DEATH OF JOHN LAUTH.—Word was received here yesterday of the death, Wednesday night, of Mr. John N. Lauth, at Guadajara, Mexico, where he has been located for a number of years past as superintendent of a large iron works. The nature of the disease which caused his death is not known as yet. On Wednesday his wife, who lives at Howard, got a telegram announcing his serious illness which was followed by one yesterday morning announcing his death. The body will be brought to Howard for burial.

Deceased was a son of the late Bernard Lauth, who came to this country from Alsace, Germany, in 1831. The family came to Howard in 1871, where the elder Lauth rebuilt the iron works and did much toward the upbuilding of the town. John Lauth inherited many of the instincts of his father and has himself proved most successful in the iron business, taking charge of the plant at Guadajara when it was at a low ebb and building it up into a good paying business. His time was divided between looking after his interests in Mexico and at his home in Howard. He was aged about fifty years and is survived by his wife and the following brother and sisters: E. C. Lauth, of Philadelphia; Mrs. S. Comerford, of Howard; Mrs. W. G. Comerford, of Loretto; Mrs. D. P. Greth, of Reading; Mrs. William Wilhelm, of Buffalo, N. Y.; and Mrs. S. Cameron Barnside, of Philadelphia.

Beckwith, of Hannah, last Saturday, of a general decline. Deceased was aged 82 years, 8 months and 28 days. He is survived by a large family of children, all of whom are married and settled in their own homes. Interment was made in the Branch cemetery.

Her parents and two small brothers survive. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The latter with her aunt, Mrs. James Wilson, went to Hollidaysburg Tuesday morning to attend the funeral.

A SAD ACCIDENT.—William F. Heberling, one of the best known men in the western end of the county, met with an accident Wednesday morning which resulted in his untimely death in less than an hour afterwards. He was employed as track boss in the ore mines of Scotia and went to his work as usual Wednesday morning. He was working on the track and being hard of hearing did not notice the approach of the dinkey engine and train of cars which struck him breaking both legs and causing internal and other injuries which resulted in his death in forty minutes without him ever regaining consciousness. He was the oldest employee at the Scotia works, having started in there when the mines were first opened.

Deceased was born at Tadpole in 1843, thus being sixty-two years of age. He was a son of Joseph and Margaret Pyle Heberling. His mother is still living, though past eighty-eight years of age, while the following brothers and sisters also survive: John G. Heberling, of Pine Grove Mills; Joseph H., of Pennsylvania Furnace; James, of Mill Hill; Thomas and Samuel, of Tyrone; Mrs. Miles Harpster, of Pennsylvania Furnace; Mrs. Perry Gates, of Warriorsmark; and Miss Emma, of Tyrone. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Anna Gates, by whom he had three children; Mary, of Pittsburg; Stuart, of Tyrone; and Harold, of Clearfield. His second wife was Miss Rebecca Louck, who was the mother of two children, Misses Anna and Verna, who have kept house for their father since their mother's death about ten years ago.

Mr. Heberling was an old soldier, having served all through the war as a member of Company D, 148th Pa. Vols., and since the war has been one of the most energetic members of Capt. J. A. Campbell Post, No. 272, G. A. R. Though a laboring man all his life Mr. Heberling was highly respected by all who knew him. He was a staunch and life-long Democrat, one of the kind whose party fealty was next to his religion. No amount of persuasion could turn him from his party faith. As a man and neighbor he was one of the best the county produced. The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock and will be under the auspices of Capt. Campbell Post. Interment will be made at Gatesburg.

CORLE.—Alfred Corl died at his home near Fairbrook, last Friday morning, after a brief illness. He had been sick with the measles but almost recovered when pneumonia developed and death resulted in a few days. Deceased was a son of the late Benjamin Corl and was twenty-six years of age. Following in the footsteps of his father he was a farmer by occupation and at the time of his death occupied the Keichline farm in Ferguson township. He was a young man who stood high in the estimation of all who knew him. Honest, industrious and progressive, he was a man whose death would be deplored by any community.

