THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Are you among the fitters. Only sixteen more days until the trout fisherman will be in his glory. John Porter Lyon, the garage man, has built an automobile wash at the entrance of his garage on Water street. Landerback, Barber & Co. have had a new sign painted on their wholesale house in this place. Joe MoSaley did the work. Edward Brown Sr., on Monday celebrated his ninety-second birthday and is still a comparatively hale and hearty man. The Centre Hall lodge of Odd Fellows recently purchased two lots of ground and have in view the building of a hall for their own use. A large force of Pennsylvania telephone company linemen are now at work in this section stringing wires for farmer's telephone lines. Garman's opera house should be crowded tonight to witness Hadley's moving pictures for the benefit of the soldiers monument fund. There have been quite a number of fittings so far this week but the most of the movings in Bellefonte will take place today and tomorrow with some belated ones on Monday. Rev. John A. Wood preached a most interesting sermon, Sunday evening, to an unusually large audience, on the subject, "Absalom, a very wicked young man of his day." About fifty Academy students occupied the front seats. Rev. and Mrs. J. Victor Royer, of Altoona, are rejoicing over the arrival of a big twelve pound baby boy at their home, last Thursday, and Grandma Faxon was so pleased with the announcement that she took the first train for the Mountain city. John S. Farst, son of ex-Judge and Mrs. A. O. Farst, of this place, has resigned as vice president of the Citizens National bank at Curwensville, to become president of the United States Sandpaper company, recently organized at Williamsport. William Tressler, who a month or so ago was so badly hurt in a runaway accident on Water street, and who has since been undergoing treatment in the Hayes-Dale sanatorium, has so far recovered that he was taken to his home up Buffalo run Monday afternoon. A report was in circulation this week that Charles Moerschbacher intended leaving Bellefonte and moving his family to Lock Haven. Mr. Moerschbacher, however, assured the writer that the report was not correct and that he intended to remain in Bellefonte. M. I. Gardner and family now occupy their new house on the corner of Spring and Howard streets, and C. M. Parrish's have moved into the old Gardner house adjoining, while the Pearl sisters have fitted from their recent home opposite the court house to the flat in Petriken hall vacated by the Parrish's. Mrs. Samuel Hazel who with her two children, Carrie and Grace, have made their home with her mother, Mrs. Ott on east High street, since the death of her husband, left on the noon train Saturday for Williamsport where they will make their future home with Mrs. Hazel's sister, Mrs. John Kipka. On Sunday a big bunch of snow slid from the roof of the Bosh house and fell on the sky light over the rear of Green's drug store, breaking the glass and crashing through on his desk. Fortunately Mr. Green or no one else happened to be there at the time so that the damage was merely nominal. There's nothing like being a banker to be lucky. Tuesday evening James McNichol chanced off a roan pony and the holder of the lucky ticket was Maurice A. Jackson. And in less than ten minutes from the time the result of the drawing was announced he sold the pony for fifty dollars and had the money in his pocket. A chimney on fire on the house occupied by Thomas Caldwell, on Beaver street, at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, caused a fire alarm and a little excitement. And a similar fire on the Hamilton house on Willowbank street, Monday afternoon, brought out the entire fire department and caused excitement enough to last the rest of the day. Those students in the Senior and Junior classes at the Pennsylvania State College taking a chemical course were in Bellefonte on Saturday taking a practical lesson by a thorough inspection of the two furnaces here, going from this place to the western part of the State to see the practical work of operating the big furnaces and mills in that section. The groundhog may still be holed up but as an evidence that spring is here Martin Reese, conductor on the Snow Shoe railroad, comes forward with the story that last Friday when the train was coming from Snow Shoe to Bellefonte he saw two large black bears sunning themselves on the rocks on top of the Allegheny mountains. From this it would appear that brum's hibernating time is at an end, which means that summer will soon be here.

