A SERMON ON CONTENTMENT.—From the Easton Sunday Call we take the following interesting sermon on contentment. Its application will be so patent to the reader that no further comment is necessary than to say the character portrayed is well known in all parts of Centre county where his fiddle has attracted attention to the various little catch-penny schemes he conducts at picnics.

A case of contentment under seemingly adverse circumstances came to the writer's attention lately in the little town of Howard, Centre county. During a few hours stop in that delightful place we found that our shoes needed mending and we asked for the village cobbler. We were directed to the shop of the only repairer of shoes in the town. We found him to be a man without feet, and learned that he had been born that way. His only means of locomotion was by crawling on his knees. That he was a poor man his appearance indicated and that it was necessary that he should work or be a public charge we learned from him while waiting for the work he did for us. His name is J. R. Boney, and any reader of 'The Sunday Call' who may visit Howard should see him as an exhibition of contentment under circumstances most people would consider especially lamentable. He is seventy-four years old and told us he had worked all his life. 'Fifty years ago' he said, 'people told me I should go on the township, but I never would, for I was able to earn my living. I was born in Snyder county, this State, and have done all kinds of farm work. I have built stone walls, split rails, worked in haying and harvest, and when a young man could hold my own with the best.' 'I don't suppose you have a family,' was our inquiry. 'Indeed I have,' replied Mr. Boney. 'I was married twice. With my first wife, who is dead, I had nine children, and with my second I have had two, the oldest now three years old and the baby came just four weeks ago.'

After Mr. Boney had finished the job we had for him he returned to a lot adjoining his shop, in which he was raising a crop of potatoes and hoe in hand got a d of the weeds as well as any man who could stand on feet. As an example of physical deprivation and actual contentment with his condition we think Mr. Boney is a rare character. While talking to this poor, crippled and hard-working man our copybook of long ago with 'Contentment is better than riches' came to our mind. We could not compare the condition of this old shoemaker working for his daily necessities with the worry of business, with the desire for more, and more, and still more, seen day after day in the lives of so many Eastonians. Who is most to be pitied, Mr. Boney, the contented Howard shoemaker, or those whom we meet daily in Easton who are the slaves of ambition, whose wants when gratified only spur them on to newer endeavors for still greater gains. If 'contentment is better than riches' why do we not seek to teach the truth, than to set before our youth the need to acquire wealth, so that pride of power may be gratified in men and of fashion in women. With no hope to change conditions, but only to illustrate an old adage have we told the story of J. R. Boney.

Unfortunately for the individuals and fortunately for the world, because it softens and makes the heart more sympathetic, we have countless cripples among us. Centre county has her full share and among the most afflicted, is this same Mr. Boney. But had the writer of the Call met our friend Will Truckenmiller then indeed would he have had thought for a beautiful dissertation. Afflicted almost to the point where hope would be lost in the ordinary soul this one embodies the highest type of manhood and he has struggled on bravely until he is now one of the well-to-do farmers of the great north west. And when we occasionally hear from him through these beautiful songs in verse and prose that he contributes to the WATCHMAN we wonder what he has to sing about until we realize that his soul is not crippled, and after all there is where true life is.

VIOLENT HAIL STORM.—With the hard rain of Sunday some portions of Centre county were visited with the most violent hail storm experienced in the past fifteen years. This was the case out about Pleasant Gap where hail stones fell as large as hulled walnuts. But according to supervisor C. M. Stoughton, of Lewisburg, the hail storm there was a record breaker. He is authority for the fact that hail as large as hen's eggs fell there. That his son gathered up enough of the stones to fill their refrigerator and that they had not melted when he left home on the Lewisburg train, Monday morning, to come to Bellefonte.

MRS. ELIZABETH EVANS REESE.

CELEBRATES HER NINETY-SIXTH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.—One of the most pleasant gatherings that has taken place in Centre county this year was that at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Evans Reese, widow of Christian Reese, on the plateau of Muncy mountain, in Patton township, yesterday, the occasion being the celebration of the ninety-sixth anniversary of her birth. The exact date for the celebration would have been on March 3rd, as that was her birthday, but at that time all the roads leading to her home on the mountain were drifted shut and it was impossible for anyone to come or go, so her neighbors and friends concluded to have the party at a more propitious time, and yesterday was the day selected.

