

ONLY A FEW FRIENDS PRESENT

New York, May 14.—In order to escape the unlucky 13th of the month, William Ellis Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, and Mabelle Gilman, the former actress, were not married until after midnight. The ceremony took place in the royal suite at the Hotel Gotham, in the presence of a small party of friends of the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Clark, pastor of the Bushwick Avenue Congregational church, of Brooklyn.

The royal suite in the Hotel Gotham is on the third floor on the Fifth Avenue side, and consists of eight rooms. The salon and the dining rooms were decorated with hundreds of American beauty roses. The management of the hotel and those in charge of the decorations were given carte blanche, and the wedding is said to have cost $5000. The banquet was one of the most sumptuous ever served in this city.

After the supper was over the party, led by Mr. Corey and his bride, passed down the hall between the rows of palms to the double salon, which was decorated to represent a small church. Broad white ribbons attached to small white posts formed an aisle down the center of the room, on either side of which were the chairs for those invited to witness the ceremony.

At the head of the aisle was a small white altar before which was a prie-dieu covered with white silk, at which the couple knelt during the ceremony. On each side of the altar rose a white column, the two being joined by an arch. The columns and arch were heavily draped with smilax, dotted with hundreds of orchids. From the center of the arch hung a large wedding bell of lilacs of the valley.

There was no music, and there were no bridesmaids, Miss Gilman being attended only by Miss Frances Erskine Shaw, of London. Mr. Corey was unattended.

After the nuptials Mr. Corey and his bride took an automobile and were whirled away to Hoboken, where they boarded the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II, which sailed for Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Corey will proceed to Paris and will then go to the Chateau Genis, 25 miles from Paris, where the honeymoon will be passed. They expect to remain there until they return to America about the middle of July.

Mr. Corey's only gift to his bride was the Chateau Genis.

Among the guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Jeannette Gilman, mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thomas, of McKeesport, Pa., brother-in-law and sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peck, of Gloversville, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Corey, father and mother of the groom, of Braddock, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Corey, Jr., of Donora, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stanley Riggs, of New York, brother-in-law and sister of the groom; Miss Frances Erskine Shaw, of London; Judge and Mrs. Elbert H. Gary, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Alva Dinkey, of Pittsburgh.

WATCH SAVED HIS LIFE

Bullet Aimed at Man's Heart Hit His Timepiece.—Scranton, Pa., May 13.—Claude Waters, a railroad engineer, owes his life to a watch which he carried in his vest pocket. Waters, Peter Molehon, an Italian, with a crowd of other people, were watching an amateur base ball game in Little England, a suburb of Scranton, when a row began over a dog which the Italian owned. When the crowd began to press upon Molehon, he drew his revolver and fired point blank at Waters.

The bullet hit the watch in Water's pocket almost in direct line with the heart. He fell, either from the force of the ball or from fright, but when he was picked up he was found to be uninjured. The Italian was placed under arrest.

Murder Ends Boyish Quarrel.

Brunswick, Me., May 13.—Cherishing resentment over a boyish quarrel that took place two weeks ago, Sydney Preble, 15 years old, shot and killed Morris W. Heath, aged 18 years, in Bowdoin. The crime was not discovered until M. S. Heath, father of the murdered boy, found the body buried under pine spills and leaves at the edge of a swamp. Preble was arrested and immediately confessed the crime.

Where a Rainbow Touches the Earth.

In every country in the world rainbow folklore declares that some object of value may be found where the ends of the beautiful arch touch the earth. In Suabia the ends are said to rest on bowls of gold; in Hungary, that cups of silver will be found at the spot where they come in contact with the earth. In Switzerland it is said that a shoe cast over the rainbow will come to the ground on the other side filled to overflowing with gold. In Bosnia it is said that if iron or other base metal happen to be at the spot where the bow touches the ground it will be instantly transformed to pure gold. In many parts of Germany, Poland, Russia, Belgium and Holland it is said to be a golden key that may be found at "the end of the bow." In Portugal and Spain they speak of the "silver hen" having her nest where the bow rests, and in Norway it comes to the ground at a spot where a golden bowl and a silver spoon are hidden. In many of the chief European countries it is said that water touched by the rainbow will cure fits and insanity.

