The Centre county medical society held its regular monthly meeting in the arbitration room in the court house on Tuesday. Drs. W. S. Glenn, of State College, and M. J. Locke, of Bellefonte, were elected members. The society decided to hold their annual banquet at the Brookerhoff house on April 12th.

Sunday's snow and the rain and warm weather since resulted in high water in all the streams of Centre county. Spring creek was up to close the danger line in the WATCHMAN office press room, being within six inches of the floor. Fortunately, however, the water began to recede in time to prevent doing us any damage.

The management of the Y. M. C. A. have offered a silver loving cup as the prize trophy for a series of three basket ball games between the Association and Bellefonte Academy teams for the local championship. The first game was played last Thursday evening and was won by the Y. M. C. A. team by the score of 24 to 13.

Wagner Geiss Esq., the obliging and popular manager of the Rhoads coal yards in this place, in addition to his other duties is greatly interested in the poultry business. He tells us that from the 11th of February to the 11th of March twenty-nine Plymouth Rock hens furnished him 476 eggs or an average of 17 per day. Mr. Geiss would like to know if any reader of the WATCHMAN has hens that beat this record.

THE KINGSTON EARTHQUAKE HORROR.—Though the subject matter is a little old the following facts of the earthquake horror at Kingston, Jamaica, are interesting as coming from one who was an eye witness. Many of the WATCHMAN readers will recall the fact that F. D. Ray, brother of Horton S. Ray, landlord of the Brookerhoff house, with his bride were on their wedding trip and were in Jamaica at the time of the earthquake. Fortunately, however, they were not in Kingston at the time but in company with another newly married couple had gone on an excursion some sixty miles inland. At the place they were they felt the earthquake very sensibly, though no damage was done there.

The next morning Mr. Ray and his friend started for Kingston to see what had happened as all telephone communication had been severed. Of course the reader is fully conversant with the horrors of that city and we need not recount them here. The one fact we want to relate is about the hospitality of the English navy officials. An English war ship which happened to get into the Kingston harbor first took all the injured on board the first night but the next morning unloaded them all on the dock where they were left without any medical attendance or assistance of any kind.

In the city of Kingston there were perhaps fifty American women tourists and of course there was no place for them to sleep except out in the open, and nothing to eat but cheese and crackers. Accordingly the American men in the party got together and appointed a committee to visit the war ship and seek permission for the women to sleep on the deck of the vessel. A Catholic priest was chairman of the committee, and Mr. Ray was a member of it. They went on the vessel and preferred their request to the admiral in charge who very scornfully refused to allow anything of the kind, and for two days and nights both men and women were huddled on the docks, living on cheese and crackers and sleeping as best they could at night while the officers on the English ship were parading their vessel in full dress uniform, drinking champagne and smoking cigarettes.

When the Indiana, however, made its appearance, there was a vast difference. All the tourists were taken on board and made comfortable and the ship surgeons were sent ashore to care for the injured while supplies of all kinds were also taken ashore from the battleship store house. And as to the incident of the marines, Mr. Ray is very emphatic in his assertion that they did noble work while ashore and would have done far more had it not been for the officious order for their withdrawal by Governor Swettenham.

APPROACHING NUPTIALS.—A large number of Bellefonters will be interested in the announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Louise French Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lattimer Potter, of Baltimore, to Chauncey O'Neill, of Sewickley, Pa. The wedding will be quite an elaborate affair, the ceremony to take place on Wednesday, April 3rd, in the First Presbyterian church, of Baltimore. Later a large reception will be given at the home of the bride.

The bridal party will include Miss Tamazine Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Potter, of Bellefonte, a cousin of the bride-elect; Miss Eliza Whyte, Miss Melva Evans and Miss Mary Sloan, of Baltimore; Miss Nellie Murdoch, of Cincinnati; Miss Esther McDonald, of New York; Miss Marjorie Allen, of Hartford, Conn. Theodore H. Nevin, of Sewickley, will be best man and the ushers will be Nathaniel M. Mackey, of Chicago; Charles Rafferty, of Pittsburgh; A. Howard Shaw and Charles F. Irwin, of Sewickley. The young people will make their home in Sewickley after a wedding journey.

