THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Just 366 marriage licenses were granted by the register of Centre county during the year 1906.

Rev. William Laurie is officiating at the week of prayer services in Mt. Union this week.

The Pennsylvania railroad pay car made its trip over the Bald Eagle valley last Saturday.

Repairs for the pump at the water works arrived in Bellefonte from Holyoke, Mass., last Saturday.

H. L. McCloskey, of Nittany valley, will make sale of all his farm stock and implements on March 12th.

Last Friday Mrs. Maria Green, colored, celebrated her seventy-sixth anniversary at her home on St. Paul street.

The Loyal Temperance Legion will meet in Petriken hall this (Friday) afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. A full turnout is requested.

Hugh Crider, who for two weeks was confined to the house with a bad attack of the grip, has recovered and is again out and around as usual.

Madam Reese, an experienced modiste, has located in Crider's Exchange where she has opened rooms for cutting and fitting dresses, etc.

From every indication there will be a great deal of moving around about the first of April, not only in Bellefonte but throughout the county.

Rev. Herbert Hezlep, of Philadelphia, is in Bellefonte assisting Rev. J. Allison Platts in the week of prayer services which began at the Presbyterian church on Monday evening.

That very handsome head of hair that Ad Fauble is now wearing has made Roger Bronse, Homer Crissman and all the rest of the fellows in the bald headed row envious as can be seen; and no wonder, for it makes Ad look like a twenty year old.

In last week's WATCHMAN a typographical error inadvertently made us say that on January 5th Mrs. Louisa Bush entertained a few friends in celebration of the "seventy-fifth" anniversary of her birth. The item should have read the "seventieth" anniversary.

Superintendent Bussler, of the Bellefonte Electric company, has been engaged the past week or so in making a canvass of the power users in the town with a view of establishing a day service at the electric light plant, providing enough electric motors can be installed to justify it.

Rev. James B. Stein was suddenly called to Philadelphia on Monday on account of the death of his brother. During his absence, which was until Wednesday evening, Rev. M. C. Piper, of Milesburg, conducted the revival services now in progress in the M. E. church in this place.

Not content with their recent declaration of a five per cent. dividend and an addition of ten thousand dollars to the surplus fund the Bellefonte Trust company on Tuesday entertained all the stockholders at a dinner at the Brockerhoff house. Naturally everyone present had a most enjoyable time.

Only a limited number of Bellefonters attended the inauguration of Governor Stuart, at Harrisburg on Tuesday. Of course the inclement weather may have had much to do with the Republican enthusiasts staying at home but on the other hand the most loyal party supporters showed very little interest in the inauguration ceremonies.

Notwithstanding the disastrous fire of last week by which Lingle's foundry sustained such a big loss and was so badly crippled they had everything in shape to go to work with their full force of men on Monday morning. Mr. Lingle has several large contracts to fill and while the fire caused him a little inconvenience it will not interfere with his work in the least.

What has become of the balance of the name plates for the soldier's monument? It is now seven months since the monument was dedicated and at the time it was supposed it would only be a question of a few weeks until everything would be completed, but the months have passed and so far as the public can see the monument is no nearer completion now than it was when dedicated.

One of the WATCHMAN's callers on Monday was Mr. Henry Walkey, of this place, and he not only left with us one of those much appreciated long green remembrances but told us of his hard luck in the fire at Lingle's foundry last week. His loss is hard to estimate but it is enough, as it included everything in the shape of carpenter's tools that he has been forty years in accumulating.

The Graham sisters intend to break up housekeeping in the immediate future. Mrs. Esther Gordon has gone to Philadelphia and will spend the winter with her brother, Benner, and family and Miss Sallie will go with her sister Mary at Lewistown. They will close their house on Allegheny street until spring when they will make sale of their household furniture and make their future home in Lewistown. Mrs. Tamzine Lane has rented the house and will take possession on April first.

