---The Colonial tea at the residence of Mrs. D. H. Hastings last evening, given under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution, drew a large crowd. As it was one week ago, the house was very appropriately decorated for the occasion in colonial design and colors, and illuminated with candles. Of course the tea was prolific enough to answer for a meal. Some of the guests wore exceedingly becoming colonial costumes and the crowd was as charming a picture as it was gay in spirits. One of the features was an artificial cherry tree laden with cherries with the historic invented for the interior of flues to prevent hatchet standing alongside it.

After supper dancing was indulged in'til quite a late hour. The party reported the occasion a most delightful one. The A. B. C. club of this village, an organi - zation of young ladies exclusively, gave a grand Valentine soirce at the home of Miss Helen Weaver on Friday evening last which was quite an event of the season. It proved a most delightful occasion and was largely attended by the young folks. The ladies of the club were determined to have an enterbuilding in America," and forgets the tainment of one continual round of mirth, pleasure and enjoyment, and succeeded admirably in their efforts. The committee of arrangements are to be congratulated on their skillful management and the admirable manner in which everything was conducted. The periors were brilliantly illuminated and very artistically decorated with garlands of evergreen, with innumerable copids, and a wonderful profusion of hearts and love knots of red ribbon, presenting a very pleasing and attractive appearance. The dining room was also handsomely decorated for the occasion. The tables were beautifully set and furnished with a profusion of dainties of a choice and substantial character. Mirth, music, dancing and games consumed the evening. At rather a late hour all retired to theis respective homes, regretting that the Valentine party of the A. B. C. club with all its pleasure and enjoyments was at an end. Amoug those present were Misses Eleanor and Mable Long, Mable Finkle.
