THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

The Pennsylvania telephone company is distributing among its subscribers a new telephone book.

Ex-county commissioner Abram V. Miller expects to move with his family to Philadelphia in the near future.

The first district convention of the Centre county Sunday school association was held at Philipsburg yesterday.

C. N. Meserve, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is able to be out and around again after his recent serious illness.

The skating rink in the armory is proving a somewhat popular place of amusement for the young people of the town.

This is the season of the year when you can shoot wild turkeys and pheasants—if you can find them and get within range.

The many friends of Albert Rumberger, of Patton, will be pleased to hear that he is now the proud father of a fine big boy baby.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hall have closed their hotel, The Pitney, in Atlantic City for the season and will spend the winter in Sunbury.

A progressive course will be held in St. John's parochial hall next Tuesday evening, October 23rd, to which the public in general is invited.

The McClintic farm in Gregg township was recently sold to I. J. Zabler for $7,050. The farm contains one hundred and twenty-five acres.

Because we have had some cold weather it must not be supposed that winter is already here. In fact the Indian summer is not yet due.

For the past week Newlin Irwin has been nursing one of Job's comforters on his cheek, and without getting very much comfort out of it, either.

The two new buildings at the Pennsylvania Match company's plant have almost been completed and will add greatly to the facilities of the company.

At the Gentzel-Beizer cattle sale in this place on Monday good prices were realized. Six months old calves brought from $20 to $30 while milk cows sold as high as $71.

While picking apples on Monday afternoon Elworth Waite, who lives near Jacksonville, fell from the tree to the ground, breaking two ribs and sustaining other injuries.

Turkeys are said to be quite plentiful throughout the county and yet the howl has already been started that they will be high in price by the time Thanksgiving day comes around.

The annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs was responsible for a large number of strange ladies passing through Bellefonte this week, both on their way to the College and returning therefrom.

This is the time of year for trimming trees and the man who does the work is now hard at it in Bellefonte. As an example, the tree in front of the Eagle block have been entirely denuded and present a very bare appearance.

The State-Gettysburg football game at State College last Saturday resulted in a tie, neither team being able to score. State's strong offensive work was offset by Seiber's brilliant punting. Tomorrow State will play Yale at New Haven.

Mr. George Mallory does not intend to be behind in the matter of improvements around his home, as he has torn down the old porch on the front of his house and is building a large new one to extend along the entire front and wide enough to reach out to the street.

The Bowers expect to close their house on east Linn street in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bower and children will come down town and spend the winter with Mrs. Bower's father, Mr. James Curtin, while Mrs. C. M. Bower will spend the winter among her relatives.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church will hold a fair and bazaar the first week in December, when they will have all kinds of fancy work for sale. You want to remember this and save buying your Christmas presents until that time as that will be the very opportunity to get such gifts.

The big trout that generally are to be seen about this time of the year, opposite the WATCHMAN office in Spring creek, are not nearly so numerous as in years past. A half dozen or so can be seen most any day but they only average from eight inches to a foot in size, whereas last year a dozen or more from twelve to eighteen inches in length could be seen with quite a lot of smaller ones.

On Saturday Miss Betty Heinle left for Philadelphia where she has entered a school of elocution. It is her plan now to study until graduation then enroll as a teacher of elocution, so that she does not anticipate again making her home in Bellefonte. Her father, ex-Senator Wm. C. Heinle, has closed his house on Bishop street and taken a room at the Brookerhoff house where he will remain for the winter at least.

ARRESTED FOR ROBBING BLAIR'S JEWELRY STORE.—Robert Hendershot, a son of David Hendershot, of Spring township, was arrested on Friday evening on the charge of robbing the jewelry store of F. P. Blair & Co., on Saturday night, October 6th, and he has not only confessed that he did the robbing but every article of jewelry stolen has been recovered.

It will be remembered that when the robber crawled through the window the night of the robbery he tore a button off his coat, the same being found on the work table in the store the next morning. It was a peculiar shaped button and from a few threads of cloth attached had evidently been torn from a light suit. This was the only real clue the officers had to trace the robbers. It might be said, however, that young Hendershot was under suspicion from the first, though up to last Friday no move was made to apprehend him. On that day Hendershot was down at the fair and wore a light suit and it was then the officers discovered that there was one button missing from his coat and that the one found in Blair's jewelry store was an exact counterpart of those on the coat.

