THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

The Methodist Sunday school did not have a very delightful day for their picnic, Tuesday.

Squire Michael Hess has recovered from his recent illness and is able to be out and around again.

Don't forget to make your preparations so you can attend the business men's picnic next month.

One month of bass fishing is past and as yet no big catches have been reported by local fishermen.

Miss Louise Callaway entertained with two tables of bridge, on Wednesday evening, in honor of her guest, Miss Polk, of Baltimore.

Ambrose Sloteman, who has been ill with throat trouble for a number of weeks, has recovered sufficiently to be out and around again.

The American Lime and Stone company are erecting a plant to convert the screenings from the lime kilns and ashes into fertilizer.

The annual reunion of the Dale family, celebrating the 116th anniversary of their location in Centre county, will be held at Oak Hall on Saturday, August 4th.

While working to get one of the family lots in the cemetery in order, Mrs. William Dawson was severely poisoned with ivy and has been quite seriously ill for two weeks.

An Italian workman was caught beneath a fall of rocks at the Bellefonte furnace stone quarries, yesterday afternoon, and quite seriously injured. He was taken to the Bellefonte hospital.

There was a Slavish wedding celebrated at the Catholic church Tuesday morning, after which the bride and groom and their attendants went to the Mallory studio and had their pictures taken.

William P. Kuhn, who several months ago resigned his position in Lyon & Co's store and went to Williamsport to accept a similar job, has returned to Bellefonte and taken his old place as clerk with Lyon & Co.

At the annual meeting of the Country club, last Saturday afternoon, all the old officers were re-elected with the exception that R. B. Freeman, of Tyrone, was elected vice president instead of Dr. J. M. Brockerhoff.

On Sunday subscriptions to the amount of $3,695 were made by members of the Reformed church for the building of a chapel in the rear of the church, on Spring street. The building is to be completed this summer.

The final chapter in the famous Green and Dillen case was closed on Tuesday when the County Commissioners paid the six hundred dollars reward offered for the capture of the men to A. O. Harvey and others, of Mill Hall, the men who first secured the prisoners.

Holy communion services were held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning and thirty new members were taken in, twenty-three on confession of faith and seven on certificate from other churches. Since the last communion in April three members have died and six dismissed by letter to other churches.

While painting the exterior of a house in the Beaver and Hoy row, yesterday morning, Win Loose and George Tobias were thrown from the platform on which they were standing by a ladder slipping. Tobias had some of the ligaments in his arm torn and was cut and bruised but neither man had any bones broken.

The painters and paper hangers have started to work on the interior of the third story of Col. J. L. Spangler's house. The building has been so entirely remodeled throughout that the new will bear very little resemblance to the old and, with the addition which has been built to the rear, it will be very much more commodious, modern and convenient.

An item was published in the WATCHMAN last week giving the date of the forthcoming I. O. O. F. reunion at Genage park as Friday, August 17th. Owing to the business men's picnic being set for August 16th, the date of the Odd Fellows reunion has been changed to one week earlier, or Friday, August 10th. All members of the order will mark this change.

At the request of the fire companies the Ladies Auxiliary of the Bellefonte hospital has decided to change the time for the holding of their "Midway" in the armory to the week that the firemen's district convention will be held here, which will be August 20th to 25th. This will be an additional attraction for the firemen and also be a better time for the "Midway."

Camping out is now the order of the day. For the past three weeks fishing creek has been the mecca for stag parties, especially those more or less inclined to trout fishing, while the Mason's camp down Bald Eagle is regularly occupied by some member and his family. Last week Ed. Eckenroth and family occupied the Willows and this week D. J. Kelly and family are rustling there, while Miss Elizabeth Blanchard has a party of ladies at the "House of Lords," on Nittany mountain.

GYPSY ELOPERS CAUGHT AND MAN HELD FOR TRIAL.—Lewis Lovell, the gypsy, now languishes in the Bellefonte jail to await trial at the August term of court for eloping with his dusky cousin, Canachan Lovell, the nineteen year old daughter of I. Sears Lovell. Details of the elopement were given in last week's WATCHMAN, at which time this paper exclusively stated that the pair had passed through Mill Hall and were in the Susquehanna valley somewhere.

