The Bellefonte Academy Centennial.

George H. Long. William J. Lucas

Under the most auspicious circumstances the Bellefonte Academy concluded the celebration of its centennial anniversary, last Friday. When the WATCHMAN went to press last Thursday night the Academy tea and reception was in full swing and so well was it attended that it kept up until late in the night.

Friday forenoon was devoted to showing the many visitors the main points of interest in and around the town, while a number took advantage of the opportunity to visit the Bellefonte fish hatchery.

The centennial exercises were held in the opera house, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Considering the time of day the meeting was well attended. Music was furnished by the Stopper and Fisk orchestra. General James A. Beaver, chairman of the Centennial committee, presided and made the introductory address in which he very briefly told of some of the early struggles of the institution, congratulated the Academy on its growth, present high standing and the staunch supporters it has in the people of Bellefonte and old student body, and paid a glowing tribute to the worth and ability of its present head. Rev. James P. Hughes, principal emeritus, and James R. Hughes, head master.

Following General Beaver's opening remarks he introduced J. Thomas Mitchell Esq., of Bellefonte, who read a well and carefully prepared historical sketch of the Academy from its organization up to the present time. (Mr Mitchell's address will this place. Interment was made in the be found on page 2, of today's WATCH-MAN.)

The second speaker introduced was Dr. George W. Atherton, of the Pennsylvania State College, who talked on "Education Under State Control." In his opening remarks Dr. Atherton referred to the time quite a number of years ago when he and the Hon. Charles Emory Smith, of Philadelphia, taught school together in an Academy in one of the New England States. Dr. Atherton's adddress was replete with good points and wise sayings and was listened to with great interest. The last speaker introduced, and in fact the orator of the day, was Hon. Charles Emory Smith, of Philadelphia, former Postmaster General under President McKinley. His subject was "The Academy as an Independent Factor in Education," and though his address was quite long it was so brilliant and effective that there was not one in the audience but regretted it when the speaker closed. Going back hundreds of years the speaker began by telling of the educational facilities of Rome. There the common schools were the equal of our academies of today and Trezy and she was born in Wittenberg. so thorough was the work of educating the Germany. She and her future husband young that it was considered gross ignorance to misspell or mispronounce a on the same ship. They were married at word. Coming down to the present day Pottsville, November 13th, of that year.

LINGLE. - The death of Miss Bessie Lingle, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

W. C. Lingle of Patton, came as a sudden shock to her many relatives and friends in this place who had hoped that the treatment she was undergoing in a private sanitorium, at Philadelphia, would at least prolong her life, if not effect a cure. Miss Lingle had been a sufferer for more than three years with what the doctors thought was a bronchial trouble and it was only a short time prior to her death, which occurred at 1 o'clock last Thursday afternoon, that they were forced to admit that she was suffering with tuberculosis. Several weeks ago she was taken to Philadelphia and admitted to a private sanitorium for special treatment but the disease had already progressed beyond the reach of all human

uid. Deceased was a most charming young woman with a large acquaintance of loving friends who deeply deplore her untimely end. She was born at Hontzdale, and was thirty-three years of age. In addition to her parents she is survived by two sisters and two brothers, namely : Mrs. H. W. Todd, of Philipsburg; Miss Virginia, Harvey and Joseph, at home.

The remains were brought to Bellefonte from Philadelphia, last Friday morning, and taken to the home of her uncle, Mr. W. W. Montgomery, whence the funeral took place at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The services were in charge of Rev. Francis J. Clerc, of Philipsburg, assisted by Rev. George Israel Brown, of Union cemetery, the pall-bearers being J. Howard Lingle, Frank J. Lingle, Joseph L. Montgomery, Fred Montgomery, Harold

