THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Only one more week of November. Six days more until "Thanksgiving Day." "To Die at Dawn" will be the attraction at the opera house tonight. A new steel range was put in the Brookerhoff kitchen Wednesday night. Surveyors are now at work in the region of Snow Shoe for a State highway under the recent good roads law. William Watson, on Monday, was appointed postmaster at Pine Glenn in place of George R. Boak, deceased. Mrs. W. F. Reeder has closed her house on Allegheny street for the winter and taken rooms at the Bush house. Next week is quarter sessions court, but the list of cases to be tried is not very large, there being none of very grave importance. In order to shorten their working hours Bellefonte druggists have decided to close their stores at 9 o'clock during the winter months. This is "Pennsylvania Day" at the State College. A good program has been arranged and you should go up and help swell the crowd. A very quiet wedding to be celebrated next Wednesday, November 29th, will be that of James Harris and Miss Mildred G. Smith. Only one more week until the football boys will be laid aside and the gridiron hero will be a thing of the past until another year rolls around. The turkey dinner served by the ladies of the Episcopal church, in the armory last night, was well patronized and quite a neat sum was realized. Roger S. Brouse and Bruce Garman went out, on Tuesday, to join fortunes with the Panthers in the Scotoac region in their quest for the fleet-footed deer. Don't forget the Lutheran bazaar and oyster supper to be held, December 6th and 7th, in the rooms on Bishop street, recently occupied by Doll's bakery. Services will be held at the usual hours, Sunday, November 26th, in the United Evangelical church, notwithstanding previous announcements to the contrary. Manager Garman positively guarantees that Rube Waddell will be the star in the vaudeville company which will appear here on the afternoon and evening of Thanksgiving Day. The case of the Commonwealth vs Bert Delige, for the accidental killing of the little Williams boy at Scotia some weeks ago, will not be called until the January term of court. On Sunday morning Rev. Dr. William Laurie, D. D., L. L. D., tendered his resignation as pastor of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church. It is uncertain as yet who his successor will be. Miss Lois Calderwood, who until recently was night superintendent at the Altoona hospital, is now installed as superintendent of the Bellefonte hospital, in place of Miss Beshner, who left on the 16th. The big spring has been cleaned out as nice as a new pin and to add to its attraction Fish Commissioner W. E. Meehan sent here from the Warren fish hatchery about sixty large trout, ranging in length from ten to sixteen inches, which were put in the spring. Last Friday afternoon the Bellefonte Academy and Bellefonte High school football teams played their second game this season, at the fair grounds. The contest was an intensely exciting and interesting one, ending with neither team having scored. Joseph Apt and family moved, on Monday, from the John P. Harris house on east High street to the A. C. Mingle house on Bishop street, recently vacated by J. A. B. Miller Esq. Wallace Markle and wife moved from Logan street into the house vacated by Joseph Apt. If you want to see a good game of football go to State College this afternoon and take in the State-University of West Virginia game. Carl Fokum, State's last year's fullback, has been coaching the West Virginia boys this year and has a team that makes them all hustle. By going to the College today you can also witness the "Pennsylvania Day" exercises. The engagement of Mr. John Curtin to Miss Jane Sanderson Furst, only daughter of the Hon. A. O. Furst, was announced on Monday. Inasmuch as both of them are so well liked by their coterie of friends the announcement was the occasion of much felicitation. Messrs. Laird Curtin and Fred Larimer gave a dinner at the Country club that evening in honor of the prospective groom. Hon. John Noll is now engaged superintending the building of a concrete wall near Sandy Ridge, where the reservoir is located which supplies Ocoola Mills with water. When the wall is completed it will greatly increase both the pressure and facilities of the water supply and will insure the residents of that place all the water they will need for years to come at a mere nominal cost.

