THE MURDERERS SURROUNDED

Punkstutawney, Pa., Sept. 3.—Two members of the state constabulary dead, one dying and two others wounded is the result of a riot with Italians at Florence, seven miles from here. One of the Italians is dead, another is slightly wounded and two are under arrest, while the house in which the rioters barricaded themselves is a wreck from dynamite used by the troopers to dislodge the rioters. The dead are: Private John Henry, of Philadelphia; Private Francis Zehringer, of Conshohocken; unidentified Italian. Fatally injured: Private Homer C. Chambers, of Rochester, Pa. The others wounded are: Private William A. Mullen, of Harrisburg, shot through the foot; First Sergeant Joseph Logan, of Dubois, shot through the leg; George Felitzsky, aged 12 years, son of Steve Felitzsky, a miner, shot in the leg.

The trouble began when Sergeant Logan went to Florence to search for Leopold Scariat, who is charged with shooting his brother-in-law, Bruno Trazzone, on Friday night. Logan was in Dr. Bodenborn's office, when Salvatore Waltzoch, who is said to be one of the most desperate members of the Black Hand, started to fight with a countryman in front of the house where Waltzoch boards. When Logan appeared Waltzoch under arrest the latter invited him into the boarding house to prove his good character. Logan had scarcely passed the door when one of the Italians in the house made a lunge at him with a stiletto, the weapon passing between his arm and body. Logan retreated, but before he got 15 feet from the building an Italian opened fire on him with a magazine shotgun. Logan returned the fire, and the two men emptied their weapons at each other. Logan got one buckshot wound in the foot, and the desperado was seen to fall back into the house, perhaps fatally wounded. Logan, by inquiring of the residents, learned that he had a Black Hand man to deal with. He then telephoned to the barracks at this place, and a detachment of five privates was detailed by Lieutenant Eggle to go to his assistance. When the detachment arrived Private John Henry immediately started for the house, but when about 20 feet from it was shot down. Chambers and Mullen, in attempting the rescue of their companion, were both shot down before they reached him. A telephone call was then sent for in for the entire force and 15 additional troopers were hurried to the scene. When the second detachment arrived, and while 12 of the constabulary kept firing into the windows and front doors, six policemen made a rush for the side door, which they battered in. Three of the officers, Zehringer, Gross and Cummings, dashed up the stairs, but were confronted by three of the desperadoes, who opened fire. Zehringer fell at the first volley, but the two other men escaped.

The house was then dynamited and set afire by the troopers, who arrested two Italians in the house before the flames gained headway. In the house was also found a dead Italian, with a bullet through his head. The house was destroyed, and with it a smaller one standing close by. While but two arrests had been made, a search is being made for others known to have escaped when dynamiting of the house began.

There can be no progress without discontent, for progress means the abolition of abuses, the advance from bad to good.

Letter to A. Baum, Bellefonte, Pa. Dear Sir: There's twice as much horse in one horse—it may be a mare—as there is in two or three others together. So with paints too. If a painter can do your job with 10 gallons Devco for $50; it'll take 12, 15 or 20 of other paints; and the cost of a job is about $5 a gallon, whatever the paint may be. There are paints adulterated three-quarters—only one quart of paint in a gallon—he's got to paint four gallons of rubbish to get one gallon of paint. The worst horse you've got is as good as that paint, and he'll go as far. The less-gallons paint is the paint, as the most-horse horse is the horse. Yours truly F. W. DEVOE & CO., New York.

Duty to be Discontented.

From the New York American. No American who wants the republic to be what it should be can free himself from discontent.

It is your duty as a citizen to be discontented and to keep on being discontented until the criminal trusts are smashed and government—national, state and local—is rescued from the lawless hands of the piratical rich and their ignoble tools, the bosses.

When you hear a man or see a newspaper deploring popular discontent with existing conditions, material and political, if you will take the trouble to follow the trail of that man or newspaper you will find that it leads straight to an office of the Plunderbund.

There can be no progress without discontent, for progress means the abolition of abuses, the advance from bad to good.