Saturday last the pair were seen in the vicinity of Hepburnville, in Lycoming county, and the father of the girl notified. Accompanied by another member of the tribe and policeman William Bezer the father went to Hepburnville the same afternoon, only to learn that the elopers had not been apprehended but had been permitted to go their way unmolested. Bezer returned home but Lovell remained in that neighborhood. On Sunday the pair were traced and captured by David Harer and George Slangenwhite, who had seen the offer of $100 reward for their capture. They were caught in the narrows near Larryville, after the two men had followed their tracks in the dusty road for a distance of ten miles. They were taken to Harer's home in Larryville where they were kept prisoners until Monday morning when chief of police Green, of Jersey Shore, was notified who, accompanied by the girl's father, went after the pair.

The latter had worked himself into quite a passion when they reached the Harer home, and drawing a big knife, made for young Lovell in a way that sent the headstrong wooer on his knees in the road to beg forgiveness. Policeman Green interfered and told the elder Lovell to put up his knife; that if there was any killing to be done he would do it. The girl, however, was made out of braver stuff than her married lover, as she declared to her father that "there was no use of making a fuss; that she was going to have him and would lose the last drop of blood in her body to stay with him." But the young man's fear, the girl's bravery nor the elder Lovell's ire could not stay the machinery of the law once it had been set in motion and the result was that on Tuesday morning the pair were brought back to Bellefonte, the man taken to jail and the girl turned over to the custody of her parents and, it is alleged, was well chastised for her mad escapade.

Thursday morning Lewis Lovell was given a hearing before justice of the peace John M. Keichline. The father of the girl testified to the two going away together and being away for a week before being caught and brought back; Mrs. Lewis Lovell, the wife of the eloper, testified that they had been married in Gettysburg over two years ago and in proof thereof produced the marriage certificate. The prisoner himself was then given an opportunity to tell his story. He admitted he was married but claimed that he had not the life of a dog living with his wife; that he loved and had the greatest respect for his cousin and that he went away with her so that both would be happier. He denied that he had any intention of marrying her, saying that they were making for some big city in New York State where he was going to get work and have her to keep house for him. When asked how they got away without being caught he said they traveled Bald Eagle mountain as far as Look Haven and kept to the woods as much as possible.

After hearing the evidence Justice Keichline remanded him to jail for trial, without bail. When the officers started to take Lovell to jail there was a demonstration unlooked for. His three sisters clung to his neck, crying and kissing him, and this was too much for his wife, who also kissed him good bye and herself began to cry. When they started up the hill the women followed and appealed to the men to rescue Lovell from the officers of the law, but they made no move to do so. Through it all Canachan Lovell was possibly the most composed as far as noticeable and was taken back to camp by her father.

The elopement of the cousins is the sequel to an old love tale of four year's standing, begun when the girl was but fifteen years of age. Two years or more ago the gypsy tribe separated, I. Sears Lovell and party traveling west and the party of which Lewis Lovell was a member going east. Separated from his cousin Lewis Lovell met and married the woman who is now his wife. The tribe was united in Cumberland, Md., last May and since have been traveling together north through Pennsylvania until they reached this place. In the meantime the old love flame was re-kindled and the elopement of two weeks ago followed as the sequence. An effort has already been made to settle the affair but whether they will be able to do so or not, is not known.

COUNCIL MEETING.—It was a brief session of council held on Monday evening. Not one of the standing committees had anything of importance to report. About the only thing done was to pass resolutions requesting the Bellefonte Electric company to present a bid for the street lighting within the next thirty days, inasmuch as the present contract expires January 1st, 1907.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Includes W. T. Kelly, Index Book Store, A. Baum, Potter-Hoy Hardware Co., Bellefonte Gas Co., Police pay roll, Street pay roll, Pennsylvania R. R., Potter-Hoy Co., Adams Express Co., W. F. Reynolds, Consolidated Oil Co., Crosby & Co.

—Just to be in line Wednesday added its hard rain storm to Monday and Tuesday's record.

—The schools of South Philipsburg have adopted the Brumbaugh readers for the ensuing term.

—H. L. Finkelstine has secured V. J. Bauer to take charge of his five and ten cent store in this place.

—Camp Constans was formally opened by the Masons with a chicken and waffle supper on Tuesday evening.

—The Haupt brothers are building the new Presbyterian parsonage at State College with their patent concrete blocks.

—E. B. Vensel, who was sick in bed last week with a slight attack of appendicitis, has recovered and is around as usual.

—County Commissioner C. A. Weaver has what can be termed a household of trouble—his children all have the whooping cough.

—The huckleberry season is now at its height and hundreds of gatherers are daily roving the mountains in quest of this luscious fruit.

—Home grown potatoes are now in market and the indications are that the crop will be a good one and the tubers low in price.