DEATH OF S. CAMERON BURNSIDE.—The announcement Monday of the death of S. Cameron Burnside, at his home on Spruce street, Philadelphia, at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, came with quite a shock to his many friends in this place. It was known that Mr. Burnside was afflicted with Bright's disease and a complication of other organic troubles from which he had suffered the past year or more, but he had spent so much time at Atlantic City and in the mountains that of late his health seemed improved and consequently his death was very unexpected. Deceased was born in Bellefonte February 4th, 1849, thus making his age 56 years, 9 months and 15 days. He was the eldest son of the late Judge James Burnside and a grandson of Hon. Thos. Burnside of the Supreme court, as well as a grandson of the late Simon Cameron. His early education was acquired in the private school taught by Miss Mollie Petriken after which he went to school three years at Geneva, Switzerland. Upon his return he entered the preparatory school (Edge Hill) at Princeton, N. J., finally graduating from Princeton University. Until his death he was a member of the Princeton club and was well known for his loyalty to his alma mater and his enthusiastic support of Princeton athletics. Through the influence of Simon Cameron he was appointed by President Grant a paymaster in the United States navy with the rank of Commander, and served on board the flagship Tennessee in 1873, seeing service during the troublesome times in Chinese waters. On his retiring from the U. S. naval service he was united in marriage, November 16th, 1882, with Miss Luinda A. Lauth of Howard. Following close upon his marriage he moved to Philadelphia and entered into the services of the city, at the time of his death being a member of the official staff of the City Controller. Though for the past quarter of a century the Burnside made their home in Philadelphia they never lost their warm feeling for Bellefonte and Centre county and every summer they would spend weeks and perhaps months here and on their farm. Mr. Burnside was a man known throughout the entire State and one extremely popular. Big hearted, charitable, kind and jovial he was a man who made friends wherever he went and retained them through his magnetic presence. Among his warm personal friends was the late "Chris" Magee and others of a equal prominence. He is survived by his wife, their adopted daughter, Raehael, and one sister, Mrs. S. H. Chauvenet. Funeral services were held at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning after which the remains were brought to this place, arriving here on the 4.25 train over the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad, being taken to the Catholic church where brief services were held after which they were conveyed to the Union cemetery where interment was made in the old Burnside family lot.

DEATH OF J. FEARON MANN.—Another man well known to many Centre counties and who for almost a score of years was prominently identified with one of its leading manufacturing has passed into the great beyond, in the person of J. Fearon Mann, who died at his home in Lewistown, at 7.15 o'clock Wednesday morning. Mr. Mann, who was in his 65th year, had not been in good health for a number of years and his death was undoubtedly hastened by a fall he sustained from a second story window of his home some time ago. Deceased was born at Lewistown where he spent the early part of his life. He came to Bellefonte about the year 1875 and took charge of the axe works at Axe Mann, in which position he remained until the plant was sold out to the trust in 1888. Mr. Mann was then put in charge as superintendent but the works were only operated a short time after that then closed down. When the Mann family moved to Bellefonte he purchased from James Milliken the house on Allegheny street now owned by Mrs. Harris, in which they lived until their return to Lewistown in the early nineties, when the home was sold. He is survived by his wife and four children, namely: Harris, Anna, Harriet and Ralph. The funeral will be held at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon.

VALLANCE.—William C. Vallance, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Vallance, of east Lamb street, was found dead in the yard in front of the house of Robert Hind, at Chester Hill, about 8 o'clock Saturday night. Vallance was a hostler and last Wednesday took a team of horses to Phillipsburg for the Platt-Barber company. From Phillipsburg he went to Wymburne to visit his sisters, returning to the former place Saturday afternoon. With a couple other men he went to the Hind house early in the evening and about 7 o'clock started out of the house intending to return to town. He evidently made a misstep and fell from the porch, as he was found in the yard dead about 8 o'clock, death evidently being due to heart trouble. Deceased was born in Houtzdale and was 27 years of age. In addition to his parents he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Daniel Bloom and Mrs. Samuel Conway, of Wymburne; Sarah and Elizabeth, of Williamsport; James, Margaret, John and Harry, at home. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock, Tuesday morning, from the Catholic church; interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. John Naughten a sister of Mrs. Mary O'Leary, of this place, died at her home in Pittsburg, Monday afternoon, after a brief illness.

A DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT.—Mrs. J. D. Murray, one of the best known and highly respected women of Centre Hall, fell down stairs at her home in that place, some time between five and six o'clock, last Friday afternoon, sustaining a broken neck, death undoubtedly ensuing instantly. No person saw the accident nor was there any one in the house when it occurred. Her husband, who is a druggist, went home at 6 o'clock for supper, the usual hour. His wife was not around and failed to respond to his call. In some alarm he called in a couple neighbors who instituted a search. No trace of the woman could be found in the lower rooms of the house and one of the neighbor women opened the stair door leading to the second floor when the dead body of Mrs. Murray rolled out into the room. A physician was at once summoned but the woman had been dead some little time and an examination showed that her neck was broken; while an investigation indicated the fact that she had tripped on a piece of carpet and had fallen headlong down stairs, with the above deplorable result. Deceased, whose maiden name was Hoffer, was a native of Potter township, and was 79 years of age. She was a most estimable christian woman, much loved by all who knew her. In addition to her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. K. Bitner, of Millersburg, and Agnes, at home. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Rev. Gress, of the Reformed church, officiated and interment was made in the cemetery at Centre Hall.

