

SECRETARY HAY STRONGER
Passed a Comfortable Night and is in Excellent Spirits.
Newbury, N. H., June 29.—From the bedside of Secretary of State John Hay, at his summer home, the Fells, it was announced that the secretary passed a very comfortable night. He appeared much stronger and was in excellent spirits. Secretary Hay continues to rest comfortably, Dr. Scudder not having returned from Boston, Dr. Murphy, the second physician, remains in attendance.

CHARGED WITH CANNIBALISM
Hungarian Gypsies Said to Have Killed and Eaten Many Children.
Vienna, June 29.—Under the terrible charge of having killed and eaten many children whom they had stolen, 20 gypsies have been arrested near Zaszbereny, Hungary. The leader of the band is alleged to have eaten 18 children.

Pine Grove Mentions.
Geo. W. Homan is improving his home with new porches and a new coat of paint.
Mrs. Stark, of Wilkesbarre, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. P. Smiley on Main St.
Aunt Julia Musser is spending a week with Emanuel Musser's family at State College.

Oscar Stover and Wesley Meyers came up from Boalsburg, Monday, in quest of cattle and got them.
Surrey and farmer Ellis Lytle, of Baileyville, spent Monday in our town viewing old land marks.
J. W. Peters and Dan Sones have ordered a new steam thrasher outfit of the Geiser pattern and make.

Grandmother Louck is confined to bed at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Daugherty, with heart trouble.
Mrs. Mary Dale and two boys, Henry and William, came up from Lemont and were within our gates on Sunday.
John and Cooper Miller are making their usual mid-summer visit at their parental home just east of town.

Arthur Fortney and wife are receiving congratulations over the new arrival. It is a little girl and their first born.
Grandmother Mary McCauley is visiting at the Gregory home near Neff's Mills. Quite brisk for a lady of her years?
Philip Dale, the popular truck farmer at Oak Hill, is nursing a bad eye caused by a splinter of wood going wrong.

Mrs. Francis Knoche, of Harrisburg, is spending the summer superintending her large possessions in Centre county.
D. G. Meek, of State College, was out at the old farm several days this week getting well tanned in the hay field.
Miss Agnes Campbell, after an eight months visit among relatives in the Sunbury State, returned home last week delighted with her stay.

Miss Ella Livingston and Miss Ackron left for Coney Island, N. Y., to spend the Fourth with her sister, Miss Bertha Livingston there.
Farmer H. W. McCracken has a pair of discolored eyes caused by spawls going wrong while breaking stones on a lime pit last week.
Mrs. Eliza Campbell Miller, of Denver, Col., is now visiting the home of her sister. She looks as though the western climate was most healthful.

James A. Decker is down in Maryland this week looking over his large coal possessions which we trust will pan out beyond even his present realization.
Dr. Wm. Campbell, with his wife and little William, came in from Pittsburg to spend a week at his father's home, Rev. E. M. Campbell, at Penna Furnace.
One day last week while W. J. Meyers and Jessie B. Piper were driving their buggy was struck by an auto injuring Mr. Piper. Mr. Meyers escaped with only a few bruises.

A class of fifteen greeted Prof. Eiters, the new superintendent of public schools of Centre county, on Monday in the old Academy building. The most of them got through very creditably.
Mrs. Frank Strouse, of Baltimore, with her two daughters, Miriam and Edna, Mrs. J. L. Holmes and three children of State College, and Mrs. Clara Galy, of Beaver, Pa., were royally entertained at the parsonage on Wednesday.
The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church will hold a festival in the Old Fells hall, on the evening of July 4th. The cause being a worthy one we bespeak a good attendance and a liberal patronage.

Mrs. A. V. Kline and daughter, of Greensburg, are visiting relatives here. Mrs. Kline formerly was matron of the Kappa Sigma fraternity house at State College where she has many warm friends.
David Ross Gregory, lumberman, stockman and farmer of Neff's Mills, was in Penna-Valley Tuesday and sent some of the long green to gladden the editor's heart and put his label on the Washington away up.
Wm. K. Kori, a farmer near State College, missed one of his horses last Friday and after some search found it in the cistern keeping its nose above water. With the aid of neighbors the horse was raised not much the worse, only a little chilled.

Oliver F. Shaw and C. H. Evey with their wives enjoyed a drive over the Seven Mountains on Saturday to Lewisburg to visit the former's mother who is quite ill. They returned Monday evening delighted with the outing.
Ed Elder is in hard-luck. Last week his horse ran away with the buggy dragging him by the lines, causing some scratches and bruises and making a wreck of the buggy. On Tuesday, while riding a horse side ways, the horse stumbled and fell on Edward's foot.
Rev. J. A. Koser made a flying visit among a few who were his parishioners away back in the eighties. He was accompanied by his wife and came from the General Synod. They were en route for Dickinson Seminary to be present at the graduation of their daughter.

