THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

—How did you enjoy your Thanksgiving turkey?

—“Oh, deer,” says the hunter; “now we’ll all take a rest.”

—Court this week drew quite a number of out-of-towners to Bellefonte.

—Postmaster W. W. Montgomery has just had erected a new porch in front of his residence on Allegheny.

—Miss Overton has issued invitations for a tea to be given at the Academy, Friday afternoon from 2 until 5 o’clock.

—A progressive euhre, the last of the season until after Christmas, will be held in St. John’s hall this (Friday) evening.

—The Philadelphia Life Insurance company’s office in Temple Court, this place, has been dismantled and abandoned.

—Query: Will the hunters have experiences enough to relate to keep them busy until the fishing season opens next April?

—This is the last day of November and of the hunting season. Tomorrow December will begin and before we know it Christmas will be here.

—The Canton All-Stars, who spent three weeks in training at State College, were defeated by the Massillon Tigers, last Saturday, by the score of 13 to 0.

—A number of new members were initiated into the local tent, Knights of the Maccabees, on Wednesday evening. After the meeting a luncheon was served.

—During the past week turkeys were selling in Pennsylvally at 12 and 14 cents per pound. In Bellefonte anywhere from 15 to 20 cents per pound was asked.

—That great rural drama, “Quincy Adams Sawyer,” which was to have been played in Bellefonte on December 18th, will not be given here until Friday, January 4th.

—A party of workmen with a diamond drill are putting down test holes on the land of Christ Sharer, at Dry hollow, on Cold stream, where good veins of coal are believed to exist.

—Several of the Academy students have proven themselves quite expert nimrods during the hunting season, having brought in quite a lot of small game, including one wild turkey.

—The WATCHMAN went to press a little earlier than usual this week in order that everybody connected therewith could feel in a more thankful mood when they came to eat their Thanksgiving turkey, etc.

—Owing to the congested condition of the Middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Lewistown cut-off train after train of coal is now being sent east over the Bald Eagle Valley and P. & E. division.

—An old farmer stopped at the WATCHMAN office this week and remarked that this would be a very mild winter because the hens were just now molting. Likewise it can be said that the trout are just now spawning.

—Capt Annie C. Irvin, of Richmond, Va., and Lieutenant Hunter, of Buffalo, N. Y., are now in charge of the local branch of the Salvation Army. They have arranged to hold a cake and coffee supper tomorrow evening.

—At the recent meeting of the society for the promotion of agricultural science, held at Baton Rouge, La., Dr. H. P. Armsby, of State College, was elected president for the ensuing year. He also made several very interesting addresses.

—If the woman who dropped her hair-pin near Rev. Crittenden’s chicken coop returns the four chickens she carried away with her a few nights ago, calls at his home on Spring street he will be pleased to restore her property. The little matter of the chickens, of course, will not be mentioned.

—E. R. Taylor has purchased W. H. Brown’s interest in the skating rink and will conduct same in the future himself. The masque carnival, which was to have been held last night was postponed until New Year’s night. In the meantime the rink will be kept open every afternoon and evening.

—We are glad to state that there is some improvement in the condition of John L. Kuisely, who has been confined to his home on Thomas street as the result of an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, and his many friends now feel confident of a continued progression toward complete recovery.

—The congregation of St. John’s Episcopal church have now pledged the entire amount of three thousand dollars desired for the building of their new church house, Rev. Richardson, himself, becoming responsible for the last thirty dollars of the fund. It has not yet been definitely decided just when work on the same will be begun.

—Last Saturday the Bellefonte Academy played its last game of football for this season on the home grounds, defeating the strong Williamsport Y. M. C. A. team by the score of 14 to 0. And it can here be mentioned that the Academy lost only one game so far during the entire season to teams of its class, and that by the small score of 5 to 0.

THE PASSING OF THE MANN’S AXE.—An item of news from Lewistown announces the fact that the plant of the American Axe and Tool company, better known as the Mann’s axe factory, located in Mann’s Narrows, near that place, is being dismantled. The best of the machinery will be shipped to other plants operated by the company while the balance of it will be sold as junk.

The dismantling of the above plant marks the fast passing out of existence of the Mann Axe, which in its day was regarded by woodsmen as the best axe manufactured, and thereby hangs a tale which is of more or less local interest, owing to the fact that the first axe manufactured by the Mann’s was made at Axe Mana, not far from Bellefonte.

