THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Only one week more and then court week. The school teachers have been much in evidence in Bellefonte this week. The exterior woodwork of the Presbyterian parsonage is being repainted. Wm. Rhinesmith is now in charge at the Palace sale and exchange stable. A new cylinder press has been installed in the Phillipsburg Journal office. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kane are happy over the safe arrival of a bouncing big baby boy. The western tier of rooms in the Brookerhoff house are all being equipped with steam heat. G. R. Spigelmyer is having a big flagstone pavement put down in front of his property on Howard street. Ladies wishing stamping done will, after this week, find Miss Longwell at her home, 110 north Spring street. Only two more weeks until Thanksgiving day, and its soon time to wonder where the turkey's coming from. The new line of the Pennsylvania telephone company between Centre Hall and Millheim has been completed. Owing to a wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad near Bellefonte last Sunday. James Patton, of Port Matilda, has purchased the Erb cafe in Phillipsburg and will take charge of same in the near future. As a forecast of what is to come we had an old-fashioned snow storm on Sunday—the first of the season to amount to anything. The Bellefonte Academy foot ball team will go to Phillipsburg tomorrow where they will play the Good Will team of that place. William Corman, of Buffalo Run, was admitted to the Bellefonte hospital today for treatment for a compound fracture of the lower jaw. Robert F. Hunter has had his Franklin car repainted a bottled green with a Prussian blue effect and now it looks as nice and nobby as any car in town. L. C. Berick, who a month or two ago was stricken with paralysis, has so far recovered that he is able to walk from his home on Reynolds avenue up town. Miss Mary Hicklen gave a delightful party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Hicklen, last Saturday evening, in honor of her young friend, Miss Blanche Ferguson, of Jersey Shore. Fifteen young people were present. During the time between trains—9:35 o'clock in the morning and 2:45 in the afternoon—mail agent Croyle, of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, marks the board for Harry L. Garber, in his broker's office in Temple Court. The pool tournament at Knisely Bros., which has been exciting considerable interest among the devotees of the game, closed on Tuesday evening. The first prize was won by Will C. Rowe; second, C. L. Gates; third, John J. Bower. There will be no service at 11 a. m. next Sunday in St. John's Reformed church, as the pastor will hold communion services at Zion that morning. In the evening the fifth anniversary of the present pastorate will be celebrated. Cards are out announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Louise Lingle, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Lingle, of Phillipsburg, to E. J. Hoover, a prominent young lumberman of Clearfield, the ceremony to take place on Thanksgiving day. Miss Otillie Hughes, youngest daughter of Rev. James P. Hughes, will be married at noon today to Chester A. Irvine, of Lake Charles, Louisiana. The wedding will take place in Washington, D. C., and immediately after the ceremony the young couple will leave for the bridegroom's home in the south. The bride's father and brother, James, attended the wedding. While helping to load iron rails on a dinky car, at Scotia last Saturday, Samuel Weaver left a rail fall on his right foot, badly crushing that member. He was brought to Bellefonte and taken to the hospital for treatment. It was at first feared the foot would have to be amputated but the broken bones were finally set and the chances of saving the foot are now excellent. The Bellefonte Academy foot ball team defeated the Look Haven Normal team, last Saturday, by the score of 10 to 0. There was no game at State College as Westminster cancelled and no other team could be secured. State seems to have hard luck in her schedule this season, so many of the teams cancelling, evidently because they are afraid to meet the White and Blue boys. An elopement from State College was that of G. F. Morris, '07, and Miss Edith Weibly, daughter of A. J. Weibly. They went on the excursion train, Saturday morning, November 3rd, ostensibly to see the new capitol at Harrisburg, but instead went on to Camden, N. J., and were married. They returned to the College last Thursday and received the usual parental blessings.