That evening Hendershot was arrested on suspicion, although the officers told him that they had evidence enough against him to convict him. Hendershot denied his guilt and when asked what he did with the stuff stolen maintained that he was not the guilty party and would explain all as soon as his brother, Elmer Hendershot, came home. His brother, Elmer Hendershot, came home on Saturday and that evening, in company with policeman Wm. Beizer, went to the jail to see Robert. The latter still maintained that he was innocent and it was only after the officer declared that he would swear out warrants for other members of the family as being implicated that Hendershot broke down and confessed that he perpetrated the robbery single handed and alone and also told where the stolen stuff was hidden.

He maintained that he committed the robbery at 11.20 o'clock Saturday night while both policemen were down at the railroad watching the special train from Williamsport bring home the State College crowd from the football game, though this is doubted. He said that he was drunk and while walking past the window he butted his head into the glass and broke it. Then later he went back and went through the store. In addition to the chains, etc., mentioned last week, he secured about a dozen watches, silver and gold-filled cases. All the loot he put in two tin boxes in which tobacco had been packed and took it home and hid it in his father's barn, with the exception of three watches, which he threw away—one in the potato patch back of where Dr. Hayes lives out near the furnace; one in the creek above the furnace and another in a potato patch above the furnace. The last mentioned was found on Saturday, the one in the creek on Sunday and the one back of Dr. Hayes' on Monday afternoon. The other stuff in the tin boxes was recovered Saturday night, after Hendershot told where it was hidden. He maintains very strongly that he was alone when he committed the robbery and that not one of the family knew what he had done.

Through this arrest the police got an inkling as to who committed the robbery of Joseph's house last September and Harry Thompson was arrested on Sunday night on that charge. He also confessed and the police secured every article of jewelry stolen with the exception of one watch, which had been sold in Lock Haven. Both young men have never borne the best of reputations, Hendershot having served time once or twice before for the same kind of an offense.

The police of Bellefonte are to be congratulated on their good and quick work in trailing to earth the men who committed these daring robberies. With nothing but a coat button and a few shreds of cloth as a clue it was a piece of detective work worthy the renowned Sherlock Holmes. And it would not be surprising that through the two men now in custody the mystery of all the robberies that have happened here in the past few years will be explained.

MATERNVILLE STORE AND POSTOFFICE BURNED.—The store of J. Linn Matern, at Maternville, in the Buffalo Run valley, was entirely destroyed by fire on Monday night. Mr. Matern was also postmaster and the postoffice was in the store. The fire was discovered about three o'clock and already the entire interior of the building was in flames and the only thing Mr. Matern succeeded in saving was the mail bag key, which he got by climbing in a rear window.

It is the belief that the fire was started by robbers who first looted the store and postoffice then applied a match, as the first man on the scene found the rear door standing wide open. But the fire had already gained such headway that, if the building had been robbed, all evidence was destroyed by the time the proprietor reached the building.

Mr. Matern's loss is in the neighborhood of $2,500, on which he had but $1,100 insurance, $800 on the building and $300 on the contents.

Charles Fullerton, who was in the Bellefonte hospital last week undergoing treatment, was discharged last Saturday and is now attending to his regular studies as a student in the Bellefonte Academy. The report that he was ill with typhoid fever is entirely without foundation, as he was merely suffering with an attack of bilious fever, caused by a bad stomach. In this connection we might add that there has never been a case of typhoid fever at the Academy since it has been under the management of the Hughes'.

Miss Longwell has succeeded Miss Brown in the stamping business. Ladies wishing stamping done will please give her a call at the Singer sewing machine office.

Edward T. Gregory, of New York city, is now in Bellefonte as agent for the National Biscuit company to succeed F. H. Young, whose term of service expired last Saturday. He will have headquarters at the Brookerhoff house.

While working on a saw mill, last Wednesday, Ambrose Douty, of Madisonburg, was hit on the head with a piece of board hurled from the swiftly revolving saw, sustaining a fracture of the skull. He died on Thursday morning without regaining consciousness. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon and was largely attended.

A pool tournament at Knisely Bros. billiard and pool room is exciting considerable interest among the devotees of the one and ivories and promises to become even more exciting as the various contestants meet in the contest for supremacy around the green cloth. The scratch men play one hundred balls with handicaps as low as fifty, according to the player.