It was in 1825 when William Mann, an axe maker, came here from Johnstown, Montgomery county, N. Y. He bought the ground on Logan’s branch, two miles southeast of Bellefonte, on which he built an axe factory, and around which grew the village of Axe Mann. Two years later he was joined by his brother, Harvey Mann, and the two soon built up a profitable trade and opened the way for the extensive manufacture of axes. Their brand they named the Mann axe, and as it proved to be an exceptionally good implement, the demand increased beyond the capacity of their plant.

Consequently, in 1833 William Mann retired from the original firm and went to Lewistown where he built the plant at that place. As the sons of the elder Mann’s grew to manhood they engaged in the business with their fathers and a quarter of a century later the axe factory at Mill Hall was built by some of the Mann’s. For years the three factories did a big business and their output was limited only to the capacity of their factories.

Sometime in the latter eighties the American Axe and Tool company was organized as a trust and very flattering offers being made to the Mann’s the three plants were absorbed by the trust and most every member of the Mann family given a good position. James H. Mann, of Lewistown, was made treasurer of the company and the late J. Fearon Mann, then a resident of Bellefonte, was made superintendent of the Axe Mann factory at a good salary. The trust operated the plants only about two years when they closed them down and gradually every member of the Mann family dependent on the plants at Axe Mann and Lewistown were squeezed out of their interest in the company and from that time on both plants were operated only spasmodically for a few years then closed down for good. The plant at Axe Mann was dismantled a number of years ago and now the one at Lewistown is being torn down, so that all that now remains of the once historic Mann’s axe factories is the plant at Mill Hall; while the implement itself has been so changed as not to be recognized as the once famous Mann’s axe.

BIG BARN BURNED.—The big barn barn on the farm lately owned by L. C. Bolopue, east of Howard was entirely destroyed by fire early Sunday night. Mr. Bolopue, who intends going to Oklahoma to make his home, recently sold the farm to Richard Hughes, of Osocola Mills. Last Wednesday Mr. Bolopue made public sale of all his farm stock, machinery and grain. Mr. Hughes being a big buyer, so that in Sunday night’s fire he lost not only his buildings but also two horses, one cow, five hogs and about eight hundred bushels of grain, as well as some hay and farm machinery. The fire started about 8 o’clock in the evening in the hay mow and when discovered had gained such headway that it was impossible to save anything. It is believed to have been the work of a tramp. The loss is quite heavy and the amount of insurance carried, if any, has not been learned.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS.—Up to this writing there have been no new developments in the case of the murder of Josiah Dale, on Nittany mountain, two weeks ago last Monday night. The local authorities are doing everything in their power to run to earth the man who so deliberately fired the fatal shot, but as the deed was done under cover of darkness, and no real trace or clue left, it is a difficult matter to ferret out the guilty party. But the old saw is that murder will out and there is little doubt but that the murderer of Josiah Dale, as well as those of John Kuehler, near Clarence, and Clyde Annum, in Penn township, will be detected some time and brought to justice. So let the public at large possess their souls in patience and await for full developments, which, we have no doubt, will all come in due time.

FIRE LAST SATURDAY.—Shortly after 1 o’clock last Saturday an alarm of fire brought out the fire department, the flames proving to be in the house on Valentine street just two doors from the Bellefonte hospital, owned by Mrs. Gray and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Young. The fire had already gained such headway that it was impossible to extinguish it until the building was almost totally destroyed. Most of the furniture was saved. The fire caught on the roof and as a high wind was blowing the firemen had some difficulty in saving the adjoining buildings.

A BELLEFONTE P. S. C. ASSOCIATION.—The Bellefonte Association of The Pennsylvania State College was fully organized at a meeting held in this place Tuesday evening, November 20th, with the election of the following officers: President, E. R. Chambers; vice president, J. Dorsey Hunter; secretary and treasurer, G. O. Gray; executive committee, J. Dorsey Hunter, George R. Meek and Jonas E. Wagner. The association starts out with nineteen members.

—Quite a large delegation of rooters accompanied the State College football team to Pittsburg Wednesday afternoon for yesterday’s game with W. U. P.

—Monday evening Rev. E. G. Richardson gave a smoker and luncheon at the Brookerhoff house to the members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and the young men in general of St. John’s Episcopal church. It proved a most delightful occasion and was greatly enjoyed by everybody present.

—After playing State on Beaver field, last Friday, the University of West Virginia football team remained at the College until Wednesday of this week, practicing for their game with Washington and Jefferson, at Washington, yesterday. They accompanied State’s team to Pittsburg on Wednesday, going from there to Washington.

—A new time table will go into effect on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania next Monday. The only important change will be in the night train, which now leaves Mill Hall at 8:35 and arrives here at 9:40. Under the new schedule it will leave Mill Hall at 8:05 and arrive in Bellefonte at 9:10 p. m. This is the only change in the passenger train service.