WILSON.—Charles T. Wilson, one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of Altoona, a brother of the late Mrs. W. S. Triple and who was well known by many Centre countyans, died at his home in the Mountain city, early Saturday morning, after six months illness with Bright's disease and other complications. He is survived by his wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Martha A. Brown, of Cedar Springs, Clinton county, and five sons, all of whom live in Altoona. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon. Rev. Bowby, of the First Presbyterian church, conducted the funeral services. Interment was made in the Fairview cemetery and was private. The following sketch of Mr. Wilson's life was taken from Monday's Altoona Tribune:

Charles T. Wilson, was born at Cedar Run, Clinton county, on September 1st, 1832. He was of Scotch-Irish descent, his ancestors having been a part of the colony which settled in Northampton county in the early colonial days. His great grandfather was General Philip Benner, of revolutionary fame and later one of the first and most prominent iron masters of Central Pennsylvania. He spent his early life in Centre and Clearfield counties and attended school until he was aged fifteen years. On leaving school he learned the trade of a millwright which he followed until he was appointed deputy sheriff of Centre county in 1854, in which capacity he served until 1856.

Mr. Wilson's railroad career began in the year 1857 at the expiration of his term as deputy sheriff, and was co-incidental with the construction of the railroads in Central Pennsylvania. His first connection with a railroad was as a rodman in a corps of engineers engaged in the construction of the railroad running between Bellefonte and Snow Shoe. On the completion of the line in 1859 he was made a conductor on the line and earned the respect and esteem of the officers and patrons of the road. He held this position until the outbreak of the Civil war when he enlisted in the Fifteenth Pennsylvania cavalry, under General Wm. F. Palmer. The regiment was the body guard of General Rosecrans, during the southern campaign and which resulted in his defeat at Chickamauga. He did not participate in the battle, having been taken prisoner at the battle of Stone River, Tenn. He spent some time in rebel prison pens and was subsequently paroled, sent to Camp Chase, O., where he was discharged in August 1863, emaciated and broken in health. He returned home and again took up railroading as a means of livelihood. He entered the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad company as a freeman on the Tyrone division and later became a brakeman on the same division. His ability was soon recognized by the officials of the company and he was transferred to Altoona and given the position of station master at the local railroad station on Christmas day, 1863. Since that time he had been a resident of the city and filled the position until he was relieved from active duty on Nov. 1st, 1901, as a mark of honor for his long and faithful service. He was formally retired from the position on October 1st, 1902, since which time he had lived a quiet and retired life.

Station Master Charles Wilson, as he was known, was one of the best known railroad men along the Pennsylvania main line. He was intimately acquainted with President Cassatt, of the company and a number of the preceding presidents as well as other railroad officials and employees. He enjoyed an acquaintanceship with many people from all parts of the country and probably knew more public and prominent men of the country than any other Altoonian, having made their acquaintance as they passed through the city. He was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him.

RILING.—Mrs. Harriet Riling, wife of Alexander Riling, died at her home in Eldorado, Blair county, Sunday afternoon, of paralysis with which she was stricken Saturday night. Deceased was a native of Centre county, having been born at Pine Grove Mills, and was seventy-four years of age. She was married to Mr. Riling in 1858 and for some time lived in this county but for the past forty years have been residents of Eldorado where for a long time Mr. Riling was section foreman on the Pennsylvania railroad. She is survived by her husband and one son, S. Blair Riling, of Altoona; also two sisters, Mrs. Catharine Musser, of State College, and Mrs. Annie Lingenfelter, of Altoona; and one brother, Jacob Bortoff, of Lemont. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon, interment being made in the Eldorado cemetery.

HARKNESS.—Mrs. Catharine S. Harkness, wife of Samuel S. Harkness, principal of the Washington school in Altoona, died at her home in the Mountain city, Wednesday morning of last week, of heart disease. She had not been in good health the past four years. Deceased was a daughter of Charles H. and Mary C. Williamson and was born in this county just thirty-nine years and one day prior to her death. She is survived by her husband and three children. The funeral was held on Friday, interment being made in the Fairview cemetery at Altoona.

CARTER.—James Carter, a well known colored resident of this place, died at his home on Jail hill at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning of dropsy, with which he had been ailing for some time. Deceased was quite old and for many years worked for the Curtin family. He is survived by his wife, Liddie D. Carter, and four children, namely: John, Annie, William and Sadie. The funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday, the services being in the A. M. E. church, after which interment was made in the Union cemetery.

HUTTON.—Joseph Hutton, one of the pioneer settlers of Union township, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Miner's Hall, in Unionville, last Saturday morning, of diseases incident to his eighty-two years of age. All his life he was a Democrat of the staunch Jeffersonian type and a man respected by everybody. The funeral was held on Monday and was one of the most largely attended of any held in that place in years. Interment was made in the Union cemetery at Unionville.

