Dr. R. G. H. Hayes, George F. Harris, M. J. Locke and F. W. Crider went to Harrisburg yesterday to consult with the Board of Public Charities relative to some means for building a new and larger hospital here; or at least, the annex for which the contract has been let to Henry Lowery. The present hospital is entirely too small for the needs of the community and it is hoped some arrangement which will bring about the building of a new one will be made.

HICKS ON THE WEATHER.—Hunters particularly may wish to know just what kind of weather there will be during the next two weeks and for their benefit, as well as others, we publish the following forecast from Rev. H. Hicks: A reactionary storm period is central on the 15th, 16th and 17th. The new moon in perigee falls on the 15th, at a time when the full force of the mercury equinox will blend with other perturbing causes.

A regular storm period extends from the 19th to 23rd, with moon at greatest south declination on the 19th and at first quarter, or quadrature with earth and sun on the 22nd. Sharp cold with frost and freezing toward the north, will visit most sections from about the 22nd to the 25th. A regular storm period begins on the 29th and runs at least four days into December, being central December the 2nd. The full moon falls on the 30th which fact will greatly tend to bring on the disturbances of this period on and touching that date.

EVANGELIST FOR HUNTINGDON PRESBYTERY.—At an adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery, held in the First Presbyterian church, Tyrone, on Monday, the committee appointed to employ a Presbyterian evangelist reported recommending that an evangelist be employed to labor within the bounds of presbytery. The amount of salary was fixed at $2,000, and necessary expenses. It was recommended that offerings be taken in each church in which he labors, which shall be turned over to the treasurer of the evangelistic committee to be applied on his salary. It was also recommended that the direction of the labors in the matters of time and place be referred to the evangelistic committee of presbytery and that a guarantee fund of not less than $2,500 be provided, 25 per cent of which will be due and subject to call of the treasurer as soon as an evangelist can be secured.

The recommendations were adopted after the Rev. H. L. Bowby had led the presbytery in prayer for the divine guidance. It is just possible that Rev. Boston, of Pittsburg, who spent two weeks in this place, will be the man selected. The call of the church at Milesburg for the Rev. R. G. McLeod was taken from the table and returned to the church. An invitation for the April meeting of presbytery was received from the Third church at Altoona and accepted.

DEATH OF EX-SHERIFF JOHN SPANGLER.—In the death of ex-sheriff John Spangler, at his home in Centre Hall, at three o'clock last Friday morning, Centre county loses one of its best known and most familiar figures. A man who represented all that was typical of the good old Pennsylvania German stock. He had been in poor health for the past year or two, the result of a general breaking down of the system owing to his advanced age. Several weeks ago he became worse and gradually sank until the end came peacefully and calmly at the time above stated.

Deceased was a son of Jacob and Mary Sobroyer Spangler and was born in Soyler county on March 18th, 1825, thus making his age 78 years, 7 months and 22 days. When a boy he did not have the advantages that children of today have, and was able to go to school only at irregular intervals. Until he was eighteen years of age he worked for his father on the farm. At that age he went to Middleburg and learned the blacksmithing trade. He worked there at his trade until the spring of 1862 when he came to Centre county and located at Centre Hill, where he rented a blacksmith shop and later kept a tavern. In 1864 he moved to Centre Hall and went into the hotel business, where he remained until the spring of 1879, with the exception of two years spent in Millheim as landlord of the Kreamer hotel.

In the fall of 1878 he ran for sheriff on the Democratic ticket and was elected by a good majority. He was sworn into office the first Monday of January, 1879, and during his three years term made one of the best officials that ever served the county in that capacity. On his retirement at the expiration of his term of office he returned to Centre Hall and for a number of years was engaged in cattle dealing, butchering and farming. For the past ten years or so, however, he has lived a retired life at his home in Centre Hall.

Mr. Spangler was that type of man whose entire life could be emulated by many with profit to themselves. Big hearted and frank as the day, honest and conscientious in his dealings with his fellowmen, charitable to the faults of others and lavish in his hospitality to all, he made a friend of every man he met. In politics he was a Democrat, staunch and true to the Jeffersonian doctrine. He was an earnest member of the Lutheran church and for many years belonged to both the Masons and Odd Fellows.

