THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Next week we'll tell you how it was done.

The State College football team went to Annapolis today where they will play the Navy eleven tomorrow.

Yesterday was the first day of the rabbit season and quite a number of cottontails were brought in by local hunters.

Steele Crissman has sold out his interest in the "Old Corner drug store," Phillipsburg, to his partner, Wilbur B. Brown.

The farm of the late Sarah Frank, of Millheim, was recently sold to Spear Breon for a fraction over three thousand dollars.

Ed Rowan, of Coleville, recently purchased the Thomas Toot house on Beaver street, and last week moved his family there.

On Saturday the Belleville Academy football team played the Good Will eleven of Phillipsburg, defeating them by the score of 5 to 0.

The Country Jay at the opera house tomorrow evening with a matinee in the afternoon. There ought to be enough fun in the show to go around, so don't fail to see it.

On Sunday the bans of the approaching marriage of Daniel O'Leary and Miss Alice Stover, both of this place, were read in St. John's Catholic church. The wedding is set for November 14th.

Prof. J. Angel, Williamsport's celebrated eye specialist, will make his regular monthly visit to Belleville next week and will be at the Brockerhoff house from Thursday morning until Friday noon, where any and all who wish to do so can consult him free of charge.

B. F. Finkelstein, father of H. L. Finkelstein, proprietor of the five and ten store in this place, was one of the killed in the disastrous trolley wreck at Atlantic City on Sunday. In honor of his memory the store in this place was closed from Monday until Wednesday.

Today and tomorrow are the last two days of the Country Store being conducted by the ladies of the Reformed church in Crider's Exchange. They still have a large line of good things to eat as well as plenty of aprons for all who want them. Don't fail to attend either today or tomorrow.

Last Saturday Belleville experienced one of the hardest thunder storms ever witnessed at this time of year. The lightning was vivid and the rain fell in torrents while in some parts of the county there was some hail. The result was that the weather grew much colder and by Sunday it was quite wintry.

Mrs. W. B. Brown, of Phillipsburg, has purchased from her brother, Will Tyson, of Tyrone, and from her sister, Mrs. Townsend Moran, of Buffalo, N. Y., their interest in the Tyson-Hoffer business block on Front street, Phillipsburg, one of the most valuable properties in that town, which makes her the exclusive owner of the Tyson interest.

The inspection train made its customary trip over the Bald Eagle Valley railroad on Tuesday. The train was made up of a baggage car, one passenger car and two observation cars, one in front of the locomotive and one on the rear of the train. In the party were division superintendent J. K. Johnston and trainmaster R. B. Freeman, of Tyrone.

On Monday Samuel E. Goss sold out his insurance agency in this place to John F. Gray and son. The latter moved the office equipment from the room in the Bush Arcade occupied by Mr. Goss to their new office in the Crider building. Mr. Goss expects to leave in the near future for Wisconsin to engage in the lumbering business. We wish him success in his new venture.

The eastern Synod of the Reformed church was held at Lehighport, Carbon county, the past week, and the ministerial and lay delegates from Centre county were as follows: Revs. Daniel Gress, Centre Hall; H. I. Crow, Hubersburg; Ambrose M. Schmidt, Belleville; and Messrs. J. Wells Evans, Spring Mills, C. T. Gerberich, Belleville, and A. N. Corman, Rebersburg.

Many Centre countians, and especially residents of the Bald Eagle valley, will remember Miss Martha Gregg Morris, of Milesburg, who was married to Rev. A. R. Cronce, a former pastor in the Central Pennsylvania M. E. Conference, and will sympathize with her in the death of her estimable husband, which occurred on October 24th, at Tottenville, Staten Island, N. Y., of cancer. Burial was made at Rosemont, N. J.

There being no football game at State College last Saturday the coaches took the squad and a number of seniors to the mountains on a hunting expedition. They returned in the evening with a number of pheasants, though not so many but that they could easily carry them. The annual cider scrap between the Sophomores and Freshmen was held in the afternoon and resulted in a victory for the latter by a small margin. Several students were hurt but not seriously.

