Rosser, who has been mail clerk on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania the past couple years, with headquarters at Mill Hill, has been promoted to a run on the Pennsylvania with headquarters at Harrisburg. Last Friday evening the Knox school, up Buffalo run, with Miss Eva C. Bathgate as teacher, held an exhibition and entertainments that proved a most interesting affair; the program of recitations, dialogues, etc., being quite lengthy. Stewart Pearce, Jr., a son of Stewart Pearce, of Conneaut, Ohio, who last week was so badly injured in a railroad accident that it was necessary to amputate one of his legs, is getting along all right now with every assurance of his ultimate recovery. The Centre County Association in Philadelphia will hold its mid-winter banquet at the hotel Majestic, Broad street and Girard avenue, Wednesday, February 7th. The committee in charge is planning to make this the banner social event held by the association. Measles are now rampant in Bellefonte and many a boy and girl is confined in doors ill with the disease. Out of a school of close to fifty scholars, in Bush's addition, only fourteen were present the beginning of this week, all the others being sick with the measles. The regular meeting of borough council, Monday evening, was a very brief one. Only five members were present and the only business transacted was re-electing John Blanchard and S. H. Williams members of the board of health and approving bills to the amount of $430.74. With the opening of the winter term two changes took place in the faculty of the Bellefonte Academy. Harry A. Frank A. B. of Milwaukee, succeeded Mr. Thompson as teacher of modern languages, and Charles B. Keller A. B. of Mahopac Falls, N. Y., succeeded Mr. Engleman as instructor in history, mathematics and civics. There will be a meeting in Petriken hall, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a Woman's Club in Bellefonte. The object of the club will be both literary and philanthropic, for the general betterment of civic conditions, for insurance, the passage of a curfew law and the prevention of poverty, etc., in town. All women interested in this are urged to be present. Sunday night an attempt was made to break into the residence of Father Corbett, at Snow Shoer. During the night Father Corbett heard a noise at the door and on getting up failed to see anyone. The next morning he discovered that the would-be robbers had cut a hole in the stained glass window in the door with a diamond but had likely been frightened away when he got up in the night. They attempted to effect an entrance by the cellar way but were unsuccessful.

CHARLES CRUSE DIED SUDDENLY.—One of the most tragic deaths that has occurred in this section in years was that of Charles H. Cruse, at his home at Axe Mann, at 6.14 o'clock Friday evening of erysipelas. The Cruses have lived at Axe Mann nearly two years where Charles conducted a small cigar manufactory. A couple days prior to Christmas he closed out his factory and during the holidays went to Pittsburgh to accept a position as traveling salesman for a large stogie manufacturing company. He had completed all arrangements to start out on his initial trip, had even practically rented a house in which to move his family when, on Tuesday of last week, a small pimple on the side of his nose became quite painful and he consulted a physician about it. At that time there was nothing about the pimple to distinguish it from any ordinary blood eruption. Wednesday morning, however, the physician advised him to come home at once and consult his family physician, and he arrived home Wednesday night. Thursday and Friday forenoon passed and while the pain gradually grew greater there was no further external evidence of the disease; while the patient himself on Friday morning had no apprehension of his approaching death. Shortly after noon, on Friday, the pain became so great that a hypodermic injection of ether was administered. Shortly afterwards Mr. Cruse became unconscious and when the doctor returned shortly after four o'clock he found him in a dying condition. The disease had spread inwardly and gone to the brain and no medical aid could avail at that time. Deceased was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Cruse and was born in Reading January 19th, 1870. While quite young the family moved to this place. His education was received in the public schools of the town after which he began work for his father in the cigar manufacturing business. When his father died a number of years ago he succeeded him and continued the business until less than a year ago when he sold out and opened up a small factory at Axe Mann. He is survived by his wife, who before marriage was Miss Rebekah Garman, daughter of Mr. Daniel Garman, and five children, namely: Louise, Charles, Allen, Rebecca and Helen; also his mother, Mrs. Josephine Cruse; three brothers, Dr. Andrew J., of Denver, Col.; Templeton, of Pittsburgh, and Wade, of Swisshale; and one sister, Mrs. S. Kline Woodring, of Bellefonte. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the Episcopal church, Rev. George Israel Browne conducting the services. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