KNISELY BROTHERS TO RUN NITTANY INN.—The Kniseley brothers, Jacob and Andrew, have leased the Nittany Inn at State College and will conduct it in the future. Since the hotel has been completed about a year ago it has had a succession of landlords. First Mr. Housel conducted the house until he failed since which time four or five men have managed the place. Capt. W. F. Reber tried it awhile but gave it up several weeks ago and Charley Foster has been running it since.

The Kniseley brothers occupy a room in the building with their pool and billiard parlor and of course have had ample opportunity to note the advantages and disadvantages of the place. The Kniseleys will take possession next Monday morning. Andrew will personally conduct the hotel and Jake will continue to run the pool room as heretofore. Naturally, for their sakes as well as for the interest of the college and Nittany Inn all their friends wish for them unlimited success.

PARENTS DAY.—"Parents Day" will be observed in the public schools of Bellefonte next Thursday and Friday, March 21st and 22nd, and the public is cordially invited to attend. This invitation, however, is not merely perfunctory, but is given in the hope that the patrons of the school, parents whose children are students, will attend and see for themselves what is being done. The work done by the scholars this year is claimed to be very good, considerably in advance of former years and the exhibition will surprise everybody. In addition to your seeing what has been done, your presence will show that you feel an interest not only in the schools but in the progress of your own sons and daughters and this is the greatest reason why you should be present on "Parents Day."

George A. Beezer's sale of his livery stable outfits drew a large crowd of horsemen to Bellefonte today.

Seventy men have signed the application for a charter for a local lodge of Elks.

C. Bruce Garman is lying in a critical condition, in his rooms at the Garman house, with heart trouble.

Miss Helen Bickford, of Lock Haven, succeeds Miss Mame McGarvey as retoucher in the Mallory photographic studio.

D. M. Stine, overseer of the poor of South Phillipsburg, is missing and the auditors find that he is $444.27 short in his accounts.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore, of Monongahela City, have moved into the Farst house on west Curtin street. Mr. Moore is now employed at the Lingle foundry.

On Tuesday three young men who were trying to steal a ride on a freight train were arrested at Snow Shoe intersection by a railroad policeman and brought to Bellefonte for a ten days term in jail.

In less than two weeks the State College baseball team will start on its first southern trip and the more than twenty candidates are working hard to get a place on the team as well as to get into shape to keep up the baseball standard of the college to where it has been in past years.

WATCHMAN readers want to be very careful in the future and not contract typhoid fever, as the last ruling of the state board of health is in effect that all typhoid fever cases shall be quarantined and with the card on your door will be given a little book of instructions, though so far we have not learned of what the instructions consist.

Editor T. H. Harter received his commission as postmaster of Bellefonte on Tuesday morning and the same day took possession of the office, so that now it is postmaster Harter. As stated in last week's WATCHMAN there will be no changes made in either the clerical or carrier force of the office and this fact assures everything running along just as smooth as if no change had occurred.

Sunday last brought us another regular old-fashioned snow storm, and as much snow fell as at any one time during the winter. The storm was general all over the State, from Pittsburg to Philadelphia, and even on the Atlantic coast. Fortunately the weather was not very cold nor did it become intensely cold Sunday night, and Monday was so warm that most of the fall of snow melted before evening.

The Pennsylvania Match company is considering the advisability of installing a printing press in their plant at this place for the purpose of printing their own match boxes. This move was first contemplated about a year or more ago but was never carried out and now they have concluded to install a press, as it will mean a very great saving, inasmuch as the printing of their boxes costs a considerable sum of money every year.