About three years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Lizzie Witmer who survives with one son. He also leaves one brother, Milton Corl, and two sisters, Mrs. Amanda Zeigler, of DuBois, and Mrs. Philip Grenoble, of State College, as well as his step-mother and a half-sister, Mary Corl, at home. Hayes and has frequently visited at the Hayes home here as well as the family of F. Potts Green. They have been residents of Millburg for many years and only last week moved to Hazleton. Monday morning when the family got up Miss Barber said she did not feel well and would lie in bed a little longer. After breakfast her sister went to see how she was and found her cold in death. The remains were taken to Millburg where the funeral was held on Wednesday.

AFTER A FORTUNE IN ENGLAND.—Every now and again there comes to the front in some part of the country a family claiming to be heirs to a large fortune in one of the European countries. Most of these claims are mythical and not one in a thousand has even a flimsy foundation to stand on. One of the claimants who has been pursuing the elusive idol for a number of years past and who is still determined pushing the claim is Dwight Lawrence Bathurst, stamp clerk in the postoffice at Pueblo, Col. He is the son of Reuben Archibald Bathurst, of Bogs, township, this county, and a great, great grandson of Lawrence Bathurst, son of the Earl of Bathurst and heir to an estate in England, who came to this country in 1783. For one hundred and twenty-three years the Bathurst family and their descendants have lived in Centre county, the original home being in Bogs township.

For the past ten years Dwight L. Bathurst has been working up facts to establish his claim and right to the estate in England. Seven years ago he visited Bellefonte and Centre county members of the Bathurst family for the purpose of enlisting their aid in prosecuting the claim to the fortune. The claim has not been abandoned is proven by the fact that the western heirs of the family held a meeting at Bloomington, Ill., last Friday, when committees were appointed and preliminary arrangements made for sending Mr. Bathurst as a representative to England to institute legal proceedings for the recovery of the fortune. All heirs of the Bathurst family in Centre county or this part of the State who desire to co-operate with the western heirs can get in touch with them by writing to Dwight L. Bathurst, at Pueblo, Col.

A LOST OPPORTUNITY.—A few days ago a happy thought came into the mind of a gentleman in town who is interested in the Bellefonte hospital—and by the way that institution is crowded to the doors just now with patients. It has been customary for the policemen to confiscate all the whiskey found on drunks who are placed under arrest. In the ordinary course of affairs the whiskey thus secured is turned over to the Burgess, who probably destroys it—in just what manner he has never told us however.

Well, the gentleman with the happy thought conceived the idea that the hospital would be a good place to send the whiskey for there it would serve a mission of mercy in use for rubbing patients. He confided his suggestion to the police, who agreed that it would be a good scheme, but alas! for the poor hospital, bottles will be few and far between now that the court's ruling against selling liquor in bottles is in force.

Had the idea only evolved itself in some mind a few years ago there might have been enough whiskey in store at the hospital for years to come, but now, we fear, the opportunity is lost.

HANGED HIMSELF.—Nicholas Coufer, one of the largest and most prosperous farmers in Howard township, committed suicide, Wednesday, by hanging himself in the hay mow of his barn. He had not been in good health for months and of late had been so much out of his mind that arrangements were being made to take him to an asylum. It is believed that this fact drove him to the desperate act of taking his own life. Wednesday he was around as usual, though generally under the watchful eye of his wife. About the middle of the afternoon he was missed and a search being instituted his dead body was found in the hay mow dangling from the end of a rope. His rash deed had evidently been committed about 2 o'clock.

Deceased was a member of the well known Coufer family of Howard township and was about sixty years of age. He was twice married, his second wife surviving with several children by the first wife. At this writing no arrangements have been made for the funeral.

WILL WEAR CAPS AND GOWNS.—For some time past there has been a growing sentiment in the Senior class of the Bellefonte High school in favor of wearing caps and gowns at commencement time instead of the customary suits and dresses worn by members of former graduating classes. The cap and gown custom is a growing one all over the country, not only in colleges, but in High schools as well. The members of the Senior class of the Bellefonte High school discussed the subject from every point of view, secured not only the consent but the hearty co-operation of the faculty and on Monday evening appeared in a body before the school board and presented a petition requesting permission to wear the caps and gowns. After due consideration the request was granted and the forthcoming graduating class will be thus arrayed.