In Hadley's exhibition of moving pictures Tuesday night there were many new and interesting scenes, which were interspersed with quite a number of comic and humorous situations. The same exhibition can be seen again tomorrow night as Mr. Hadley will then repeat his exhibition by special request. There will not be a matinee in the afternoon, as has been rumored.

Prof. Samuel C. Miller, principal of the Norwood public schools and president of the Delaware county teachers' association, was the representative of that association at the convention for the establishment of a teachers' retirement fund, held in Harrisburg last Friday, October 12th. Prof. Miller is an old Centre county boy, being a native of Ferguson township, and is making his mark among the eastern educators of the State.

At the recent annual meeting of the National Prison Congress, held in Cleveland, Ohio, Sunday, October 21st, was named as Prison Sunday, on which day pastors of both city and country churches are requested to preach sermons on the general subject of crime and criminals, noting the fact that there are now fully one hundred thousand convicts in the reformatories, prisons and penitentiaries of the United States.

With the money made at the "Midway," held in the armory by the ladies of the town a few weeks ago, a new and permanent wing is to be built to the Bellefonte hospital. Plans and specifications have been made and the proper authorities are now advertising for bids for the work. The building of the new wing to the hospital is the beginning of what is hoped will prove eventually to be a large and well equipped institution.

Last Saturday morning Mrs. J. Howard Lingle and daughter Miss Marian, drove to Unionville to negotiate the purchase of some apples from the Fishers. On their return their horse frightened at some calves by the roadside and ran away. Both Mrs. Lingle and her daughter were thrown out. Mr. Lingle sustained a few slight cuts and bruises but her daughter was more seriously injured, though at this writing she is getting along very nicely.

It will be remembered that some time ago the large barn on the Samuel T. Gray farm in Patton township was burned to the ground. The Misses Anna and Nora Gray at once decided to rebuild and the frame structure for the new barn was raised in position on Wednesday. The barn is a very big one, with heavy timbers and while it was intended to have a regular old fashioned barn-raising not enough of farmers and farmer's sons could be found in that neighborhood to handle the big frame work and it was necessary to send away to other parts of the county and hire men to assist in the raising. However, the work was accomplished quite successfully.

The Philipsburg Journal says: "Henry Prentiss, of Bangor, Maine, and W. B. Quigley, of Lock Haven, are here looking after their property interests in this section. They are owners of 10,000 acres of land east of Philipsburg, and recent successful tests for coal on lands adjoining have encouraged them to look into the matter of the development of their property, or disposing of the same to parties interested in such matters." This, by the way, is the same tract of land in which one or more Bellefonters are interested and on which three good paying veins of coal have been found recently by prospectors. The tract is located in the vicinity of Beaver Mills.

All senior members of the Y. M. C. A. who wish to become members of the basket ball team should be at the gymnasium every Tuesday and Thursday evenings, as basket ball practice has already begun. The evening classes in gymnastics are now in full swing but so far not as well attended as they should be. There is nothing that will tend to keep the body in a good healthy condition so much as physical training and every member of the association should avail themselves of the privileges of the gymnasium and not only attend the evening classes but take daily practice in physical culture. It is the intention to have a cross-country run at some date in the near future and those wishing to participate should report at once and go into training.

STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS.—The seventh annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs was held at State College this week and proved a very interesting gathering. Close to two hundred women were present and when the multitude swooped down upon the College they taxed its entertaining capacity to the utmost. Not only was every available room in the new hotel and McAllister hall taken but most every family in the town had from two to a half dozen of the visitors. And it must be confessed that they were a very representative looking body of women.

The opening session was held on Tuesday morning in the new auditorium. Miss Kate Cassatt McKnight, of Allegheny, the president of the association, was not present for the opening meeting and the first vice-president, Mrs. Ida M. Houghton, of Bradford, presided and called the meeting to order. Dr. Benjamin Gill offered prayer and brief addresses of welcome were delivered by Mrs. Louis E. Reber and Dr. Judson P. Welch, vice-president of the College. Mrs. Houghton made the response in behalf of the association.

Miss Mary K. Garvin, of Philadelphia, secretary, reported that twenty new clubs had been organized during the year and enrolled as members of the State Federation. The reports of the other officers showed a great variety of work being performed under the auspices of the organization, most everything in fact from establishing schools and planting trees to street sprinkling.