FOULLY MURDERED ON NITTANY MOUNTAIN.—Josiah Dale, of Centre Hall, is dead, the victim of a cowardly shot in the back by an unseen assassin who evidently crept stealthily up behind the old man as he was sitting in his buggy and fired the fatal shot. Mr. Dale owned a farm on the top of Nittany mountain but with his wife and one son lived in Centre Hall. He was at the farm all day on Monday husking corn. It was dark when he left the farm in his buggy to drive to his home. That was the last seen of him alive. His home in Centre Hall is on Church street, near the residence of ex-sheriff Cyrus Brungart. When Mr. Dale failed to return at a reasonable hour Mrs. Dale became worried and told Mr. Brungart of her fears. That gentleman volunteered to institute a search. He went up the alley toward the barn and met the horse just as it reached the building. He noticed that Mr. Dale was not sitting in the buggy but when he got close to the vehicle he discovered his body hanging over the dash-board. A hasty examination showed that life was extinct, though the body was not entirely cold and it was thought that he had had a sudden and fatal stroke of some kind. He was carried into the house and a physician summoned who on examination, pronounced life extinct. Undertaker Reardon was summoned to prepare the body for burial and it was only when he had taken the man's clothes off that the horrible fact that he had been murdered was revealed. The shot was in the left side of the back, only a few inches below the shoulder blade, and was evidently fired at close range. The charge was composed of No. 6 shot and so close was the weapon that the hole in the man's body was about an inch and a quarter in diameter, and all the shot penetrated at that point with the exception of perhaps three or four that were scattered the least bit. The charge went almost through the body, some of the shot penetrating the heart, so that death must have been instantaneous. An examination of the buggy showed a big hole in the rear curtain where the charge of shot went through, while in the buggy box were the paper wads used in the cartridge. The above are all the facts known. It is thus very evident that Mr. Dale was shot while sitting in the buggy and on his way from his farm to his home, but at what point or by whom is an utter mystery. It was close to two hours from the time he left the farm until his faithful old horse pulled his lifeless body home as he hung across the dash-board of the buggy. There were no signs of an attempt at robbery. In fact there was not the least indication that the assassin had ever touched his victim after firing the fatal shot. The position of the body when found was such as it would fall into naturally. An examination of the road and the buggy tracks failed to reveal any clue. There was no indication that the horse and buggy had been stopped at any point except at the watering trough at the foot of the mountain and within the limits of Centre Hall borough. Mr. Dale had always been in the habit of watering his horse every time he passed there and the tracks showed that the animal had gone in there as usual, but it was likely the voluntary act of the horse and not because he was guided by human hands. For it would have been impossible for Mr. Dale to have been shot after leaving the watering trough, as every person in Centre Hall would have heard the shot. Mr. Dale was a man who had antagonized many people. It is not for us to say whether he was in the right or wrong but he was almost continuously in litigation with somebody. In fact, on Tuesday, or the day following the night on which he was shot he was to have been in Bellefonte to attend a hearing before justice of the peace John M. Keichline in an action of trespass he had brought against a couple men. But even with this it is not believed that any of the men he had antagonized would do such a cowardly act. And this fact makes the murder all the more mysterious. And murder it undoubtedly was, as no sane man could either accidentally or mistakenly fire a fatal shot in such a way. The idea has been advanced that it might have been a hunter who mistook the moving vehicle for a bear, but this suggestion is preposterous and fully contradicted by the fact that the man who fired the shot was close enough to see what he was shooting at, even though it was dark. Coroner P. S. Fisher, with Dr. M. J. Locke, and district attorney W. G. Runkle went to Centre Hall on Tuesday morning and held a coroner's inquest. Few witnesses were examined because there were none who could throw any light on the tragic affair, and after returning a verdict in effect that Mr. Dale came to his death as the result of a gunshot wound in the back, fired by a party unknown, the jury adjourned. Coming within a few weeks after the shooting of twelve-year-old Clyde Annan, of Penn township, from a chestnut tree, makes the present murder all the more grave. And up to this time the authorities are as much in the dark as to the perpetrator of the one as the other. Mr. Dale was a man about fifty-eight years of age. He was a native of Clearfield county, having been born and raised at Woodland, though he has lived at Centre Hall since he was a young man. For a number of years past he has traveled over this and adjoining counties selling notions, and when not so engaged gave his attention to managing the farm on the top of the mountain owned by his wife, who is a daughter of the late Peter Hoffer, of Centre Hall. The latter survives with one son,