The Oldest Toy.

The most primitive toy is the doll. It dates back to prehistoric times and is found in every part of the world. This one would naturally expect to find a child, seeing its mother nursing younger children, would imitate the example with an improvised doll.

Toy weapons, again, are older than history.

Many of the older toys at present in use date from the earliest times of which we have any record. In the tombs of the ancient Egyptians, along with painted dolls having movable limbs, have been found marbles, leather covered balls, classic balls and marionettes moved by strings. Ancient Greek tombs furnish clay dolls, toy horses and wooden carts and ships. In the Louvre there are some Greco-Roman dolls of terra cotta with movable joints fastened by wires. Greek babies had rattles (platage). Greek boys played with whipping toys. So did the boys in ancient Rome (Vergil, Aen.; bk. 7). Horace speaks of children trundling hoops, playing odd and even with nuts, etc.

The English Wedding Ring.

A man who was buying a wedding ring unconsciously imparted the information that the bride was an English woman.

"Then this ring will never suit her," said the clerk. "It is a good ring, but it is eighteen karat. Nothing less than a twenty-two karat wedding ring will satisfy an Englishwoman. The eighteenth karat ring is the usual wedding ring in this country, but in England and France, and indeed in most European countries, the bride would refuse at the very altar a man who offered to marry her with any other than a twenty-two karat ring."—New York Sun.

Spring Mills.

Our fishermen report trout fishing very unsatisfactory. They seem scarce in this neighborhood.

J. H. Bell and R. L. Cameron, of Hollidaysburg, were here last week, visiting friends in the valley.

Garden making has been slow work this spring, too cold and wet to make any headway. The most that is planted at present is the onion, few gardens are ready for anything else, at least in this neighborhood.

C. E. Zeigler, dealer in musical instruments, is building a very handsome parlor to his residence. The dwelling is located on the side of the "hill," considerably elevated from the town proper, and presents a very attractive appearance.

D. H. Schlegel, the lightning plasterer, as he is frequently called owing to the rapidity of his work, of late has been very busy putting down concrete walks and pavements here and elsewhere. This business he understands thoroughly, consequently his services are in great demand. Mr. Schlegel has been forced to postpone a very considerable amount of plastering and paper hanging on account of previous engagements with concrete work.

The board walks are being decidedly improved. Our genial postmaster set the ball in motion by putting down a concrete walk in front of his residence, and he will eventually extend it to the postoffice building. Mr. Allison has removed the old worn out board walk from the mill to Rossman's store and it is now a fine gravel walk, and with the old fence removed presents a fine appearance. Several parties residing along the creek road, are making preparations to put down concrete pavements.

During the week I stepped into the millinery parlors of Miss Lizzie Stover to take a general view of the spring and summer shapes and styles of feminine headwear, always an interesting subject, and I must say that the styles are all decidedly pretty; and in fact, many are strikingly handsome. Miss Stover when in the city displayed her usual exquisite taste in selections, and in consequence no better nor more stylish headwear was ever brought to Spring Mills. She is doing an excellent business.

Being in Penn Hall a day or two since I met Mr. J. C. Condo, proprietor of the Penn Hall carriage works, who kindly invited me into the salesroom to take a look at the various styles of vehicles which had just been arranged for inspection and sale. Carriages, buggies, runabouts, Concord and top spring wagons are there in several styles and finish, with running gears finished in high colors, and all so highly polished that the panels resembled mirrors. These vehicles are made in the best possible manner out of thoroughly seasoned stock, and upholstered with heavy imported English cloth. It was a beautiful sight and well worth seeing. Last week Mr. Condo sold six vehicles in Millin county, and among them was an elegant high grade Concord. The works are running on full time and doing a large business.

—The women's ward, a frame building at the Grand View sanatorium, a consumptive hospital near Oil City, was destroyed by fire early on Wednesday morning. Eight of the women patients, who were sleeping at the time, were rescued with difficulty. Loss, $40,000. Origin of fire not known.
