

BANK TELLER SHORT

Rec'd First National Bank of Birmingham, Ala., of $97,000. Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 14.—Officials of the First National Bank announced that Alexander R. Chisolm, paying teller of that bank, is $97,000 short in his accounts. As Chisolm was bonded for $30,000 the loss to the bank will be reduced to $64,000.

The discovery of the shortage was made while Chisolm was off on his vacation. When he returned from Atlantic City and was taken before the directors of the bank he broke down and confessed his shortage, naming as his accomplices certain brokers in whose places he lost the money, it was alleged, speculating in cotton. Chisolm, when arrested, had $3000 in cash, which he delivered to the bank authorities. Chisolm is under 30 years of age. He is a son of Colonel Robert Chisolm, special attorney for the United States government. His family is one of the most prominent in the south.

The defalcation will not affect the bank, which has a capital of $1,000,000, a surplus of $400,000 and undivided profits of $75,000. The entire loss has already been charged off to profit and loss. W. L. Sims and C. M. Hays, well-known brokers, were arrested on warrants sworn out by W. P. G. Harding, president of the bank, charging them with aiding and abetting the embezzlement of national bank funds. It is stated a third broker will also be arrested. A warrant has also been sworn out for Chisolm charging him with embezzlement.

"JOHN OLIVER HOBBS" DEAD

Noted Authoress Dies Suddenly of Heart Disease.

London, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Pearl Mary Teresa Craigie (John Oliver Hobbs), the authoress and dramatist, died in her sleep some time during the night of heart failure. Her death was totally unexpected, she having been apparently perfectly well when she retired. Mrs. Craigie had been spending a fortnight at her home, Steep Hill castle, Ventnor, Isle of Wight, which she left Sunday afternoon to keep an engagement in London. She was 39 years of age.

Mrs. Craigie was a native of Boston, Mass., her father being John Morgan Richards. She was married when 15 years of age to Reginald Walpole Craigie, by whom she had one son, now 12 years old. Her interest in the land of her birth continued throughout her life, and she made several visits to the United States after her marriage, the last time being in November of last year, when she lectured on literary subjects.

SCOLDING CAUSED SUICIDE

Girl Kills Herself Because Father Objected to Her Keeping Company. Scranton, Pa., Aug. 13.—Susie Gallia, aged 16 years, of Throop, near this city, committed suicide because her father scolded her for keeping company with a young man of whom he did not approve.

The young man had been seen around the house, but kept at a discreet distance, knowing that the father of the girl had an aversion for him. The father, however, saw the two together and went for the girl, compelling her to go home with him. The girl was mortified by the action of her father in reproving her in the presence of her sweetheart, and was beside herself with rage when her father continued the lecture in the house. Walking into a rear yard, she drew a revolver and immediately shot herself in the head, dying three-quarters of an hour afterwards.

WILL DISMISS TELEGRAPHERS

Lackawanna Railroad to Control Train by Signal System and Telephone. Scranton, Pa., Aug. 11.—Official announcement was made here that the Lackawanna railroad will, at an early date, dispense with the services of telegraphers on its system and will control the movement of trains with the automatic block signal system and the additional telephone facilities. The change will affect the entire line from Hoboken to Buffalo as well as all the branches. This will be the first railroad in America to make such a sweeping change. Trains will then be controlled under rules practiced in England, where dispatchers are unknown.

DOWN TO DEATH IN GRAIN CHUTE

Little Boy Buried in Mass of Wheat in an Elevator. Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 13.—Rutter Lehman, 9 years old, was smothered to death in a grain bin in Herman's warehouse, at Gordonville, of which his father is manager. Young Lehman and a companion were watching the shipping of grain, and the boy either jumped or fell into the moving mass and was quickly buried from sight.

His companion gave the alarm, but in his excitement the warehouse men could not understand what was wrong. It required an hour's work to reach the boy with shovels, and he was then dead.

Girl Accused of Passing Forged Checks. Harrisburg, Aug. 14.—Beattie Phillips, of Reading, was arrested here on a charge of passing forged checks at Pottstown on August 1, and taken to Pottstown for a hearing. The girl insisted that she was not the person wanted, and that she had never forged a check.

Wealthy Farmer Killed By His Wife. Toronto, Kan., Aug. 14.—John Donahue, a wealthy farmer, was shot and killed at his home near Coysville by his wife, whom he had attacked with a butcher knife. Donahue was 70 years old. Mrs. Donahue has not yet been arrested.