ARRESTED ON THE CHARGE OF MURDER.—Andrew K. Kaebic and Harry Watson, both of Snow Shoe township, were arrested last Friday and brought to Bellefonte and lodged in jail on the charge of murdering John Kaebic, at Clarence, on the night of September 12th, 1906. The arrests were made by constable S. R. McCartney, of Snow Shoe township, and the men were brought to Bellefonte by the constable, detectives A. L. Millard, Harry Bauer and W. Weiss, of the Standard detective agency, of Philadelphia, and district attorney W. G. Runkle.

The circumstances surrounding the death of John Kaebic have so far been shrouded in mystery. On the evening of September 12th he was at the hotel of his cousin, George Kaebic, at Clarence. Andrew Kaebic, who is a brother of George, and therefore a cousin of the murdered man, and Harry Watson were also at the hotel. About eight o'clock John Kaebic left the hotel to go to his home which was not over a third of a mile distant. Andrew Kaebic and Harry Watson left the hotel a short time after John Kaebic. The latter failed to reach home and the next morning his mangled body was found lying alongside the New York Central railroad tracks a short distance from the Clarence station. Naturally it was supposed that he had been struck by a passing freight train and killed. Coroner P. S. Fisher was notified and accompanied by district attorney W. G. Runkle went to Clarence on Friday and held an inquest over the body. The startling discovery was then made that the man had undoubtedly been murdered as two or more stiletto thrusts were found in the neck, one of which almost severed the jugular vein. The body was evidently placed on the railroad track after the man was dead in the hope that it would be so mangled by a passing train that all evidences of the crime that had been committed would be destroyed.

All efforts of the local authorities to discover the murderer or murderers proved unavailing and finally the Standard detective agency was asked to take the case. They did so and on the 22nd of November last sent W. Weiss into that locality. He went there made up as a Hebrew peddler and gave the name of John Decker. His stock in trade consisted of divers small notions which he peddled out among the miners and their families. He got dinner at George Kaebic's hotel and in the afternoon visited a number of places, among them the home of Andrew Kaebic. Decker remained at Clarence some time on the plea of recuperating from a spell of sickness and as he speaks the Slavish language soon made friends with most of the foreigners, whom he visited in their homes and while at work in the mines. Later he announced that his cousin wanted to embark in the mercantile business in Clarence and he went so far as to rent a store and engage clerks, but of course the store was never started.

Just what information the man gleaned is not known as the authorities have so far kept everything pretty much to themselves, but it is alleged by those in a position to know that there had been trouble between John Kaebic and his cousin Andrew and Harry Watson over a fight they had had some time previous while working in the Kelly mine, where they were all employed, and that Andrew Kaebic had several times threatened what he would do to John. It has also been rumored that a woman will figure in the case.

Having secured all the information possible Weiss reported to chief Millard and the latter with Harry Bauer and district attorney W. G. Runkle went to Snow Shoe last Friday and had constable McCartney make the arrests. Kaebic was found at home and Watson was arrested while at work in the Kelly coal mine. Neither of the men offered any resistance and they were brought to Bellefonte and lodged in jail that night.

Kaebic is a man forty-one years of age and has a wife and four children. Watson is about forty-eight years old and has a wife and seven children. They have engaged Col. H. S. Taylor, ex-judge John G. Love and N. B. Spangler to defend them and on application of their attorneys will be given a habeas corpus hearing to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, when it will be learned whether there is enough evidence against them to justify holding them for trial.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—Bellefonte Castle, No. 357, Knights of the Golden Eagle, at their last meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Past officer, Herbert Hasinger; noble chief, William Emel; vice chief, Bernard Stover; high priest, David Bartel Jr.; master of records, E. E. Ardery; clerk of exchequer, William Ott; keeper of exchequer, L. H. Wian; venerable hermit, Christ Young; sir herald, Harry Stevenson; representative to grand castle, L. R. Poorman; worthy bard, A. Lukenbach; worthy chamberlain, G. Emel; esquire, John Neese; ensign, Jesse Derstine; first guard, Charles Poorman; second guard, Stewart Fleck; trustee, J. Kennedy Johnston.