B. Lingle and Edwin F. Garman. Among those who were here from a dis ance to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Denlinger, Miss L. Prendible, Frank McClure, H. E. Barton, B. I. Myers. John A. Gunn, W. R. Reese, H. C. Yeager F. A. Lingle, E. C. Brown, wife and child, J. E. Dale, Frank Campbell, M. M. Nolan, Thos. J. Graham, H. L. Dinsmore and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hoover, of Patton ; Mrs. Julia Test and Richard Gilbert, of Clearfield; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Howe and Mrs. Clara Stine, of Philipsburg; H. P. Howe of Arcadia; James Freeman, Lewis Blair and W. E. Baltimore, Md., June 19 .- By far the worst wreck in the history of the Westorn Maryland railroad occurred at a point about a quarter of a mile from Patapsco, a small station between Westminster and Finksburg. Twentyfive persons were killed and a score more injured.

Those taken from the wreck dead and who have since died of their injuries are: George B. Covell, engineer; John St. Leger, fireman; Fireman Knipple, Fireman McNanamee, Fireman Stott, all of Baltimore; John Crouse, eingineer, Taneytown, Md.: D. D. Rise, engineer, Hagerstown; V. O. Derr, conductor of freight, Hagerstown; John Groshon, Charles Kelly, Charles T. Miller, Frank Sweeney, Harry Sweeney, McClellan Sweeney, William T. Sweeney, J. Woolard, Elmer Miller, Nelson Fraley, Charles Gooble, J. W. Shupe, George Stimmel, all railroad laborers, of Thurmont, Md.; Joseph Stitely, Catoctin, Md.; Daniel Meyers. Highfield. Md.: Calvin Benner, Catoctin, Md.; Edward Martin, Thurmont. Md. The injured, some of whom will die include: Elmer Miller, Columbus Williar, George Stimmel, Charles Grabill, William Shuff, Calvin Benner, Thomas Hahn, John Whitmore, John Davis, E. Fuss, Wm. Sweeney and Milton Stambaugh, all of Thurmont; D. Myers. Highfield; Peter Freber, Union Bridge; Ed Diebert, employe Union News company; W. Zeigler, employe Union News company; C. D. Miller, postal clerk. Hagerstown; B. Frank Tierney, express messenger, Hagerstown.

Passenger train No. 5, west-bound, was running at a very high rate of speed when at the point named it crashed into a double-header freight running east. All three of the engines were reduced to scrap iron, the express and baggage cars of the passenger trains were smashed and a num ber of the freight cars were splintered. The passenger coaches sustained little injury and almost without exception their occupants escaped with nothing worse than a bad shaking up. The fatalities and injuries were to the crews of the engines and to workmen employed by the railroad company. It is a remarkable coincidence that these latter should have been at work repairing the damages caused by a recent small freight wreck that occurred at Mount Hope station, near this city. They were on their way to their homes in small towns along the Western Maryland to spend Sunday.

The disaster seems to have been the fault of those in charge of the freight. The wreck occurred on a curve where the Patapsco river is crossed. The passenger train was running at a speed of at least 30 miles an hour, and the freight, an extra, made up chiefly of heavy coal cars, was also running rapidly.

Raised Stock Certificates.

Sensational Case of Forgery Comes to Light In Philadelphia, Banks Lose Nearly $1,000,0

Philadelphia, June 21 .- One of the most sensational cases of forgery that has ever been brought to light in the financial circles of this city was disclosed when it was announced that certificates calling for small numbers of shares of stock had been fraudulently raised to hundreds of shares, causing a loss to certain banks and trust companies of this city of from $750,000 to $1,000,000. The forgery involves the name of Benjamin H. Gaskill, who went to his grave four weeks ago. Gaskill was the sole member of the banking and brokerage concern known as Benjamin H. Gaskill & Co. He had offices in the financial district and his credit was considered gilt edge.

Gaskill died about four weeks ago, and at the time of his death he was believed to be worth about $500,000. He left no will, and administrators began to close up his business. A patron of the firm, whose name is not given, bought from the estate 100 shares of Philadelphia Traction company stock. He turned his account over to E. C. Miller & Co., which firm sent the 100 shares of Traction stock to the Philadelphia Traction company's office to have the transfer recorded. The certificate did not agree with the company's books, and an investigation showed that the certificate had been raised from six shares to 100. The discovery was reported to E. C. Miller & Co., which firm immediately notified the stock exchange, of which Gaskill was a member, which in turn sent out notices to its members not to receive stock certificates from the Gaskill estate.

