE TROUT FISHING SEASON.—For days and days, even weeks prior to the 15th, Bellefonte disciples of Isaak Walton lived on the buoyant waves of anxious expectancy in anticipation of just the ideal weather for the morning of the opening of the trout-fishing season, but old Boreas came along on Friday and with one good blow blew out the nice weather that had prevailed since the middle of March and blew in the fishing season, Saturday morning, with freezing weather, streams fringed with a lace-like edging of ice and a cold, north wind which John Bower says will prevent any sensible trout from jumping to fly or even taking bait.

However, notwithstanding all these inauspicious and disappointing circumstances dozens of local piscatorialists, in fact almost everybody who could get together the necessary outfit, braved the elements and went out to try their luck. It was noted, by the way, that the majority of them simply strung out along Spring creek, either within the borough limits or very close thereto and that the courage of the most of them oozed out through cold finger tips before the morning was far advanced so that by the middle of the forenoon not a fisherman could be seen anywhere along the creek.

In summing up the "luck" that attended the fishermen it can be said that A. A. Dale Esq. claims to have caught the first trout. He came down to the creek a little past 5 o'clock, caught an eleven inch trout, took it up to the Garman house and had it cooked for his breakfast. Ollie Campbell and Charles Larimer brought back 63 mountain trout from Pat Gerrity's; William Haynes caught 15 out of Marsh creek and Dr. Sebring brought home 6 hooked from the same stream. Dr. Kilpatrick and Herb Sheffer journeyed to Fishing creek and came home with 11; Ed. Robb landed 6 while Ben. Tate brought 3 home from Green's valley and said he ought to have had 50. George Miller caught 3 right above the Lewisburg railroad trestle which measured twelve, fourteen and fifteen inches respectively. George Knisely caught 2, Charles Kurtz 2, Will Garman 2 and Ed. Harper 1 which measured fourteen inches and weighed 14 pounds. Thomas Fleming caught four and a few others caught 1 each, while the majority of the fishermen came home with 0. All told not 200 trout were caught by Bellefonte fishermen last Saturday.

WAS McHUGH MURDERED?—In last week's WATCHMAN appeared a brief notice of the finding of the dead body of Michael McHugh in the Moshannon creek, near Osceola, last Wednesday morning. At that time the authorities were undecided as to whether the man met his death by accident or was the victim of foul play. An inquest over the dead body was held on Wednesday afternoon by justice of the peace, B. J. Laporte and the verdict rendered by the jury was in effect that the man had come to his death by accidental drowning.

After the inquest additional evidence came into the possession of the authorities which led to the conclusion that McHugh had been fully dealt with and, on Friday morning, Barney McHugh, a son of the deceased, went to Phillipsburg and before Justice C. B. Sanford swore out a warrant for the arrest of Charles and Howard Stewart and Winfield Gregg, charging them with aggravated assault and murder. The defendants were given a hearing Friday afternoon and, though the evidence adduced at that time has not been made public, it was deemed sufficient to hold them for trial and the three men were remanded to jail. They were brought to Bellefonte on the 1:25 train Saturday afternoon, by Constable McMullen, of Phillipsburg, and lodged in jail. They have retained ex-Judge John G. Love as their attorney and will be given a habeas corpus hearing at some date in the future, though it will hardly be until after the April sessions of court.

Charles Stewart, against whom the evidence is the most damaging, is 28 years of age and married. His brother is 24 years old and unmarried. Gregg is a widower, an old soldier and 65 years of age. The three men with McHugh had been drinking together Tuesday night and that was the last seen of McHugh until his dead body was found in the Moshannon, Wednesday morning. When found several others were discovered on the bank of his head.

FISH WARDENS HAVING STRENUOUS TIMES.—Some of the fish wardens of the State are having strenuous times just now. Warden C. R. Holland, of Harrisburg, came up to Beech Creek on the opening day of the trout season to watch some foreigners who have been breaking the law. Somehow, word reached the camp that a fish warden was in the neighborhood and nobody was fishing.

Holland stopped to speak to a man, and the Italian took this stranger for a fish warden. A short time afterward Holland heard a shot, and found that the man, whose name is John Berger, had been shot and badly wounded, just because he came to speak to him.

A short time afterward warden Holland himself narrowly escaped a bullet from a Winchester rifle held by a man behind a tree 200 yards distant. The man got away before the warden could recognize him.

We want to again call the attention of our readers to the organ recital and musical concert to be held in the Catholic church, next Thursday evening, April 27th, when Dr. Minor C. Baldwin, the noted concert organist, will make his first appearance in Bellefonte and music lovers can be assured of a genuine treat if they go to hear him. The price of admission is only 50 cents.

News Purely Personal.

Judge Ellis Orvis departed for Philadelphia on Tuesday.

J. Graham Ferguson spent the past week as the guest of his brother, in Pittsburg.

Mrs. Frank Clemens was one of the numerous shoppers in Bellefonte, last Saturday.