—While building a load of hay on the Henderson farm on Buffalo Run, on Monday, John Henderson fell off and fractured his collar bone.

—The Haupt brothers have the contract for putting down all the concrete paving around the Spangler residence on Allegheny street.

—W. H. Kochler, dentist, of Bellefonte, will be home from his vacation on July 28th, located in the Harris building, west High street.

—The wet weather of this week interfered somewhat with the harvesters, otherwise the farmers would have had their grain all out and housed.

—The Potter-Hoy Hardware company this week had a three inch water pipe laid from the High street main down Water street, as a feed pipe for their freight elevator.

—During Monday's big storm the rain blew in through the slats in the cupola of the court house and ran down through the new steel ceiling in a stream, while Judge Telford, of Indiana county, was engaged in holding argument court.

—Mrs. Clark, matron at the Brockerhoff house, who was injured in a runaway several weeks ago, has progressed so far toward recovery that she is able to be up and around a little, though she is still some ways from an entirely well woman.

—General Frank Fisher, of Philadelphia, well known in Centre county, will lecture in Reformed church, Boalsburg, on Friday evening, July 20th. Subject "My escape from Libby Prison." No admission will be charged but a collection will be taken for the benefit of the church.

—Thomas W. Fisher, who recently underwent a very serious operation in a Philadelphia hospital, has been brought home and is now at the home of N. B. Spangler, in this place, where he is under the care of a male nurse. His condition is not as hopeful as his friends could wish for.

—Samuel Rubl, the demented son of John Rubl, of Tyroneville, who wandered away from home on May 21st, has been found at Corry where he went to a farmer's home, said he was tired and wanted to go home. Fortunately he was able to tell whom his parents were and give their address and they were at once notified.

—L. C. Bullock has leased the old chain works and opened up a carriage factory and novelty manufacturing works there. Lew is a good workman and believes he has such a good thing in some of his inventions that he will make a fortune by and by. If not, he can always make a living as well as extra money at building wagons, etc.

—Some of our exchanges are already giving the result of the trout fishing season which they say closed on the 15th, or more properly last Saturday evening, inasmuch as the 15th was Sunday. In this they are wrong, as the open season for trout does not close until the last day of July, so that the fishermen have just eleven days more in which to fish, or rather nine days counting out the Sundays.

—Sunday evening was a great evening for polecats in Bellefonte. The real genuine, full-scented polecat, and that they were of the fastidious kind was proven by the fact that they made Linn street their stamping ground. One of the varments was chased out of Burns Crider's yard and another scamped about Gamble's lawn, while an old skunk with seven young ones took refuge in Henry Quigley's cellar. They were all finally frightened away without doing any damage.

—Are you reserving Saturday, September 1st, to attend the Williams family annual reunion in the John Q. Miles grove, in Huston township? This will be a gathering you will not want to miss. It is perhaps one of the most largely attended of any family reunion held in Centre county. Hon. Henry Houck, deputy State superintendent of public schools, has promised to be present and make an address. Other brief talks will be by John Q. Miles and members of the Williams family.

DIED QUITE SUDDENLY.—The death of Mrs. Clarissa Kerns, wife of Samuel Kerns, of east Curtin street, last Friday evening, was as sudden as it was unexpected and necessarily a great blow to her family and friends. She was in apparently excellent health and was planning and making preparations to attend the Evangelical Sunday school picnic next Wednesday. Toward the latter part of the afternoon she went over to Howard Stover's on east Lamb street, to discuss the approaching picnic with Mrs. Stover. About five o'clock she was taken suddenly ill and rapidly sank into a state of unconsciousness. Her husband and son Harry were sent for and two physicians summoned but although everything possible was done she never regained consciousness and died about 9 o'clock that evening.

Deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garbrick and was born near Bellefonte sixty-one years ago. She was a woman much admired and esteemed by all who knew her. She is survived by her husband, one son, Harry, and two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Meyer, of Millheim, and Jeannette, at home; also three brothers, G. W., of State College; Mitchell and Joseph, of Bellefonte. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon. The services were in the Evangelical church after which interment was made in the Union cemetery.

