THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Those of our patrons who purpose changing their postoffice address on the 1st of April will confer a favor by giving us their new address at once if possible. Don't fail to see The Thespians to-night. Yesterday was the first day of Spring. Mrs. Mattie Erey, of Pine street, is quite ill, threatened with pneumonia. The State College base ball team will start on its first southern trip next Wednesday. William Carson recently purchased a nice team of horses from Larimer and Musser. Mrs. L. T. Mun-on entertained a party at bridge last evening in honor of Mrs. W. B. Dix. The borough auditors are now hard at work auditing the various accounts of the borough officials. Spring is approaching sure, as the storm doors have been removed from the Bush house entrance. Mrs. Roland Spicer was taken to the Bellefonte hospital Saturday night suffering with blood poison. The employees at Crider's planing mill had a day off on Monday owing to the breaking of the engine. Mr. James Kane left on Tuesday Morning for Philadelphia to enter a hospital for treatment for a bad sore on his neck. At Yearick's sale down in Nittany valley on Tuesday one of the horses sold for $299.50. It was said she was a fine mare. Martin Dale and family yesterday moved from the Armor home on east Linn street to one of the Reynolds farms at Rockview. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Shoemaker entertained the officials and clerks of the Centre county bank at a dinner last Saturday evening. Frank Crawford has leased the house on Spring street now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilmour and will move there on April first. The Ladies Aid Society of the United Evangelical church will hold an ice cream and cake festival in the lecture room of the church this evening. The Haupt brothers have secured the contract for building the concrete abutments for the new bridge over Elk creek in the borough of Millheim. Miss Mary Crider gave a dinner at the home of her parents last Friday evening in honor of Miss Mary Harris Weaver, at which thirty covers were laid. George Everhart lost the top of the second finger on his right hand by getting it too close to a swiftly revolving saw at Crider's planing mill, on Tuesday. D. J. Willard, of Union City, has leased the vacant room in Crider's exchange and will open a general dry goods and shoe store there on or about April 15th. Ben Williams, colored, who some months ago underwent an operation in a Philadelphia hospital, has been compelled to return to the Quaker city for further treatment. Beginning Monday the stores of Bellefonte will now keep open until eight o'clock every evening, except Saturday evening, when they will remain open until ten o'clock as usual. The Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. basketball team was defeated last Friday evening, in the gymnasium at this place, by the Williamsport Dickinson Seminary team, by the score of 50 to 28. Sunday was St. Patrick's day and the members of the Undine fire company celebrated the event by holding a special meeting on Saturday evening at which appropriate speeches, etc., were made. Harry Taylor, who for some time past has been employed in Baltimore, has returned home and in the future will assist his brother, Col. Hugh S. Taylor, in the management of the Bellefonte Steam Heat and Gas plant. Miss Edna Hamilton entertained twenty-five young ladies and gentlemen at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, on Penn street, last Saturday evening, in honor of Cyrus Matern, of Pitsaira, a guest at the Hamilton home. Herbert Campbell, of Milesburg, furnished the music for the evening. H. H. Harshberger and family, who have been residents of Bellefonte for over a quarter of a century, left here on Wednesday and moved to Altoona where they will make their home in the future. Mr. Harshberger intending to embark in the insurance and real estate business. May success attend them in their new home. Lee Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Miles Walker, has been quite ill with the quincy at his parents home the past week. Lee is now located at Syracuse, N. Y., and is employed as a civil engineer by the New York Central railroad. When he became sick, however, he thought it best to come home as the best place to get proper treatment.