On April 25th, 1848, he was united in marriage to Miss Susanna Barger, of Soyler county, who survives him with three sons, namely: Col. J. L. and Howard J., of this place, and Renben B., of Spangler, Cambria county. The funeral was held at 11 o'clock on Monday morning. Rev. Reiarick officiated at the services, which were held in the Lutheran church, after which interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

HEBERLING.—Mrs. Margaret Heberling, widow of the late Joseph Heberling, died at the home of her son, James P. Heberling, in Mill Hall, at 2:15 o'clock Friday afternoon. She had been ill but a week prior to her death.

Most of her life was spent near the place of her birth until about 20 years ago, after the death of her husband, she went to Mill Hall and made her home with her son James. She was a member of the Lutheran church and a woman highly venerated by all who knew her. She was the mother of thirteen children, eight of whom survive, as follows: James P., Mill Hall; J. G., Pine Grove Mills; J. H. and Mrs. Miles Harpster, Pennsylvania; Farnace; Mrs. E. Perry Gates, Warriorsmark; Miss Emma, T. L. and S. T., of Tyrone. She also leaves one brother and two sisters, Abram Pile and Mrs. Leah Baird, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. Ellen Weaver, of Lemont. She had thirty-two grandchildren and twenty-nine great-grandchildren.

Brief funeral services were held at the Heberling home in Mill Hall at 8 o'clock Monday morning, Rev. J. J. Resh officiating, after which the remains were taken to Gatesburg, this county, where services were held in the Lutheran church. Rev. L. F. Bergtresser officiated and interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

SUDDEN DEATH OF HARRY CONDO.—Everybody in Bellefonte remembers Harry Condo, son of ex-sheriff John P. Condo, and he will be pained to learn of his sudden death at his home in York, last Friday night. From last Saturday's York Dispatch we take the following particulars:

Harry K. Condo, 456 West King street, a clerk at the clothing store of Isaac Walker & Son, died suddenly Friday night at his home, in the presence of his young wife and infant child. Death was due to organic heart trouble, aggravated by a sudden attack of acute indigestion, and came so suddenly that Mrs. Condo had no opportunity to summon assistance before her husband was dead.

Mr. Condo went home from the store Friday evening in the best of health. Late in the evening he went to a nearby restaurant for several oyster and tongue sandwiches which he shared with his wife. They then went to bed but lay awake awaiting the return of Mrs. Condo's mother, Mrs. W. H. Runkle, who had gone to the theatre with their eldest son, Harry, a boy of four years.

Mrs. Condo says that she and her husband were talking cheerfully over plans for Christmas and it was shortly after 10 o'clock when he was seized with the attack which ended his life. He was lying in bed resting his head upon his left arm, and with his right stretched across his wife and resting on the cradle of their seven-months old child, Fred. Suddenly without any warning Mr. Condo gasped, and before he could utter a word died. Mrs. Condo ran crying for assistance but the neighbors who responded found that there was nothing left to do but comfort the broken hearted wife.

Mr. Condo was 27 years 6 months and 17 days old. He was a son of ex-sheriff J. P. Condo, formerly of Millheim, Centre county, but now of Sunbury, and had many friends in the city. He was of robust physique and his death comes as a shock to all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Pearl Runkle, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Runkle, formerly of Centre Hall, Centre county, and their two young children, Harry and Fred. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon.

BECHDEL.—Liberty township lost one of its best known citizens last week in the death of Joseph Bechdel, on Wednesday. For a long time he had suffered with diseased optic nerves which finally affected his brain and caused his death. He was fifty-six years old. All his life he followed the occupation of a farmer and was well known and highly respected throughout the entire lower Bald Eagle valley. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Mrs. William Gansallus and Mrs. Hayes Strunk, of Beech Creek; Jacob, William and Lloyd at home. The funeral was held at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, the remains being taken to Romola for interment.