KUNES.—J. C. Kunes died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Isaac Fisher, of Mill Hall, last Saturday afternoon, of paralysis and other complications, after an illness of several weeks, aged sixty-five years. He was a native of Centre county, having been born near Eagleville, where he lived all his life until last spring when he went to Mill Hall and made his home with his daughter. He was a man highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was a veteran of the Civil war, having served all through that struggle in companies A and D of the 49th Penna. Vols. under Captains Quigley and Green, having fought in the ever memorable battles of Bull Run, Antietam and Gettysburg.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Isaac Fisher, of Mill Hall, and one son, Ward W., of Johnsonburg; also by two brothers, William and James, of Blanchard, and one sister, Mrs. Annabel Campbell, of Milesburg. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon. Rev. G. Stanley West officiated at the services after which the remains were taken to Eagleville for interment.

BICKELL.—A recent death was that of William H. Bickell, of Beech Creek township, Clinton county, who died of Bright's disease after an illness of but four weeks, aged 66 years. He was a farmer by occupation and a most progressive citizen. In politics he was a Democrat of the Jeffersonian type. He was a man of the highest integrity and scrupulously honest in all his dealings. As an illustration of his methodical ways we can say that for years he was a subscriber of the WATCHMAN, and as regular as the day itself he came to Bellefonte on the first of April, on the train arriving here at 4.44, and paid for his paper a year in advance.

Surviving him are his widow, two sons, Charles, of Mill Hall, and Joseph, of South Fork; and the following daughters: Mrs. George Berry, of Nittany valley; Mrs. Emery Laubach, of Bald Eagle; Mrs. Yearick, Woodland; Mrs. Clayton Carris, Madisonburg, and Miss Orpha, at home.

GUYER.—Frank Guyer, one of the best known employees of the Pennsylvania railroad in this section of the State, died at his home in Tyrone, Monday evening, of paralysis, with which he was stricken Wednesday of last week. Deceased was a son of Caleb and Susan Guyer and was born near Warriorsmark fifty-six years ago. For almost thirty years he was freight agent at the Tyrone station until less than six months ago when he was transferred to Houtzdale and made station agent at that place. He is survived by his second wife and three children.

LUCAS.—Miss Ellen Lucas died at the home of her nephews on Halfmoon hill, Saturday evening, of Bright's disease, after an illness of two months, in which time she had been a great though patient sufferer. She was 62 years, 3 months and 6 days old, and is survived by one niece, Mrs. Willis Williams, and two nephews, William F. and Charles W. Lucas, all of Bellefonte. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning, Rev. William Laurie, D. D., officiating at the services, after which interment was made in the Union cemetery.

ICKOFF.—Mrs. Roland G. Ickoff died at her home in this place on Wednesday night after an illness of more than four years. She was 60 years old and was born in Bellefonte, her maiden name being Sarah Stratton. Surviving her are her husband and four children, Roland, Jennie, Annie and Elizabeth. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock, interment to be made in the Union cemetery.

A week ago last Friday evening while Hon. and Mrs. J. H. Osmer, of Franklin, Pa., were out driving, their buggy collided with a hook and ladder truck on its way to a fire. Mr. and Mrs. Osmer were thrown out and seriously hurt. They have a number of relatives in this place who hope their injuries will not prove as serious as first reported.

HOSTERMAN'S SUCCESSOR ELECTED.—At a meeting of the Bellefonte school board, last Thursday evening, James Edwin Downing, son of the Rev. H. T. Downing, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Osceola Mills, was elected assistant principal of the Bellefonte High school to succeed John S. Hosterman, resigned to accept the principalship of the Philipsburg schools. There were two candidates for the vacancy, Mr. Downing and Francis E. Pray, who last year taught the grammar school in the stone building.

—Rev. Herbert Hezlep, pastor of the Market Street Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, was in Bellefonte several days this week, the guest of Rev. J. Allison Platts.

—Mrs. Ed Garman is now visiting in Patton where she hopes the altitude will permanently cure her of insomnia, from which she has been suffering for some time.

—Mrs. David Barlett, who has been in Altoona visiting her daughter Mrs. Lillidahl, returned home Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Lillidahl and her three children.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Seymour with their two daughters, Ruth and Louise, of New York, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Noonan, at the Grant house the past week.

—Mrs. W. L. Daggett returned last Saturday from an extended sojourn at Atlantic City, and her friends will be glad to know that her health is considerably improved.

—Miss Romie VanPelt, of Centre Hall, is visiting Bellefonte friends. Her brother John VanPelt, of Spangler, was here the forepart of the week, but left for his home Wednesday afternoon.

—Mr. A. G. Hugg, of the Farmer's hotel, Philipsburg, who is more favorably known by all the farmers throughout the upper end of the county who have business in that town, was a Bellefonte visitor on Saturday last.