JACOB FROM HELD, HIS SON JAMES DISCHARGED.—Jacob From, of Centre Hall, will have to stand trial before a court and jury on the very grave charge of having shot and killed Josiah C. Dale, on the evening of November 12th, 1906, while his son James, who was arrested as an accomplice of his father, was discharged from custody but held in eight hundred dollars bail for his appearance at court. Such was the result of the habeas corpus proceedings in the case, held last Saturday before Judge Ellis L. Orvis. Not since the famous Andrews trial back in January, 1890, has there been such interest shown in any trial as was manifested in the hearing last Saturday. The court house was crowded, scores of people standing in the various aisles, with those eager to hear what evidence the Commonwealth had against the man accused of so grave a crime. The Commonwealth was represented by district attorney W. G. Runkle, ex-Judge John G. Love and N. B. Spangler, while the defendant had as his attorneys John M. Keichline and J. C. Meyer Esqs. The first witness called was Mrs. Kate Dale, widow of the murdered man, who, after the customary preliminary questions, stated that on November 12th, 1906, her husband left home about one o'clock to go to the farm on the top of the Nittany mountain to husk corn, and that it was about 8.30 o'clock in the evening when he was brought home dead. Dr. M. J. Locke, of Bellefonte, testified that he made the post-mortem examination of the body of Mr. Dale at the inquest held on the morning of November 13th. That he found an open wound in the left side of the back. The wound was about one and one-fourth inches in diameter. Surrounding it were five shot holes. The wound was made by a load of shot fired at close range and extended inward and downward at an angle of about twenty degrees. Portions of the fourth and fifth ribs were carried away as well as a portion of the left lung. The pulmonary artery was severed, a number of shot were imbedded in the heart while almost the entire load went through the body and as buried in the walls of the abdominal cavity. Death was practically instantaneous. Dr. P. S. Fisher, of Zion, county coroner, testified to the holding of the inquest and corroborated Dr. Locke's testimony as given above. Margaret Moyer, wife of Andrew Moyer, who occupied the Dale farm at the time he was killed but who have since moved to Centre Hall, testified that in March, 1906, prior to their moving on the Dale farm, Mr. From wanted them to have Dale sell his cows and they (the Moyers and Mr. Dale) take Dale's cows to keep. On being told that Dale refused to do so, Mrs. Moyer swore that From declared he would "put the barn in ashes" and also "lay Dale low." On cross examination Mrs. Moyer told of the day Dale was at the farm and met his death but stated that she did not know definitely what time it was when he started home, as she was back of the house boiling apple-butter and the only way she knew Dale had gone was when she missed his horse and buggy from the barnyard, and that was close to seven o'clock. She also swore that her husband was with her all the time from the time he arrived home from Centre Hall about 5.30 o'clock. Andrew Moyer's testimony was merely a corroboration of his wife's story. He also swore that he heard From say he would burn Dale's barn and lay him low, as the threats were made at the Moyer home in Centre Hall prior to their moving on the Dale farm. Frank Shutt and Robert Smith testified that one day while in the former's blacksmith shop From had made the remark that Dale would have to suffer for what he had done. Mrs. Mary Decker, who lives just across the alley from the From home, testified that she was at home all day on November 12th, 1906. Late in the afternoon she went up town to the postoffice and the doctors, and that it was quite dark when she got home. She saw a man come out of the From house and start up the mountain. He was carrying something, but she did not say whether it was a stick or a gun, as it was too dark to distinguish objects plainly. About seven o'clock she heard a gun shot and a half hour or so later heard quite a commotion in From's house. The next morning From told her that Dale had been shot at seven o'clock the evening before at the Adam Nearhoof road on the mountain, and that he supposed he would be blamed for doing it, because he and Dale had had a lawsuit. Sometime previous she had heard From make various threats against Dale. Then came the most remarkable part of the witness testimony in which she swore that about three weeks prior to the arrest of the Froms, father and son, Mr. From was walking up and down the alley between his house and hers and talking to himself and that she very distinctly heard him say that he took his gun and went up the mountain and killed Dale. On cross-examination the witness admitted that she and the Froms had not been on the best of terms for several years, but she stuck close to the story told on her examination in chief. The witness denied that she had ever said she would swear the crime on From in order to shield her son. Margaret Guisewhite, mother of Mrs. Decker, and a tottering woman eighty-two years of age, also testified to having heard the shot fired on the evening of November 12th, and to hearing From say he had gone up the mountain and shot Dale the morning he was walking in the alley and talking to himself. On cross-examination she admitted that she did not see

