

WILLARD'S BAZAAR

Willard will open the way Wednesday, May 1st, to True Buying Economy, in the Crider Exchange, the room formerly occupied by G. R. Spigelmeyer.

THE WILLARD WAY—Buying for Cash, Dependable Merchandise at such prices only as will enable him to undersell all competition. Likewise, and at one price only, thus treating everyone alike. Those who are accustomed to paying cash as they go, will have the satisfaction of knowing that here they are paying only their own bills, and not contributing to the fellows account who never pays.

—SELLING FOR CASH ONLY.—

—) EVER STOP TO THINK (— of the evil of the easy payment plan, the siren song that leads us on to buying things we do not need? Of all the snares to entrap mortals, there is none that causes more tears and heart-aches than the installment plan. A credit account is the most insidious form of borrowing money, when you don't pay the merchant at once for the goods. You buy from him, you are borrowing money from him, and disguised in the price is much more than the legal rate of interest. Better to borrow the actual cash and know how much you have to pay for the accommodation; but it is better still to practice self denial and go without the thing you want 'till you have the actual cash to pay for it. Debt is a rope to your foot, cockle burrs in your hair, and a clothes pin on your tongue.

GET IN THE WAY OF THE WILLARD WAY,

pay as you go. If you are dissatisfied with your purchase here, after you have taken it home, bring it back and exchange it or get your money back; we are not afraid to take back anything we sell. You'll be astonished at the bold simplicity of OUR WAY OF DOING THINGS—and you'll be amazed at the stocks, the styles, the qualities, and above all the PRICES. Once tested our prices are simply irresistible—I tell you neighbor, IT'S THE PRICE THAT ALWAYS TELLS THE TALE.

The prices we make for you are

BARGAIN PRICES, SHERIFF'S PRICES, SALE PRICES, MANUFACTURERS PRICES,

Prices that no other store in this town can duplicate. We get the Bargains, we give the Bargains.

To sum up this whole question of saving, you won't in a good days walk, find another store where you can spend both your time and your money half as well or half as profitable as you can here. Loose no time on

WEDNESDAY, MAY 1st,

but come here and make your selections while the assortment is at its best. I have come here to stay permanently and make my home here and I trust my coming will be mutually profitable and my business methods and dealings commend your patronage.

D. I. WILLARD,

Crider's Exchange.
