THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Only one more mouth of the borough schools.

The attendance at court this week was unusually large.

The improvement of the Academy grounds is fast nearing completion.

Thirty students are attending the summer Normal school, at Port Matilda.

Mrs. H. C. Woodring, of Port Matilda, is in Philipsburg undergoing treatment for neuralgia.

The lucky number that drew the china dinner set changed off at Sourbeck's, Monday night, was 366.

Mrs. John C. Bair, who was seriously ill the past week with acute indigestion, is now on a fair way to recovery.

The only observance of Good Friday as a holiday in Bellefonte was by the banks, which were closed on that day.

There has been no end of hustling this week among the candidates for the county superintendency of public schools.

It was a very small audience that witnessed the performance of "The Volunteer Organist," at Garman's, Tuesday night.

The Bellefonte Academy opened for the summer term on Wednesday, after being closed a week for the Easter vacation.

The condition of Mr. William Hart, of east Bishop street, has not improved any the past week; in fact, the physicians consider his case hopeless.

Ed. Kobb and Dr. Kilpatrick spent a couple days along Fishing creek, this week, after trout. They both came home with well-filled baskets.

Willard, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Apt, of east High street, is ill with scarlet fever and the house has been quarantined.

Dr. J. Jones, the veterinary surgeon, has moved his family from Sunbury to this place, and is occupying the Zimmerman house, on east Lamb street.

The grading in the basement of the new Y. M. C. A. gymnasium has been completed and work was this week begun on the putting down of the concrete floor.

One of the noblest butcher delivery wagons for local use is that recently purchased by Philip Bezer and now being used by him for the delivery of town orders.

On Tuesday work was begun getting things in shape for the building of the abutments for the new bridge over the race, near the Pennsylvania railroad station.

The largest trout caught so far in this section was landed from Spring creek, last Friday, by Samuel McKinley. It measured just 23 1/2 inches and was a perfect beauty.

Wilson I. Fleming, of this place, last Friday evening was in Altoona and installed the newly-elected officers of Mountain commandery No. 10, Knights Templar, at that place.

The Easter ball of the Undine Fire company, on Monday night, proved a most enjoyable affair. A large crowd was in attendance, the music was delightful and the best of order prevailed throughout the entire evening.

The Academy library was recently enriched by the addition of a set of "University of Literature" and a set of fine reference books of United States history, the former the gift of Mrs. Catharine Dinges and the latter from Judge Ellis L. Orvis.

Mabel Stover, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stover, of east Lamb street, while playing out at the Stone school house, Tuesday evening fell, struck her head on the pavement and sustained a slight concussion of the brain. Though it is feared her injury was quite serious she is getting along very nicely now.

Monday a party of four people went over to Millheim in the Brockerhoff house automobile to attend the horse sale. In the party were Benjamin Gentzel, R. B. Taylor, Frank Wallace and Christ Bezer, as chauffeur, and so well did he handle the machine that the trip over was made in 1:28 and returning in 1:35.

Through misunderstanding our informant the WATCHMAN was made to say, last week, that Mrs. Jared Harper had given a party to a number of her friends, Thursday evening. The item should have read Mrs. Theodore Cherry, as it was she who gave the party, while Mrs. Harper was at church in attendance at the Holy week services.

Forty-three Republicans of Bellefonte and Centre county left here in a special car, Tuesday noon, for Harrisburg to attend the Republican State convention on Wednesday. The car was decorated with streamers bearing the sign, "Centre County Beaver Club," their going being to give General Beaver a send-off for the re-nomination for Superior court judge.

Burgess Walker sent a tramp to jail last Friday. Sunday sheriff Taylor ordered him to take a bath but he refused on the grounds that he was afraid the hard water of the Bellefonte spring would hurt him. By the sheriff's orders two prisoners gave the tramp a compulsory bath and when he struck the water he yelled like a Comanche Indian, but they scrubbed him, just the same.

MILLER.—John H. Miller died at his home in Tyrone, last Friday morning, after a nine day's illness with kidney trouble, aged 61 years, 7 months and 26 days.

Deceased was the son of William and Leah Miller, and was born at Baileyville, this county, in 1843. His ancestors were of Scotch-Irish descent and were among the leading residents of that part of the county. The subject of this sketch received his early education in the common schools and in the Pine Grove Academy, after which he engaged in the merchant mill business at Pine Grove Mills. In 1868 he moved to Mt. Union, Huntingdon county, where he operated a steam mill and also engaged in the mercantile business until 1876 when he moved to Petersburg and from there to Tyrone in 1887. In the latter place he was also engaged in the mercantile and mill business until about ten years ago, since which time his principal business was that of a grain dealer.