Hugh Carson and Charles Peters, two young men living at Butler's block, near Phillipsburg, were arrested on Monday morning by policemen Harry Simler and Samuel Saunkey, of Phillipsburg, on the charge of larceny. The young men are blamed with stealing a lot of goods from the Vulcan Trading company's store at Retort on the night of March 2nd. They were given a hearing before Squire B. J. Laporte who held them under three hundred dollars bail for a further hearing to-day, but on Tuesday Carson made a confession in which he exonerated Peters and implicated George Walk and George Merryman as his accomplices. The two latter were arrested and the three of them brought to jail here on Wednesday.

About three months ago Joe W. Rightour, formerly of this place, but who now is located at a small town in Somerset county, was married to Miss Emma Leach, of Howard. The course of married life evidently did not always run very smoothly for about two weeks ago she left him and returned to Centre county. Expecting that Joe would follow her and go to Howard as the first place likely to look for her she purposely avoided that place and went to the home of her sister, in the neighborhood of Tusseyville, in Pennsylvania. Thursday last week Joe came to Bellefonte and enlisting the help of policeman George Jodon went to Pennsylvania, found his wife and effected a reconciliation. Jodon came home, Mr. and Mrs. Rightour remained at her relatives over night, going through Bellefonte the next morning on their way back to their home in Somerset county.

One of the highest compliments ever paid the WATCHMAN came to us last week in the shape of a letter from Florence, Italy, which contained money for a year's subscription from a young Italian lady who, of course, we had never heard of before. The person was Miss Salome Zimmerman, and in her letter she said: "I have been reading your paper, which sometimes Miss Kate Gummo kindly loaned me, and I have found it so very interesting that I wish to subscribe for it for one year, if you will be so kind as to send it to me. Enclosed find money, etc." The Miss Gummo referred to above is a Centre county woman who has been in Italy for some years and who is well known by many readers of this paper. She is a constant reader of the WATCHMAN and in speaking of the paper as she did Miss Zimmerman not only showed her excellent judgment in such matters but evidenced the sentiment constantly being expressed by the hundreds of the WATCHMAN'S subscribers.

COLLEGE STUDENTS TO PLAY HERE.

The Thespians, the dramatic organization of The Pennsylvania State College, is scheduled to give a performance here on Friday evening, March 22nd. The play which they will present is a roaring farce comedy in three acts, entitled, "The Brixton Burglary," and is replete with bright sayings and grotesque situations; in fact, all the critics are unanimous in their praise of the play and all declare that it is the best one that this noted troupe has ever given.

Several of last year's favorites are still in the cast, and great care has been exercised to secure only the most fitted talent in the college to fill the vacant parts. The company is being instructed by the most skilled professional trainer that it is possible to obtain, and daily rehearsals are now being held. It has been elaborately costumed by a well known Philadelphia house; the management realizes the importance of this department and has not limited time or money in fitting it up properly.

Besides the regular play, The Thespians will bring along the celebrated, "Penn State Quartet" which will render several selections during the evening, an attraction well worth the price of admission. The instrumental music for the occasion will be furnished by the college orchestra of twelve pieces, an organization which has gained a reputation all over the State for its proficiency. These three attractions combined should offer an entertainment which nobody in town can well afford to miss.

The list of places to be visited by The Thespians is as follows: State College, Thursday, March 21st; Bellefonte, Friday, March 22nd; Lock Haven, Saturday, March 23rd; Clearfield, Monday, March 25th; Johnstown, Tuesday, March 26th. Be sure to attend and enjoy a good evening of rare fun. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents. Curtain raises at 8:30 p. m.

THE "WEIGHING" SOCIAL.—The social held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shuey, last Thursday evening, was unusually successful both socially and financially. The unique feature was the "weighing," which was enjoyed by all. The weighmasters certainly knew how to do their duty and they were ably assisted by the reception committee.

Too much praise cannot be given to those who participated in the musical program. The vocal solos were rendered by Miss Fitzgerald, Messrs. Godfrey and Meserrie. The instrumental music was by Mrs. Chas. Donohy and Misses Rachel Shuey, Nana Mallory, Helen Smith, Mary Brown, and Messrs. Danning and Harris Olewina.