IN MEMORY OF JACOB SMITH BARNHART.—It is an unusual thing for the WATCHMAN to publish death notices two months old but in the case of the man above named we feel justified in doing so, and herewith give the following facts as furnished by our mutual friend, A. J. Patterson, of Minneapolis, Minn.:

Mr. Barnhart passed from life into the valley of death at his home in Charles City, Iowa, on September first. Some three months prior to his death he was stricken with paralysis which left him practically helpless and during all that time he was tenderly cared for not only by the members of his family but by his fellow members of the I. O. O. F.

Deceased was a native of Centre county, and was born in Nitanny valley, near Belleville, January 19th, 1828, thus making his age 78 years, 7 months and 13 days. He was the fourth and youngest son of Jacob and Harry Holt Barnhart. His grandfather on his mother's side was Col. John Holt, of Revolutionary fame. Receiving his education in the private schools of that time his early manhood days were spent in clerking. Later he taught in the public schools, engaged in the photographing business and in the early fifties became the editor and proprietor of the DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN, and conducted it until the fall of 1860, when he sold out to the Shugert's, from whom the present proprietor, P. Gray Meek, purchased the plant in 1861.

In his leisure hours Mr. Barnhart devoted himself to a reading of the law and later made it a study until the year 1871 when he was admitted to the Centre county bar. He practiced his profession here until 1877 when he moved with his family to Charles City, Iowa, where they lived ever since. There he continued the practice of law, in the meantime did some writing of both prose and verse. Some of his writings were so clever that his friends were constrained to believe that had he followed literary work as a career he might have made a famed name for himself.

In early manhood he became a member of the I. O. O. F., and was one of that order's most devoted adherents and supporters. He was a consistent member of the M. E. church and a most loyal friend of all who knew him.

He was united in marriage to Miss Margorie G. Durst, of Pennsylvania, who survives him with three daughters, as follows: Mrs. A. W. Andrews, of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. M. J. Renieke, of DuBoque, Iowa, and Mrs. Arthur W. Hunt, of Minneapolis, Minn. He also leaves one brother and three sisters living near Belleville.

MILLER.—David L. Miller, one of Ferguson township's best known and most substantial citizens, died at his home at White Hall at seven o'clock yesterday morning, of heart trouble. Though he had not been in the best of health for some time he was around attending to his work as usual, and his death was quite sudden and unexpected.

Deceased was born at Baileyville January 12th, 1841, thus being in his sixty-sixth year. After he grew to manhood he followed milling for a number of years and later bought a farm and has since tilled the soil. He proved one of the most successful farmers in the county. In August, 1862, he enlisted as a private in Company H, 148th regiment and served until the close of the war. He was a brave soldier and all his life has borne the marks of wounds received at the battle of Chancellorsville. He was one of the leading members of Capt. John O. Campbell Post, No. 272, of Pine Grove Mills.

He was twice married and is survived by his second wife and four children to his first wife, as follows: Mrs. James Gardner and Mrs. Matilda Cristine, of Tyrone; Mrs. Cyrus Daek, of State College, and James A. B. Miller Esq., of Belleville. He was a faithful member of the Lutheran church and Rev. Beigstesser will officiate at the funeral which will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Interment will be made in the new cemetery in Pine Grove Mills.

FOHR.—Following close on the death of her daughter, Mrs. Susan L. Fohr, wife of William H. Fohr, died at the Belleville hospital at 11:55 o'clock Tuesday. Just about four weeks ago she and her daughter Amanda were taken to the hospital suffering with typhoid fever. Her daughter died in less than a week and for a week or two it was thought Mrs. Fohr would recover but the death of her daughter so prostrated her in addition to the exhausting inroads of the disease which sapped her system that death ensued as a natural consequence.