GINGERICH.—Sarah Gingerich, a most estimable maiden lady well known to most residents of upper Bald Eagle valley, died at the home of her brother, Rudolph Gingerich, in Tyrone, at 1.15 o'clock Sunday morning, from tuberculosis, the result of a severe attack of pneumonia with which she was seized last May. Deceased was 73 years of age and was a native of Juniata county. She was a daughter of Joseph and Fanny Gingerich and most of her life was spent in Centre county. One of a family of twelve children she is survived by six brothers and children, as follows: Samuel and John, of Martha Furnace; David, of Winston, Mo.; Mrs. Fanny Rider, of Fairbury, Neb.; and Katherine and Rudolph, of Tyrone. The funeral was held Monday afternoon.

GINTER.—Grace E. Ginter, a daughter of the late James Ginter, well-known to most everybody in Bellefonte, died in St. Joseph's hospital, Philadelphia, Monday, November 13th, where she was operated on for appendicitis after an illness of only four days. She became ill the Thursday previous to her death and was taken to the hospital for an operation on Friday. Deceased was born in Bellefonte Dec. 4th, 1876, and was therefore almost twenty-nine years of age. With her parents she moved to Philadelphia a number of years ago. Her father died about a year ago, since which time she has helped very materially toward the support of her mother and sisters. The funeral was held on Thursday, November 17th, interment being made in the Fernwood cemetery.

DEHAAS.—Jacob L. DeHaas, proprietor of the Syracuse house at Howard, died on Wednesday evening after a long illness with Bright's disease. Deceased was 47 years of age and was a son of Curtis DeHaas, one of the pioneer families of Howard township. When a young man the subject of this notice became the proprietor of the hotel at Howard in which business he continued until his death. He was united in marriage to Miss Mary Burns who survives him with two children, Rhue and Charles. He also leaves several brothers and sisters. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10.30 o'clock.

ROYER.—William Royer died at his home near Madisonburg, last Thursday evening, after a long illness with nervous prostration, aged 33 years. He is survived by his wife and three small children. The funeral was held on Monday, interment being made at Madisonburg.

Titus Priest, one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of Ocoola Mills, died on Tuesday morning, at the home of his son Samuel, at Point Lookout. Deceased was 77 years of age and is survived by four sons and three daughters.

Waddell, (Rube) Hunting & Walters, with a good supporting company, in a vaudeville performance will be the attraction at Garman's, Thanksgiving, afternoon and evening.

A peculiar specimen of the deer family was killed by the Robert Mann hunting party out in the Scotoac region last week. It was a doe with a nice pair of four-pronged antlers. When running in the woods the hunters saw what they supposed was a buck and a fawn together, a somewhat uncommon occurrence at this time of the year. What they supposed was a buck was shot but when they got it it proved to be a doe with horns. This is a rare malformation of the kind in the deer family.

Farmers who read the WATCHMAN will doubtless be interested in the fact that there will be held this year three Farmers' Institutes in this county: One at Phillipsburg, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 28th and 29th. One at Pleasant Gap, Thursday, Nov. 30th, and one at Rebersburg, on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 1st and 2nd. A number of instructors from other parts of the State will be present to join with the farmers of these localities in the discussion of topics relative to agriculture.

