THE PENNSYLVANIA

STATE COLLEGE

OFFERS EXCEPTIONAL ADVANTAGES.

TUITION IS FREE IN ALL COURSES

PAKING EFFECT IN SEPT. 1900, the General Courses have been extensively modified, so as to furnism a much more varied range of electives, after the Freshman year, than heretofore, including History; the English, French, German, Spanish, Latin and Greek Languages and Literatures; Psychology; Ethics, Pedagogies, and Political Science. These courses are especially adapted to the wants of those who seek either the most thorough training for the Profession of Teaching, or a general College Education.

The courses in Chemistry, Civil, Electrical, Mechanical and Mining Engineering are among the very best in the United States. Graduates have no difficulty in securing and holding positions.

YOUNG WOMEN are admitted to all courses on the same terms as Young Men.

THE FALL SESSION ovens September 15th, 1904. For specimen examination papers or for catalogue giving full information repsecting courses of study, expenses, etc., and showing positions held by graduates, address

People of Washington Turn out to Cheer His Return. Given Continuons Ovation.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Thousands of his fellow citizens turned out to welcome President Roosevelt to the na- just as we were giving up all hope." tional capital and made his homecoming an occasion for an ovation from the time he was sighted on the plaform of his car until he passed within the doors of the White House. There was no band of music, but the sweeter melody of the cheers of the assembled people made the air ring with "Hurrahs!" as his carriage passed slowly up the avenue. The president was deeply touched by the welcome, and especially by its spontaneity. "It was awfully kind of them to come out to greet me," he remarked to some friends at the White House, "and I was deeply, deeply touched by their welcome."

A mighty cheer went up as the crowd inside the depot caught sight of the president, which was taken up by the crowds outside of the station and passed along the line as the president was recognized. He shook hands first with the cabinet members and other officials. He then gave Mrs. Roosevelt his arm and walked slowly to his carriage,, which was waiting at the Sixth street entrance. As he reached the engine, the president thanked the engineer for his safe trip and stepped up to take his hand.

In the carriage were Mrs. Roosevelt Ethel, Kermit and Quentin. Quentin sat on the box with the coachman. The cabinet and the other members of the party followed in carriages, accompanying the president to the White House. The president frequently arose and bowed to the cheering crowds on both sides of the avenue, and during the latter part of the drive the "Hurrahs!" became to enthusiastic that the president stood up most of the time. Mrs. Roosevelt was greatly pleased with the greeting, and her face was radiant as he bowed to the right and left. Not since last inauguration day has Pennsylvania avenue held such a crowd as lined it from the station to the White House. Heavy cables, stretched the whole length on both scriptive folder free. sides, kept the crowds on the sidewalks. Street cars were stopped and vehicles were halted in the side streets as the party came up the avenue. From every flag pole and from many windows flags were flopping in the cool evening breeze. A brilliant scene greeted the president's eye as he reached the Whit-House. The mansion was illuminated from basement to attic, bathing the whole white structure in a soft, raNot Too Hard.
