

KILLED AT CONEMAUGH.—Ralph Roy Cox, the nineteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cox, of Coleville, was struck by the first section of train No. 7 while walking through the Conemaugh yard at an early hour Wednesday morning and instantly killed.

Cox had been working on the Pennsylvania railroad but two months. He was a brakeman on conductor Hugh Jones' train between Altoona and Conemaugh and had just returned from a trip to the Mountain city. He and conductor Jones and brakeman Betz had put their train away in the yard and were walking up track No. 3 to the yardmaster's office to report when the passenger train struck young Cox. Messrs. Jones and Betz were just back of the young brakeman and escaped by jumping.

The remains were gathered up by Messrs. Jones and Betz and taken to the Conemaugh station, where they were placed in charge of undertaker Henderson. The body was prepared for burial and brought to Bellefonte Wednesday evening. The unfortunate brakeman made his home in Conemaugh with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bathurst, of Greeve street, who accompanied the remains to Bellefonte. Ralph was a member of the Coleville band and a popular young fellow. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

DONATION DAY AT BELLEFONTE HOSPITAL 1906.—Paper bags have been distributed throughout Bellefonte and surrounding towns, State College, Milesburg, Unionville, Centre Hall, Snow Shoe, etc. Any article of clothing, old linen, vegetables, meats, fruits, canned goods and supplies of any kind will be gladly accepted and used to the best advantage to the hospital. Nov. 29th will be general donation day or any time convenient to donors. The inscription on bag: "If the bundle is too big for the bag; tie the bag to the bundle." Any one wishing an extra bag may have it upon applying at hospital.

COMMITTEE.
(County papers please copy.)

W. C. Heinle has moved his law office from that occupied by J. A. B. Miller to the room in Crider's Exchange recently occupied by the Prudential Life Insurance society as an office.

Spring Mills.

Teachers here report having had a delightful visit at Bellefonte during institute week.

Some of our hunters have been quite successful in securing small game. But bear, deer and turkeys are not so easily secured.

Miss Lula, daughter of W. P. Alexander, of Yeagertown, formerly of this place, is here visiting relatives and friends, a guest of Miss Rosa Smith.

W. O. Gramley's milk business which he recently established is quite a success. Here in town he disposes of over forty quarts a day. This was a want long needed in our village.

Was up Salt river, but got into a room formerly occupied by an evidently defeated candidate for the number of empty black bottles scattered around was truly marvelous and the odor of whiskey and wines so overpowering that to preserve life I made my escape and sailed down the river on a board.

All sorts of weather during the last ten days, rain, snow, sleet and a little sunshine and occasionally a cold blast down this valley severe enough to almost blow the hair off. A weather prophet stated the other day that one evening he took home a few oysters in the shell, and that one or two followed him up and down stairs all next day. A sure sign he says of a very cold and severe winter. What supreme bliss all these weather predictions are.

A day or two since I stepped into the millinery parlors of Miss Lizzie Stover to take a look at the fall and winter styles of feminine head wear. They are all very beautiful, and some strikingly handsome. The smart styles of Paris and New York are marvels of elegance and represent the best, the richest and latest in vogue. Miss Stover when in the city made a special purchase of hats from one of the best known manufacturers whose high grade of goods are always in great demand. No better nor more stylish hats than these were ever brought to Spring Mills.

Judge Miller spent Saturday with his brother Alexander, at Shingletown, who is fast in bed with a broken leg.

A. J. Tate and wife visited the Jack Tate home at Shilo Sunday to find the old gentleman suffering with heart trouble.

Mrs. Annie Miller, widow of the late D. L. Miller, will offer most of her personal property at public sale this afternoon.

Hon. John T. McCormick is the happiest man in town because a grand-son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Krumrine.

A. B. Tanager, of Pittsburg, has been spending a few days among old friends at this place. He looks both prosperous and happy.

Miss Margaretta Goheen, one of Phillipsburg's school mamas, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Goheen at Boalsburg last week.

Mrs. Amelia Dreese, of Adamsburg, came up to spend a week at the home of H. H. Goss. The lady will be remembered as Mrs. Henry Koch, formerly of this place.

You don't want to forget the Autumn bazaar in the I. O. O. F. hall, Friday evening, Nov. 23rd, where all the delicacies of the season will be served and fancy work sold.