Among those who received repeated encores for select readings and recitations were Rachel Shuey, Mildred Grimm, Mary Hicklen, Martha Barnhart and little Isabelle Davis. Mr. Shuey recited some original poetry.

Refreshments were served in the spacious dining room and were much appreciated. The Ladies Aid society and all those who so willingly assisted can feel amply repaid for any effort made for the success of the social.

"A TEXAS RANGER."—An army officer once said, "Any white who claims he is in the fight with Custer at the Little Big Horn must be a renegade because no white man ever came out of that fight alive unless he fought on the side of the Indians." But in the powerful western drama, "A Texas Ranger," you see the life story of a white girl who thinks herself an Indian.

Ne-wa-ta, the white Indian girl, when but a baby was one of a wagon train on their way to win a fortune in the great southwest. One night an attack by the Indians wiped out the entire party except the baby Ne-wa-ta. She was taken by the chief of his village and raised as an Indian. As the story goes she is loved by a half-breed but her love is for a gallant lieutenant of the military post. She deserts her people to warn the fort of an Indian raid. But though she renounces the Indians she risks her own life to save the chief whom she thinks is her father. Ne-wa-ta's life story is sweetly told by the author in "A Texas Ranger," which will be seen at Garman's, this evening, March 15th.

"WHEELING" CLUB.—The people of Wheeling, W. Va., seem to appreciate the Bellefonte Academy as an educational institution from the number of young men who come from that place as students at the interest and feeling the young men from that place have organized themselves into a club which they have named the "Wheeling Club." The officers are Wilson Grubb, president; Albert Sobenok Jr., vice president; Clyde McCarty, secretary, and Townsend Frazier, treasurer. The other members of the club are Albert Dolphin, William Schenck, George Row, George Hornbrook, Clarence Bolton, John South, Carl Eise, Paul Maxwell and L. K. Taylor.

MISSIONARY MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Huntingdon Presbytery will be held in Clearfield March 27th and 28th and promises to be of more than usual interest this year. Missionaries from West and promises to be of more than usual interest this year. Missionaries from West and promises to be of more than usual interest this year.

NOTHING NEW AS TO THE FROMS.—To-morrow at 10 o'clock the habeas corpus hearing in the case of Jacob From and his son James, arrested two weeks ago on the charge of having been implicated in the killing of Josiah Dale on the evening of November 12th, 1906, will take place in the court house before Judge Orris. From the time of the arrest of the two men up to this writing nothing newer than was given in last week's WATCHMAN has developed.

A. L. Millard, the detective on the case and who made the arrest, appears confident that he is on the right trail while both Mr. From and his son very strongly aver their innocence and declare that they can prove where they were every minute of that eventful evening. If they can do this satisfactorily to the court there is no question but that they will be discharged to-morrow.

The WATCHMAN never at any time attempts to bound a man or claim him guilty before convicted. And no matter who the man is, we deplore the fact of having to associate his name with the high crime of murder, and for this reason we hope the Froms, who are old residents of Centre county and well known by many people, will be able to clear their skirts at to-morrow's hearing. On the other hand the murder of Mr. Dale was one of the most cowardly, and so far as known unequalled for any ever perpetrated in Centre county, and justice demands that the perpetrators of the atrocious crime be ferreted out and brought to due punishment regardless of who they are. It is only justice to the citizens of Centre county that the murder of Josiah Dale be avenged according to the law of the land.

NEW PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY FOR BELLEFONTE.—Miss Mame McGarvey has resigned her position in Mallory's photographic studio and with her sister, Miss Blanche McGarvey, will embark in the photographing business for themselves on the first of April. Miss Mame McGarvey has been with Mr. Mallory a number of years and has considerable artistic ability, especially in the matter of posing. She is also quite expert in developing and finishing and her work will no doubt be of a high class order. In addition both young ladies have a wide acquaintance and quite popular and their studio should thus be well patronized without in the least affecting the well-established patronage of the Mallory studio.