Hoffer Dale, now a student in the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and was very largely attended. Interment was made in the Centre Hall cemetery. THE LATEST DEVELOPMENTS. Up to the hour of going to press with the WATCHMAN there have been no developments that would warrant the assertion that the authorities are on the track of the murderer of Mr. Dale. Both Wednesday and yesterday stories were spread broadcast that direct evidence had undoubtedly been obtained against a certain man, and even the rumor was current that he had been arrested. The only foundation for these rumors is the evidence against Andy Moyer, the tenant farmer. Mrs. Moyer and two of her children testified before the jury and it is stated told stories that were not entirely in harmony, while Mrs. Moyer frankly admitted that her husband and Mr. Dale frequently quarreled. In addition there was found at the house a double-barrel shot gun, of 12 gauge, with a number of smokless powder cartridges loaded with No. 6 shot. But there was no evidence that the gun had recently been fired, while Mrs. Moyer stated that it had not been taken out of the house from the time it was left there Monday afternoon by David Moyer, who intended going hunting early Tuesday morning, a fact found to be correct. So that while suspicious are rife and rumors flying fast there is no direct clue or evidence up to this time to connect any man with the crime. But the authorities are working incessantly and hope to get on the track of some clue that will assist in running the murderer to earth. Solomon Benford, of Phillipsburg, is now a conductor on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad. James D. Schaeffer has been appointed agent at Beech Creek station on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, vice F. J. Wells resigned. Mrs. Wallace C. Mosser, of Warriorsburg, was admitted to the Bellefonte hospital on Tuesday for treatment for a complication of diseases. Among the advertised letters in the Bellefonte post office this week is one for Dr. J. P. Welch, vice president of The Pennsylvania State College. The new fire brick plant of W. H. Wynn & Co., at Blue Ball, is so far completed that the management expects to be running again on full time by December 10th. The many friends of Robert Larimer, brother of Fred W. Larimer, of this place, will be interested in the announcement that he was married at the hotel Walton, in Philadelphia, Thursday of last week, to Miss Caroline VanDyke. Robert T. Garman is undoubtedly prospering in his jewelry business in Tyrone, as last week he purchased from the First National bank of that place the three-story brick building on Pennsylvania Avenue and Teath street for $15,000. He will occupy the corner room with his jewelry store. The masons began work on the building of the abutments for the Hubbard bridge over Beech Creek on Monday and will rush the work in order that the bridge can be put in place before winter sets in in earnest. This is the bridge being built jointly by Centre and Clinton counties. "The Lawn Party" is the title of a very laughable entertainment to be given by the members of the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium class in Petriken hall early in December, the date to be announced in the near future. It is a farce-comedy of the most humorous type, requiring a big corps of burnt cork artists, and everybody is assured of a full evening's enjoyment. Dr. W. A. Stephens met with a sad accident last Saturday evening, while crossing Second street from his residence in Clearfield to the First Methodist parsonage. He was struck by Ross, Woods and Co.'s delivery team and knocked to the ground. His collar was broken and his hip badly bruised. He had forgotten to look before he crossed the street and the first thing he knew he was struck on the shoulder and didn't know what it was. He believed if it had struck him on the head it would have killed him. His many friends in this place sympathize with him in his affliction and hope for him a speedy recovery. Just by the merest chance the WATCHMAN missed a good story this week, and, naturally, we feel like apologizing therefore. On Monday a certain knowing individual came to Bellefonte and quietly let it be known that Mrs. Hetty Green, the richest woman in America, with her son Henry, one of the leading men and politicians in the whole State of Texas, were actually in Centre county. In fact were at that moment the guests of Mrs. Green's cousin, George Green, of Boggs township. For just a few fleeting minutes we had visions of a big story, with a possible interview, when we became informed of the fact by a dispatch in the daily papers that Mrs. Green was at that time at an isolated sylvan retreat in the mountains of Vermont. And it is just possible that she never heard of Boggs township or her "cousin George." And Mrs. Green not being here was the "merest chance" by which the WATCHMAN missed such a good story.