Deceased was thirty-seven years old and was born in Bedford county, being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Lybarger. With her husband and family she moved from Everett and located in Coleville, where they have lived since, her husband being the night furceman at the Belleville furnace. She was a member of the German Baptist church and a conscientious christian woman. Surviving her are her husband and the following children: Mrs. Lee Eckley, Brady, Henry, Clarice E., Kathryn, Harry, Paul and Robert.

FLACK.—Mrs. Katharine Flack, one of Belleville's oldest woman residents, died at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, at her home on Reynolds avenue, of the infirmities of old age, she being in her 91st year. She was a member of St. John's Catholic church and a woman highly respected by all.

Her husband, George Flack, died a number of years ago but surviving her are the following children: William, Harry, Mrs. Harland Saylor and Miss Katharine, all of Belleville. The funeral was held at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning from the Catholic church. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

JACKSON.—LeRoy M. Jackson, the grandson by adoption of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Mattern, of Buffalo, N. Y., died at the Belleville hospital at 7:15 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was brought to Belleville last Saturday morning and taken to the hospital for treatment for pulmonary trouble and appendicitis. Monday morning an operation was performed but the complication of the two diseases could not be combated successfully and death resulted. He was about twelve years of age and was the son of Charles Jackson. The remains were taken to the Mattern home in Buffalo, N. Y., from where the funeral will be held today.

KREAMER.—Mrs. Ella Kreamer, wife of Milton R. Kreamer, died at her home in Clearfield on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock of dropsy, after a brief illness. Deceased's maiden name was Miss Ella Conson. She was born in Clearfield county and was about forty years old. For a number of years the family lived in this place, making their home on East High street. She is survived by her husband but no children. The funeral was held on Wednesday, interment being made at Clearfield.

SPRANKLE.—Daniel Sprankle, one of the oldest residents of Ferguson township, died on Wednesday of bronchial trouble, after an extended illness. He was aged eighty years and is survived by a wife and one son. The funeral will be held today, burial to be made at Gatesburg.

WARD.—Mrs. Hugh Ward died at her home in Moshannon, last Saturday morning, of paralysis. She was fifty-three years of age and is survived by ten children, one brother and five sisters. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. A. B. Shope, of Cato, was accidentally shot on Tuesday by her seventeen year old son, George, and the wound is quite a serious one. The boy had been out hunting and shot a pheasant. Going home he was in the act of showing his mother how he had shot the bird when his gun, which was a hammerless one, was accidentally discharged. The load of shot struck the woman in the leg, about midway between the knee and ankle, breaking the bone and tearing the flesh in a frightful manner. She was taken to the Look Haven hospital where it is said the limb would have to be amputated.

TRUE BEAR STORIES.—For the past two or three weeks neighboring county papers have been publishing bear stories and we were constrained to wonder what was wrong with the Centre county hunters that they could not show up a bruiser. But the delay in so doing was no doubt because Centre county bears are more wary than their cousins in neighboring counties, but even Centre county bears cannot escape the "Davy Crockets" of this section. Last week we told how Shorty Quick, of Moshannon, killed a two hundred pound bear while out hunting for pheasants, and how Dan Patterson, of Ferguson township, was so badly scared by meeting a bear in the woods which he thought was bigger than a cow and now comes the story of Frank Middleton, of Phillipsburg, a young man but twenty-two years of age, on last Thursday killing a bear in a bunch of woods along the Moshannon creek, just below Fryberger's mill, near Phillipsburg. The bear, which was a monster weighing 350 pounds dressed, had been chased off Derby hill by several young men out hunting pheasants. The carcass was sold to an Altoona party for fifty dollars.