—The Pine Hall Reformed church which has been extensively repaired will be re-opened and re-dedicated to the service of God on Sunday, December 2nd, at 10:30 o’clock. There will be services on Saturday evening, Sunday morning and Sunday evening and the pastor will be assisted by Rev. Stein, of Lock Haven, and Rev. Groh, of Carlisle. All are invited.

—The Bellefonte Furnace company have given their employees at the Scotia ore mines an increase of ten cents a day in their wages, to take effect December 1st. This will make $1.20 per day for common labor with skilled labor in proportion. The increase was a voluntary one on the part of the company, hence the more appreciated by the men thus benefited.

—Our good friend Jerry Donovan a month ago was the possessor of as nice a flock of fat turkeys as was to be found in Spring township. Now practically the entire flock has disappeared and he has not yet been able to discover whether they turned into wild turkeys, died or were deliberately stolen by some common turkey thief. In any event he is to be sympathized with on his loss.

—The birthday social held by the Woman’s Guild of St. John’s Episcopal church, at the residence of Mrs. Wilkinson, last Thursday evening, proved one of the most successful, socially and financially, of any charitable entertainment held in Bellefonte for some time. The attendance was unusually large, a fact proven by the net receipts which were $250; and there weren’t any centaureans there, either.

—The new Sunday train made its first run west over the Bald Eagle Valley railroad last Sunday morning and east in the evening. And, by the way, the winter schedule went into effect on the Pennsylvania railroad on Sunday and there are a number of changes in the time of trains arriving at and leaving Bellefonte, but as the railroad company does not publish their time table in the WATCHMAN our readers will have to look elsewhere for the correct information.

—Henry Lowery with his son James and daughter Bella were among the very few excursionists who went from Bellefonte to take a look at the new capital building last Saturday. Of course Henry is a carpenter and likewise of course, he is a Republican, which probably accounts to a great extent for the way in which he upholds the capital as a most magnificent building, fully worth the thirteen million dollars it cost, though he concedes that the contractor was honestly entitled to ten per cent. profit on the job.

—The time of year is now here when the wise buyer is beginning to look around for the best place to make his or her Christmas purchases. And to do this successfully is a most perplexing question. The business men of the town—that is, the merchants—could help the purchaser out considerably by advertising his Christmas specialties. And in doing so he would not only be helping the public but he would be increasing his holiday trade anywhere from fifty to one hundred per cent. The wise buyer will go where he knows he can get what he wants. And as everybody reads the newspapers these days, an advertisement therein will tell the public just what you have got to offer. As an advertising medium the WATCHMAN cannot be excelled in bringing the results. We know this. To convince yourself, try it with a holiday ad.

—The first b’ar brought into Bellefonte this season was hauled here on Monday by Charles Daley, son of Col. John A. Daley, of Curtin township. He with a companion was out hunting on the Alleghenies on Saturday when they came suddenly upon brim as he reposed very snugly in his den, which was under the roots of a fallen tree. The two men were almost within reach of the bear when they shot him and two well directed shots put two balls in his head before he could make a move. Though the animal was not weighed it is estimated by those who examined it that it would tip the beam at not less than three hundred pounds. This was the second bear killed by the Daley’s this winter, a cub having been bagged last week. Failing to dispose of the carcass in this place they sold it to a man in Johnstown for forty-five dollars.

NOVEMBER COURT.—The regular term of November court began on Monday with Judge Ellis L. Orvis presiding. Phil. D. Foster, of State College, was appointed foreman of the grand jury and the court then gave the usual instructions.

The first case called was that of the Commonwealth vs. Theodore Green, (colored). The charge was assault and battery and the prosecutor Lewis Wallace. The case grew out of an assault made by Green on Bruce Wallace on the evening of June 8th, the day of the dedication of the soldiers’ monument. The jury returned a verdict of guilty after being out only a few minutes.

The civil case of Amos Copenhaver and J. S. McMonigal vs. J. P. Sebring was next called. This was an action to recover pay for cutting timber on land of the defendant. After a jury had been sworn the plaintiffs moved to amend their pleadings by filing new declarations, because of which the case was continued.

In the case of J. C. Snook vs. C. R. Snook and Alfred Keen, an action to recover on a note for $70, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Bardine Butler, assault and battery, the latter plead guilty. The prosecutor in the case was Reuben Lucas.