Wm. P. HUMES TO RETIRE.—Though not to his immediate friends it will be news to the general public to learn that William P. Humes has requested to be relieved of active duties in the First National bank, of this place, with which institution he has been connected for many years, filling the position of teller. It is his desire to retire about Thanksgiving or at the latest the first of the year. Mr. Humes has been forced to take this action owing to his big outside business interests, managing his farms and looking after the Humes estate. His and his sister's financial interests will not be withdrawn from the bank, and Mr. Humes will still retain his place on the board of directors, a position that will at times bring him in touch with the bank's patrons, for when not engaged at any other business he will at least spend a part of his time in the bank and will render assistance when needed. Mr. Humes' retirement will take from the bank the last of the quartet of familiar figures so prominent there twenty years ago, namely: His father, the late Edward C. Humes, John P. Harris, Moses Montgomery and himself. STATE VS. DICKINSON.—Williamsport will be the mecca tomorrow for foot ball enthusiasts in this part of the State, as thousands of people will go there to see the great annual game between State and Dickinson. The State team, accompanied by several score of loyal supporters, will go down to the Lumber city today. Tomorrow, however, the big crowd will go when six hundred or more of the State student body, accompanied by the Cadet band, will go down on a special over the Pennsylvania railroad. Quite a large number of Bellefonters will also go down tomorrow morning. The train will leave here at 9 o'clock a. m., and get to Williamsport in ample time for dinner. Returning it will leave Williamsport to-morrow night at 8 o'clock. Word comes from Carlisle that Dickinson will also have five hundred or more rooters on the field, so that each team will be ably supported by their own College undergraduates. PROGRAM FOR "PENNSYLVANIA DAY" AT THE COLLEGE.—One week from today "Pennsylvania Day" will be celebrated at The Pennsylvania State College. A meeting will be held in the auditorium at 10:30 o'clock in the morning when addresses will be made by Robert S. Murphy, of Johnstown, Lieutenant Governor-elect; Hon. Henry Honck, Secretary of Internal Affairs-elect; Miss Kate Cassatt McKnight, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Hon. W. B. Simpson, a member of the Legislature. From 12:30 to 1:30 a luncheon will be served at McAllister hall for guests of the College. The cadet battalion will give an exhibition drill from 2:00 to 2:30 o'clock and at 3 o'clock the State-West Virginia University foot ball game will be called. A special train will leave Bellefonte for the College at 9:25 o'clock in the morning of the 23rd and returning will leave the College at 3:15 p. m. HAYES RUN COMPANY PROSPERING.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hayes Run Fire Brick company was held at Orvis last Friday. The report of R. F. Pletcher, an expert accountant who had just completed an audit of the books of the company, showed the financial condition to be very satisfactory, a piece of information that proved most agreeable to the Bellefonters, as well as others, who are interested in the company. The plant was recently enlarged to meet the demands for its output, and has been running on full time with plenty of orders booked ahead. Ten new brick-cased dwellings are now in course of construction and when these are completed the company will have about forty houses. Judge Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte, was re-elected president of the company. ADDITIONAL SUNDAY TRAIN SERVICE.—Though the announcement has not yet been officially made it is stated on pretty reliable authority that Bellefonte is to have the advantage of increased Sunday train service on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad. When the winter schedule is arranged and put in effect, which will be about the last Sunday in November, it will provide for a train west in the morning and east at night, running on the schedule of the 9:23 a. m. west and 8:16 p. m. east at the present time. This will enable persons coming from the east to leave Philadelphia about noon and get home that evening, and to leave here at 8:16 and take a sleeper in Look Haven for the east. FROM PAINTER TO BRAKEMAN.—On Monday, November 5th, Henry Weaver, son of George Weaver, of this place, who for the past six months has been working at his trade as a painter and paper hanger in Phillipsburg, went to work as a passenger brakeman on the Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania railroad, running from Altoona to Pittsburg. His appointment was the culmination of a long siege of persistent application. He went from one official to another and underwent two examinations and when about to give up in despair was notified to report in Altoona and was sent out on his first run on the morning named above. MEETING OF COUNTY GRANGE.—The fourth quarterly meeting of the Centre county Pomona Grange will be held in the hall of the Bald Eagle grange at Milesburg, Wednesday, November 21st. There will be three sessions during the day, the first to open at 10 o'clock. The meeting will be an important one and a full turn out is urged. Among the proceedings of the day will be recitations by Mrs. John Dale and Misses Annie Dale and Edith Lutz.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.