A BEARSTORY FROM HUNTINGDON COUNTY. Porter J. Cox was hunting for turkeys in the barrens a mile south of Warriors-mark last Saturday, when he came upon a big black bear. Mr. Cox fired a load of turkey-shot into brain which then hustled away, running plump into the garden of Henry Houck's farm at Dry Hollow, where threshers were at work. The threshers emptied two loads of fuge shot into the bear which then attempted to get over the fence and away, but a club in the hands of one of the men came down over the animal's head and killed it. The bear weighed 285 pounds. While the killing was going on, Mr. Cox had gone for a dog to trail the brute. He soon came to the Houck farm and on finding that the bear was killed he demanded the hide as his property. The men refused to give him the hide but gave him a share of the meat. Mr. Cox was not satisfied with this adjustment, so he went before Squire Funk and got out a warrant which Constable William Kinch served on Mr. Houck. The latter gave up possession of the hide to the constable and the man who shot it first will probably secure it.

WILL BUILD BIG MACHINE AND REPAIR SHOPS.—The Eyre-Shoemaker Construction company, of which T. Larry Eyre, of West Chester, and Thomas A. Shoemaker, of Belleville, are the leading members, recently purchased from Edward B. Dyrart ten acres of land east of Tipton on which they have commenced the erection of extensive machine and repair shops, which has been rendered necessary on account of the company's immense and constantly increasing contracting business. The main building will be of structural steel, 70x300 feet in size and is under contract to be completed by December 15th. The boiler house is also to be completed by that time. At this plant the company will build and repair all the machinery used in its big contracts of railroad and other construction work as well as steam engines, machines, cars and other implements while not in use.

FARMER'S WEEK AT THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE.—It is estimated that at least three thousand men (not boys) will, during the month of January, spend from one to two weeks at the corn schools and farmer's conventions held at the agricultural colleges of the several States.

Farmers' week at The Pennsylvania State College will be from December 27th to January 2nd, six days, and everyone of them will be full of practical work, something to do or to hear. It will pay every man who grows corn, feeds steers, hogs, dairy cows or poultry, or makes butter, to be present and take part in the work, discussions, etc.

Anyone who is interested can get a program and reduced railroad rates by addressing Prof. H. E. VanNorman, State College, Pa.

TO SEE THE NEW CAPITOL.—Just forty-four excursionists left Belleville last Saturday morning for Harrisburg to inspect the new capital building. From other points along the line the crowd was increased until the total number from Centre county was one hundred and thirty-five. The regular train was drawn by two locomotives and at Spring Mills they both left the track, which delayed the train four hours, so that the excursionists did not reach Harrisburg until about three o'clock, and just got inside the capitol when it began to rain. Owing to the delay the railroad company extended the tickets one day of any who chose to remain until Sunday, but the majority came home, the special arriving in Belleville at 3:50 Sunday morning.

P. O. S. of A.—A new camp No. 74, Patriotic Order Sons of America, was instituted at Morrisdale last week with the following officers: Past president, Herbert Gearhart; president, William L. Holton; vice-president, John A. Irwin; master of forms, W. H. Smeal; recording secretary, C. A. Lewis; assistant recording secretary, John M. Davis; financial secretary, W. M. Eyerly; treasurer, John Ball; conductor, J. P. Yingling; inspector of the guard, Isaac Shimmel; officer of the guard, Charles Eyerly; chaplain, John Ball; right sergeant, John Bixler; left sergeant, Gorlandor trustees, W. L. Holton for one year, and H. C. Shugarts for eighteen months.

J. M. Cunningham, landlord of the Haag house, is making quite extensive improvements at that place. He has already put in new bar fixtures and intends repapering and refurbishing the office.

SPECIAL GUARANTEED ATTRACTION.—The claim is made, and what is more to the point, it is substantiated, that from the standpoint of royalties, the dramatization of "Lena Rivers," from Mrs. Mary J. Holmes' novel, is one of the most expensive plays now touring the country. It is known that a big sum was paid down to the dramatists before Nixon & Co., received their play. In several of the larger cities it holds the records for large receipts. Nixon & Co., bring the identical production used in the cities here. Miss Beniah Poynter, who plays Lena, is one of the prettiest and most clever little leading women on the road. She is supported by a competent cast of twelve. At the Garden opera house next Thursday evening, November 8th.