From, as her eyesight was poor, but that she knew him from his voice as her hearing was very good. She also denied that the detective or anybody else had told her to tell this story. John Rowe testified that he was at From's house shortly after Mr. Dale was murdered and that From had said he was glad he was dead. John T. Zeller and John Moore both testified that they were at John Kennedy's butchering and when it came to killing the hogs some one inquired for a gun and Mr. Kennedy said he had none, whereupon From spoke up and said that if he had known it he would have brought his shooting-iron along—the one he killed Dale with. On cross-examination, both men admitted that they all considered it merely one of From's jokes and had no thought that he was serious about it. John Trafford testified to a conversation he had with From in the jail in which the latter told him that "Old Mary" (Mrs. Decker) would swear that he had gone up the mountain with a gun on his shoulder, but that he only went as far as his field and that he did not have a gun. A. L. Millard, the detective, testified that when he went to see From the latter told him that he had nothing but a ten gauge shot gun. That he used to have a twelve gauge gun but had sold it shortly after the granger's picnic. Millard further testified that twelve gauge shells could be shot out of From's ten gauge gun as he had tried it himself. Morris Lencowitz, also a detective, testified that he was the first man to undertake to hunt down the Dale murderer or murderers, having gone to Centre Hall on November 22nd, 1906, and remained there a number of weeks. That during that time he had gone out hunting with James From some four or five times. The first time they went out together young From carried a twelve gauge single barrel shot gun. He also swore that the last time he went to get young From to go along with him his father told him to be careful, keep his mouth shut and not say anything. The last witness was W. B. Shutt, who testified he met the detective and young From the first time they went hunting together and that From carried the twelve gauge gun described by the detective. With this testimony the Commonwealth rested. J. C. Meyer Esq., made an earnest appeal for the discharge of the prisoner on the grounds that insufficient evidence had been submitted by the Commonwealth to justify holding him for trial. Ex-Judge Love argued the case for the Commonwealth and Judge Orvis at once decided that the evidence was sufficient to justify holding him for trial. At the same time he announced that the case against young From would be held under advisement until Monday but on Saturday afternoon he decided that there was no evidence to hold him as an accomplice in the perpetration of the crime and ordered his discharge on the condition that he furnished bail in the sum of eight hundred dollars for his appearance at court. Bail was furnished and young From was discharged the same afternoon. Mr. From was very nervous during all of Saturday's hearing and when the Judge announced his decision he broke down and sobbed like a child. C. M. Garman has been quite sick at his home in Atlantic City the past week or two but is now so much improved that his complete recovery seems assured. It is very evident that The Thespians will have a big house at Garman's tonight, as most all the choice seats were taken several days ago. And if you want to get a seat at all you had better have it reserved at once. Mrs. Edward Saxton, of Bishop St., was taken to the Bellefonte hospital last Saturday and on Monday underwent quite a serious operation. At this writing she is very much improved and her friends are hopeful of her recovery. Rev. J. C. Kelley, who for the past fifteen years or more has been pastor of the Presbyterian church at Williamsburg, has resigned to take effect at once. Rev. Kelly years ago was the pastor at Baileyville, this county, and has many friends up in that section of this and Huntingdon counties. The weather man has been giving us a touch of genuine March-like weather this week. Beginning with the real spring-like article on Sunday and Monday we were confronted with from two to three inches of snow on Tuesday morning, then a day of rain, and thunder and lightning with terrific rain storms Tuesday evening and night, while Wednesday came in with weather cold enough for January. From all indications Bellefonte will have quite a number more new automobiles this coming summer than it has ever had in the past. The last man to order one was Harry L. Garber, who is getting a Buick run-about like Hugh Crider's. And still there are others very seriously considering the question of getting either a car or run-about, so don't be surprised at seeing most any man in town in one. "Parents Day" was celebrated at the public school building yesterday and quite a large number of the patrons of the schools were present. And it can well be said that all were very much surprised at the display of work done there by the students in attendance this year. Today will be "Parents Day" at both the stone and Howard street buildings and the people of Bellefonte who feel an interest in the welfare of the school should make it a point to attend.