—The Look Haven Y. M. C. A. will meet the Bellefonte Association team at basket ball in the local gymnasium Thursday evening, November 22nd. A return game will be played at Look Haven December 7th. On Tuesday evening of this week twenty-two men and thirty-two boys were served with a 10 cent supper by the ladies, and on this occasion two very promising social Bible study clubs were organized. The boys' club is divided into three classes and has the following officers: President, Max Gamble; vice president, Horace Hartrauf, secretary—treasurer, Montgomery Bair, Class No. 1 teacher, L. C. Godfrey; class secretary, Charles Marshall Cook. Class No. 2 teacher, J. E. Dunning; class secretary, Harris Olewine. Class No. 3 teacher, C. N. Meserve. The officers for the men's club are president, H. J. Hartrauf; vice president, C. K. Hicklen; secretary—treasurer, Archie Orbin; teacher, Dr. J. Allison Platts. An enrollment is being secured for a second class for men which it is expected will be organized next Tuesday evening. The 10 cent supper plan will be continued, for with Bible study at the regular supper hour a large attendance can be secured and no other evening engagements are interfered with. SPECIAL SERMON.—By special invitation Rev. James R. Stein will preach a sermon to the Knights of the Golden Eagle, in the Methodist church, Sunday morning, Mr. W. T. Dunning, son of Rev. Dunning, of Oerola Mills, will preside at the organ during both morning and evening services. The public is cordially invited to attend. The musical program for both services will be as follows: MORNING. Prelude.....a. Cantabile.....Lemmens b. Largo.....Handel. Offertory.....Cantabile.....Dunning Postlude.....March of the Priests.....Stegall EVENING. Prelude.....a. Pilgrims Song of Hope.....Battiste b. Berceuse from Jocelyn.....Godard Offertory.....Tranquere.....Schuman Postlude.....Marching.....Smart. —A. I. Roberts, the celebrated drummer of this place, is the last surviving member of one hundred and eighty-eight men who enlisted at Columbia, Pa., in 1861, for service in the Civil war. Mr. Vessel made many friends while in Bellefonte, all of whom were sorry to see him leave, even to accept the promotion given him.

DEER SEASON NOW OPEN.—Yesterday marked the opening of the deer hunting season and it is a safe estimate to say that anywhere from one hundred and fifty to two hundred Centre county hunters are now camped to the mountains on the chase for the best-footed animals. Advance reports from woodsmen and others who have been on the mountains are in effect that deer are very plentiful on both the Alleghenies and Seven mountains; plenty, in fact, than in years. And for this reason hunting parties have all gone back to their old camping grounds of former years. The Sootooke region is a favorite place and not less than five or six different parties are encamped there. This includes the Panther club, of this place, which left here on the early train over the Central Railroad of Penna., Wednesday morning, ten men and fully equipped to stay to the end of the season, December first. Nason's camp and the Six Mile Run are also favorite hunting sites in the Alleghenies and deer are reported plenty enough in that locality. All the hunting parties on the south side have gone into the Seven mountains were they not only expect to find all the deer they want but bear as well. Of course the WATCHMAN goes to press too early to get reports from any of the hunting parties and so there is no telling at this time how big the first day's killing was. Last year there were over one hundred deer killed in Centre county and we would like to have as nearly as possible an accurate account of the number killed this year. To this end we would ask every correspondent and reader of the WATCHMAN to notify us by postal card of any deer killed in his locality, when and by whom. O'LEARY-STOVER.—An early wedding was celebrated in St. John's Catholic church, at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning, when Daniel P. O'Leary and Miss Alice E. Stover were united in marriage by Rev. Father P. McArdle. The attendants were Miss Cordelia McNally as bridesmaid and Lawrence O'Leary as best man. A large crowd of friends of the contracting parties witnessed the marriage. After the ceremony a delicious wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wise after which Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary left on a wedding trip to Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fall Stover, and is a delightful young woman. For the past nine months she has been one of the efficient clerks in the five and ten cent store in the Bush Arcade. The bridegroom is also a Bellefonte boy but is now employed as a machinist in Bellwood, where the young couple will make their future home. HENRY-RENEWICK.—John Henry and Miss Nellie Renewick, both of Phillipsburg, were married at the house of the bride's parents on Wednesday evening of last week, by Rev. W. G. Stiverson, of the U. B. church. Mr. and Mrs. Henry will make their home in South Phillipsburg. BOGNER-RENEWICK.—Orin Bogner, of Allport, and Miss Carrie L. Renewick, of Phillipsburg, were married last Saturday evening, at the M. E. parsonage in Phillipsburg, by Rev. S. D. Wilson. They will go to housekeeping in Phillipsburg. BROWN-FRY.—George Brown and Miss Mane Fry (colored) were married, Wednesday evening, at the A. M. E. parsonage, by Rev. J. H. Herrington. —Walter Armstrong, who had been off duty as express messenger on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania because of a threatened attack of typhoid fever, has recovered and is at work again.