THE BOROUGH CAUCUSES.—One week from to-morrow will be the last day on which to make nominations for the spring election to be held the third Tuesday in February. The offices to be filled are borough treasurer, poor overseer, auditor, a councilman and school director in each ward and the usual judges and inspectors of election. The poor overseer whose term expires is Thos. Howley; the auditor, C. T. Hioklen; councilmen, Harry Keller, J. D. Seibert and P. F. Keichline; school directors, H. C. Quigley, W. C. Heinle and James K. Barnhart.

Edward Cunningham is quite ill at his home near Oak Hill.

The State College basketball team won their second game last Friday night by defeating the Wyoming Seminary five by a good-sized score.

The new United Evangelical church at Madisonburg was dedicated last Sunday. Bishop W. M. Stanford, D. D., was in charge of the services, which were very largely attended.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Park, of Centre Hall, who for the past two years made their home in Nelson, in the northern part of the State, will move to Sunbury the latter part of January.

Pete Meitzler, the well known hotel man of Lock Haven, gave a banquet last evening to a number of his friends, at the Riverside hotel, in honor of his fifty-third anniversary as a hotel keeper.

Samuel Rhoads, of Centre county, was one of the debating team of the Lock Haven Normal school which defeated the West Chester Normal team in a debate at West Chester last Saturday evening.

W. H. Dyer, of Lock Haven, district agent of the Germania Life Insurance company, was in Bellefonte Thursday last week and paid the estate of the late Gottlieb Haag the amount of the policy held by him in that company.

Last Saturday the wind was so strong down Nittany valley that it blew the roof off a freight car on the local freight on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania while on the trip east to Mill Hall. The roof was carried several hundred feet into an adjoining field.

The annual meeting of the trustees of the Bellefonte Academy was held on Monday afternoon at the Academy. Considerable miscellaneous business was discussed and transacted and J. Thomas Mitchell and Hard P. Harris elected trustees to fill vacancies on the board.

Carinna Fornicola, a young foreigner, sustained painful injuries by the discharge of a blast in the No. 2 quarry of the American Lime and Stone company last Friday morning. One eye was blown out, his nose crushed and his body badly cut and bruised. He was taken to the Bellefonte hospital and while his injuries are serious they are not fatal.

FIFTH REGIMENT STAFF.—Last week the WATCHMAN announced the election of H. S. Taylor, of Bellefonte, to the position of colonel of the Fifth regiment, N. G. P., and George W. Crede, of Blairsville, as lieutenant colonel, as well as a few of Col. Taylor's appointments on his staff. Col. Taylor has now completed his list of appointments, which we are able to announce to our readers this week. It will be noticed that Bellefonte has been especially favored, which is only natural and right that it should be. In the non-commissioned list appear the names of Curtin and Beaver, and there is no doubt but what both these young gentlemen will prove themselves as worthy as did their illustrious ancestors. Ament the bugle corps of sixteen men and the leader, which will be located in Milesburg, chief bugler Toner A. Hogg informs us that he already has almost one hundred applications for the sixteen places to fill. He expects to make his selections in a few days.

The complete roster of the regimental staff is now as follows:

- COMMISSIONED OFFICERS. Colonel, H. S. Taylor, Bellefonte. Lieutenant Col., George W. Crede, Jr., Blairsville. Senior Major, Harry A. Miller, Hollidaysburg. Junior Major, John C. Dunlap, Huntingdon. Captain and Adjutant, Robert F. Hunter, Bellefonte. Captain and Quartermaster, D. M. Caldwell, Indiana. Captain and Commissary, Melvin J. Locke, Bellefonte. Captain and Inspector of Rifle Practice, William G. Reed, Blairsville. Captains and Chaplains, John V. Royer, Altoona. First Lieutenant and Battalion Adjutant, Joseph H. Butler, Altoona. First Lieutenant and Battalion Adjutant, James R. McCoy, Lewistown. Major and Surgeon, R. G. H. Hayes, Bellefonte. Captain and Assistant Surgeon, W. A. Simpson, Indiana. First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon, F. B. Statler, Johnstown.