Last Thursday Mrs. Catharine Archey, of Graysville, went to Tyrone in her usual health. On her return home that evening she opened the wrong door and fell down the cellar stairs, sustaining painful injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Miller, of Johnstown, are here for a week's visit. Mrs. Miller will be remembered as Miss Bessie Walker, well known in educational circles and one of Ferguson township's most successful school teachers.

Mrs. George Johnson went to Harrisburg last week to add her blessing as god-mother to a pair of twin boys that bless the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bitner. While there she attended the marriage reception of her daughter, Beatrice who was married to John Fehl.

Last Friday morning while driving to the College cemetery Mrs. Fred Krumrine had a narrow escape. Her horse frightened and took to kicking, breaking the single tree, tearing loose from the shafts and dragging her over the dashboard. Fortunately she escaped with but a few scratches and bruises.

Of course we don't want to tell it out loud so we will just whisper the fact that our popular young minister, Rev. F. H. Bergstresser, will leave here for a two week's trip and when he returns he will be accompanied by a new Mrs. Bergstresser. The wedding will take place on Tuesday and the bride to be is Miss Nellie Ruppely, daughter of Rev. Ruppely, of Millersburg.

Lemont.

The crowd from here to Harrisburg Saturday was small.

Some of the farmers are busy getting the soil turned over for the spring crops.

Mrs. John Stamm, of Altoona, is at present circulating among friends in these parts.

C. D. Houtz came home from Hannab, Tuesday, where he visited a few days with Alban Baucy.

College township was well represented at the county institute, there being but one teacher absent.

James E. Lenker was able to be in his store Tuesday, but looks rather thin from his long illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Houtz are the proud parents of a big baby boy, who came to stay with them, Thursday.

John Mitchell and sister Maude, Wm. and Charles Thompson, drove over to Milroy Tuesday to attend a funeral.

There were two crowds of hunters went from this place and surrounding country to the mountains to try to bag some large game.

Butchering is now all the rage and there will be some fine porks butchered in these parts this fall; which will be reported later on.

Some of the citizens in the western part of the township are trying to get the court to appoint viewers to see to opening a road from the public road where Frank Osman lives to the public road at the Experiment Station.

Books, Magazines Etc.

WHY THE GREATEST.

Now and again some critic calls The Century Magazine "the greatest in the world." There may be no way of exactly determining which of the world's magazines is absolutely "the greatest," but it is easy to see why The Century is so often thus rated. For while magazines come and go The Century, with all its long record and invaluable experience, maintains a spirit of youth and freshness, of curiosity and energy, which keeps it always at the front.

At the beginning of its career it was a pioneer in matters literary and artistic and in the field of timely discussion; and it continues to experiment and to lead in many directions. It discovered, or gave the best opportunity to, a large proportion of the leading American authors of our time, and it maintains today the same policy of bringing out new writers, as well as presenting the work of the writers most experienced. It revolutionized the art of wood engraving and helped to bring it to its highest expression.

The magazine has assisted in the development of the newer sections of our country; it keeps in touch with scientific progress; has opened its columns to debates on great questions by the leaders of national thought; it has helped, editorially and otherwise, in the triumph of good causes; it has endeavored to uphold noble ideals. Its aim is entertainment of the kind which enlarges human sympathy and makes the world better as well as more cheerful. It is strong in its humorous features, having given hospitality to nearly all the best American humorists of the last quarter of a century. While it has articles on all phases of city life, its timely papers on gardening and farming are attracting deep interest. Its catholicity of interest and its wide-embracing patriotism have won for it the title of a truly "national magazine."

The Century, in a word, has an individuality which distinguishes it from other periodicals, and makes it warmly cherished in American homes. The question is, can those for whom the best is none too good afford to dispense with its entertainment and its influence in their households?

with the announcements of The House of Kuppenheimer appearing in the leading magazines, we desire to make known to the public that our line of

is complete and includes all the most exclusive and select patterns for which The House of Kuppenheimer is celebrated and which are so much in demand with good dressers.

Kuppenheimer Clothes are unquestionably superior in quality of material, workmanship and style. There are very few clothing institutions anywhere in the world that have the facilities for producing the highest type of men's clothes, such as The House of Kuppenheimer has. Fewer still that adhere closely to their high standard of production.

There is that quality about Kuppenheimer Clothes, due to the expert workmanship entering into their manufacture, which stamps the wearer "a well-dressed man" from the day he puts the garment on until he is ready to lay it aside. Only the sixty-and-seventy-five-dollar-custom-tailor can equal them.