He was married on December 19th, 1865, to Miss Nancy K. Bottorf, of Pine Grove Mills, by Rev. J. A. DeMoyer. To this union were born six children, all of whom are living except one, Jesse E. Those who survive with their mother are: William E., John K., Charles O. and Miss L. Blanche, of Tyrone, and Mrs. W. A. Wallace Krebs, of Clearfield. Two brothers and two sisters survive, viz: James and Thomas Miller, and Mrs. D. C. Mitchell, of Tyrone, and Mrs. John A. Magee, of Washington, D. C.

Deceased was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Tyrone. He was a past grand of Tyrone lodge, I. O. O. F., treasurer of Tyrone encampment and a member of Canton Tyrone, of the same fraternity. He was also a member of Tyrone council, Royal Arcanum. He was a Democrat in politics and while residing in Huntingdon county took an active part in political affairs, serving in 1884 and 1885 as chairman of the Democratic county committee, and represented that party in State conventions.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, the services being at the late home of the deceased, Rev. George T. Gunter officiating. Interment was made in the Tyrone cemetery.

LOVE.—Winfield Scott Love, a brother of ex-judge John G. Love, of this place, died at the old family home near Nealmont, a mile east of Tyrone, at 6:35 o'clock Saturday morning of Bright's disease of the kidneys, with which he had been afflicted for more than a year.

Deceased was a son of James and Catharine (Gray) Love and was born at Stormstown, June 4th, 1846, thus being almost 59 years of age. By occupation he was a farmer and in his early life farmed the homestead farm at Loverville until the property was bought by Daniel Rhoads and others. He then moved to Sinking valley, in Blair county, where he continued farming with the exception of a couple years until about five years ago when he quit the life of an agriculturist and moved to Carlisle. Some months ago, realizing the serious nature of the disease with which he was afflicted, he came to the home of his sisters, near Tyrone, in the hope that the change would prove beneficial but the disease had already made too great inroads on his system to be checked and he continued to grow worse until his death Saturday morning. He was an old soldier of the Civil war, having served as a member of Company D, 201st Pa. V. I. and was a member of Post 172, G. A. R.

Mr. Love was united in marriage with Miss Amelia Rider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Rider, of near Guyer, this county, who survives with their three children, namely: John Love, of Texas; Edgar, of Lancaster, and Mrs. H. M. Collins, of Parkersburg, Va. He also leaves one brother and three sisters, ex-judge John G. Love, of this place, and Lydia, Emma and Anna, at the family home. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon and was private. Rev. John H. Daugherty officiated and interment was made in the Grandview cemetery, Tyrone.

POTTER.—Robert Maxwell Potter, a former resident of Philipsburg, died last Saturday morning in Johnsbury, from paralysis, aged 71 years. He is survived by his wife and the following children: William, of Philipsburg; Mrs. Ida Brown, Johnsbury; Mrs. Carrie Howe, Philipsburg; L. Z. Johnston; Geo. and Lewis, Johnsbury. Also one brother and four sisters, viz: William and Mrs. Rachel Thompson, Altoona; Mrs. Orin Vail, Philipsburg; Mrs. Eliza Fegles, Oregon, and Mr. Sadie Turley, Blandburg. The remains were brought to Philipsburg where the funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SHOPE.—Christopher Shope, one of Milesburg's most respected and best known citizens, died at the home of his son-in-law, John Jodon, at 8 o'clock Friday morning, of paralysis, aged 86 years. Deceased was a native of Boggs township and for most of his life was engaged in farming. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Jennie Coxey, of Altoona; Mrs. Caroline Jodon, of Milesburg; Mrs. Wm. Green, of Gum Stump, and Mrs. Richard Hall, of Johnstown. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, interment being made in the Milesburg cemetery.

STEWART.—Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bessie Summers, in Philadelphia, Sunday, April 16th, of diseases incident to old age. Deceased was a native of Centre county. Her maiden name was Bayard, she being a daughter of Dr. Walton and Susan Bayard and a sister of the late Col. George A. Bayard. She is survived by nine children. The funeral was held on the 18th, the remains being taken to Brooklyn for interment.

LEYMAN.—George Hastings Leyman, one of the best known farmers in Bald Eagle valley, died at his home in Boggs township, about a mile east of Milesburg, at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening, of dropsy. He had been ailing for more than a year. All last summer he was affected much of the time and was able to do but very little of his farm work. At times he would grow much better and his friends hoped that the disease had been successfully combated only to have it recur again in a more aggravated stage. He was confined to the house most of the winter season.

Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Leyman, of Milesburg and was aged about 63 years. Most of his early life was spent in the coal and oil regions until about twenty years ago when he returned to this county and went to farming in Boggs township, where he has lived ever since. In politics Mr. Leyman was a democrat, one of the throughbreds, and a number of years ago was a candidate for the nomination for sheriff. Though defeated in the convention he was always staunch and true to the party and the ticket nominated. As a citizen he was whole-souled and progressive but it was possibly as a neighbor and friend that he was esteemed the most. Open-hearted, generous and charitable he was at all times a friend of those in need, and his death means a loss to that community as well as the county in general that will be hard to make up.

He is survived by his wife and one child, Daniel Hartman Hastings Leyman. Also five brothers and one sister, as follows: F. F. Leyman, of Titusville; W. H., Bradford; M. M., of McKeesport; J. E., of Austin, and Joo. R., whose address is not known, and Mrs. Mary C. Dean, Duncannon.

The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, interment to be made at Roland.

WIRTS.—Samuel Wirts died at the home of his son-in-law, Thomas Dewey, of Duncannon, Huntingdon county, April 16th, from paralysis, aged 84 years. Deceased was born and reared at Houserville and by occupation was a factoryman and carpet weaver. Surviving him are four children: John Wirts, Bellwood; Mrs. Thos. Dewey, at Duncannon; Mrs. Geo. Wolf, Altoona; Irvin Wirts, Houserville. Two brothers: Philip Wirts, Houserville; Joseph Wirts, an invalid; and two sisters: Mrs. Wm. Gross, Patton twp.; Mrs. Robt. Bierly, Milesburg. Interment at U. E. cemetery, Houserville, Wednesday afternoon, April 19th.

GROSS.—George Gross died at the home of his son Edward, on Valentine street, a little after one o'clock Wednesday morning, after an illness of several years.

Deceased was about 60 years of age and was born in Chambersburg. He came to Bellefonte over thirty years ago and has lived here ever since. Surviving him are his wife and two sons, John W. and Ed. H., all of this place.

The funeral will be held this morning, the remains to be taken to Chambersburg for interment.

MUNROE.—Mrs. Calvin Munroe, one of the best known and probably the oldest colored woman resident of Bellefonte, died on Saturday morning at the home of her son, Mr. William Mills, of diseases incident to her advanced age. She was a woman of gentle and kind-hearted disposition and in her younger days was regarded one of the best nurses in the community. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from the house. Rev. J. E. Morris officiated and interment was made in the U. E. cemetery.

LYTLE.—Henry R. Lytle died at his home in Halfmoon township, near Stormstown, at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, of heart disease. He was born at Sunbury and was aged 69 years. He is survived by the following children: Harry, of Philipsburg; Wade, and Mrs. Dallas Harpster, of Stormstown, and Charles and Edith at home. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon.

MOYER.—Henry Moyer died at his home near Tusseyville, last Friday night, after a brief illness, aged 68 years. Deceased was an old resident of Potter township and highly respected by all. He is survived by his wife, five daughters and one son. Interment was made at Tusseyville.

BUTLER.—Thomas Butler, one of the best known citizens of Howard, died at his home in that place, on Tuesday, aged 80 years. For a number of years past he had lived a retired life. Three sons and one daughter survive.

The town of Spangler voted for a $10,000 bond issue for street improvements.

Robert F. Hunter, who last week was threatened with pneumonia, has recovered sufficiently to be around again.

Prof. Butz, of State College, reports that the prospects for a large fruit crop are good. He has examined the buds of a number of peach, plum and cherry trees since the cold wave of ten days ago and says they are not injured in the least.

Wednesday was Odd Fellows day in Sunbury and Centre county contributed about five hundred of the large crowd present. Bellefonte was well represented as just 106 tickets were sold at the station here. At Lemont 69 tickets were sold, 58 at Oak Hall, 54 at Centre Hall and correspondingly good numbers at Spring Mills and Coburn. All the delegations returned on a special train Wednesday night.

THEIR TIME IS SHORT.—Less than two weeks intervene until the day set for the execution of Green and Dillen and that time will pass around only too quickly for the condemned men. And as the time draws nearer they are beginning to realize their awful fate and exhibit more signs of apprehension over their coming doom. Especially is this the case with Dillen, who, though he has made a profession of religion is more or less downcast all the time. Green bears up better under the terrible mental strain, but even he has lost much of his self-possession, devil-may-care demeanor.

