Dehorning a Rhinoceros.

A rhinoceros which lived in the London zoo was troubled by its horn, which grew down in front of its mouth, so that only with difficulty could it eat or drink. To save its life the keeper decided on amputation. The horn of a rhinoceros is not a horn at all, but an accumulation of hair and skin which has hardened and become cemented together by some gummy substance. The owner of this one had a very touchy temper and was not easily approached.

Its keeper, however, decided to try what he could do. For some days it required all his skill to persuade the beast to come to the front of the cage and put its horn through. Then for some days he stroked the horn, much to the animal's disgust at first, although later it seemed to like it. When it across it. When this had been done some time and the rhinoceros no longer minded it, a piece of wood was held in the right hand, and at last, when even this no longer worried the animal, a real saw was brought in and the horn cut off without the slightest remon-

THE LITTLE WEATHER-MAKER.

With an ugly frown, as cross as a bear's, Lagging her steps as a tortoise would, Dorothy Dee came down the stairs. She couldn't, she wouldn't, she said, "be good." Outside the sun shone over all, On the glistening grass, with its dew of pearl. "But inside," sait mother, "the rain does fall,

"If I hear no laugh from my little girl."

Another morning the clouds hung low: Rain fell in torrents, the sky was dull; But as Dorothy down the stair did go,

You could hear her laughter, gay and full. 'Ah," said her mother, with hearty cheer;

"I'm glad such a happy child to see; It shines inside when you laugh, my dear.

"You make my weather, Dorothy Dee!" -[By Mary Barling Street, in Exchange,

The Cause of Soft-Shelled Eggs

Poultry writers, since the time the Shanghai rooster first invaded Boston, have been repeatedly telling us that soft-shelled eggs were caused by an insufficiency of lime in the food consumed by the hens. Such, however, is not the case. The soft shelled egg is a case of arrested development, due to nervous interference with the functions found he meant no harm it let him take the horn in his left hand and then with in mammals, and can likewise be brought the right imitate the motion of a saw about by extreme mental disturbance. In experiments conducted at the Kansas Experiment Station the writer was able to cause the production of soft-shelled eggs by continued excitement of congned hens. It was also shown that the hen's system on an ordinary diet contains enough calcium carbonate for the formation of about five or six eggs. If lime was withheld from the food, the hen after having laid this number of eggs, will stop laying. When lime was given in limited quantities the hens laid apparently normal eggs, but only as fre-quently as the lime furnished would sup-ply shell material. Careful weighings A Philadeiphian was praising for his learning and uprightness the late Judge M. Russell Thayer. He quoted Judge M. Russell Thayer. He quoted the moving passage from Judge Thay-er's will, "Owing to the fact that al most my entire life has been passed in the public service of the United States and of the state of Pennsylvania, I have but a small estate to leave to my have but a small estate to leave to my tific American Leak in Ice Cream.

Baldoni (Riforma Med.) finds considerable amounts of lead in ice cream, fruit ices, etc., as sold in Rome. He attributes many of the disturbances of digestion occurring during the summer when ice cream, fruit ices, sorbets, etc., are consumed in larger quantities to the lead contained in larger quantities to the lead contained in these atticles. The lining of the receptacles in which ice cream is made often consist of an allog of tin and lead. The ingredients of fee cream dissolve this, but in addition to this in turning the mean in the this, in turning the mass in the freezer a certain amount of the lining of the vessel is rubbed into the cream. This was proved conclusively by the write:, who found that particles of tin and copper were precipitat-ed at the hottom of glass vessels in which he melted ice cream. On filtering the liquid these articles also were found on the filter. He destroyed the organic portions rocco was punished by having the of the cream by means of fuming nitric flesh of his hand sliced, the wound acid and by electrolysis, and recovered the filled with salt and the whole hand lead.