GRAHAM.—Mrs. Mary Graham, widow of the late Edward Graham, died at her home on Allegheny street, last Thursday evening, as the result of a broken hip sustained in a fall two months or more ago. Owing to her advanced age, almost eighty-four years, it was impossible for the physicians in attendance to reduce the fracture and her death ensued.

Deceased was one of the oldest, best known and most highly respected women in Bellefonte. She was a faithful member of St. John's Episcopal church and her entire life was an example of the christian fortitude of her religion. As a friend and neighbor there were few other women in Bellefonte more highly esteemed than she. Her husband died a number of years ago but surviving her are the following children: J. Benner Graham, Miss Mary R., Mrs. Esther Gordon, Mrs. J. C. Harper, and Miss Sarah, at home; Mrs. George Lawrence, of North Dakota, and Edward, at State College. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the house, interment being made in the Union cemetery.

GREIST.—Charles Greist died at his home in Unionville, Tuesday morning, of typhoid fever, with which he had been sick a couple weeks. Deceased was twenty-four years of age and was a young man of sterling qualities. He was associated with his cousin, T. Elwood Griest, in the general mercantile business and was a general favorite with all who knew him. Surviving him are his mother and one sister in Huntingdon and a brother in Cambria county. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon.

His death is one deeply to be deplored. Just in the first flush of manhood he had already developed remarkable business capabilities and had the promise of a bright and very successful future ahead of him. A year or so ago when his uncle was sick for quite a long time Charles very ably managed his large business. Socially he was a most agreeable and congenial young man, who will be greatly missed not only by his immediate relatives but by all who knew him.

WEBER.—Miss Anna Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Weber, of Howard, died in the German hospital, Philadelphia, at seven o'clock Tuesday morning, of typhoid fever. Some five or six weeks ago Miss Weber went to Philadelphia to visit her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore, and had been there but a few days when she was stricken with the fever. She was at once removed to the German hospital and everything possible done to save her life, but without avail. Deceased was twenty-four years of age and was a bright and accomplished young woman. She was a graduate of the Philadelphia conservatory of music and a general favorite with all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. Surviving her are her parents, one brother, Balser, and three sisters, Mrs. Clyde Long, Emma and Edith. The body was brought to Howard Wednesday morning and taken to the home of her parents from where the funeral was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

SMITH.—Ezra F. Smith died at his home in Freeport, Ill., last Saturday evening, of a complication of diseases. Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith and was born at Penn Hall, this county, February 3rd, 1854. He learned the Wagon-maker's trade under his father and later took up teaching. He was twice married, the first time to Miss Rebecca Lanver, who died in 1882, and the second time to Miss Rosa Rishel, of Spring Mills, who survives. The family moved to Illinois in 1884 since which time Mr. Smith has engaged in various callings and prospered accordingly.

HENDRIXSON.—Mrs. Emma Atlee Hendrixson died at her home in Altoona, Monday night, as the result of injuries sustained in a fall last May from which she never recovered. She was the daughter of Joseph A. and Amelia DeHaven Atlee and was born at Pine Grove Mills, this county, almost eighty-one years ago. She was a member of the First Lutheran church of Altoona and a woman greatly loved and esteemed by all. She leaves no children but is survived by a daughter-in-law, three grandsons and a number of nieces and nephews.

FOUND DEAD.—Tuesday afternoon Harry Rider, son of George Rider, who lives below Coburn, was found dead in Weaver's grain house at Coburn station. He had evidently been dead several hours when found. The circumstances being somewhat suspicious a coroner's inquest was held and from the evidence produced the jury returned a verdict in effect that the young man had died from alcoholic poisoning. The body was taken to the home of his parents from where the funeral was held yesterday morning, the remains being taken to Aaronsburg for interment.

BLOOM.—Mrs. Mary Ellen Bloom died at her home in Wyrnsburne, Clearfield county, on Sunday afternoon, after a few weeks illness. Deceased was about forty-two years of age and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Vallance, of this place. She is survived by her husband and seven children, also her parents and the following brothers and sisters: James, Sarah, Catharine, Margaret, Elizabeth, John and Harry. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon.

—The Bellefonte public schools had lots of visitors last Thursday and Friday, "parents days."