—John D. Meyer, superintending principal of the Bellefonte schools, who is spending his vacation at his home in Centre Hall, came over to Bellefonte on Wednesday and will spend several days at the Mason's camp, down Bald Eagle.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Houtz, of Lemont, spent Wednesday in Bellefonte. Mr. Houtz is one of those men always a little ahead for his grain was all in before the storms of this week could hurt it and with his newspaper career for another year he is certainly well fixed to enjoy life.

—Among those who went to Atlantic City yesterday morning to enjoy the gayeties of the Board walk were Mrs. S. H. Williams, Mrs. Satterfield, Miss Hester McGinley, Mrs. Louise Harris, Miss Linnie Benner, George Garbrick, Ogden Mall and Orris Keller, who is going down to join his father.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. Willard Hall are in New York city this week members of a party enjoying a five day's free trip at the expense of the Edison Phonograph Manufacturing company. The entertainment will include a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria, a trip up the Hudson and a couple theatre parties.

—Mr. Robert Hayes, of Freeport, Illinois, has been visiting his brother, Dr. Thomas Hayes and also spent a few days at his old home in Union county. When you meet an Eastern man in the West he always pretends to have longings for back East but you notice that when he gets there he is usually satisfied to make the stay very brief and hurries back to his Western diversions. Mr. Hayes was, however, loyal enough to send his son East to be educated and Leland, better known as "Teck" was one of the best known athletes at State. That this is not his only strength he has well proven since leaving college as he has, as mining engineer, been very successful both in his work in Central America and Idaho where he now is.

HARDEST RAIN STORM IN YEARS.—

The hardest thunder and rain storm that has been witnessed here in years passed over Bellefonte Monday afternoon. It came up quite suddenly and began at just 4:30 o'clock and from that time until five o'clock the rain descended in torrents. In fact, the downpour was so terrific that many were disposed to believe it a cloudburst. The rain was accompanied with the severest thunder and lightning heard and seen here this season, though so far as can be learned the latter did no damage aside from burning out telephones, etc.

The storm was purely local in character, extending from the vicinity of Pleasant Gap to Bald Eagle valley. In Bellefonte the effects of it were perhaps more noticeable than anywhere else. Every street in the town resembled a small river, the consequence of which was that some of them were badly washed while portions of the gutters on High street were washed out. Bishop street was badly washed, at one place the foundation being washed away from under a heavy flagstone pavement. The water from the street ran into the Brant house bar room to a depth of eighteen inches. The Daily News press room had a foot or more of water in it, while scores of cellars of private houses were flooded.

Spring creek raised two feet and fences and lumber were washed away. Even the big spring was cloudy, but this was from surface water washing into it and not through the regular source of supply. But the fact caused considerable comment as most everybody expressed themselves as to its being the first time they had ever seen the water in the spring anyways clouded.

The Bellefonte Central railroad was considerably damaged from Waddle down to Coleville. The roadbed was washed out, ties washed away, one small bridge gone and stones weighing a quarter of a ton and all kinds of debris piled on the track. The train from State College due here at 6.30 p. m. did not get through at all, but by transferring and hauling them part of the way on Superintendent Thomas' motor car the passengers were landed here a little after 10 o'clock that night. It rained hard again on Tuesday but the downpour was not nearly so great as that of Monday afternoon.

A THRILLING RESCUE.—

A brave and thrilling rescue of a small boy from drowning was witnessed in this place Monday evening. It was just after the big rain storm that a number of small boys, among them Gilbert Sheekler, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sheekler, were playing on the foot bridge that crosses back of the big spring to the Phoenix planing mill. In some way the Sheekler boy lost his balance and fell into the water, which at that place is from three to four feet deep. Not a man was in sight but the boy's playmates screamed for help and shouted that Gilbert had fallen into the creek.

Young Mac, Waite, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Waite, was crossing the trestle of the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad when he heard the boys' cry and his first thought was that it was his own little brother Gilbert. Quick as a flash he started on a run over the trestle, past the Phoenix planing mill and across the green to the creek. When within twenty-five feet of the bank he saw the boy sink for the second time and throwing off his coat as he ran he jumped as far as he could into the creek then hastily swam to where the boy was and grabbed him as he came to the surface. In less than a minute he had the lad safely on shore and in his mother's arms. The child was speedily resuscitated and is none the worse for his accident. After the rescue young Waite went unconcernedly home and changed his wet clothing for dry.

H. L. Rooney and I. F. Kennedy, of Philadelphia, came to Bellefonte on Wednesday and have opened up a life insurance office on the third floor of Temple Court.