On Sunday special Easter day song service was held in the jail, mostly in the interest of the condemned men. There were present Rev. Crittenden, Rev. Long, of Harrisburg; C. C. Shuey, J. P. Smith, John Ballock and James R. Hughes. They all assembled on the landing on the second floor, immediately outside the door of the female department in which Green and Dillen are incarcerated. The service consisted entirely in singing a number of the good old-fashioned, comforting songs, with the Lord's prayer by Rev. Crittenden. Both the condemned men took a deep interest in the meeting while Dillen joined in the singing, in which most of the other prisoners participated.

Following the services the visitors were permitted to shake hands with the two men and converse with them. Both talked willingly enough but Green was the more free and easy of the two. He inquired as to what was going on about the town, told of his life in the jail and that he had eaten seven eggs for his Easter breakfast. He also spoke quite affectionately of his grandfather, Christopher Shope, who was buried in Milesburg that afternoon.

Of late there is heard many expressions both pro and con as to whether the men ought to be hanged or not, and while it is a terrible thing to contemplate, let alone carry out, it is simply executing the mandate of the law. The two men have been given every possible assistance by their counsel and the verdict at every step has been practically unanimous against them. The men are now being kept under a strict death-watch, though there is not much likelihood of either of them attempting to do away with himself. They are located in opposite cells with a watchman constantly on guard in the narrow corridor between. In daytime John Trafford is on duty and at night the watchman is Mr. Shreffler. The prisoners are now given every comfort and as kind treatment as the law will allow.

Sheriff Taylor is now more than ever before beginning to realize the unpleasant duty in front of him. On Monday he had the old gallows on which Hopkins and Andrews were hung, taken down from its resting place in the stable loft and examined. While parts of the old instrument of death may be available for use in the construction of the gallows on which Green and Dillen will hang, the greater part will have to be newly built. At this writing it is not known just who will be employed to build the gallows, which will be put up in the southeast corner of the jail yard, on the same spot where the old gallows was used fifteen years ago.

TRAMPS WANTED.—Burgess W. Harrison Walker desires the fact announced that he wants tramps. Last spring he tried the experiment of hobbling all the tramps caught in the town with ball and chain and compelling them to clean up the streets of the town. The experiment proved a success. The streets were cleaned and the town was rid of hobos. This spring they have already become quite numerous in this vicinity and the burgess has decided to take them all in, hitch them to a ball and chain and not only have the streets cleaned up but use them in digging and filling up ditches required by the water department in putting down new pipe. So, come along, all the hobos who care to. You will find a warm welcome awaiting you in Bellefonte borough, as the police have been instructed to be exceptionally vigilant and in no wise neglect their duty as a reception committee.

STALLION PURCHASED.—"Volligen," the imported French Percheron gray stallion, brought to this county several weeks ago from the Hartman stock farm, near Columbus, Ohio, by Mr. I. N. Smeek, was purchased last week by a number of farmers of College, Ferguson, Patton and Harris townships, who have organized the State College Horse company. The farmers interested are F. H. Clemson, F. W. Krumrine, Adam Krumrine, A. F. Markel, Geo. B. Thompson, W. C. Meyer, B. D. Thomas, John H. Breen, E. W. Hess, Newton E. Hess, and Charles H. Foster. It is the company's present intention to exhibit their stallion at the Centre county fair next fall.

THEY ELOPED.—David Sweeney and Miss Vivian Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Berry, both of Beech Creek, eloped to New York last week where they were married in Corning, on Thursday. Both the young people are but 20 years old and their parents thought them too young to marry, so they took matters in their own hands. Miss Berry came to Milesburg, Tuesday afternoon, ostensibly to visit relatives. She came to Bellefonte and did some shopping and Wednesday morning went east on the 9:33 train. She was joined at Beech Creek by young Sweeney, the two going direct to Corning, where they were married next morning. They have returned home and were forgiven.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Peters, of Unionville, died last Friday and was buried on Sunday.

News Purely Personal.

Mr. William Zeller spent Easter with friends in Lock Haven.

P. J. McDonnell, of Unionville, transacted business in Bellefonte on Monday.

Mr. Ellis Shaffer, of Miles township, spent several days in Bellefonte this week.

Miss Mame McGovern returned Wednesday noon from a four day's trip to Renovo.

Albert Bickert and Miss Kate Lutz, of Huntingdon, spent their Easter in Bellefonte.