POTTER.—Dr. Thomas B. Potter, one of the oldest and best known physicians in Centre county, died at his home in Philipsburg, last Friday evening, from kidney trouble and other complications, after an illness of about ten weeks. Deceased was born at Potters Mills, this county, November 21st, 1829, making his age 76 years, 1 month and 23 days. He was a descendant of one of the pioneer as well as most prominent families in Centre county. His father was Gen. John Potter, who located and died in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, and his grandfather Judge James Potter, one of the founders of Potters Mills and original owners of the woolen and grist mills at that place as well as a large amount of real estate. The doctor's early life was spent at the place of his birth, where he received his first educational training. Later he went to school at Lewistown and afterwards took a course at Princeton. He began his medical studies under the supervision of his cousin, Dr. George L. Potter, of Bellefonte, then took a course in the University of Pennsylvania from which he graduated in 1851. He at once located in Stormtown where he practiced for five years then went to Philipsburg where he soon became one of the leading physicians of the town and where he lived ever since. In 1869 he built the Potter block and some few years later erected the Potter house, selling the latter only a few years ago. About fourteen years ago, after practicing his profession for forty years, in which he was so successful as to accumulate quite a little for time; he retired to private life and thus lived until his death, one of the honored and esteemed citizens of Philipsburg. Politically the doctor was a Republican and, while never very aggressive, always took more or less interest in politics and was elected to a number of borough offices, having been the second burgess ever elected in Philipsburg. During the war of the Rebellion he served eight months, from October, 1862, until May, 1863, as assistant surgeon in the army of Tennessee, but was compelled to resign on account of impaired health. He was also a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity. Dr. Potter was twice married, the first time in 1858 to Miss Mary E. Myers, of Stormtown, by whom he had five children, all of whom are dead. His second wife was Miss Ellen McMullen, to whom he was married in 1880, and who still survives, they having no children. He also leaves one grand son, Thomas Barnside Potter. The funeral was private, in charge of the Masons, and was held at 10 o'clock Monday morning, Rev. F. J. Clem officiating.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.—Work on the Y. M. C. A. building has now so far progressed that there is a certainty that it will be fully completed and all the equipments in place inside of two or three weeks at the outside and Thursday evening, February 1st, has been set as the time for the formal opening of the same. The occasion will be made quite an event in the history of the association. Robert E. Spear, of New York, has been invited and it is expected will be present as one of the speakers at that time. E. B. Buckalew, the Y. M. C. A. State secretary, will also be present. A special opening of the gymnasium will be held on Friday evening, February 2nd. Regarding the completion of the work on the new building much has been accomplished during the past week. The carpenters are almost through with the exception of laying the floor in the gymnasium. The old paper has been removed from the walls of the front room and the force of painters and paper hangers have their work well under way. In the gymnasium all of the suspended apparatus have been put in position and the rest will be placed just as soon as the floor is laid. Experts from Philadelphia are now here erecting the bowling alleys which they expect to have completed within ten days; so that there is little doubt but that everything will be in good shape for the opening day, when the public is cordially invited to attend. Remember the time, Thursday evening, February 1st. A UNIQUE CONTEST. Red and orange will be popular colors during the next four weeks as Bellefonte is to be the scene of a great struggle between these popular colors. On Tuesday next two companies of thirty men each will be started in a contest for Y. M. C. A. membership, each company wearing one of the above mentioned colors. The contest will continue for four weeks and at the end of that period the side that has secured the largest number of points, or dollars, will be declared the winner and will have a group picture made of the team, which will be framed and hung in the new rooms. The losing team will give a public demonstration of the woodman's art by sawing up one of the largest logs that can be secured in the vicinity of Bellefonte. At the close of this novel effort for Y. M. C. A. members all who have joined the association will be served with a fine supper and will be presented with free tickets to an excellent entertainment. Lots of fun is guaranteed by the above effort and as the association has one of the best equipments in the State we feel confident in predicting a Y. M. C. A. boom.

A HANDSOME CHRISTMAS PRESENT.—We omitted to mention the fact, last week, of the very handsome Christmas present Mr. J. H. Lingle received from his employees. On Saturday afternoon, December 23rd, John Gaiswhite went to Mr. Lingle's office and told him he was wanted in the eating house at queer. Mr. Lingle at once became considerably agitated, conjuring in his mind all kinds of direful things from a strike to a fight, as on a previous occasion he was compelled to stop one of the latter. He at once hastened to the eating house and there, sure enough, were all the men formed in a big ring—a prize fight style. Mr. Lingle made a rush and broke through the ring into the centre where he confronted—not two men in battle array, but young Charles Chandler, who, without giving his employer time to regain his breath, made his carefully prepared little speech and presented Mr. Lingle with a valuable diamond ring as a mark of the esteem in which he was held by his employees. Mr. Lingle was so 'flustered' he has no remembrance of what he said in acceptance, but that he appreciates the gift very deeply is certain.