BEEZER'S LIVERY SALE A BIG ONE.—The public sale of George A. Beezer's livery stable and outfit, which took place on Thursday of last week and consequently was finished too late in the day to give any accurate report in the WATCHMAN, was by all odds the biggest livery sale ever held in Central Pennsylvania. Beginning at 9.30 o'clock in the morning it was well on towards five o'clock in the evening when the last horse was disposed of, and even then it kept auctioneers John S. Williams and son, of Bloomsburg, just as busy as they could be all day to get through when they did. The prices realized were fairly good, one team of horses bringing $330, while for the carriages and buggies very good prices were obtained. The entire sale amounted to about six thousand dollars, which was a very fair figure considering the fact that Mr. Beezer had disposed of about two thousand dollars worth of horses and wagons at private sale prior to his public vendue. The closing of the Beezer livery stable will undoubtedly be felt by the traveling public dependent on hiring rigs. Mr. Beezer had been in the business for the past fourteen years and in that time always had on hand anywhere from five to twenty-four horses, in late years averaging close to the latter figure, and one could always count on getting a good turnout. Of course there are other good livers in Bellefonte and of course Beezer's large patronage will be divided among them. Mr. Beezer expects in the future to give his entire time to conducting a sale and exchange stable. Quite naturally he now feels somewhat like a fish out of water, as this is the first time in fourteen years that he does not own a horse. But we predict that he will not be without one very long; in fact, he now has his eyes on several and it will not be many days until he will be offering his friends big bargains in superior horseflesh. THE THESPIANS.—This is the evening for the appearance of The Thespians, the well known dramatic organization of The Pennsylvania State College, at Garman's opera house, in their new play, "The Brixton Burglary," and they should be greeted with a crowded house. "The Brixton Burglary" is said to be one of the best pieces The Thespians have ever put upon the stage and their initial performance at the College last evening proved that they have mastered it in every detail. In the cast this year are such well known students as J. Bart Smith, manager; Frank Octave Leitzell, William Alexander Laird, John Stuart Romig, William Ernest Ruder, Ellsworth Chaucey Dunkle, Walter Asabel Newton, Phillips Payne Partridge and Sprague McCosh Thompson, of the class of '07, and Frederick William Heckle, Glenn Brown Hastings and Robert Byers Meekley, of '08. In addition they will have with them the college quartette and orchestra, or twenty-six people in all. Don't fail to see them this evening. THE BEAUTY DOCTOR.—Beautiful women, catchy music, side-splitting comedy and scenic and lighting effects are the reputed features of Fred E. Wright's production of "The Beauty Doctor" which will be the attraction at Garman's, Monday night, March 25th. Mr. Wright has provided for "The Beauty Doctor" one of the largest companies now in musical comedy, and the excellent cast comprises no less than four comedians with equally good parts. Many special numbers, large in ensemble and catchy in musical environment are part of the composition of the comedy, and the cast is of special strength, with a chorus noted for its beauty as well as its singing strength and agility. Henrietta Tedro and Will Philbrick head the cast, with Marie Hylands, Jessie Cardowine, Hope Gage, Jennie Bippman, Harry Bewley, J. Grant Gibson, Earl Redding, Albert Farrington, and many others. The Howard creamery plant in this place has been sold by J. Harris Hoy to D. Harry Shivery, of Buffalo Run, who will operate it in the future. Mr. Hoy has retained his store in this place and will continue to conduct it in the future as in the past. Of course at his sale next week Mr. Hoy will sell his entire herd of dairy cattle so that after that date he will also discontinue his dairy wagons which have been coming to Bellefonte regularly the past four or five years. Almost eighteen months ago a big California trout which measured twenty-eight inches and weighed over six pounds, was caught in Logan's branch near the Nittany furnace. The Kniesly brothers secured the fish and sent it to Charles H. Elden, Williamsport, to be mounted. It has taken all this time to mount the trout but the preserved specimen was received on Tuesday and is now on exhibition in their pool room and cigar store on Allegheny street. Rev. George M. Whitenach has resigned his pastorate of the Presbyterian church at State College for the purpose of accepting a call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Youngstown, Ohio. Rev. Whitenach has been at State College only about one year but in that time has endeared himself to his congregation and it was with deep regret they received the notice of his resignation. He expects to leave for Youngstown about April first. Tuesday evening the Bellefonte Academy and Y. M. C. A. basketball teams undertook to play the second in the series of games for the local championship and silver loving cup trophy, but after eighteen minutes of play a squabble arose between the players and the game was called off. At the time the score stood 6 to 4 in favor of the Academy.