Mrs. John G. Love and children went to Clifton Springs to spend their Easter Sunday.

Miss Mary Hamilton, of this place, visited the family of James A. McClain, at Spangler, the past week.

Grant Hoover, who is now located in Williamsport, spent several days here this week on a business trip.

Mrs. Elizabeth Powers and her little daughter spent Easter Sunday with Mrs. Powers' sister, at Milton.

Ralph Trafford, son of John Trafford, has gone to Altoona to accept a position as conductor on the trolley cars.

Mrs. E. R. Chambers departed, Tuesday, morning, for a visit with friends in Philadelphia Chester and Gettysburg.

Paul McGarvey, who the past several months has been working in Philipsburg and Youngstown, returned home last Saturday.

John Dubs Jr., route agent for the Adams Express company at Huntingdon, was in Bellefonte on business, last Friday.

Sam Hart, of Harrisburg, has been in Bellefonte the past week, called here by the serious illness of his father, Mr. William Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lose, with that bright baby of theirs, came down from Altoona, on Monday, to attend the Undine ball that evening.

Lawrence Hoover, express messenger on the Bellwood branch of the Pennsylvania railroad, spent Easter with his parents in this place.

Ex-Sheriff Cyrus Brumgart, of Centre Hall, was a Bellefonte visitor, on Monday, his trip to the county capital being one principally of business.

Our old friend H. C. Woomer, of Olivia, was in town for a few days during the fore part of the week visiting the Rices and calling on his other friends.

Mrs. C. U. Hoffer, who had been in Bellefonte ever since the death of her mother, Mrs. C. T. Gerberich, left for her home in Philipsburg, last Saturday.

Hon. William Allison, of Spring Mills, was a Bellefonte visitor a few hours, on Tuesday, on his way to attend the Republican convention at Harrisburg.

John Van Pelt came in from Hastings, last Saturday, to spend Easter with his many friends in this place, returning to his work in Cambria county Monday afternoon.

Philip Harris, advance agent for Welsh Bros. circus, which will exhibit in Bellefonte May 24th, was in Bellefonte on Wednesday making arrangements for the appearance of the show here.

Ambrose Sherry came home from St. Vincent college, Latrobe, Saturday, to spend Easter Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sherry, of this place, returning to college on Tuesday.

Mr. Frank W. Cole with her three children came over from Lewistown, Tuesday evening, to visit friends ere she departs for Chicago, where her husband has secured a very good position.

Mr. Samuel Smith came home from Washington, Pa., where he is employed in the plant of the Pittsburgh Glass company, to spend Easter Sunday with his family, returning to his work on Monday.

I. N. Gordon, of New York, spent Easter with friends here and we are very happy to say that his transfer from Cuba to New York city will make it possible for him to see more of Bellefonte in the future than he has done in the past few years.

Will J. Dorworth, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Dorworth, departed yesterday for Ft. Wayne, Ind., where he has accepted a position with the Washburn railroad company to test locomotives and other machinery. He formerly held a similar position with the General Electric company, of New York.

Ex-pothontary W. F. Smith who, since his retirement from office has been living in an ideal life on the old homestead, near Millheim, was in Bellefonte a couple days this week on a trip that was as much of pleasure as it was of business; and he invariably manages to get a full measure of the former when he visits Bellefonte as his friends are legion here and his visits far between.

Prof. James Bright, professor of languages at John Hopkins University, Baltimore, and a most noted linguist, was in Bellefonte, last Friday, on a visit with his aunt, Mrs. Williams, of Spring street. On Saturday he went to Aaronsburg to visit his brother, Dr. John Bright. Prof. Bright is a native of Centre county, having been born at Aaronsburg fifty-eight years ago. He graduated from Lafayette college intending to enter the ministry but the study of languages so appealed to him that he continued in this line, finally going to John Hopkins where he has been the past twenty years or more. In that time he has made several tours of Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Solt, of Gettysburg, were very early callers at the WATCHMAN office, Monday morning. Cal is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Solt who years ago lived in Centre Hall, where the latter was engaged in the lightning rod business. About eighteen years ago the family moved to Gettysburg and now Cal is proprietor of one of the leading stores in that place, and evidently deservedly prosperous. He and Mrs. Solt left Gettysburg, Saturday evening, arriving in Bellefonte Sunday morning. They spent the day here and on Monday journeyed to Pennsylvania where Cal had some business to attend to, starting for home Tuesday morning.