And what a day it was, not only for Mrs. Reese, but for everybody who accepted the invitation and were present. In addition to a birthday party it was also somewhat of a family reunion, as a number of her children were home to participate in the day's festivities. Quite a large number of guests were present, including not only her neighbors on the mountain, but friends from Bald Eagle and Buffalo Run valleys and some from Bellefonte.

Of course the principal event of the day was the dinner, in the preparation of which Mrs. Bickett and Mrs. Hoover, daughters of Mrs. Reese, assisted materially. That the meal was thoroughly enjoyed by all present was fully demonstrated by the way everybody present went about satisfying their appetites. After dinner there were speeches by a number of the guests present and some delightful music by Miss Lizzie Hoover, a grand-daughter, and others.

Mrs. Reese is probably Centre county's oldest woman, being ninety-six years old on March 3rd, 1906. Her maiden name was Miss Elizabeth Evans and she was born in Ferguson township. She was united in marriage to Christian Reese, of Bald Eagle, and for the past fifty years has lived at her present home on Muncy mountain. Her husband died a number of years ago, but of their nine children seven survive, as follows: Dr. O. P. Reese, of Kyrletown; Aaron W., of Port Matilda; Joseph, of Williamsport; Mrs. Geo. W. Twitmore, of Wilmington, Del.; Mrs. A. H. Hoover, of Muncy mountain, and Mrs. Kate Bickett and Miss Emma Reese, at home. One remarkable fact about the children is that they were all, at one time or another, school teachers, and among the best in Centre county.

For her age Mrs. Reese is probably one of the best preserved women, both physically and mentally, in the county. Her health is good and her mind unusually active and acute. She is a great reader, not only of the Bible, but of the weekly and daily newspapers, in consequence of which she is unusually well informed and talks intelligently on any subject, discussing the current events of the day in a remarkable manner for one of her age. That she may live and enjoy her present good health to round out plenty more such happy birthday gatherings was the hope of everyone present at yesterday's gathering.

NESTER SIRGEY AGAIN IN JAIL.—Nester Sirgey is a Frenchman from Frenchville, Clearfield county, but is a man of somewhat migratory habits. Sometime ago, while on a trip through this county he stole some clothes from William Colpetzer, of Benner township. Three weeks ago he was arrested and brought here and jailed. Two weeks ago he settled the case and was released. Monday night of last week he stole a horse from William Miller, a farmer of Taylor township. The authorities at Philipsburg were notified and, surmising that the thief was Sirgey, they went on his trail with the result that he was arrested on Wednesday on the road to his home in Frenchville. He was brought back and in default of bail is again in jail for trial at the August court.

MCAUSLAND.—William H. McCausland died at his home in Philipsburg, last Thursday night. Almost three years ago he was stricken with paralysis which left him in a practically helpless condition so that he was confined to the house ever since. A couple weeks ago he suffered another stroke and from that time grew worse until his death.

Deceased was sixty-two years of age and was born in Chambersburg. He located in Philipsburg shortly after the close of the Civil war and with the exception of a couple years lived there ever since. For many years he was engaged in the jewelry business until through thrift and economy he acquired a competence sufficient to enable him to retire. Since that time it was largely through his enterprise that the Moshannon National bank and the Citizens' Water company were organized. He was a prominent Knight Templar and an Odd Fellow.

December 31st, 1868, he was married to Miss Laura B. Hoop, who died two and a half years ago. Surviving him are the following children: Mrs. A. Y. Cassanova, Washington, D. C.; Thomas G., Annie, Hervey, Charles, Mrs. Harry Scott, Pierol, John and Laura, of Philipsburg. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon.