CAN'T BE REMOVED BY LAW

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 13.—Secretary of the Navy Charles J. Bonaparte delivered an address at the Allegheny Chautauque, near Cumberland, before a large gathering, his subject being "Anarchism and Its Remedy." He was introduced by Congressman George A. Pearre, of Maryland, and said in part:

In September, 1901, when the American people heard that their president was an assassin's victim, there mingled with the universal amazement, grief and indignation a feeling of peculiar horror aroused by the apparent absence of any provocation or even intelligible motive for the crime. Lincoln was slain when a whole people, exasperated by four bloody years of civil war, were desperate in the certainty of hopeless and overwhelming defeat inflicted, most of all, by him that a wicked and reckless man should have conceived and carried out, at such a moment, a scheme for his murder, however deplorable, was not, after all, surprising. The wretch who murdered Garfield combined such intellectual frailty with such moral depravity as to seem rather a hideous lusus naturae than a fair type of any class of men. But Czolgosz was at once recognized to be probably no worse than some thousands of men and women in our midst, and many more scattered throughout the civilized world, men and women who accept the name and share the opinions he avowed. So far as could be seen, his reasons for killing President McKinley would lead any one of them to kill President Roosevelt, should opportunity offer, and, with this practical application of their theories, their existence became a source of real peril, not only to presidents, but to all public officers and to all eminent men. And, to the alarm they caused, there was added a hearty and practically universal detestation for their doctrines, their language and their lives.

Anarchism is the product of two conditions which prevail to a greater or less extent everywhere among the less enlightened classes of modern civilized society, namely, the decay of religious faith and a measure of superficial and therefore, unsound, popular education. So much for the evil; how can it be cured? If we mean cured in a day, a month, a year, a decade, I answer unhesitatingly—not at all. Anarchism will not be removed within a given time, or through a special measure or set of measures; perhaps it will not be wholly removed in any time or by any means. It is the product of causes which cannot be eradicated by legislation, however drastic, of causes which lie deep in the scheme of modern civilization. But because I have no panacea to recommend, I must not be supposed that I would have nothing done. I believe that anarchism has already been made less and can be made much less dangerous and harmful by being dealt with seriously and rationally. In other words, I would see ourselves and our public servants in earnest and willing to be guided by common sense and experience in recommending a remedy, without regard to the little doctrinaire prejudice and a little pseudo humanitarian claptrap.

In the first place, the unlawful acts prompted by anarchism should be made crimes, in so far as they are not strictly speaking, crimes already, and, as crimes, they should be visited with such penalties as are particularly distasteful to the criminals, and therefore the most effective deterrents to crime.

On anarchists the death penalty should be unequivocally imposed by law and inflexibly executed whenever it is demanded, in so far as they are not strictly speaking, crimes already, and, as crimes, they should be visited with such penalties as are particularly distasteful to the criminals, and therefore the most effective deterrents to crime.

The final and most truly vital condition of success in ridding our country of anarchism in practice is that American public opinion should recognize the utter harmlessness, the inherent folly of its theory and of all the kindred ready-made, furnished-while-you-wait schemes for the social regeneration of mankind. Civilized society as it exists today, if it be nothing more, is the outcome of all the strivings for justice and happiness of the human race during thousands of years. What monstrous presumption, what preposterous conceit for any man, were he the wisest most learned, the most justly famed of his own age or of all ages, to imagine that, with but the dim, flickering lights of his own dull, feeble mind, with but the few imperfect lessons of his own short, ill-spent life to guide his hand, he could cast down and build up again this incredibly vast this infinitely complex fabric and improve on its structure.

WAS RESTRAINED BY FORCE

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Miss Asi L. Esac, who is summering in Oyster Bay for the purpose of interviewing the President or Mrs. Roosevelt, on what she declares is "a matter of life and death," created a scene during the service in Christ Episcopal church. Miss Esac, or Miss Case, as her name is supposed to be, has attended every church service the president has since his arrival here in July. She has climbed Sagamore Hill on foot several times, only to be turned away by the secret service men. She presented herself early at the church and took a seat directly behind the pew usually occupied by the Roosevelt family. When Usher James Duffy requested her to relinquish this seat she refused. Duffy forcibly removed her to the rear of the church, and Miss Esac says he tore her gown in so doing. For this act she later applied for a warrant for Duffy, but was refused.

In the rear of the church Miss Esac refused to sit down. A secret service agent stood beside her, and during the service she made no less than a dozen attempts to get past him. As the president was leaving the church three secret service men surrounded Miss Esac, but she shouted:

"Mr. President, Mr. President, President Roosevelt, won't you speak to me a moment?"

The president turned his head as he passed, but did not pause. Miss Esac says her watch chain was broken in this scrimmage with the secret service men and her watch fell to the floor.

The president was accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt and Quentin and Representative and Mrs. Longworth. Miss Esac has stated to acquaintances she has made while here that she was to have been married in the White House at the time Miss Alice Roosevelt became Mrs. Longworth; that she was to have married a high government official, and that it was this wrong she seeks to redress. When the president's carriage had departed Miss Esac was allowed to go. It was then she sought a warrant for Duffy. She says she will stay in Oyster Bay until she accomplishes her purpose.

Only a Mask.

Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."