- NON-COMMISSIONED STAFF. Regimental Sergeant Major, Claude W. Smith, Bellefonte. Regimental Quartermaster Sergeant, Thomas Weaver, Bellefonte. Regimental Commissary Sergeant, H. Laird Curtin, Roland. Regimental Color Sergeant, Milton C. Ruble, Lewistown. Regimental Color Sergeant, H. E. Anderson, Indiana. Chief Musician, Frank Leopold, Clearfield. Battalion Sergeant Major, M. Clay Stayer, Altoona. Battalion Sergeant Major, John P. Bair, Huntingdon. Regimental Bugler, Toner A. Hogg, Milesburg. Regimental Clerk, H. J. Jackson, Bellefonte.

G. A. R. OFFICERS PUBLICLY INSTALLED.—Just forty-four old soldiers were present at the public installation of the newly elected officers of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R., last Saturday evening. Prior to the installation ceremonies the members of the Women's Relief Corps served the soldiers and their friends with a most tempting chicken and waffle supper, with all the et ceteras that go to make such a repast appetizing. From 6:30 until 7:30 o'clock those present enjoyed an after dinner cigar and recounted old-time war tales with the same zest as if the occurrence was but a year old instead of two score years.

At 7:30 the installation ceremonies took place. Gen. William Green, inspector of the Department of Pennsylvania G. A. R., was the installing officer, and the officers installed were the same as given in last week's WATCHMAN. Following the formal ceremonies a campfire was held at which addresses were made by such well known old comrades as General Greene, Col. Spangler, Gen. John I. Cortin, James Harris, W. H. Musser, Emanuel Noll, David F. Fortney, and Rev. James B. Stein, Clement Dale, Esq., and Francis Speer. Col. Austin Curtin presided during the campfire.

NOTHING NEW IN THE GRAY CASE.—Up to the time the WATCHMAN goes to press there is nothing new in the case of the assault on Miss Irene King Gray, of Fairbrook. In fact, since the arrest of the half-breed, Robert Barrell, at Lewistown, last week, and his subsequent discharge in this place because he did not in any way near answer the description of the man, the case seems to have been dropped to a certain extent. Not that the authorities have abated one whit their vigilance to detect and bring to proper punishment the criminal guilty of committing the dastardly crime, but the excitement created at the time the assault was committed has practically died out and the people at large of the community and county have practically given up looking for the man. That he may yet be detected and brought to justice, is the hope of every good citizen, and the proper authorities have not relaxed their vigilance one particle.

FORESTRY AT "STATE".—Dr. B. B. Fernow, who has been elected professor of forestry in the School of Agriculture and Experiment Station of The Pennsylvania State College, will be in State College on January 23rd to take up his work in forestry during the second semester. A general course in forestry will be offered, open to all students in the College who may be able to elect it and also for students who wish to specialize in forestry.

Professor Fernow is the highest exponent of forestry in this country and is noted as an inspiring teacher. He was formerly chief of the division of forestry of the United States Department of Agriculture and later was director of the New York State College of Forestry at Cornell University.

Dr. J. L. Seibert, N. B. Spangler and W. A. Ishler, the commission appointed to inquire into the sanity of Theodore Green, the colored man who some time ago shot at his sister, heard testimony on Tuesday and decided that he was irresponsible for his actions and should be confined in an asylum. He will therefore be taken to Danville.

CHIMES OF NORMANDY.—Under the direction of Charles T. Noll that tuneful opera, "Chimes of Normandy," will be sung in Garman's opera house on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, February 6th and 7th, by a company composed entirely of local talent. The principal parts will be taken by Misses Katharine Brishin and Romie Van Pelt, Hard P. Harris, Geo. R. Meek and Charles T. Noll. The first rehearsal of the opera was held on Tuesday evening.

The Bald Eagle Valley railroad company has decided to build a small station house at Bloomsburg to take the place of the waiting shed now in use there. There will be no station agent placed there but a stove will be placed in the building and it will be attended to by the division foreman on that section.

There was quite an interesting game of basket ball in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last Friday evening between the Bellefonte Academy and Williamsport High school teams, the latter winning by the score of 22 to 18, the visitors scoring six points in the last two minutes of play.