MILLER.—Lena Minerva Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Miller, died at the home of her parents on Willowbank street, at 3:45 o'clock Wednesday morning, after eight months' illness with tuberculosis. She was nineteen years old last month and was born in Bellefonte. For several years she was employed in the Bellefonte shirt factory and when taken sick held the position of inspector. She was a young woman of most lovable disposition and character and her untimely death is cause for the deepest lament of all who knew her. Surviving her are her parents and the following brothers and sisters: John, William, Carrie, Marjorie and Claire. The funeral will be held this afternoon, interment to be in the Sunny-side cemetery.

LOWER.—Zachens Lower, one of the oldest and best known residents of Warriorsmark, died last Saturday evening of general debility, aged 79 years. He was born in Williamsburg, Blair county, but moved to Warriorsmark when but a boy, where he lived ever since. He is survived by his wife and eight children, one of whom is Mrs. Robert Stewart, of Pennsylvania Furnace. He was buried in the cemetery at Warriorsmark on Tuesday morning.

HARLEMAN.—John S. Harleman died at his home in Beech Creek on Saturday, aged 73 years. He had been ill for a long time with a complication of diseases, but was confined to his bed but a couple weeks prior to his death. He was the oldest of four brothers, all of whom served during the Civil war, one of which, James, of Lock Haven; and a sister, Mrs. John McGhee, of Beech Creek, survive. The funeral was held at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning.

RAYMOND.—Mrs. Lydia Raymond died at her home at Avis, last Wednesday, of a complication of diseases, aged seventy-six years. She was formerly a resident of Lock Haven. Surviving her are the following children: George, of Lock Haven; John, Bellefonte; William, of Virginia; Mrs. Rishel, Bellefonte; Mrs. Ferec, Avis; and Mrs. Dulid, of the German Settlement. The funeral was held on Friday, interment being made in the St. Agnes cemetery.

GILLILLAND.—Sterrett Gilliland died at his home in Redsville, Millin county, Wednesday after a brief illness, aged fifty-six years. He was born at Oak Hall, this county, and is well known throughout Pennsylvania. Surviving him are his wife, two brothers and two sisters. The funeral will occur today.

FLECK.—John E. Fleck, a well known dairyman living near Philipsburg, died on Wednesday morning after an illness of three years with diabetes. He was a native of Philipsburg and was forty-nine years of age. He is survived by his wife and ten children; also two brothers and two sisters, one of the latter being Mrs. James Schofield, of this place. The funeral will be held this afternoon.

Through agreements recently entered into between James R. Hughes and Philip Bezer and the estate of the late John Wagner the Bellefonte Academy will probably acquire all the property owned by the latter two interests fronting on Spring street and running back to the Academy grounds. Should this deal go through, and in all probability it will, the Academy will gain an improvement of inestimable value and enhancement to its surroundings.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—The following marriage licenses were issued the past week by Register Earle C. Taten. Theodore Platosh and Mary Chap, both of Bellefonte.

Geo. Elmer Stump, of Centre Hall, and Maude V. Wagner, of Potters Mills. Samuel V. Mulberger and Anna B. Tate, both of Bellefonte.

Oris G. Stull and Nora May Kunes, both of Blanchard. Peter Barbish and Lulu Cedah, both of Bellefonte.

William R. Winegarner, of Milroy, and Myra B. Goodhart, of Centre Hall.

Ivin Dreese, who several months ago moved with his family to Baltimore, expects to move back to Lemont in the near future, as they do not like the climate of Maryland. Mr. Dreese will retain his position with the commission house with which he is now engaged.

Samuel, the twenty year old son of John Ruhl, of near Tylersville, left his home Thursday of last week and has not been seen since, though diligent search has been made for him.

William From, formerly of Penns Valley, was killed by the cars just below Lewistown Junction, Wednesday of last week. One brother, Jacob From, of Centre Hall, survives.

Mrs. M. I. Gardner entertained Mrs. N. B. Spaugler's guests on a trip to Old Fort last Saturday, and that evening Mrs. James Clark entertained a party at her home.

The Williams Family Reunion.