Tuesday afternoon was given over entirely to an inspection of the college buildings and the various departments of the institution and genuine surprise was expressed by every lady present at the magnitude and scope of the college, as no one anticipated finding so large and thoroughly equipped educational plant in this part of State.

Tuesday night's session was taken up principally by an address by Miss Agnes Reppeler, of Philadelphia, on the subject, "The Temptation of Eve." Her address was a splendid one, replete with bright sayings and witty anecdotes, and was much appreciated by her audience. Following Miss Reppeler's address a formal reception was tendered the visiting members.

Wednesday morning's session was taken up almost entirely with committee reports. Miss Myra Dock, of Harrisburg, reported a considerable amount of work done by the Forestry committee. After much discussion the Federation passed a motion that the members of the Legislature, through the various clubs, be requested to make a liberal appropriation for the home for consumptives near Mount Alto.

The report of the committee of industrial conditions affecting women and children caused a lengthy discussion. The legislative committee emphasized the efficacy of letters to and personal interviews with the members of the Legislature. The report of the civil service reform committee was followed by a talk on "the merit system in the State institutions," by Mrs. Mowbray B. Ross, of Cambridge Springs.

The chief feature of the afternoon was the talk on domestic science by Mrs. S. T. Rorer. Many questions were asked and much interest was shown in the work which Mrs. Rorer represents. During the whole session Mrs. Rudolph Blankenburg, of Philadelphia, kept a watchful eye on the parliamentary proceedings. Mrs. G. G. Pond spoke briefly, advocating the establishment of a Federation scholarship for young women in State College. By a vote of the delegates the matter was referred to the executive committee, who will probably establish the scholarship as soon as financial conditions will permit.

Two excellent talks were given in the evening, the one by J. Horace McFarland, of Harrisburg, who is president of the American Civic Association, the other by H. A. Surface, of Harrisburg, the State Zoologist. Mr. McFarland spoke on school gardens, while Mr. Surface gave an illustrated lecture on insects.

The WATCHMAN went to press too early to give a report of the final sessions held yesterday.

WILD TURKEYS AND PHEASANTS NOW IN SEASON.—Monday marked the opening of the wild turkey and pheasant season and as an illustration of how plentiful the latter birds are, one was actually shot in a second-story hallway in Bellefonte. The bird flew into town about one o'clock and took refuge on a tree in front of the Centre County bank. A number of boys espied it and began a bombardment with stones. The pheasant took to wing and flew down town and into an open second story window in the McClain block, next to the Watchman office and took refuge in the hallway. Several women saw it and not being able to catch the bird notified T. Clayton Brown, who went up stairs to see what it was and found a nice fat pheasant. He went back to his shooting gallery, got a target rifle and returning shot the bird and the next day he had pheasant for dinner.

The above is literally true and it is also true that both wild turkeys and pheasants are unusually plentiful in this section. The number of hunters out on Monday was quite large and the most of them returned with game while some of them got the limit. It is said that about a dozen wild turkeys were killed on the Bald Eagle mountain, up the Buffalo Run side. Quite a number were killed on the Bald Eagle side down the valley as well as in the foothills of the Alleghenies. It was a good day for game and all the hunters who could go took advantage of it.

What a nice week this would have been for the Centre county fair.

WATER TANK BURNED.—Last Saturday night the big water tank which supplies water for the Rock View farm buildings was completely destroyed by fire. Just how it caught is not known as there had been no fire near the building since the previous Wednesday. J. Harris Hoy was at State College, Saturday afternoon, to see the State and Gettysburg foot ball game. He did not notice anything wrong on his return home but later in the evening the fire was discovered. The tank building was a double one with a sawdust filling and as there was no way to fight the flames properly it burned to the ground, although it was after midnight when the fire burned itself out. The tank was within a few feet of some of the other buildings and only the fact that the fire burned very slowly enabled those present to save the house, and probably the barn and outbuildings from destruction.

Late yesterday afternoon, and just as the WATCHMAN was about ready to go to press, Miss Kate Hoover, a nurse, fell over dead while taking care of Mrs. Ed. Eckenroth. She was aged about forty years and was well known to most of the people of Bellefonte. Heart disease was the cause of death. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Musser passed through Bellefonte Tuesday on their way to Altoona after having spent a short time up Buffalo Run, attracted there at the time by the opening of the hunting season. Mr. and Mrs. Musser anticipate making their home in Hollidaysburg as Mr. Musser has been promoted to a position in the new machine shops in that place.

