H. S. TAYLOR,
County Chairman.

The Result of Tuesday's Election

To figure out the exact political status of Tuesday's election would require the services of more than one expert mathematician. In fact, the results show that party lines were very much disregarded. This was especially the case in Bellefonte borough. The Democrats lost the borough treasurer, an office they have held the past four years and also control of the town council. For the first office W. B. Rankin defeated James K. Barnhart by twenty-five majority. The control of the borough council was lost by Joseph Wise being defeated by C. C. Shuey in the South ward. The closest contest was that for council in the North ward between Thad Hamilton and F. H. Thomas, the former winning by just one of a majority. J. Kennedy Johnston was re-elected tax collector by a good safe majority while the Republican candidate for overseer of the poor, John Love, was elected by the largest majority on the ticket. Gen. John I. Curtin, of course, had no opposition for burgess so that the final summing up shows that the Democrats still have the tax collector and the majority on the school board, and that is fairly good in a borough as strongly Republican as Bellefonte is.

The returns indicate that there was also considerable cutting and slashing done in most every township in the county. In Republican strongholds the Democrats elected some of their candidates while a few Republicans were elected in Democratic precincts. The question whether the work tax should be abolished and a money tax substituted therefor was voted on in almost half the townships in the county and was lost in all but Gregg township, where it carried by a small majority. The complete returns from the entire county follow:
