Mayor Weaver May Bring Suit. Elihu Root Advises Him to Institute Action in Fil tration Scandal-Result of Last Conference.

Philadelphia, July 18.—As a result of advice received from Elihu Root, special counsel for Mayor Weaver, it is probable that the mayor will within a few days institute criminal prosecution against certain persons who are prominent in municipal affairs. Mr. Root advises the mayor that in the face of the refusal of District Attorney John C. Bell to take the initiative in bringing further prosecutions the mayor should exercise the right to go before a magistrate and carry the prosecutions as far as the law will permit him. This opinion was sent to Mayor Weaver and was the result of a conference held in New York last Friday.

The purpose of the conference was whether the mayor should take the initiative in further prosecutions, the district attorney having refused to do so. Mayor Weaver and Judge Gordon last week requested that the district attorney, in drawing up indictments against Councilman Frank H. Caven and John W. Hill, former chief of the bureau of filtration, should bring the charge of conspiracy with certain other persons to defraud the city. Councilman Caven is under bail for violating his councilmanic oath in being interested in city contracts, and former Chief Hill is under bonds to answer charges of forgery and falsification of records in connection with contracts for the construction of the city's filtration plants. At the hearing given both men before magistrates the name of the contracting firm of D. J. McNichol & Co., which is constructing the greater part of the filtration system, was frequently brought in by witnesses. The members of this firm are former Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham. the leader of the local Republican organization: State Senator James P. Mc-Nichol, and his brother, Daniel J. Mc-Nichol.

The district attorney, in refusing to add the charge of conspiracy to the indictment drawn up against Caven and Hill and initiate criminal proceedings against "certain other persons," said that such charges, based on the evidence taken at the Caven and Hill hearings, could not under the law be made. He suggested that the mayor take the initiative. Mayor Weaver and Judge Gordon insisted that it was the district attorney's duty to begin prosecutions, they declaring that the evidence in his hands warranted him in so doing. Mr. Bell persisted in his refusal, and the New York conference

tween District Attorney Bell and the mayor's counsel, Mr. Bell sustained broken leg through the falling of an elevator in an office building. Whether this accident will delay the trials of Caven and Hill is not known. Under a law passed by the last legislature, criminal proceedings can be conducted by a special district attorney instead of the district attorney himself or his assistants. The state attorney general is authorized to appoint a special district attorney upon the request of one of the president judges of the county

DISTRICT ATTORNEY INJURED

He and Three Others Fell Eight Stories In Elevator. Philadelphia, July 18.—By the snapping of a cable on elevator No. 3 of the Land Title Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, the car fell eight floors into the basement. Three passengers, men, and the operator were hurt, all of them seriously except the latter. The injured were: District Attorney John C. Bell, combound fracture of both bones of the right leg. Ex-State Representative and Assist ant City Solicitor Henry T. Kingston, both legs fractured above the ankles and thigh bone slightly split; feet may have to be amputated; condition serious.

William Born, of Collingswood, N. J. Contusions of the head and hands, and possible concussion of the brain. George Mann, elevator conductor; cuts shout the chin and face

That the four men were not killed outright seems almost miraculous. When the cable parted the wheels fell with it upon the lift, smashing in the top of the elevator and pinning the men to the floor. At the bottom of the elevator - shafts are several rubbertopped pins. These penetrated the floor of the elevator and caused all the damage.

NEW LAW FOR SHERIFF'S DEEDS .- Tomorrow, July 22nd, the law passed by the last Legislature relating to sheriff's deeds will go into effect, which means that acknowledgment in open court will cease in this county and all other counties in the Commonwealth. All acknowledgments will be before the prothonotary and they can be made on any day of the year excepting Sundays and holidays.

Another very important feature of the new law is that of recording such deeds. In the past it has been the practice to mark all deeds after acknowledgment in the office of the prothonotary, but henceforth they will simply be placed in the continnance docket of that office and then regularly filed in a separate book to be kept by the recorder. This will revolutionize things generally about the offices of recorder, sheriff and prothonotary.