Commonwealth vs. Robert Watkins, charged by Daniel Shuey with the larceny of six turkeys. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Brit Mongdon, malicious mischief. Prosecutrix, Mrs. Eliza Walker. Defendant plead guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Alva Fetters, malicious mischief. Prosecutrix, Mrs. Eliza Walker. Defendant stood trial but was found guilty by the jury.

Commonwealth vs. Alva Fetters, assault and battery. Prosecutrix, Mrs. Eliza Walker. Defendant plead guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Joseph Ross and Boyd Reed, malicious mischief. Prosecutrix, G. W. Catbort. Defendants plead guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Willis Stephens, assault and battery. Bill ignored and the costs put on the prosecutor, J. D. Sauer.

Commonwealth vs. Ralph Fish, indicted on three counts for breaking into a store in Philipsburg. The defendant plead guilty.

The civil case of F. C. Croyle and S. G. Snaul vs. C. H. Guelich was tried on Tuesday afternoon. The case grew out of the refusal of Guelich to pay an order given on him and accepted by Sterling Symcox. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for the sum of $109.55.

THE VILLAGE PARSON.—“The Village Parson” is expected to draw largely at Garman’s, Monday evening, December 3rd, as it is claimed to be one of the strongest and best plays seen at this theatre this season. The story of the play is one of considerable power, in which the sorrows and contemplations of a village minister are detailed. He is subjected to strong trials through the supposed faults of his wife and her father, who are really innocent. The good man goes from bad to worse, and the wrongs are corrected in the orthodox fashion. The cast is made up of many prominent dramatic players and new and superb scenery is employed, while the production is most complete in every way.

DR. HUNT ELECTED.—At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania State College, held at the College last Friday morning, the executive committee’s nomination of Dr. Thomas F. Hunt, of Cornell University, to be Director of the Experiment Station and Deao of the School of Agriculture was approved and his election made unanimously. Dr. Hunt has accepted and, having secured a leave of absence from Cornell, will spend the months of December and January at the College, though he will not enter formally upon the work until July 1st, 1907.

—Great indignation is felt among the students of the Bellefonte Academy over the fact that the Baltimore University football team cancelled their game with the local eleven for Thanksgiving. The Baltimoreans asked for the game early in the season, put it on their regular schedule and every arrangement was satisfactorily made. Then on Monday, at the last moment, they telegraphed cancelling the game, unless the Academy would consent to play them in Bellefonte and put up a guarantee for their expenses, etc. This, of course, they refused to do.

—The third quarterly communion services will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday as follows: Love feast at 9 a. m.; Holy Sacrament of the Lords Supper at 10:30; brief sermon by the pastor in the evening. The quarterly communion thank offering will be lifted. Missionary day will be observed in the Sunday school. W. T. Dunning, the newly-elected organist and choir master, will have charge of the music.

—Late last evening a telephone message to the WATCHMAN office imparted the information that the Coleville hunting club, encamped at Benner Run, had secured two very nice deer so far this season. We might also mention that the Rangers, of Tyrone, encamped back of Snow Shoe, have three deer to their credit, and an Altoona party on the Black Moshannon have two deer.

CHANGE OF TIME TABLE.—A new Time Table on the Central R. R. of Penna. will go into effect on Monday, December 3rd, 1906. On this schedule the evening train will leave Mill Hall at 8:05 p. m. and arrive at Bellefonte at 9:10 p. m.

—Court again next week.

“PENNSYLVANIA DAY” AT THE STATE COLLEGE.—About five hundred visitors attended the “Pennsylvania Day” exercises at The Pennsylvania State College last Friday. In the number were fully one hundred alumni and a number of State Senators and members of the Legislature, but neither Governor-elect Stuart, Lieutenant Governor-elect Murphy nor Secretary of Internal Affairs Henry Houck were present as expected.

The meeting in the auditorium was held at 10:30 o’clock and was presided over by Gen. Beaver, acting president of the College. Representative-elect W. B. Simpson, of Huntingdon county, was the first speaker introduced and his address on technical education in Pennsylvania was a splendid one. He closed by paying a high tribute to the work being done by The Pennsylvania State College for the young men of this and other States.

State Senator’s Godecharles and Helings and Gen. Daugherty followed in brief addresses of exceptional interest, after which Miss Kate Cassatt McKnight, of Allegheny, president of the State Federation of Women’s Clubs, was introduced and made an eloquent plea for the need of a more universal co-educational system in Pennsylvania.

At noon the invited guests of the College were entertained at luncheon at the McAllister hall. In the afternoon the cadet battalion gave an exhibition drill and were reviewed by Brigadier General Daugherty, of the Third Brigade, N. G. P., after which the big crowd present witnessed the last game of football State’s champion team will play on the home grounds this season, and saw the white and blue boys down the strong University of West Virginia team by the score of 11 to 0. And thus ended one of the most successful “Pennsylvania Day” exercises celebrated at the College.