—Last week the WATCHMAN made mention of the fact that Mrs. Ross A. Williams and children had arrived in Bellefonte on a visit to her parents while her husband was overseeing the moving of their household goods from their late home in Minerva, Ohio, to Everett, Pa. Their oldest daughter, Maude, is married and lives at Baird, Ohio, and when the Williams' started for Pennsylvania they left their next eldest daughter, Miss Edna, with her sister, Sunday evening they got a telegram to come at once that Edna had been suddenly taken sick and was very low. Communication by long distance telephone, Monday morning, stated that she was no better and Mr. and Mrs. Williams left on the 1 o'clock train for Ohio.

—The Garman house is undergoing some decided repairs.

LARGE CONFIRMATION CLASS.—Rev. James H. Darlington, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese, will make an official visit to Bellefonte today and this evening in St. John's Episcopal church will administer the rites of confirmation to a class of eighteen prepared and presented by Rev. Edwin G. Richardson, of Baltimore, the pastor in charge since the resignation and removal of Rev. George Israel Browne to Harrisburg. This is one of the largest classes ever presented for confirmation in this church and includes the following: Messrs. Henry Richard Hill, Robert Francis Armstrong, John Mitchell Dale, Wilbur Harrison Baney, Lawrence Jones, Harry Edward Fatzinger, Oliver Witmer, Mrs. Mabel May Stickler and Misses Sarah Richard Hill, Virginia Dale, Marion Harvey Lingle, Rebecca Valentine, Caroline Bachman, Sarah Isabel Symmonds, Mary Blanche Cook, Sarah Bainbridge Graham, Mary Eleanor Ardel and Mary Eva Wyland.

—William T. Royer, who since retiring from office as deputy treasurer under Harrison Kline, has been an extra engineer on the C. R. R. of Pa. left Bellefonte on Wednesday for Belington, W. Va. He went down to look over the Coal and Coke R. R., over which Thad Longwell has lately been made train dispatcher, and if he likes it he will accept a position as an engineer. While we regret to lose Billy very much indeed we cannot but congratulate him on the change, which is equivalent to a very nice promotion. If he decides to remain in Belington he will probably move his family to that place some time during the summer.

—Miss Violet Longacre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Longacre, underwent an operation for appendicitis in the Hayes sanitarium on Tuesday. At this writing she is getting along quite well with every chance favorable for her speedy recovery. Miss Bernice Faxon, who was operated upon for the same trouble a couple weeks ago, is recovering so rapidly that she will soon be able to be moved home.

—Miss Emma Yeager, who had about recovered from her recent sickness, is again seriously ill.

WILL BE REORGANIZED.—The Pennsylvania Mining and Smelting company, composed principally of Centre and Clinton county stockholders, is now undergoing a process of reorganization which the officials believe will result in making it a paying investment. For some time past the zinc mines of the company located in the neighborhood of Joplin, Mo., were only partially operated or allowed to be idle, while none of the mines have been developed to the depth where it is believed the largest and best paying veins of ore are located. Obligations had accumulated against the company which had to be satisfied at once. With the consent of the majority of the stockholders a committee of the officials of the company went to Joplin a couple weeks ago with funds to meet the claims pressing there. They then advertised all the properties of the company, put them up at public sale and failing to get a satisfactory bid sold them to Harry Keller, of this place, as trustee for the stockholders. A charter was then secured under the laws of Missouri, the original charter having been taken out under the laws of Arizona. A plan has already been perfected for a reorganization of the company and raising a sum of money sufficient to meet all outstanding obligations as well as give ample working capital to go ahead and develop the properties, and it is with the hope that when this is accomplished such large and good paying veins of the ore will be found as to make all the stockholders a good return for the money invested.

ALL HOME AGAIN.—All the old soldiers who went to Vicksburg to be present at the dedication of the monument to Pennsylvania soldiers on March 24th have returned home, the most of them the latter part of last week and the balance of the contingent the beginning of this week. About fifteen members of the 45th regiment now residents of Centre county were present at the dedication but the entire list numbered thirty-nine, all of whom originally resided in this county. As it will doubtless be interesting for the old soldiers to know just whom of their comrades were present we append the list, as follows: Gen. John I. Curtin, Dr. Theodore S. Christ, surgeon; James A. Meyers, quartermaster.