Among the Bellefonters who attended the consecration service of the new Bishop of the Harrisburg diocese of the Episcopal church, the Rev. Darlington, at Brookly, on Wednesday, were Rev. George Israel Brown, Col. W. Fred Reynolds, Mrs. C. E. Merriman and daughter Christina and Harold Lingle. The two former were direct from Bellefonte to Brookly, Col. Reynolds because he is secretary of the board of missions of the diocese; Mrs. Merriman and daughter were already in Brookly visiting friends while Harold Lingle went to Philadelphia on Monday to see the Trinity ball team defeat the University of Pennsylvania nine, to attend a "smoker" at Bishop McKay Smith's that evening then go on to Brookly for the consecration on Wednesday.

While the present week was one of the regular court weeks for the county and scores and scores of friends of the WATCHMAN had business here to attend to, there were lots of others who didn't have, but who found time to kindly write us and have the figures on the tab of the paper that reaches them changed to a future date: Among them were Mr. C. H. Sturible, Zion; Miss Carrie Housman, State College; Mr. Chas. Jackson, Tyrone; Mr. Calvin Solt, Gettysburg; Mrs. A. J. Graham, Philipsburg; Mr. James B. Spangler, Tusseyville; State Librarian, Harrisburg; Messrs. Patterson & Gleason, Clearfield; Mr. T. I. Humes, Homer City; Mr. S. B. Frank, Graysville; Mrs. Jerry Snavely, Spring Mills; Mr. John Donahue, Harrisburg; Mr. Wm. Smith, Troy, and Mrs. Esther Jackson, Chambersburg, to each and all of whom the WATCHMAN returns sincere thanks.

Edward Fleming, of Altoona, spent last Sunday in Bellefonte.

Mrs. Kelley, of Snow Shoe, was among the Wednesday shoppers in town.

Mr. and Mrs. David Keller, of Beaver Falls, are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. A. O. Furst and Miss Jane Furst are spending the week in Milton and Watson town.

Mrs. A. J. Cook and her daughter Blanche left Monday for a two weeks visit in Philadelphia.

Hardman P. Harris went to Harrisburg Tuesday morning, expecting to be away the remainder of the week.

Mrs. Harry Williams went to Philipsburg Saturday, called there by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Ella Davis.

Miss Katherine Dunot, who has been for the past two months visiting Miss Mary Blanchard, left for Atlantic City Sunday noon.

Squire J. H. Miller, of Penna Furnace, was among the Democrats in town on Monday attending the meeting of the county committee.

J. O. Eberis, of Martha Furnace, was in town Monday shaking hands with the numerous friends he made in town when deputy treasurer of the county under John Q. Miles.

Among the younger Democrats in town on Monday for the committee meeting was Harry F. McManaway, who is going to be a candidate for delegate to the State convention.

Ed. Jones, the young Philipsburg operator, was in town on Monday having followed out his early begun program of never being too busy to give some of his time to the good of the Democratic party.

Mrs. John Evans and son, and Mrs. Evans' mother, Mrs. Pauline Murphy, of Philadelphia, aunt and grandmother of Mrs. Ralph Malory, arrived in Bellefonte, Wednesday evening, for a brief visit at the Malory home.

William Peeler Esq., of Spring Mills, looking the picture of health, and feeling very fit to do some good work for the ticket next fall, was in town on Wednesday talking a little politics between the various business missions he had on hand.

John Carter, who lives a most contented and peaceful life at his pleasant home in Benner to ship, dropped in on Saturday to promote his contentment by fortifying himself with the WATCHMAN and New York World, a combination that is hard to beat for $1.65.

Among the business visitors in town on Saturday was Howard Sergeant, of Philipsburg. He is the high explosive gentleman of that place, which does not mean that he "flies off the handle" as they say, because his nature is quite the contrary, but that he sells most of the powder and dynamite that is used in the mines and quarries of Central Pennsylvania.

J. Thomas Mitchell, Esq., departed very quietly Wednesday evening for Indianapolis, Ind., where today his marriage to Miss Bario, daughter of an Episcopal minister will be quietly celebrated. The resident Bishop will perform the ceremony but the event will be quite informal. They will take a brief honeymoon tour and upon their return to Bellefonte will occupy rooms in the old Thomas house, corner of Curtin and Allegheny streets.

John W. Ross, son of Harrison Ross, of Philipsburg, who served the past four years in the U. S. marine corps, was recently discharged at Minneapolis and has returned home, having decided not to re-enlist.

Mr. Riley Pratt, of Unionville, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia the past three weeks, is improving and now on a fair way to recover.