OFF TO ATLANTIC CITY.—C. M. Garman and family left Bellefonte yesterday to make their future home in Atlantic City where they have leased and will conduct the McClellan house on Atlantic avenue. The move was quite a surprise to the most intimate friends of the Garmans as no one knew they even contemplated leaving Bellefonte until about a week ago when the announcement of their departure was made. Mr. Garman has been a resident of Bellefonte all his life, having been born and raised here. For the past nine years he and his brother, C. B. Garman, have conducted the Garman house in this place so that he goes to Atlantic City with a thorough knowledge of the hotel business. The McClellan house is not one of the big hotels in the city by the sea but one of about thirty rooms. Its location on Atlantic avenue, only two blocks from the Board walk, makes it a good stand and one that has always been well patronized. To get things in readiness for the reception of the Garman family Al. S. Garman, of Tyrone, went to Atlantic City on Monday to have some necessary changes and repairs made and it would not be a surprise to hear that he will spend the entire summer there.

WILL GO TO SHARON.—With the first of April Frank C. Garman will retire from his position as clerk at the Brockerhoff house and go to Sharon, Pa., in the north-western part of the State, where he has accepted the management of the Colonial hotel, the biggest hotel in that city, being almost twice as big as the Brockerhoff house and thoroughly up-to-date in every particular, being equipped throughout with steam heat and electric light, with telephones in every room and connecting baths. The proprietor of the hotel intends making a tour of Europe and offered Frank the position of manager which he accepted after due consideration. He has been clerk at the Brockerhoff house the past five years and is a courteous and affable young gentleman and there is no doubt that he will succeed in his new position.

HOTEL TO CHANGE HANDS.—On Monday J. Mitchell Cunningham bought out Fredrick Moserberger, of the Haag hotel, and will take charge of the same as landlord just as soon as the license can be transferred. Mr. Moserberger came here from Clearfield about eighteen months ago and took charge of the Haag house, conducting it in a manner that commanded good patronage. His successor, Mr. Cunningham, though he has never had any experience as a landlord, has been around hotels in various capacities most of his life, so that the business will not be entirely new to him, and there is hardly any doubt but that the Haag will be just as good a hotel in every way in the future as it has been in the past.

"COLLEGE CHUMS" BY HOME TALENT.—"College Chums" is a delightful comedy, depicting the adventures of a college boy, while on a visit to his chum's home, rig up for a mask ball and white waiting to show his chum his costume he is mistaken for a cousin who is expected to visit the family. His chum declares he must stay and play the part just to have some fun with the old folks and it leads to a general mix up and some of the most ludicrous situations imaginable. Mr. Bingham, who is the author and also takes the leading role, has secured a clever cast of local talent to assist in the production of this comedy and all who enjoy a good, clever entertainment and a hearty laugh will find this a most enjoyable evening. At Petriken hall, Tuesday evening, April 5th. Reserved seats will go on sale at Sheffer's, Tuesday morning, April 3rd.

MOVING PICTURES TONIGHT.—For the last time we desire to call the attention of WATCHMAN readers to the Edwin J. Hadley moving picture entertainment in the opera house tonight, under the auspices of Gregg Post and for the benefit of the soldiers monument fund. Everybody in Bellefonte knows just what Hadley's moving pictures are like. Always up-to-date and always something new, and there will be no exception to this rule tonight. Then the object is a most worthy one and one in which every Bellefonter is interested. The Post will not benefit one cent by bringing tonight's entertainment here. The entire net proceeds will be turned over to the monument fund.

—We are under obligations to Capt. W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, for a copy of the Vicksburg (Miss.) Herald, of Sunday, March 25th, containing a very complete account of the ceremonies connected with the unveiling of the Pennsylvania monument on the Vicksburg battlefield. Gen. James A. Beaver was the orator of the day while brief addresses were made by Governors Pennypacker and Vardaman and other notables. The paper is also embellished with a group picture of some of the survivors in which appears General John I. Curtin, of this place, and Col. Austin Curtin, of Roland.

—The dead body of Simon Clark, of Hollidaysburg, but formerly of Phillipsburg, this county, was found lying alongside the dead carcasses of two huge bears in the Big Horn valley, Wyoming, Wednesday of last week. Clark left his home a month or so ago for an extended hunting trip through the Rocky mountain section and his fight with the bears must have been a desperate one. An investigation of the body when found disclosed four broken ribs, a badly mangled arm and an ugly wound at the base of the brain.