Plinn, of Bismark, North Dakota; Anna Mats, of Phillipsburg, and J. W. Peary, of Tyrone, with whom she made her home. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Lydia Osman, of Los Angeles, Cal. D., of Orangeville, Ill.; William F., of Raton, New Mexico; John W., of Nittany; Clayton H., of Millheim, and Mrs. J. J. Hetzel, of Aaronsburg. Rev. B. R. M. If there is anything that would make a woman feel like going from the shadow of the scaffold to freedom or from perdition to Heaven, it must be to be freed from such a disreputable and worthless scoundrel as Count BONI DE CASTELLANE, hence the Countess is to be heartily congratulated on securing her divorce without any proviso, while the Count must pay the costs.

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The sixtieth annual session of the Centre county teachers' institute was held in the court house, this place, this week, and was attended by about 285 out of a total of 297 teachers in the county. At every session of the institute the court house was crowded with visitors to hear the very interesting talks of the able instructors.

The first session was held on Monday afternoon. After a musical number, led by Prof. Philip H. Meyer and prayer by Rev. Schmidt, Dr. Charles C. Miller, president of the Lima, Ohio, college, was introduced as the first speaker. His subject was "The Lessons of Frisco," and as a prelude to his talk he spoke very complimentary of Bellefonte and Centre county and paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the late ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin. The remainder of Monday afternoon was occupied by Prof. Charles H. Albert, of the Bloomsburg Normal school, in a general common sense talk to the teachers. Monday evening Dr. Miller delivered his lecture on "Napoleon, the Man of Destiny," which proved a rare treat to all those privileged to hear it.

On Tuesday morning Prof. Albert opened the institute with an interesting talk on geography. He was followed by Dr. Miller in a discussion of the subject, "The Value of Time, or the Age of Young Men." In the afternoon Prof. Albert's instruction was on the value of commercial geography and Dr. Miller spoke of "Africa, the Land of Extremes." In the evening DeWitt Miller delivered his very humorous lecture on "The Reveries of a Bachelor."

Prof. Koob, of Phillipsburg, chairman of the committee on a Reading Course, made his report at the opening of institute Wednesday morning, urging the need of a systematic course of reading for every teacher. Supt. Wilson, of Milton, was then introduced and gave a very interesting talk. Dr. Miller spoke on "Blennerhasset and Aaron Burr," and Prof. Albert followed with a discussion of psychology. Wednesday afternoon Prof. Albert followed with a discussion of the court house was crowded to hear Hon. Henry Honok's lecture on "A Trip to Jerusalem," which was not only exceedingly interesting but quite witty and humorous. The rest of the afternoon was taken up with a general talk by Capt. Jack Crawford, the Post Scout. In the evening Capt. Crawford entertained an immense audience with a recital of some of his own poems and a narration of some of his experiences as a government scout in the early days of frontier life.

Yesterday morning Dr. Miller talked on "Russia, the Sleeping Giant," and in the afternoon on the "Battle of Gettysburg." Prof. Albert gave two of his practical talks to the teachers and Prof. A. Reist Ruhl also spoke very interestingly. Last night the institute had the pleasure of listening to an entertainment by the Pennsylvania State College Musical Club, in Petriken hall. The institute will close this morning with a talk by Dr. Miller on "The Heart Power in Teaching." All told it has been one of the most interesting and instructive institutes held in years and the teachers are to be commended for their close attendance at every session.

HORSE THIEVES DOING BIG BUSINESS.—Horse thieves seem to be doing a big business throughout the central part of the State just now, and the stories of their depredations read somewhat similar to those of the horse thieves of the western States a number of years ago. The latest raid was made in Huntingdon and Blair counties and the facts are really startling.

