

IMPLICATES PROMINENT MEN

New York, Sept. 25.—Under arrest by New York detectives, Paul O. Stensland, former president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, Chicago, who stands indicted for heavy embezzlements from that institution, has arrived in New York. He was taken from the steamer Prince Adalbert, on which he came from Morocco, to which country he had fled after the wrecking of the bank, and, according to his son, Theodore Stensland, he will plead guilty to several of the charges brought against him.

Stensland has made a complete confession, according to Assistant State Attorney Harry Olsen, of Chicago, who went to Tangier, Morocco, to take the former bank official into custody, and in his confession he implicated other prominent Chicago men. Attorney Olsen declined to name these men.

Theodore Stensland, who gave out an official statement for his father, declared that the latter had made no signed confession, but that he had admitted committing certain offenses which constitute embezzlement under the Illinois laws. To some of the indictments for embezzlement his father would plead guilty, he said, and in the case of others he would turn state's evidence and implicate all others who should be indicted in connection with the failure of the bank.

Stensland made the further statement, according to the son, that if the shortage in the bank was over $400,000 the money in excess of that amount had been taken by Henry W. Herine, the former cashier of the bank, who was jointly indicted with Stensland on charges of stealing over $1,900,000 from the bank and for forgery.

Stensland arrived in New York weak physically and showing much evidence of the strain which has attended his extraordinary flight through many countries, his desperate but ineffectual try for freedom down the West African coast and his final capture in the Moroccan city of Tangier, from which place the United States authorities were permitted to remove him by the government of Morocco. There was an affecting meeting between father and son on board the tug Catherine Moran, which the prisoner boarded at quarantine.

Stensland denies the report that he tried to commit suicide while in Morocco. He says that a sudden fainting spell there was interpreted as an attempt at self destruction by the Moroccan soldiers.

Stensland was locked up at police station over night and was taken to Chicago to-day (Tuesday).

The Prinz Adalbert was several hours later than expected in arriving at quarantine and was met by a tug, on board of which were the junior Stensland, a friend, Herman Benner, of Johnstown, Pa.; Detectives Kinder and Binns, of Chicago, and two New York detectives.

Stensland was pale and seemed very weak as he passed slowly from the steamer to the tug and then into the cabin. Here he was formally placed under arrest by the New York detectives, and here also after a few moments he received his son. Both father and son were completely overcome and made no effort to restrain their emotions. The elder man seemed quite unable to talk, and when he did so it was in tones so low that he could scarcely be heard.

STUCK THE BABY FULL OF PINS

Astounding Confession and Demonstration of Young Negroess. Chester, Pa., Sept. 24.—Mary Douglas, a 15-year-old negro girl, a child's nurse at the home of Captain E. Oliver Mahon, of company B, National Guards, was arrested, charged with sticking pins in three-months-old Jeannette Mahon, whose illness puzzled the attending physician, Dr. F. Powell, for several days. Making an examination he removed from the child 14 small pins and a safety.

Mary confessed to the doctor and Mrs. Mahon that she used the baby as a human pin-cushion. When brought before Chief of Police Williams, however, she denied the accusation.

She was committed to the Detention Home for a hearing. The child's condition is serious.

There is nothing humiliating in true humility.

STATE TROOPS CALLED OUT

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—Atlanta had a race war of no mean proportions. At least 10 lives have been sacrificed and the number of injured will be at least 40, several of whom cannot recover. The city is controlled by the police, aided by nearly 1000 of the state militia. Every part of the town is patrolled by the soldiers, and the authorities seem to have the situation well in hand. Governor Terrell, who ordered seven companies of the state militia service from points outside of Atlanta to aid the eight local companies, stands ready to declare the city under martial law if the scenes of Saturday are repeated.

Four attempts at assault on white women by negroes within or near the limits of the city wrought white citizens here to a pitch of excitement. The assaults followed two others of a similar nature within the week and at least half a dozen others within the last two months, and brought a sllmax Saturday night.

The usual Saturday night crowds were largely increased by men and boys, who thronged the downtown streets. There was no leader and no overt act until late in the evening. A negro man shoved a white woman from the sidewalk on Whitehall street, in the centre of the town. Almost simultaneously a negro woman made an insulting remark to a white man on an adjoining street, and he administered what he considered due punishment. From this start the mob began its work of destruction.

Five thousand men and boys thronged the downtown streets looking for negroes. News that a riot had started brought thousands more from their homes in the suburb and residence districts, until fully 10,000 men thronged the downtown section. They made attacks on the incoming street cars. Each car was scanned for negroes. The trolleys were pulled from the wires, and in the semi-darkness of the unlighted cars negroes were beaten, cut and stamped upon in an unreasoning, mad frenzy. If a negro ventured resistance or remonstrated it meant practically sure death.

One car, half filled with negroes, approached from an outside run. The mob dashed for the car. Resistance was made by the negroes, who had not been apprised of trouble. Three negroes lay dead on the floor of the car when it was permitted to move on, and two more were seriously beaten and unconscious.

The entire fire department was called out to clear the streets, and when that move failed the governor was called on to order out the militia, and he promptly complied.

The attacks on negroes had the effect of clearing the streets of blacks. Street hacks were abandoned at curbs; drivers on baggage wagons vanished and their places were taken by white men. This fear of trouble has affected several public conveniences Sunday. The postoffice officials had much difficulty in delivering special letters; ice deliveries have been scarce to private homes; in some restaurants service has been restricted by the absence of regular waiters. Throughout the day hundreds of negroes have been fleeing the city, by train and wagon and on foot. They have hurried from the city, fearing the possibilities of trouble in the immediate future.

SIX FAMILIES POISONED

Roach Powder Dropped Into Barrel of Sugar in Bakery.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 24.—Six entire families of Allegheny, whose members number over a score, have been poisoned through the product of a baker shop, according to a physician who has been treating the cases, and while the afflicted have not recovered, all but two were reported out of danger. The family of Dr. G. G. Graham, consisting of Mrs. Graham, three daughters, aged 12, 10 and 6, and a dinner guest, Dr. E. V. Weller, and John W. Davis, Mrs. Davis, her brother, 84 years old, and four sons, were among the afflicted who were in the greatest danger.

Mr. Davis was taken ill while at a theatre on Friday night and physicians have grave fears for his recovery.

An investigation was made by Dr. Graham and Dr. Weller and it is said that the poison was roach powder that had dropped from a shelf in the bakery into a barrel of sugar.

BULL GORES FARMER TO DEATH

Also Tries to Kill Victim's Niece, But is Overpowered.

Millerton, Pa., Sept. 24.—David Bly, of this place, is dead, having been gored by a bull, one of the herd of his nephew here. The animal was confined in a barn by reason of his ugliness, but was let out in the yard by him, contrary to advice of his niece, Mrs. Charles Bly, and he attempted to drive him to pasture.

The brute turned on him, and although he was armed with a club, brushed him to one side, threw him high into the air, and when he came down gored him repeatedly.

Mrs. Bly attempted to drive the beast away, but narrowly escaped herself meeting a similar fate. Her screams brought help. Bly was dead when picked up.
