

Pine Grove Mention.

Mrs. J. B. Heberling, who has been ill, is much better. A. J. Rishel, of Altoona, visited J. A. Decker, on Monday.

Miss Mary Port, who was quite ill several days last week, is improving.

Alvin Meyers and family left Thursday for a ten days outing at Atlantic City.

Henry L. Dale, of Lemont, spent the first day of the week with relatives at Fairbrook.

Miss Myra Kimpfort, of Boalsburg, visited relatives in town the beginning of the week.

Frank B. Krebs, of Spruce Creek, spent the beginning of the week with his mother.

Rev. E. K. Harnish was entertained at Elder Reed's home on Main street, on Sunday.

J. C. Morris, of Rebersburg, was here last week in the interest of a new series of school books.

Joseph Carter, of Penn Hall, was a visitor at Harris Bloom's home several days last week.

Wallace Musser has beautified his home with a fresh coat of paint—white with amber trimmings.

The steam thrasher is heard in all directions. Wheat is yielding well and of excellent quality.

John W. Hess, of Altoona, a freeman on the Penny, is going over his old stamping grounds this week.

Cal Weiland, of Boalsburg, was here on Monday bright and early working up his carriage trade.

Mrs. Aiken returned home from Hanover, Tuesday, bringing with her her nephew, Reed Schmuck.

Squire Keller and son Milton last week purchased the coal sheds of Ard and Bottrif at the station.

Ross and Richard Gregory, of Neff's Mills, were skinning around among the farmers in quest of more sheep.

Miss Blanche Tressler is home from the West for an indefinite time, looking as though it is a most healthful climate.

Willie Martz, of the Mountain city, is greeting old cronies here this week, delighted with his new home.

Miss Ada and Maud Koch are making a months visit among friends at Millheim and with ex-sheriff J. P. Condo at Sunbury.

Rev. Houtz, of Selinsgrove, will fill the pulpit of the Lutheran church here on Sunday in the absence of Rev. C. T. Aiken.

The venerable Samuel Felty, after a months visit to his son in Chicago, spent a few days among friends here the beginning of the week.

Michael Segner has purchased the Osman home just east of Boalsburg for $500, where he will be at home to his friends after April 1st, '06.

D. C. Krebs, one of Sup't. Patterson's stand-bys at the experimental farm at State College, spent Sunday at his old family tree at White Hall.

Mrs. F. Woods Bathgate, of Altoona, with her lovely little daughter Margarie, are visitors at the well-known Bathgate home at Centre Furnace.

James Lutz is making his rounds with a bran new Geiser thrasher and a 15-horse power engine, said to be one of the best out fits in the county.

Our young friend David Osman met with a painful accident in the railroad yards at Altoona by an auto air club going wrong, striking him in the abdomen.

J. N. Bylo and wife, T. J. Peachy and wife, of Bellville, enjoyed a drive over the mountains last week, making a tour through Pennsylvania to State College.

Druggist H. D. Meek spent last week at the national capitol where he first started in business but now is back behind the counter as usual. There is no place like home.

Mrs. E. S. Tressler, who has been ill some weeks, was able last Friday to enjoy a visit to her old-time friend, Mrs. Harry Gates, on the John Porter Lyon farm.

George Fisher has purchased the Allen store at Boalsburg and purposes to fill the shelves with a line of goods second to none in the county, and will sell at rock bottom prices.

Charley Denny, a visitor from the Buckeye State, while gathering huckleberries on the mountain above town, killed a big rattler. It had eight rattles and a button. It was Charley's first venture on the mountain.

Snakes are still plentiful hereabouts. Mrs. G. E. Rider, of Gatesburg, going to milk the cows in the evening found a large glistening black snake perched above the stable door. Mr. Rider was called and quickly sent it to the happy hunting grounds.

S. M. Bell is the proud possessor of many old relics. He has in good preservation a copy of the first newspaper printed in the United States. It was printed by the Antique Publishing Co., 75 Haverhill St., Boston, April 17th, 1704. The first page contains the news of that early day. The other side contains a view of New York city as it appeared in 1659; a portrait of Thomas Jefferson, also the house in which he wrote the Declaration of Independence. Among Mr. Bell's collection are some old coins and paper money dating away back to the early days of 1800.

Lemont.

Mrs. Edward Lingie is home for a few weeks visit with her mother.

Mrs. Mary Brandt and children are visiting at the home of Ben Hoy.

W. H. Musser, of Bellefonte, was seen on our streets last Thursday.

Sunday night a weasel broke into John R. Williams' hen house and killed fifteen young chickens.

Chas. Thompson came home the forepart of the week to spend a few days among old friends in these parts.

Huckleberries seem rather plentiful along Nittany mountain this year, but snakes seem just as plentiful.

The Pennsylvania Telephone company put in about a dozen new phones hereabouts last week, as a farmer's line.

Mrs. Robert Herman and Mrs. James Longwell came to stay a few days at the hospitable home of J. S. Herman.

The following persons transacted business at the county seat during the week: John R. Williams and wife, George Martz, Eva Bathgate, Anna Steele, Anna Fogleman, Edward Williams and G. W. Williams.

Spring Mills.

Our farmers have commenced cutting oats. Huckleberries are very plentiful, they are brought to town by the bushel.

Mrs. Jane Nossker, of Hollidaysburg, is here visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. R. C. Catherman, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is not improving very rapidly.

Several attempts have been made here to revive the bicycle craze but so far they have proved a failure. The next fad no doubt, will be the "Mobile."

Politics have evidently gone astray or on an excursion, not even a candidate has been visible for some time. Possibly this is the calm which precedes the storm.

Again the rain on Saturday evening has prevented quite a large number of our young folks from attending the festivals and jollification in the neighboring districts.

The officers of our Sunday schools are contemplating a union picnic. Some of the schools have appointed committees to confer with the others, and put the matter in definite shape.

Dr. Branch had the hitching posts in front of his office and residence raised about a foot higher and painted, a decided improvement. Several very low posts along the same street should be raised to prevent accidents.

D. H. Schlegel has made a contract to furnish all the material, and replaster and repair the interior of the Lutheran church in Madisonburg, which was recently struck and considerably damaged by lightning.

Mr. Schlegel has been absent for the last two or three weeks, engaged in paper hanging and plastering at State College, Tusseyville and Lewistown. A day or two since I stepped into his sample room to take a look at his stock, and I am free to say that his wall paper for beauty of design, quality of paper and low bargain prices cannot be surpassed anywhere. Mr. Schlegel is sole agent for wall paper firms in Philadelphia and Chicago, and besides wall papers deals heavily in reliable cement and plastering and concrete work.

LETTER TO W. C. STORM, BELLEFONTE, PA.—Dear Sir: You'd strike it rich if you could find a way to shave your customers at less cost, and make the shave last two or three times as long.

You wouldn't shave the same person so many times, or get so much of his money; but the whole town would be talking about you, and everybody would come to you for a shave.

Devoe lead and zinc is exactly that in paints. It takes fewer gallons, and it wears longer. Costs less for the job, and you don't have to do it again for years and years—six years at least.

"Fewer gallons; wears longer." Takes fewer gallons to paint a house with Devoe lead-and-zinc than with mixed paints; and it wears longer than mixed paints or lead-and-oil. Yours truly, F. W. Devoe & Co., New York.