SHOPE—LEBKICKER.—Joseph S. Shope, formerly of Snow Shoe, but now located in Tyrone, and Miss Mary S. Lebkicker, of Snow Shoe, were united in marriage Tuesday evening of last week. The ceremony was performed in their newly furnished apartments in the Owens block, Tyrone, by Rev. F. L. Bergetresser. Mr. Shope is an employee of the Pennsylvania railroad company and an industrious young man. STOVER—GATES.—J. C. Stover and Miss Margaret Gates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Gates, of Huntingdon Furnace, but formerly of this county, were married recently at the home of the bride's parents, where a big reception was later tendered them. Both young people are highly esteemed by a large circle of acquaintances who wish them a happy journey through life. SCHENCK—FETZER.—Roland Schenck, and Miss Pearl Fetzer, of Yarnell, were quietly married in the parlors of the Garman house on Tuesday morning, Rev. E. G. Richardson, of the Episcopal church, performing the ceremony. The show that comes to Garman's next Monday night is a good one, take our word for it. "The Beauty Doctor" is one of the cleverest musical comedies that has ever been sent on the road and, in this case, the presenting company is a good one. It is not often that shows of this class get into Bellefonte so that the people really do not know just what to expect. You remember we told you to see the "Buster Brown" show early last fall. A great many saw it and were pleased. Those who did not complain because they could not pick out the good from the mediocre. That is the reason we are telling you not to miss "The Beauty Doctor" if you enjoy a light musical comedy away above the average Bellefonte attraction. LOCK HAVEN BOY DROWNED.—Calvert Evans, the sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Evans, of Lock Haven, and who was a relative of the Harper and Garman families in this place, was drowned in the Susquehanna river on Tuesday. He and a companion had undertaken to go from Lock Haven to Jersey Shore in a light canoe and the strong current in the river upset the frail craft. His companion was rescued but Evans sank before he could be reached. At last accounts his body had not been recovered. NEW CLOSING TIME FOR POSTOFFICE ON SUNDAY.—Postmaster Thomas H. Harter gives notice that hereafter the Bellefonte post office will close at 10:25 on Sunday morning instead of 10:30 as heretofore. This will enable the employees of the office to attend the various churches to which they belong, which services begin at 10:30. When trains are late this order will be disregarded. W. A. White, who has been undergoing treatment in the Bellefonte hospital for some time, and was compelled to submit to an amputation of one leg, is getting along all right now and will recover if no other complications set in. While coming down street on Monday Claude Cook slipped and fell, hurting his right hand and wrist quite badly. News Purely Personal Harry L. Garber, the broker, made a trip to Baltimore on Sunday. Miss Ursula Bayard was an arrival home from Williamsport last Thursday evening. Miss Emma Aiken visited friends in Williamsport several days the past week. William P. Brew, of Camden, N. J., was a few days visitor in Bellefonte this week. George T. Brew, of Bonocoverte, W. Va., transacted business in Bellefonte this week. Noah H. Swayne 2nd, of Philadelphia, was a business visitor to Bellefonte on Wednesday. Walter Crosthwaite, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting friends in Bellefonte and at State College. Miss Louise Callaway went to Baltimore last Saturday afternoon for a two weeks visit with friends. Mrs. John Price Jackson, of State College, has gone to Urbana, Ohio, to visit her sister, Mrs. Harry Wood. Fred Rosebarger came down from Altoona on Sunday just to see how his old friends in this place were getting along. Phil McGinley, of Sparrows Point, Md., was an arrival in Bellefonte on Sunday morning, remaining until Wednesday. Mrs. Hillary, wife of Prof. Frederick Hillary, of State College, with her little son spent Sunday at the home of Dr. Edith Schrad. Mrs. Richard Gussalus and her little granddaughter, Hazel Pemberton, are away on a two weeks visit with friends in Pitsaira. Mr. Good, of Philadelphia, title attorney for the American Lime and Stone company, spent a day or two in Bellefonte this week on a business trip. Sam Rumberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rumberger, who now holds a good position at Nixmont, near Pittsburg, was home the past week visiting his father and mother. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crider went to Atlantic City Wednesday for a two week's sojourn after which they will go to Philadelphia and visit their daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Dorworth. Miss Marie L. White has been home for a few days preparatory to changing her position from Philadelphia to Williamsport where she will enter the offices of the Hon. Seth T. McCormick. Miss Tamazine Potter left on Monday morning for Baltimore where she will be one of the bridal party at a two weeks house party prior to the wedding of Miss Louise French Potter. Mrs. Louis Reber, of State College, left for New York last Friday where she was joined this week by Mrs. Hay. From New York they will go to Norfolk, expecting to spend two weeks visiting in the South. Col. and Mrs. John A. Woodward, of Howard were Bellefonte visitors on Tuesday. The colonel intends to retire from farming on April 1st. He has rented his farm and with his family will move to Howard and hereafter live a retired life. J. Mac. Curtin, who holds a good position with the Westinghouse people in Pittsburg, came to Bellefonte last Saturday and spent a few days with his father and mother at Roland as well as with friends in this place. Mac is still the same genial fellow he was when he played football at State College.

COUNCIL'S DOINGS.—The usual eight members were present at Monday night's meeting of borough council. The reports of the various committees included nothing of any special importance. Revs. J. Allison Platts, E. G. Richardson and Amrose M. Schmidt, representing the Bellefonte ministerium, were present to urge upon council the necessity of passing a new law. In support of the movement a committee from the W. C. T. U. was also present. Council heard their argument and then on motion of Mr. Brown authorized the borough solicitor to draw up a new ordinance and submit it to council at its next meeting when the matter will be taken under consideration. The bonds of Thomas Howley, overseer of the poor, and William B. Rankin, borough treasurer, were offered and approved by council. Charles T. Noll asked for a crossing on Water street opposite the Bellefonte steam laundry. The report of fire marshal John J. Bowser for the year 1906 was read and accepted. S. D. Gettys was present to urge council to make an early settlement of the claim for damages against the borough by George A. Beezer, claimed because of the filling up of Water street in front of his livery stable. The Fire and Police committee recommended the appointment of William Beezer as chief of police, with no increase of salary. The appointment was made. The following bills were approved and orders drawn: W. H. Musser.....$ 2 00 Street pay roll..... 42 00 Bellefonte Gas Co..... 48 10 Police pay roll..... 51 50 Water Works pay roll..... 57 25 $200 85 A NARROW ESCAPE.—William Lyon, who works in the Armor Gage quarries of the American Lime and Stone company, had a narrow escape for his life on Wednesday. A blast was being put off and the men as usual went into a frame building for protection from the flying stone. The blast was an unusually powerful one and a stone weighing from twenty-five to thirty pounds was hurled in the air and came down with such force as to crush through the roof of the shanty-like building in which the men had taken refuge, striking Mr. Lyon on the right side with such force that his watch was smashed into pieces. He was knocked down and badly stunned but fortunately was not out, although very badly bruised. His injury was such, however, that he had to be taken home and will be unable to work for some time. Had the stone fallen one foot to the left and hit him on the head it would have crushed his skull and killed him instantly. Special Sale. 15 organs, Cottage style, Standard makes, such as Estey, Bardett and Mason and Hamlin, at $20 each, or the lot for $300. Also one upright and three square pianos, the lot for $100. We are compelled to clear our store room for new goods, which will arrive soon. We invite you to call and see the goods. Come early and get the greatest bargain ever offered. Open evenings. M. C. GEPHART, Bellefonte, Pa. Sale Register. WEDNESDAY MARCH 27th.—At the residence of Mrs. J. Kyo McFarlane, on east Curtin street, all kinds of household furniture. Sale at 1 o'clock.