Ed. Woerner is spending the week with friends in Clearfield.

John Dubs, of Huntingdon, spent Saturday on a business trip to Bellefonte.

Davy Stewart returned on Tuesday from a visit with friends in Hagerstown, Md.

Hon. A. A. Stevens, of Tyrone, was a business visitor in Bellefonte on Tuesday.

Miss Emma Ryder, of this place, is visiting her friend, Mrs. Harry Haines, of Tyrone.

John M. Decker left on Monday on a business trip to Washington, D. C., Lancaster and York.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sheffer returned on Monday from a visit with their son, Lester, at Milroy.

Misses Mame and Henrietta Butts are in Philadelphia this week visiting their sister, Mrs. W. F. Reber.

Miss Hattie Hart left Monday for Philadelphia where she will be for some time the guest of Mrs. Thomas.

Miss Rebekah Noll returned on Monday from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Chauncey F. York, at Warriorsburg.

Mrs. Edward Cook, her mother, Mrs. Snyder, and J. O. Brzwer have joined the herd of grip victims in Bellefonte.

Miss Harper and her sister, Miss Maude, left for Wernersville Thursday, where they expect to spend the coming two weeks.

Mrs. Ralph Mallory and her sister-in-law, Miss Edna Mallory, returned last Saturday from a month's stay in Philadelphia.

Mrs. T. A. Ardell was in Williamsport this week packing and shipping her household furniture to her new home at Julia.

Miss Helela Otto, who has been in Bellefonte for the past three weeks, expects to remain at the home of Isaac Longacre until spring.

Mrs. J. D. Geisinger, who had been visiting friends in Bellefonte since before the Holidays, left on Monday for her home in Harrisburg.

Jack Norris, of Altoona, came down on Saturday to spend Sunday with Mrs. Norris and the baby at the Samuel Rine home on Spring street.

Capt. W. C. Patterson, of State College, shook hands with his many friends in Bellefonte on Tuesday while here on a brief trip between trains.

Henry Tibbens, of Bellefonte, dropped in on us on Wednesday morning for his customary annual visit which comes with the same regularity that does the New Year.

John Munson, who lately has been in charge of the concrete work on a big reservoir at Hartford, Conn., has been home this week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Munson.

Farmer John E. Beck, of Nittany, took advantage of the bad weather of Monday to make a business trip to Bellefonte and while here did not forget to remember the poor printer.

Ellis L. Shaffer Esq., formerly of Madisonburg, and late Democratic candidate for sheriff in this county, is now filling the position of room and general clerk at the Ward House, Tyrone.

Ex-sheriff Cyrus Drungart, of Centre Hall, spent Monday in Bellefonte. Of course while here he lost no opportunity to shake hands with his many friends, even though his trip was supposed to be a purely business one.

Among the welcome visitors at the Wagoner office the past week, was Mr. John G. Carson, of Buffalo Run, one of Patton township's best and most prosperous farmers, who found time on Thursday to run in between trains and wish the WATCHMAN a most prosperous year.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Jenkins and daughter Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Jenkins and Mrs. E. S. Dorworth went to Milton on Tuesday to attend the wedding of Miss Annie Jenkins, which occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins, at noon on Wednesday.

Will Keichline, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Keichline, who spent the past year in California but came home just before the Holidays, has concluded that he has enough of the land of earthquakes and on Tuesday left for Milton where he secured a good position in a large machine shop.

Dr. H. W. Tate arrived home on Tuesday from his six week's business and pleasure trip combined spent on that lumbering job of his in the wilds of West Virginia and is now hard at work in his dental parlors in the Bash Arcade. Of course cutting down trees and hand-springing hundred foot logs are great muscle producers and it is no wonder for the doctor to yank out the most stubborn tooth.

Charles Maginney Hood, who was a member of the editorial staff of the Williamsport Grid for several years, has accepted the managing editorship of the State College Times and spent Monday in Bellefonte in the interest of that paper. He made a brief call at the WATCHMAN office and if he is as successful in business as he is pleasant and affable the Times should experience a boom under his management.