Saturday, Sept. 1st, 1906, has been the date fixed for the annual reunion of the Williams families. J. Q. Miles' grove has again been selected as the place. This beautiful grove, with its surroundings and railroad facilities, is one of the most delightful spots in the county in which to spend a day, with such a happy crowd as this reunion brings from far and near. And from present indications this one will excel all previous ones, as expressed by the enthusiasm shown at the meeting on Saturday evening, June 10th.

It is hardly necessary to advertise this very extensively at this time, as it has grown to such an extent that people from all portions of the State look forward to this reunion with much pleasure, and we predict the largest and pleasantest gathering of all. You will hear from us later through the county papers, but we wish to say now that we expect to secure excursion rates, so that those expecting to take a day off will do well to wait and spend the day with us, where you are free from intoxicated persons, and no evil devices of any kind are tolerated on the grounds.

Below are given the names of the permanent officers as well as the various committees and it is urged that all work in harmony to add to its success.

President, J. R. Williams; vice president, A. S. Williams; secretary, Gordon A. Williams; assistant secretary, Miss Maggie Williams; corresponding secretary, O. D. Eberts; treasurer, W. A. Hartsock; historian, E. S. Williams; finance committee, J. Q. Miles, D. J. Glogery, O. D. Eberts; entertainment, G. G. Fink, Absedego Williams, W. S. Williams, John Williams, Misses Ida E. Williams and Lola Williams; transportation, D. J. Glogery, G. W. Bullock, J. Q. Miles; grounds, John Q. Miles; emblem, R. E. Hartsock, Miss Mattie Williams, Blaine Williams; resolutions, W. S. Williams, Rev. A. C. Lathrop. Please remember the date, September 1st, and bring your baskets and spend the day in social intercourse with us. We hope Clearfield, Clinton, Blair and Huntingdon county papers will make note of this. By order of committee. F. N. FINK.

Lemont.

Miss Hilda Berger, of Maryland, is visiting at the home of Dr. J. Y. Dale.

Frederick Decker has been on the sick list the last few days and is quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil, of Tyrone, are visiting a few days in and around town.

Mrs. M. E. Lytle, of Downs, Kansas, is visiting among friends in these parts.

Charles Thompson from Monday on will superintend Geo. B. Thompson & Co's mill.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday brought us heavy rains, and Sunday brought lots of hail.

Miss Helen Waite is staying at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bortorf, this week.

Woods Bathgate came down from Altoona Saturday, staying over Sunday and the family staying with his mother for a few weeks.

Mrs. John Lambert and children, of Bellefonte, visited at the home of Mrs. Sarah Eiders and Mrs. Julia Shney this last week and had a very pleasant time.

Rev. Goff's illustrated lecture was well attended last Thursday evening and all present were greatly benefited by both the talk and the pictures which were thrown on the canvas.

One evening last week as Miss Bunnell and Miss Getz were driving across the bridge west of town A. C. Mingle came down the hill with his automobile and the horses became frightened, turned around in the road and ran through the creek, back to town and down through town, but when they struck one of the posts of the bridge they shattered the front wheels of the wagon, and luckily for the girls they jumped from the rig and were not hurt.

The home of John Frazier was a scene of much merriment last Saturday evening, it being the celebration of the 21st birthday of Miss Carrie. She was enticed away from home and on her return after night found the house filled with over a hundred happy associates, many of them being Rebekahs of Centre Hall lodge. Refreshments were served full and plenty.

Last Tuesday was rather an exciting day at the Elmer Houtz home. Little Maude was kindling a fire for the cooking of the noonday meal and poured coal oil on the coals. The flames leaped in her face scorching it and burning her eye lashes and hair. Her mother came to her rescue just in time. A few hours later little Martha fell from a cherry tree breaking her right arm.

—When a hen known to be a prolific layer begins to produce eggs without shells it is quite time to stop her laying altogether for a period, which can easily be done by putting her on short diet. Let her have entire rest and then probably a cure will be effected. Give plenty of variety in food, taking care that the hen has a chance to run out daily.

Spring Mills.

We had quite a sprinkling of hail here on Sunday last.

Commercial agents stopping off here report business on the road as being dull and quiet.

The Methodists will have their Children's service next Sunday evening.

