

CIGARMAKERS' UNION LOSES

Section of New Jersey Label and Trade Mark Law Unconstitutional. Trenton, N. J., June 21.—The court of errors and appeals in the case of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America against William H. Goldberg has set aside as unconstitutional the 10th section of the law of 1898 respecting labels and trade marks. The law provided a penalty of from $200 to $500 to be recovered by the party injured from the infringement of any label or trade mark. The court holds that this leaves to the party injured the determination of the injury within the $200 or $500 limitation. This the court holds would be to that extent the taking of private property without due process of law, and for that reason the act is declared unconstitutional. This is a victory for Goldberg and a defeat for the Cigarmakers' Union, who brought the suit for the alleged misuse of union labels.