Mrs. Luther Hess, of Rockford, Ill., is visiting friends in various parts of Centre county.

Mr. John S. Walker and landlady H. S. Ray were Altoona visitors, on Wednesday.

Dave Stuart returned Monday from a three weeks visit with his sister in Hagerstown, Md.

Miss Beulah Winder, of Williamsport, is the guest of her friend, Miss Ione Donachy, this week.

Miss Pearl Mewshaw has returned from a six weeks' visit with her sister at Punxsutawney.

Miss Katharine Reine left Bellefonte a month ago to enter a school of dramatic art in Philadelphia.

Miss Jennie Reinsfelder, of Millheim, returned last week from an extended trip to Florida.

Mr. John P. Harris and son, J. Linn, spent a couple days in Butler last week visiting Dr. Edward Harris.

Miss Helen Ceador, who is at school at Notre Dame, Baltimore, came home Thursday morning for her Easter vacation.

Mrs. Emil Joseph and son, Emanuel, departed Monday morning, for a visit with friends in Philadelphia and New York.

Dr. Eloise Meek, of Johnstown and Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Morris with "Baby Morris," of Tyrone, are home for Easter.

Mrs. W. H. Wilkinson and Miss Myra Humes were guests of Mrs. Margaret Mull, at Halesburg, Phillipsburg, Thursday of last week.

Mr. John G. Love and the children, Katharine and John, went Saturday to Clifton Sp rings for their Easter season.

After quite an extended sojourn in Philadelphia and vicinity Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Decker are again at their home in this place.

Mrs. Louis Friedman has returned to New York after a several weeks visit with her parents in this place, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Holz.

Miss Mary Crider came home from Miss Shipley's preparatory school, at Bryn Mawr last week to spend the Easter vacation.

Miss Carrie Harper departed, on Tuesday, for Williamsport, where she spent a day with friends then journeyed to Atlantic City to spend Easter.

John Munson was an arrival home from Yale, Thursday morning for the Easter holidays.

He was accompanied by his friend, Mr. Macbeth, of Danvers.

Miss Kate Lose has gone from Philadelphia to Atlantic City where she will assist Mrs. J. D. Hall in conducting her cottage, the "Hallwood," during the summer season.

John J. Irwin and wife, of Altoona, former residents of Bellefonte, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Robert Irwin, on Spring street. Mr. Irwin is one of Altoona's aldermen.

Mrs. Homer Crissman returned home on Monday afternoon after having spent a week in Sunday. She had gone down to attend the funeral of her eldest brother, Peter Bright.

After quite a pleasant sojourn with their sister, Mrs. H. M. Walker, in Phillipsburg, Joe Holter, of Halfmoon, and Miss Sue Holter, of Howard, have both returned to their respective homes.

Misses Edna and Emma Turnbach, Edna Williams and Esther Hoover, of Phillipsburg, with a party of friends from Williamsport attended the Sigma Xi dance at State College, Friday evening.

Dr. H. C. Holloway departed, last week, for Fort Smith, Ark., where he will spend a month or so with his daughter, Mrs. Edie. During his absence Mrs. Holloway will visit relatives in Middletown, Pa.

Mrs. Philip Zong, of Pittsburg, who prior to her marriage was Miss Martha Dunkle, was in Bellefonte between trains, on Saturday, on her way to Hagersburg to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Dunkle.

Mrs. Joseph Smith and her little daughter Alice, departed, last Saturday, for Washington, Pa., where she will spend a fortnight with her husband, who is employed in the plant of the Pittsburg glass company.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bell, of Altoona, came Friday for a short visit to Centre county. Mrs. Bell's time was given to her Pleasant Gap friends while Mr. Bell made his visit in Bellefonte—they left for home Sunday afternoon.

Ward Fleming came up from Haverford last week to spend his Easter vacation in Bellefonte. He will have with him over the coming Sunday Elias Ritz, a college friend from Butler, they both returning to Haverford Monday.

Rev. Jay R. Woodcock, who is building the Y. M. C. A. at the State College into one of the most efficient and effective Christian associations within the State spent the greater part of Monday in town attending to business connected with his work at the College.

Mrs. Andrew Morrison, of Williamsport, a former well known and esteemed resident of Bellefonte, visited friends here during the early part of the week, and went on to Altoona, where her only son is in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad company, for a few days outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gibson and their two daughters, Elizabeth and Josephine, of Crafton, were in town on Saturday on their way home from Pine Grove, where they had been dismantling the John R. Mitchell house preparatory to offering it for sale or retaining it as a summer residence only.

Mr. Samuel W. Cross, of Phillipsburg, spent a few days during the early part of the week with his brother, Mr. Thad Cross, who farms the Judge Gordon place down at Hecla. Notwithstanding the name both are most genial gentlemen, and which is equally, if not more commendable, Democrats of the true blue stripe.