The rain storm on Saturday evening last interfered very materially with the Evangelical festival.

C. M. B. Huss, engaged in the Criterion theatre orchestra at Chicago, is here visiting his parents. Mr. Huss looks remarkably well.

The frost the fore part of the week did no particular damage here. Everything in the fields and gardens looks well and gives promise of a large yield.

The Republicans here don't seem very jubilant over their State ticket. Some of them, no doubt, see the hand writing on the wall and the avalanche to follow.

John Rossman, a student of Franklin and Marshall college, son of Merchant H. F. Rossman, is home on a vacation. At present he is assisting his father in the store.

Quite a number of our boardwalks are in a very dilapidated condition and should be repaired at once. On dark nights they are only traps for pedestrians to risk breaking an ankle or something worse.

Owing to rain the baseball game between Spring Mills and Millheim was postponed until next Saturday. The game will be played at Spring Mills. Both teams are on the war path and a lively game may be expected.

The locusts are not particularly numerous in this neighborhood, as yet, and we don't want them either. But no doubt we'll have our share before the summer is over. Their dismal song is frequently heard calling on Pharaoh for more feed and plenty of it.

The Children's service in the Lutheran church on Sunday morning last was a very delightful entertainment. The music and singing were particularly excellent. All the little folks did remarkably well. The decorations were beautiful, evidently the work of an artist.

A. L. Lingle's residence, a short distance below town on the road to Coburn, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday night last. The fire had gained such headway previous to discovery that the family, consisting of Mrs. Lingle, her mother, Mrs. Glass, and two children escaped with only their night clothes. Mr. Lingle being absent, nothing but a few articles from one of the lower rooms was saved. The fire originated in the summer kitchen. The house and contents were insured.

GOV. PENNYPACKER PRESIDED

Philadelphia, June 18.—In the same assembly room in Musical Fund Hall, where, on June 17, 1856, the Republican party opened its first national convention which named Fremont and Dayton as its presidential ticket, there gathered hundreds of Republicans from different sections of the country to commemorate the event. It was the opening meeting of the four days' celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Republican party, under the auspices of the National Republican league, which began its annual convention here.

The old hall, which has changed little since the first convention, was held within its walls, was crowded with enthusiastic Republicans, who cheered every time the name of any of the Republican presidents was named. Among those who participated in the exercises were 152 men who had voted for Fremont for president. They entered the hall in a body, and were assigned to seats in the front part of the auditorium. The appearance of the old men, some of whom could hardly walk, was the occasion of a long and enthusiastic applause. In the ranks of the 152 was a delegate who proposed the name of Abraham Lincoln for vice president, but as the Illinois man was not well known, the nomination went to Dayton.

The delegates from Texas, Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas to the convention attended in a body, and many other delegates were distributed about the hall.

While the meeting commemorated the beginning of the first convention, it was devoted largely to addresses in memory of Abraham Lincoln. Speaker Cannon, of the national house of representatives, and Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who were to make addresses, were unable to be present.

Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, presided, and introduced Rev. Edgar M. Levy, a Baptist clergyman of this city, who delivered the invocation at the opening of the convention, 50 years ago. He performed a like service, after which Governor Pennypacker delivered an address.

Historical papers were read by William Barnes, Sr., of New York, who displayed a flag which covered Lincoln's bier as his body lay in state at Albany; Dr. Robert Reyburn, Washington, who attended both Lincoln and Garfield, and Jacob Weand, of Beaver, Pa. Colonel A. K. McClure, of this city, delivered an address of "Abraham Lincoln," in which he reviewed the martyred president's life and the events of his time. The programme included numerous musical selections.

Ground to Pieces in Cement Mill. Easton, Pa., June 18.—Lloyd Butz, 18 years of age, fell into a mill at the plant of the Alpha Cement company, at Martin's Creek, and was ground to pieces. There was little left of the unfortunate young man when the machinery was stopped.

Baltimore Herald Suspends. Baltimore, June 18.—Sunday's issue of the Baltimore Herald announced the suspension of that paper. The plant of the establishment has been bought jointly by the Baltimore News and Baltimore American.