—The Hospital Calendar, the enterprise for the charity-working people for 1907, will be placed in the hands of the friends of the Bellefonte hospital immediately upon the coming of the New Year. It is to be hoped that of the four hundred and thirty persons that it requires for its completion, there will be no one who will not anticipate pleasure in aiding the Board of Directors in their commendable undertaking of making more comfortable the sick of the community.

—The Sunday Gazette Times, of Pittsburg, obtained a picture of Harry Driver, several years ago one of the stars on the Bellefonte Academy football team, and commented very favorably on his work on the Dartmouth eleven this season where he has played at left half back.

—Walter Rankin, who now holds a good position with the Whittaker Construction company, at Mt. Union, was home to spend Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rankin.

—Edward Lucas, who at one time clerked for Samuel Lewis, is now holding down a good position in Philadelphia, passed through Bellefonte on Monday on his way to visit his parents at Linden Hall.

—Supt. F. H. Thomas, of the Bellefonte Central railroad, with his daughter Miss Margaret, were in New Orleans last week where the former attended a meeting of the United Railway association. They returned last Saturday and were accompanied to this place by Miss May Hudson, of Huntingdon.

—A quartette of Philipsburgers in town during the fore part of the week were county treasurer Frank Geo. Zeigler Esq., H. D. Rumberger and White Irwin. The latter two were strangers, but not of the class that are usually supposed to be taken in. All of the gentlemen had business at court except Dr. White who was on his usual weekly visit to his office here.

WHIPPO—ROBB.—Quite a pretentious wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Robb Jr., of Romola, on Tuesday, when their eldest daughter, Miss Alta B. Robb, was united in marriage to John W. Whippo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whippo, of Wilkesburg, but formerly of this place.

The Robb home was very appropriately decorated for the occasion and was thronged with about seventy-five invited guests. Promptly at twelve o’clock the inspiring strains of Mendelssohn’s wedding march, as played by Miss Emma Robb, daughter of jury commissioner Frederick Robb, were heard and almost simultaneously the bridal party made their appearance and took their places in front of the improvised altar in the parlor. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Oneda Robb, sister of the bride; Miss Edna Glossner, of Wilkesburg, and J. H. Robb, of Bellefonte, and Chas. E. Heck, of Avis.

At the altar they were met by Rev. H. I. Crow, of the Reformed church, at Hublersburg, who performed the ceremony which united them for life, the beautiful ring service being used. Following the ceremony and happy congratulations a bountiful wedding dinner was served to all present and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Whippo left for a brief wedding trip which they will spend in the east.

The bride, who was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents, is a member of one of the best known families in the lower Bald Eagle valley and herself is highly accomplished. The groom is an old Centre county boy, which is eulogy enough for him. They will make their future home in Wilkesburg.

BERGSTRESSER—RUPLEY.—The ceremony which united in the holy bonds of wedlock, Miss Nellie E. Rupley, the amiable and winsome young daughter of Rev. and Mrs. D. E. Rupley, of Millersburg, and Rev. Ralph Bergstresser, of Pine Grove Mills, was performed at the home of the bride’s parents at high noon, on Tuesday, by the bride’s father, assisted by Rev. N. Myers, of Catawissa, and was witnessed by about forty guests.

The maid of honor was Miss Edie M. Rupley, sister of the bride, and the groomsmen was John Bergstresser, cousin of the groom. The wedding march was played by Miss Delia Geisinger, of Espy, Pa.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of silk mulle, while the maid of honor was attired in silk organdie. The interior of the house was prettily decorated with potted plants, fern and chrysanthemums. A fine wedding dinner was served to the bridal party and guests, after which Rev. and Mrs. Bergstresser departed on an afternoon train for a wedding trip to the eastern cities. On their return they will reside at Pine Grove Mills, where the groom is pastor of the Lutheran church.

CORL—HOV.—A pretty though quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoy, at Pine Hall, on Tuesday, when their daughter, Miss Alice Hoy, was united in marriage with James Madison Corl, youngest son of Peter Corl. Only a few favored guests were present to witness the ceremony, which took place at noon, and which was performed by Rev. A. A. Black, of Boalsburg. The attendants were Miss May Hoy, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Charles Homan as best man. Following the ceremony the bridal party and guests partook of a delicious wedding breakfast.

—Mrs. Andrew J. Cook entertained twelve of her friends at her home on Linn street, Tuesday night.