—Spring has been a little slow in putting in an appearance but the past few days remind us that once having made up her mind to come she is doing it with a bound. That is exactly the way with some subscribers to newspapers; they are very slow about coming "up to the captains of the fleet," but when they finally do make up their mind to do it they settle the whole bill at once. The WATCHMAN's list is fast outgrowing this class, but still we have some and it is not at all an unusual thing to receive $30, $40, $50 and even up to $72 from a single subscriber who has been in arrears that long. We always have maintained that most men are honest and will pay when they can and for that reason we have waited far longer than good business methods would warrant on many. Some of them have fulfilled our ideals of honesty while others have been shysters. It is not of these, however, that we started to tell, but rather of the ones who have recently squared off for the year and spiked the cannon against saying anything about them as delinquents. They are A. G. Arceby, Pine Grove Mills; J. D. Neidigh, State College; Jerry Donovan, Axe Mass; John I. Potter, C. M. Parrish, S. Ohmacht, Bellefonte; Miss Annie Irvin, Hollidaysburg; Prof. Geo. W. Twimire, Unionville; Miss McDevitt, Wadde, J. D. Miller, Hubersburg; Frank Rabin, Tyrone; Thos. Barnes Jr., Phillipsburg; George Bayard, Altoona; J. F. Buckwalter, Lancaster; J. H. Martin, Clearfield; Miss Lizzie Morrison, Williamsport; Thos. F. Uhl, Romola; J. Willis Weaver, Windber; J. W. Raymond, Linden Hall; J. M. McClintick, Lamar; P. McCaffrey, Lock Haven; W. H. Irvin, Penna Furnace; Mrs. Katie Kline, Franklinville; Mrs. J. L. DeHass, Howard; Frank Krebs, Spruce Creek; Mrs. L. Rutter, Benore; G. Dorsey Green, Briarly.

REED—WILSON.—Joseph Reed, of Altoona, and Miss Blanche Wilson, of Portland Oregon, were united in marriage at one o'clock Monday afternoon, at the Eighth Avenue Methodist parsonage, Altoona, by Rev. G. M. Klefer. The bride is a daughter of George G. Wilson and a granddaughter of William L. Wilson, of Stroudstown, this county, consequently has many relatives in Halfmoon valley. Several months ago she came east from her home in Portland and has since been living with her uncle G. B. Lever, in Altoona. The groom is a special chemist in the employ of the government at Washington. Immediately after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Reed left for Washington State where they will make their future home at Fairfield.

NELSON—WARD.—Frank W. Nelson and Miss Emma L. Ward, both of this place, were married at the United Evangelical parsonage in Corning, N. Y., at 9 o'clock on Wednesday evening of last week, by Rev. Paul Allen, D. D. This was the culmination of a little surprise they had planned which began on Tuesday evening when the would be groom boarded the train at this place and Miss Ward got on at Millsburg. The young couple returned on Friday morning.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a supper in the parsonage next Tuesday evening, April 3rd. It will not be an oyster supper or a chicken and waffle layout but all who will attend, and everybody is invited to do so, will be served with a most appetizing repast. There will be ham and eggs, veal loaf, baked beans, potatoes, and all such like. And the remarkable part of it all is that the whole thing will cost but twenty-five cents. Ice cream and cake are the only things for which you will have to pay extra. Don't forget the evening and don't forget to go.

—The illustrated lecture given by Mrs. Josephine Peck in Petriken hall, last Thursday evening, drew a fair-sized audience and proved most interesting to those present. $29.20 was the sum realized for the benefit of the hospital fund, which money was turned over to the ladies auxiliary by Col. J. L. Spangler. Mrs. Peck, the lecturer, very generously donated $10 to the fund from the amount she received for delivering the lecture, retaining only enough to defray her actual expenses.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Klinger, of Penn street, feel that they are worth considerable more this week than they were last because of the arrival of a bouncing big baby boy at their home. —The survivors of Company G 148th Pa. Vols., will hold a reunion at the home of D. W. Miller, near Pine Grove Mills, next Saturday. —A $500 Stief piano, rosewood case, can be bought for $75 cash from Rev.