When it comes to a knowledge of the intricacies of the clerical work in the freight department of the Pennsylvania railroad our good friend W. B. Thomas has few equals; and when it comes to promptness in paying his subscription to a newspaper, i. e. the WATCHMAN, he has no superiors, but when it comes to betting in a political argument and then leaves it to this paper as proof, as he did on Tuesday, he awakes to the fact that time is flying very fast and none of us are the young boys we used to be.

Dr. J. M. Brockerhoff and J. Harris Hoy are among the Bellefonters in New York this week taking in the big automobile show. Whether this is any indication or not that the doctor contemplates buying a machine to ride to and from his various farms and Harris Hoy delivery wagon to haul his milk and butter around we will leave our readers to judge, but one thing is certain, if they take half the advice given them by Horton S. Ray, who went down a day or two later to join them, they will come home with half of the whole show.

HOMAN—HOY.—A pretty wedding was solemnized at high noon on Wednesday at the home of Mr. Joseph Hoy, in College township, when his daughter, Miss Hannah May Hoy, and Charles Homan were joined in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ralph H. Bergtresser, pastor of the Pine Grove Mills Lutheran church, in the presence of the immediate families. Miss Emma Hoy was maid of honor and John Homan was best man.

Mrs. Homan is an accomplished young lady and very popular among the younger set at State College. Her wedding came as a pleasant surprise to her many friends and is the happy culmination of a courtship begun in childhood. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Homan, and is well known as a promising young man. After a short honeymoon he will assist his father, temporarily, at his home in Pine Grove Mills.

SMITH—KELLY.—Maurice M. Smith, a carriage painter and finisher in the employ of S. A. McQuiston, and Miss Emma Kelly, of this place, were married at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith, at Pine Grove Mills, on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Justice of the peace Jacob Keller officiated and the attendants were George Miller and Miss Edna Thomas. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served and the next day Mr. and Mrs. Smith left on a brief wedding trip.

DEBLER—HOY.—Last Sunday Wallace A. Debler and Miss Alice Hoy, of Brush valley, went to Rebersburg and were united in marriage by Rev. H. C. Bixler.

LIMBERT—PHILLIPS.—A. E. Limbert and Miss Ella S. Phillips were married at Rebersburg last Sunday by the Rev. H. C. Bixler.

WAS IT AN EARTHQUAKE?—Last week we mentioned the fact of people along Tussey mountain, at State College and even in Bellefonte being awakened by what they believed to be an earthquake but which afterwards was supposed to be the shock from the explosion of G. R. Macabee's powder plant at Horrell station, in Blair county. Since then, however, several persons have told the writer that they still believe last Thursday morning's disturbance was an earthquake and not the force of powder's explosion. They explain their insistence in the matter by stating that they felt three very distinct shocks whereas there was only one powder explosion. And further, it is hardly possible that the explosion itself would break windows in Centre county when it was hardly noticed in Altoona and other nearby towns.

GRANGE OFFICERS INSTALLED.—At a regular meeting last Saturday the newly elected officers of Leonard Grange were installed by past master E. C. Musser and George Dale, as follows: Master, Thomas D. Gray; overseer, George Rosman; steward, Ellyer Pansos; assistant steward, Dent Peterson; lady assistant steward, Mrs. M. B. Campbell; chaplain, H. W. McCracken; lecturer, G. B. Campbell; secretary, Harry Koh; treasurer, Milo Campbell; Clerks, Martha Tressler; Pomona, Maude Miller; Flora, Helen Lytle.

Miss Elizabeth Gammo, a former Centre county girl and who is well known by a number of Bellefonters, has instituted breach of promise proceedings against Edgar G. Toner, of Tyrone, claiming damages to the extent of $25,000. In her statement Miss Gammo avers that Toner, in a fit of audent love-making, bit her, that the wound thus inflicted caused cancer which has injured her permanently, and for this she demands an additional $10,000 damages.

While out in his yard one day last week Mrs. Joseph Grossman fell sustaining a fractured arm.

FOR SALE.—A double-heater stove. Very reasonable. Inquire at this office.