Sam Bell, the popular tea man of Boalsburg, was here Monday looking up his large trade. This is his first trip after a six weeks lay up with rheumatism. He still has one arm in a sling. His uncle, Tobias Page, was handling the ribbons over Sam's spirited team of high steppers.
The third annual reunion of the Murphy family was held on the 22nd, at their well-known home. The gathering was to have been at the spring at the base of Old Tussey mountain but on account of the inclement weather they returned to the Murphy mansion, on Water street, where lavish refreshments were served. After dinner speeches were in order. Rev. D. Y. Brouse, Rev. E. E. Heckman and Harry Orr made short addresses. Officers elected for the following year are: Harry Orr, president; James Orr, secretary; James L. Murphy, treasurer. The families represented were the Wooding, Harpster, Ward, Orr, Shultz, Williams, and Brouse. The evening session was attended by town folks, old and young, and was continued far into the night. Next year's meeting will be at the same place.

Harry J. Behrer is acting as D. G. Meek's right hand man in the hardware business at State College.
The Children's day service at the M. E. church, last Sunday evening, was unusually good and gave evidence of much time spent in preparation. To Miss Rachel Shultz is due the credit of the well trained little ones and to Miss Mary Ward, the organist, the credit of the excellent music. The decorations were no small part of the evening's success as the church looked very pretty. The young people would do well to heed the good advice given by Mr. Heckman in his address. At Baileyville the same evening, was observed another Children's day and that too very beautifully. Here Mrs. Eleanor Campbell had charge of the little ones and they showed the result of her skill and interest.

Spring Mills.
There is nothing definitely settled as regards celebrating the Fourth of July here. High cool winds prevailed here all day on Monday last, rather stronger than were desirable.
C. P. Long is making extensive preparations to burn brick this summer. He is clearing the grounds opposite his planing mill for the general yard.

Considerable grass was cut in this neighborhood last week, and much of it still remains in the fields. The recent rains and repeated showers prevented its removal.
Dr. Gentzel, veterinary surgeon, is almost continually on the road. Being high authority on diseases of animals and very successful with different cases, his services are not only demanded here but for miles around.

The marriage reported here last week, which many thought simply a fancy sketch proved correct. The contracting parties were Wilbur Gramley, of Philadelphia, son of T. M. Gramley, of this place, and Miss May, only daughter of John Smith of Smith Bros', the extensive furniture dealers, of this village.

We have quite a number of visitors in town just now, among them I notice William Shires and wife, of Chicago, formerly of this place, son of Michael Shires the popular insurance agent; J. B. Cameron and C. D. Hart, of Albany, N. Y., and E. R. Carter, of Trenton, N. J., all visiting relatives and friends.

The school board made the following appointments of teachers for Gregg township: Spring Mills, W. P. Hosterman, fourth grade; Miss Bertha Duck, third grade; Miss Orpha Gramley, second grade, and Miss Mary Foreman, first grade. C. E. Royer, Farmers Mills; S. G. Walker, Penn Hall; Wallace White, Poke Hill; A. L. Duck, Hoy; Boyd Hazel, Decker; W. T. Zuhler, Beaver Dam; R. W. The United Brethren Children's day services will be held Sunday evening.
Haymaking is now in full force but the rainy weather has been against the farmers so far.

Clayton Eiters and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine daughter, which was born Friday.
Miss Nellie Herman, a student nurse in the Bellefonte hospital, visited friends in town Sunday.
Mrs. Mand Croyle and children, who have been stopping at the home of P. S. Dale, returned home Wednesday.

William E. Williams made a sojourn of a few days with his mother near town and returned to Altoona on Tuesday.
Prof. Meyer, of State College, and James Gregg were found circulating among the school directors the past week.
The wheat is beginning to ripen now and by next week will be ready to cut. It will be a fine crop in this neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mitchell, of Minneapolis, who were staying at the home of Jno. I. Thompson, brought their visit to an end Friday.
It seems that there are lots of rattlesnakes on Nittany mountain this summer, judging by the number that the lumbermen have been killing.
H. N. Kerns is expecting his new threshing outfit any day. It will be the finest outfit in these parts and will have all the latest improvements.

George Horkheimer's little daughter is a sufferer with pneumonia; this being the second one stricken with the same disease within the last few weeks.
John and Bruce Mitchell and John Mechtley were visitors at the county seat Saturday.