A further investigation brought to light a surprising state of affairs. It. was found that Gaskill had credited himself on his own books with 6000 shares of Philadelphia Traction stock, valued at approximately $600,000, while the Traction company's books showed that he had only 400 shares. It was also discovered that he had raised stock certificates of the United Railways Company of New Jersey from two to 200, and the certificates of the Frankford and Southwark Street Railway company, of this city, from two to 20. The latter stock is worth $450 a share.

Gaskill kept two accounts-one recording the transactions of his customers, which was correct, and another giving his own transactions. His books showed that he was losing from $15,000 to $25,000 a year in his business. His method of operations was to obtain certificates of gilt-edge securities calling for one, two, three or some other small number of shares, raise the figures and give them as securities for large loans. At least six banks and trust companies of this city admit holding fraudulent securities for large loans. Not one of the institutions will make public the amount of money VADCOC been making an investigation said that the amount of money loaned on the raised certificates will aggregate between $750,000 and $1,000,000. It is believed that very little will be recovered from the estate. Gaskill was about 41 years of age when he died, and was a high liver. He was a member of the Manufacturers' and other clubs, and was well and favorably known. The administrators of the estate, Lincoln L. Eyre and George M. Wagner, have retained John G. Johnson to protected the interests of the estate. Gaskill left a wife, to whom the stock exchange a few days ago paid $5000 as life insurance. His seat on the stock exchange is valued at $15,000. Committee Wants Correct Names of Cen tre County Soldiers.

In order to secure absolute accuracy in the names and spelling thereof on our soldiers' monument, we will publish from time to time the lists of certain companies so as to enable those who are interested to suggest changes in initials or spelling, and also to suggest the names of any persons who may have been omitted from the rolls. This is the last opportunity which will be given to our people and to the survivors or friends of deceased soldiers who served from Centre county to have these names corrected. The Committee, therefore, appeals very earnestly to all who are interested in the subject to carefully scan all the names to ascertain.

1st. whether any have been omitted; and 2nd, whether the names of those already contained in the rolls are properly spelled. It is also very important that the names secured, in order that they may find their place among the nation's defenders upon the monument. This is perhaps the most in charge, the organizations from our own county being already well known. If, therefore, any person, in or out of the coun-ty, has knowledge of a citizen of Centre county who enlisted in organizations outside of the county and State, it is especially important that their names should be ascertained, so that they may find a place among those who enlisted at home.

Any communication in regard to these names addressed to Gen. John I. Curtin or William H. Musser, Bellefonte, will re- Sunday school will hold their annual ceive prompt attention

Danish Method for Drunkards

Undoubtedly if the Danish method were introduced in the United States, it would go far towards regulating drunkenness. In of soldiers who enlisted in organizations Denmark when a drunken man comes forth outside of the county or State should be from a saloon or a cafe, he is at once put into a cab and driven home, by the dealer from whose house the man issued. Any liquor dealer who allows a man to depart from his establishment in an intoxicated important thing which the Committee has condition is compelled by the Danish law in charge, the organizations from our own to pay that man's cab fare home. The Danes, in consequence, are a sober people.

Rome, June 20.—The pope has issued an encyclical encouraging Catholics to participate in public affairs. While seeking the advice of the ecclesiastical authorities, the encyclical says, Catholics should retain complete liberty of action regarding their temporal interests. Members of the clergy are recommended to refrain from particination in party strife.

The encyclical has created a sensation. Its object is to induce Catholics to enter public life, so that they may be a force against the threat of socialism. [In the last election for members of the Italian chamber of deputies the participation of the clericals was pronounced, even priests and monks in ecclesiastical robes going to the polls, while in Rome numerous persons attached to the Vatican voted against the socialist leader, Ferri.