UNDERWOOD—KINKAD.—A nicely appointed wedding in Johnstown, Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, was that of James Irwin Underwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Underwood, of this place, and Miss Mary P. Kinkad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Kinkad, of Johnstown. The ceremony, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents and was witnessed by only a few close friends, was performed by Rev. C. C. Hays, of the First Presbyterian church. The couple went to the altar unattended. Following a brief wedding trip they will take up their residence in Renovo, where the groom holds a good position in the train dispatcher's office. BEST—KOONTZ.—Quite a happy little wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koontz, at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Maude S. Koontz, was united in marriage to Howard E. Best. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John A. Wood Jr. in the presence of about thirty invited guests. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Morton Smith. A wedding supper was served the bridal party after which Mr. and Mrs. Best repaired to their own home which the groom had already furnished in apartments over Sheffer's store. LABE—LOSE.—Last Friday's Altoona papers contained the marriage notice of Cyrus H. Labe, of that city, and Miss Anna K. Lose, of Bellefonte, the ceremony having been performed in one of the Episcopal churches in Philadelphia, on Thursday. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lose, in this place, but for some time past has been living with her brother Joseph, in Altoona. The groom is a machinist in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad company in the shops in the Mountain city. GAULT—LONG.—Thursday evening of last week James B. Gault, a popular young livyman, of this place, and Miss Lydia Long were quietly married at the Reform parlousage by Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt. While coasting down Bishop street one day last week Harriet Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Ray, and Paul Wetzel were thrown from the sled just opposite where J. S. McCargar lives. Miss Ray was quite badly hurt, the tendons in one leg being so severely wrenched that it has been a difficult matter to get the swelling down sufficiently to give the proper treatment. Young Wetzel had the ligaments of one leg slightly torn but is now able to be up and around a little. The next day John, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shaugheusey, Jr., of east Howard street, had his leg broken in a coasting accident. A freight train on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad pulling into Look Haven, at five o'clock Sunday morning, sideswiped a number of loaded cars that were being shifted from a siding on to the main track wrecking a half dozen or more cars, among them being two cars loaded with merchandise. Among the wreckage were barrels of whiskey and gin, kegs of beer, thousands of cigars, tea, coffee, furniture, dry goods, writing tablets, coal, etc., all of which were scattered along the track for several hundred feet. L. C. Bullock is very much pleased with his new situation in Indiana, Pa., and will move his family there about February first, after selling all his effects in Milesburg at a public sale on Saturday, January 27th. Mr. Isaac Underwood and two daughters, Misses Mary and Blanche, attended the wedding of their son and brother in Johnstown, Wednesday evening.

Deceased was born in Potter township and was thirty-six years of age. His life was spent at home on his father's farm which he practically managed for some years past. He was a most exemplary young man, honest, industrious and progressive, and his death is deeply deplored by a host of friends. Surviving him are his father and mother and the following brothers and sisters: William Groh Runkle, of Bellefonte, district attorney; James H., of Potter township; Miss Hilda Gibson, of York; Mrs. Mary Bottorf, of Newberry; Mrs. Lydia A. JUDGE SAMUEL FRANK.—In the death of Samuel Frank, at his home in Rebersburg, Tuesday night of last week, Centre county loses the last one of the men who served on the bench as an associate judge, C. A. Faulkner, of Philipsburg, being the only one yet living. Mr. Frank's death was due to the infirmities of old age as he had been in feeble health for some months. Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Frank and was born in Miles township, in 1821, thus making his age close to 85 years. He was one of a family of eleven children, all prominent in the history of Bush valley. Mr. Frank was a Democrat and always staunchly supported the principles of his party. In 1850 he was commissioned a justice of the peace which office he held a number of years. In 1876 he was elected associate judge, serving the full term of five years. He afterwards served three years as county auditor and at various times held township offices. For many years he was engaged in the mercantile business at Rebersburg with his son Luther. Judge Frank was married in 1843 to Miss Sarah Brungart, by whom he had four children, all living, as follows: James P., Luther B., and Mrs. R. D. Bierley, of Rebersburg, and Dr. G. S. Frank, of Millheim. Mrs. Frank died in 1886. The funeral was held from his late home, at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning, interment being made in the Rebersburg cemetery.

Slack, of Potters Mills, and was 33 years 1 month and 11 days old. He went west about twelve years ago and secured a position as telegraph operator for the Chicago and Alton railroad company which he held until two years ago when he became an engineer on the same road, with headquarters at Bloomington, Ill. Since that time he had been employed by the company as a watchman at the depot here. At this writing arrangements for the funeral have not been made.