Editor Charles R. Kurtz, of the Centre Democrat, was in Williamsport last Friday and Saturday consulting an eye specialist regarding his eyes. For the past year or more he has had trouble with his eyesight which almost constantly caused him bad headaches. The trouble was diagnosed by the specialist as the nerves of one eye being much stronger than the other which put too much strain on the weaker member.

Nash H. Swayne II, head of the Philadelphia branch of Rogers-Brown & Co., and president of the Nittany Iron Co., was an arrival in town yesterday morning. He came up to look over his varied business interests here. It was Mr. Swayne's first visit to Bellefonte since his return from abroad and it was a pleasure for his friends to note how well he was looking, but they regretted the urgent business requirements that necessitated his leaving the same afternoon.

NEWLIN—WIGTON.—One of the most pretentious weddings that has ever taken place in the Spruce Creek valley was that at the Cool Run farms home of Mr. and Mrs. John McMillan Wigton, on Wednesday, October 10th, when their daughter, Miss Mary Eliza Wigton, was united in marriage to Alexander Zeek Newlin, of Pittsburgh.

The house was quite elaborately decorated for the occasion with evergreens and autumn leaves while the ropes that marked the bridal path were made of ground pine and laurel. While the wedding march was played by Miss Mary Campbell the bridal party was escorted to the altar by the following ushers: Robert Wigton, Walter Moore, John Everhart and Denton Peterson.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. M. Campbell and the attendants were Miss Lois Wigton, maid of honor; Miss Ida Varner, of Wilkingsburg; Miss Nellie Waite, of New Castle; Miss Helen Moore, of Spruce Creek; Miss Mame Crawford, of Tyrone; and Misses Anna and Elizabeth Wigton, as bridesmaids. The best man was Harold VanKirk Newlin, of Pittsburgh. Following the ceremony and wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Newlin left for a wedding trip through the south, after which they will take up their residence in Pittsburgh where the bridegroom holds a good position with the National Tube company.

HILTNER—MOYER.—A wedding in which a number of Bellefonters will be interested was that of Benjamin James Hiltner and Miss Margaret Pruner Moyer, daughter of Mrs. Clara R. Moyer, of Tyrone, which was celebrated at the home of the bride's mother, last Thursday afternoon, in the presence of the families and intimate friends of both bride and bridegroom. Rev. George T. Gunter performed the ceremony. That same evening Mr. and Mrs. Hiltner left on a wedding trip to the Thousand Islands and other points in the Dominion. The bride has a number of relatives in Bellefonte and is a most estimable young woman.

WILLIAMS—JOHNSTON.—Quite a large number of invited guests were present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Johnston, of Blanchard, Thursday of last week, when their daughter, Miss Bertha Johnston, was united in marriage to Shuman Williams. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. J. Dudley, of the Disciple church. Both the bride and bridegroom have been Centre county school teachers for several years, the bridegroom now being in charge of the school at Pleasant Gap. Mr. and Mrs. Williams took a brief wedding trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

HOFFMAN—LUCAS.—A pretty but quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lucas, of Philipsburg, at 8 o'clock Wednesday of last week, when their youngest daughter, Miss Nellie, was united in marriage to Herbert A. Hoffman, of Scranton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. E. Higby, of the Baptist church, the ring service being used. The attendants were Clayton Stover and Miss Philena Atherton. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman will make their home in Scranton.

SIMLER—LUDWIG.—Capt. Harry Simler not only treated his Philipsburg friends to considerable of a surprise recently but kept them guessing a week or more before he admitted the fact that he had been married on October 8th, to Miss Mary Ludwig, of Cleveland, Ohio. The ceremony was performed in Philipsburg at the rectory of St. Paul's Episcopal church, by the Rev. F. J. Clec. Capt. and Mrs. Simler will continue to reside in Philipsburg.

THIEL—DUNKLE.—Jacob O. Thiel and Miss Lydia M. Dunkle were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Martha Dunkle, of Mingoville, on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. H. I. Crow performed the ceremony in the presence of only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties.