Bennett & Dale, who have been operating a saw mill at Glenon Harris, on the Belleville & Snow Shoe railroad, have practically closed a deal for five thousand acres of timber land in that section. Clement Dale Esq., of this place, is a member of the firm and when they get possession of the new tract A. Dale expects to take charge as manager.

—Mr. Harry Kline, who a number of years ago kept the Conrad house in this place and was the first landlord of the new Brockerhoff house, came up from his home in Middletown, Dauphin county, Monday morning, looked after a little business here and returned home on the afternoon train.

—Mr. C. G. McMillen, of Columbus, Ohio, was an arrival in Belleville last Friday noon and remained until Tuesday morning, the same genial and companionable "Colonel" he always is. The many friends of himself, Mrs. McMillen and their daughter, Mrs. Moore, will be interested in knowing that they contemplate coming to Belleville next spring and taking a house for the six summer months, and then, maybe, they will conclude to stay here permanently, as all of them regard Belleville more in the light of their old home than any other place in which they have ever lived.

CURTIN-FLETCHER.—A very great surprise was sprung on his many friends and relatives in this place when the news came on Tuesday evening of the marriage at noon that day, of Col. Austin Curtin, of Roland, and Miss Lillie Fletcher, of Vicksburg, Miss., the ceremony being performed in the latter city.

The wedding is the culmination of what is termed 'a romance in real life.' Col. Curtin met Miss Fletcher for the first time last March when he was in Vicksburg as treasurer of the Pennsylvania commission on the occasion of the dedication of the Pennsylvania memorial in the National park at that place. A mutual friendship sprang up between them. When the commission started on the return trip home Col. Curtin carried with him visions of the southern girl and her promise to correspond with him. From the frequent interchange of letters their friendship ripened into a warmer feeling which culminated in Tuesday's nuptials.

The bride is described as "a typical native girl of the south, tall and slender, dark hair and large dark eyes, and a social favorite." Col. Curtin, whose first wife died a number of years ago, is so well known in Centre county as to need little mention here, a nephew of the "Old War Governor," the late Andrew G. Curtin; he served with distinction through the Civil war, where he honorably won his title. For twenty years or more he served as Commissary General of the National Guard of Pennsylvania. He lives at his home near Roland to which place he will take his bride, they having started on their trip north immediately after the ceremony and will arrive at home Monday.

GLENN-FOREMAN.—Quite a pretentious home wedding was that of Samuel Glenn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Glenn, of Lenont, and Miss Edith Foreman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Frank Foreman, which took place at the home of the bride's parents in Potter township at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. About eighty guests were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Gress, of Centre Hall. The attendants were Miss Clara Robb, of Belleville, as bridesmaid, and John Foreman as best man. Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Glenn will be given a reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents and later they will take up their residence in Altoona, where Mr. Glenn holds a good position.

Now that November is here the Paubers have about completed arrangements for their annual deer hunt last two weeks of the month. Those who are entitled to go are Jao. and A. Linn McGinley, John and Andrew Knisely, M. A. Jackson, Harry F. Gerberich, C. Bruce Garman, W. C. Cassidy, R. S. Brouse, Lew Wallace and Thomas Moore, of Philadelphia. Jacob Jury will be taken along as chief cook and Fred Lane as man-of-all-work.

Mark Goss, proprietor of the Chinese laundry on High street, is a somewhat disappointed man these days. He made all preparations to leave Belleville this week for China for the purpose of marrying his sweetheart of earlier days, but his assistant became sick and Mark has been compelled to defer his departure until some more favorable time in the future.

The old Bigler homestead at Arcio Springs, in Rush township, for years a famous resort for picnic parties, was entirely destroyed by fire on Monday night. J. E. Horn was the lessee of the property and all his household furnishings was destroyed while an old gentleman who was caretaker of the property narrowly escaped with his life.