Robert Hannah is a farmer living near Warriorsmark. Last Thursday evening his son Frank returned home between six and seven o'clock and on going to the barn discovered one of the horses missing and upon inquiry found that none of the family had the horse in use. He then recalled the fact that while on his way home he had passed a man leading a horse, but being dark he did not recognize the animal. He immediately aroused some of his neighbors and all started in pursuit, each taking a different route. Frank went to Tyrone and proceeded out the old Glen Hope pike over the mountain. When he arrived in the vicinity of the Three Springs he came to a camp fire and three men asleep around it with six or seven horses tethered nearby. He at once picked out and untied his own horse, at the same time untying three or four of the others, when one of the men awakened and made for young Hannah with a knife, but a quick movement saved him, the knife cutting a long gash in his coat and vest. In jumping away Hannah dropped his revolver, but quickly mounted and made away with his own and the stolen horse. The robbers must have captured the untied horses, for they were soon mounted and in pursuit, but Hannah out-distanced them and arrived in Tyrone at an early hour Friday morning. Officers there immediately telephoned to all the surrounding towns in Blair, Cambria, Clearfield and Centre counties to keep a lookout for the robbers and horses but up to this writing they have not been captured, or even any further trace gotten of them.

Zimmerman pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiring to wreck a national bank in the federal court here and was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000. Zimmerman was the chairman of the board of directors of the Wooster (O.) National bank which failed about two years ago.

Sunday Dinners.—No one who rightly understands the bent of inclination in human nature and the clearly revealed teachings of Holy Scripture will urge any objection to Sunday dinners. There is no word in the fourth commandment against a suitable dinner for the Sabbath day.

It is not forbidden in any teachings of the Lord Jesus Christ. He says, "It is lawful to do good on the Sabbath days." Mark 3:4. In both Testaments the Bible teaches that whatever is necessary or merciful, is lawful to be done on the Lord's day.

It is more than a mistake for any one to say that the committee for the furtherance of Sabbath observance in Bellefonte is opposed to a wisely prepared dinner for Sunday.

We are operating directly in accord with natural law and civil law, as well as the Divine law. It is clearly revealed to us that the position we occupy is on the Lord's side. "If God be for us, who can be against us?" Rom. 8:31.

CHAIRMAN C. L. S. O.

All parents should endeavor to make the Sabbath the best day in the week for their families.

Generally speaking, all parents have it in their power so to provide, requiring little time and strength spent over a hot cooking stove, especially in the summer months. There are plenty of good things that will keep over Saturday night suitable for Sunday dinners. Our bakeries and fruit stores can always furnish quite a variety of goodies without the necessity for Sunday delivery. The children will easily learn to look forward to Sunday with anticipated pleasure. Get something a little out of the ordinary for food. If possible place on the clean tablecloth a bouquet of flowers, ever so small, which will serve the purpose.

To keep the youngsters healthy and happy, watch them closely lest they eat or drink to excess. Before the dinner is quite finished tell a good story, something funny happening during the previous week, so that all can laugh right heartily, according to Solomon's wise counsel in Proverbs 17:22.

Of all the good deeds done in this world nothing could be more in place for all enjoying the beautiful God-given meal to rise from the table singing one verse or more to the praise of "Our Father in Heaven," "the Giver of every good and perfect gift."

After such a dinner, ask the children which is the best day in the week.

Every one of them will answer "I like Sunday the best."

Grandpa and Grandma will be made the happier by Sunday dinners prepared in this way, strictly "according to the Holy Scriptures."

There are thousands of working-men away from their families six days in the week. Except on occasional holidays, the Sabbath is the only day they can spend with the loved ones and the little ones at home.

Some of these men are my neighbors; I am glad to testify that they always try to provide some little tasteful extras for Sunday dinner. They do wisely and scripturally by so doing.

With this lawful feasting and needed resting, it is hardly necessary to say, that these working-men so-called (the Bible teaches that all men ought to labor six days in the week) should always spend at least one hour of the sacred time with their families, in Divine worship, to "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

"The kingdom of God is not food and drink, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost." Rom. 14:17.

Let no one say that the Sabbath observance committee of Bellefonte, in this view of the subject, favors Sunday visiting for the pleasure of Sunday feasting.

Leaving the sacred precincts of home and public worship in the house of God on the Lord's day, there can be no lawful or reasonable excuse for this most questionable practice.

In this movement to secure a most sacred regard for the Lord's day, our committee stands unmovable on the God-given commandment: "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it Holy; six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work."

We are operating directly in accord with natural law and civil law, as well as the Divine law. It is clearly revealed to us that the position we occupy is on the Lord's side. "If God be for us, who can be against us?" Rom. 8:31.