Mrs. A. S. Boalich, of Osceola, with her niece Mrs. M. B. Yengst, of Wilmerding, have been visiting friends in this vicinity for the past week or more. They came over last week and made their first stop with Mrs. Rote at Axe Mann. On Monday they came into Bellefonte to spend a few days with Mrs. Boalich's sister and other relatives in this place.

James Furst, who spent the past eight months at Los Angeles, Cal., was an arrival home, on Monday, looking as chipper as can be. Jim says that California is all right for the natives but he prefers to live in good old Pennsylvania, and strange as it may appear, he fished season, though that was likely merely a coincidence.

A stranger indeed in Bellefonte was Ed. Kabelle, who came down from Altoona on Tuesday, with his wife, to attend the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Flack. It had been fourteen years since his last visit and from all appearances he doesn't look a minute older than he was then. The Kabelle boys—Ode, Joe, and Ed—were a trio to conjure with when they lived in Bellefonte. They were the sons of Henry Kabelle, who is located here in 1847 and operated a small iron foundry. When the panic left them on the rocks of financial distress the boys struck out with little more than their good name and a willingness to work and today everyone of them is occupying good positions. Ed is one of the foremen in the Junata erecting shops and a common councilman of the city of Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stevenson, of Waddell, contemplate moving to Bellefonte shortly.

Mrs. Harriet L. Kuris has gone to the Brock-erhoff house, which place she expects to make her home until the middle of June.

Robt. F. Hunter came home from Joplin, Mo., last Saturday. He had been out at the zinc mines of the Pennsylvania Zinc Mining company caught a cold and was threatened with pneumonia, so came home to recuperate.

Edward L. Graham, of Winburne Clearfield Co., brought his family to Bellefonte last Thursday for a visit with his mother on Allegheny St. Mr. Graham while here took advantage of the fishing season and streams of Centre Co.

Mrs. Alice Cowdick, of Coleville, was an agreeable caller Tuesday evening. She is one of the women who has contributed so much to the success of the Joseph stores and when not engrossed in her work she finds a little pleasure, we hope, in reading the WATCHMAN.

Mrs. Calvin H. Struble and lady friend, of Pennsylvania Furnace, were among the very agreeable callers at the WATCHMAN office, yesterday. The two ladies were in town evidently doing Easter shopping from the way they were laden with bundles of all sizes as they wended their way to the depot to take the Bellefonte Central train home.

Rev. Wardner Willard, who has been stationed in Cambria Co. since the conference at Haverwick, was in town last Tuesday on his way to Madison, N. J., where he has accepted a student's charge. At Frugality he had every prospect for a profitable and pleasant year but his new work will also give him a scholarship at Drew, which he hopes to enter in the Fall.

The mail has been good to us this week for remittances have come in in such large figures as to make the editor feel that Easter will be especially propitious. Among the many remittances from are James Tobin, Snow Shoe; J. N. Smith, Mexico; D. R. Thomas, Snow Shoe; W. D. Port, Pine Grove; Dr. Geo. H. Hennigh, Troutville; J. A. Henderson, State College; E. P. Lingle, Fifehead; Chas. Larimer, Osceola Mills; G. G. Potsgrove, Phillipsburg; R. H. Decker, Pittsburg; J. B. Shuman, State College; Mrs. Rebecca Welsh, Clearfield, and Mrs. Martha Gardner, Tyrone. In addition to these were the usual number of callers; strangers and residents of Bellefonte who found time to drop in for a few moments chat and among them none were more welcome than Jared Harper, who doesn't look a bit as if the cares of running a grocery store again after years of retirement from business were bearing heavily on him. Amos Karstetter, of Pleasant Gap, was here, too, very much of a stranger even though he does live only five miles away, but his work being in distant parts of the State he isn't home as much as he would like to be. Mr. H. C. Holter, of Howard, was among them and we are sorry that we haven't the space to tell you how the dear Republican organization of the county has treated this particular old soldier.

James Bayard was admitted to the Bellefonte hospital, on Thursday, for treatment for a fractured jawbone, sustained in a fall he had ten days or so ago.

DAUBERMAN—GUISK.—John G. Dauberman, of Centre Hall, and Miss Mary Guise, of Penn Hall, were married at the Evangelical parsonage, Spring Mills, Sunday, April 9th, by Rev. J. M. Snyder. The groom is a justice of the peace in Centre Hall and also is in the butchering business. The bride is a daughter of Manassa Guise and one of the county's most successful school teachers. Mr. and Mrs. Dauberman at once went to housekeeping in Centre Hall.

SOMMERVILLE—DAVIS.—John Somerville, of Winburne, and Miss Kate Stuart Davis, of Milton, were married at 6 o'clock, Thursday evening of last week. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. W. T. L. Kieffer, of the Presbyterian church. Miss Margaret Davis, of Germantown, was flower girl and Mr. Bond Somerville best man. Only the families and near relatives of the contracting parties were present.
