WILL BE RESTORED TO RANK

Paris, July 13.—Alfred Dreyfus was completely acquitted of the charges on which he was condemned as a traitor, dismissed from the army and imprisoned on Devils Island, and regarding which France has been torn 12 years by the most bitter political and racial agitation.

His vindication is twofold, the supreme court first announcing its decision establishing the entire innocence of the accused man, and the ministry later deciding to present an urgent bill in parliament restoring Dreyfus to the army with advanced rank and otherwise giving the government's most ample reparation.

The decision of the court was a foregone conclusion, as exhaustive inquiries had completely demolished the fabric of the accusation against Dreyfus, showing that the real culprit was Major Count Esterhazy.

The decision therefore annulled the condemnation of the Rennes court martial and ordered that the acquitted be posted and published throughout France.

The decision of the court held that as all the accusations against the accused fell to the ground there is no necessity for a new trial, and consequently the judgment in condemnation is annulled as unwarranted by the evidence.

The ministers held a protracted special session at the Elysee Palace under President Fallieres, and determined on the government's course in carrying out the decision.

The text of two bills was formulated, which will be introduced in the chamber of deputies, concerning respectively Dreyfus and Colonel Picquart, with the object of restoring both to the ranks they would have held if they had continuously served in the army.

Dreyfus consequently will be nominated a major with eventual early promotion to a lieutenant colonelship. Picquart will immediately become a brigadier general.

Dreyfus' name also will be inscribed on the list for the Legion of Honor, but he will not be directly nominated to that distinction, though probably a decree placing him on the list will shortly appear.

DUEL OVER DREYFUS CASE

French Under Secretary of State Dangerously Wounded.

Paris, July 14.—The scene of tumultuous disorder which marked the enactment of the law restoring Alfred Dreyfus to the army was followed by a bloody duel, in which Under Secretary of State Sarraut was dangerously wounded by the sword of M. Pugliesi-Conti.

The duel assumed the aspect of a veritable combat between the government and the opposition, as M. Sarraut's seconds were Ministers Clemenceau and Thomson, while M. Pugliesi-Conti's were M. Millevoye and General Jaquet, who were drawn from the elements which bitterly resist the government's rehabilitation of Dreyfus.

Despite this sanguinary conflict, laws were finally enacted by the chamber of deputies reinstating Dreyfus, who obtains the rank of a chief of squadron of artillery, and Picquart, who is made a brigadier general.

Both houses were overwhelmingly favorable to Dreyfus and Picquart. Throughout the day feeling was stirred intensely between the Dreyfus and anti-Dreyfus elements.

This was heightened by fierce attacks by Dreyfusists against General Mercier and other prominent officers who were responsible for Dreyfus' condemnation.

Norfolk, Va., July 17.—The mayor of Franklin, Va., in a message to the chief of the fire department of Portsmouth, says the whole town is threatened by fire and has asked for assistance.

Society Woman Marries Riding Master

New York, July 16.—Mrs. Fanny Burke-Roche, of New York and Newport, has become the wife of Aurel Batonyi, the riding master and whip, and they are now in Europe.

Announcement of the marriage was made by Frank Work, father of Mrs. Burke-Roche at his home in this city.

Batonyi has been in the United States about 15 years. He is well known as a riding master, and has had among his pupils many well-known New Yorkers.

Mrs. Burke-Roche has always been a prominent figure in society here and in London. She secured a divorce from James Boothby Burke-Roche in 1896 at Wilmington, Del.

Book's Magazines.

The fact that a good thing is never wasted on the public is strikingly illustrated by the increasing popularity of "The Philadelphia Record."

True merit is always appreciated if backed by enterprise, whether it be in a cake of soap or in a newspaper. The spurious article, or the one that is not up to a competitive standard is soon left behind in the race for popular favor.

There are older newspapers than "The Record," and papers that have shot upward like skyrockets, with a flash of ephemeral brilliancy, only to come down again like charred sticks.

But "The Record" has advanced steadily and irresistibly year by year since 29 years ago it set the pace as a pioneer one cent paper of America.

Since then it has never retrograded; it has never even stood still, and to-day its circulation exceeds that of any other newspaper published in the State of Pennsylvania, with an influence that is felt all over the country.

Continued success is never accidental. It is possible to stumble into luck as one stumbles into a hornet's nest, with just about as much chance of winning out in the end. But luck has never entered into the success of "The Record."

That success has been due to a keen insight directed toward the public mind, an ability to see at a glance what the public wanted in the way of a newspaper, and then to supply that want.

"The Record" has never attempted to force down the public's throat a style of journalism that was inherently distasteful to it.

The management of "The Record" is to be congratulated on its adherence to these principles that have marked the paper's entire career, as well as upon the excellent business methods that have won the confidence and esteem of its great advertising patronage.