WITH THE HUNTERS.—Up to this time news from the various hunting parties out on the mountains has been rather meagre, but the little so far received indicates that the number of deer killed so far is small, very much below what was expected at the opening of the season. The first definite news from the Panthers was received Monday night when M. A. Jackson, a member of the club, returned home. Up until the time he left camp, Monday noon, the party had not succeeded in killing any deer, and during the five days they had been in the woods only two deer had been seen. The Bob Mann party had secured two deer, a small doe and a fawn, up until Monday, while one other party out in that region had succeeded in getting one deer. These three constituted the entire number killed in that section the first four days of the season. So far as can be definitely learned only one deer has been killed by the hunters from Snow Shoe. In the Seven mountains it is reported a few deer have been killed but the number is not as large by any means as was expected. Possibly the most successful party out in that section is the Bradford party. They started out last Thursday and before 9 o'clock had killed three bears, an old she bear and her two cubs, and since that time they have secured one fine deer. It is reported that a couple more deer have been killed in the Seven mountains but the information is too roundabout to give as accurate. On Wednesday word was received from the "Moochoos," a Boalsburg hunting club camped in the Seven mountains, in effect that they had three fine deer strung up out of a total of sixteen seen all told. The John Smith hunting party, of Howard, have three deer and the Weaver boys, of the same place, also three. In Lower Sugar valley nine deer have been killed since the opening of the season. The Zimmerman party, encamped on Baker run, Clinton county, had two deer at last reports. From Williamsport comes the report of three deer having been shot by residents of that city, which weighed respectively, 180, 125 and 100 pounds. Jesse Stout, of Renovo, has also a deer to his credit, a large doe, shot in the Baker run district. According to reports received yesterday more deer have been killed so far this week than there were the first four days of the hunting season. The Uzzle party of which Dr. Haag, of Williamsport, is a member, shot three deer on Monday. The Rolly brothers, of Karthaus, who are out on Mosquito creek, have four nice deer strung up. The Harrisburg party, who are hunting in the Scotoac region, sent a fat 150 pound buck home on Tuesday. The Riley party, from Boalsburg, have two deer to their credit. Judge Auten, of Sunbury, is this week the guest of R. W. Bruce, of Clinton county, and on Tuesday had the good fortune to shoot a 200 pound bear. On Wednesday Frank Warfield, DeLann Stewart and a friend went down Bald Eagle valley, and came home with twenty quail, one of the nicest strings of birds seen in this section this year.

ANOTHER BEAR STORY.—The following bear story was given us by telephone, last Saturday evening, by a prominent business man in Snow Shoe, who vouched for its accuracy: Last Friday evening Lawrie Baird, a coal operator of Ocoola Mills, and John McCamant, postmaster of Tyrone, came to Unionville by train and there secured a carriage and team of horses to convey themselves and trappings to the camp of the Ranger hunting club, of Tyrone, located at the headwaters of Beech Creek. On their way out through the mountains they became lost and coming to a fork in the road both men got out of the carriage to see if they could identify which road they should take. They had not gone ten steps away from the vehicle when there was a terrifying growl and a crunching of brush and out in the road, not a rod away, plunged an old she bear and two cubs. The sudden appearance of the bears and their warning growls frightened the horses which stamped with the carriage, in which were the guns of the two men, leaving them at the mercy of the bears with nothing but a small vest pocket revolver of 22 calibre, carried by Mr. Baird. He quickly drew this and as the old she bear approached on her haunches he thrust the weapon forward and fired, without the least anticipating the result. With the first crash of the revolver brain lurched forward and fell dead at his feet, the ball having entered the right eye and penetrated the brain. In the meantime, Mr. McCamant, no less brave than Mr. Baird, seized a club and attacked the cubs. He succeeded in killing one but on turning to look for the other he disappeared through the thick brush down over a steep bank. And the men aver that the cub carried off with it theiratchet which they had dropped in the excitement incident to the first appearance of the bears. A half hour's search failed to reveal the whereabouts of the cub and they gave up the hunt. The fact then dawned on the two men that they were stranded in the wilds of the foothills of the Alleghenies, without a conveyance to take them anywhere and with no idea of the location of the Rangers' camp. Mr. McCamant is somewhat of an astronomer and, nothing daunted, they set out for Snow Shoe, taking the North star as their guide. They arrived there shortly after midnight, none the worse for their moonlight encounter with the bears in the wilds of the Allegheny mountains. In the meantime the horses had taken the back track and were found in Unionville the next morning. Saturday morning the two men secured a guide and took their trail back over the mountains, secured the carcasses of the two dead bear and proceeded on their way to the camp of their friends.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held in the Methodist church on Thanksgiving day, at 10.30 a. m. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt, the offering will be given to the Bellefonte hospital. "Let the people praise Thee, O God; let all the people praise Thee."

COUNTY COMMISSIONER'S APPOINTMENTS.—The county commissioner's elect did a wise and sensible thing by making their appointments at once instead of waiting until they were sworn in and organized, a proceeding which always foments more trouble and ill-feeling than to make the appointments at once and have it over with.
