231 PERSONS AFTER CASH

New York, June 18 .- It would need $100,000,000 annually to satisfy the people who send petitions to Miss Helen Gould. The requests for gifts and loans she receives aggregate nearly $2,000,000 a week, and they range all the way from the asking for $15 for a set of false teeth to $1,000,000 to start a colony in Cuba.

Miss Gould gave an itemized list of a week's requests recently to Franz Kaltenborn, the orchestra leader at St. Nicholas garden. A movement is on foot among the music lovers of this city to make Mr. Kaltenborn's orchestral music a permanent feature in New York. For this subscriptions from wealthy persons would be necessary. Miss Gould was one of those consulted. She encouraged Mr. Kaltenborn, but incidentally cites the fact that this was not the only thing she was asked to encourage. Then she gave him the list.

Four brides within a week have asked Miss Gould to contribute $2000 toward their trousseau.

Thirteen wanted treatment for cancer, morphine, alcoholism, etc. One wanted to be sent free to Eu-

One wished to sell a quilt. One asked for money to get a prisoner released.

Another wanted to take goods from storage.

One wished to buy music. Still another needed help to remove a watch from pawn. There were 10 requests to aid church fairs, 231 for money, 34 for old clothes, 3 for watches and 14 for schol-

Eleven persons wanted pianos, and 12 wanted Miss Gould to buy their inventions. One person wrote a long letter offering to give her the last chance to buy a ring for $1200 which was worth four times that much, if a cent, A girl wanted to sell her a brooch for $500, and still another said she had a lovely Sevres vase which Miss Gould, "bein' it was her," might have for $500. A son filled with filial love wanted to erect a monument to his father. He suggested that Miss Gould contribute $50 toward that worthy end. An opera, one writer declared, was unsung because Miss Gould would not back its production. One oratorio was in a similar fix. One person needed an electroplate; another cards, and still another yearned for a farm and three cows. Please help open a photograph gallery, was the idea of one poor soul; while another needed a horse and cart to peddle with, and yet another must have money to print 2000 hymnals. A clergyman asked for a horse and buggy.

Miss Gould was asked to furnish a house ,so that a girl could marry at once. One fellow asked for a job getting up railroad time-tables, which would really show what time the trains start and what time they actually get away. Miss Gould received in the week 126 personal letters, 25 marked copies of newspapers, two almanacs, six books, 31 catalogues and sight magazines.

NEGRO ENTRANCES HER

Pretty Austrian Girl Just Suited With Ebony Man.

Allentown, Pa., June 17.-Among a crowd of immigrants which stopped off at the Jersey Central depot was a pretty Austrian girl.

They had to wait several hours for a change of trains. In the meantime the girl espied a colored man sitting on a baggage truck. She had never seen a negro, and she immediately became infatuated with him. She openly commenced to make love to him, and her friends had a hard time placing her aboard the train when it arrived. The negro seemed glad to

SUFFOCATED IN SAND PIT

Two Boys Buried Alive and the Third Rescued.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 15 .- Evan Jermyn, aged 8, and his brother, aged 9. children of David Jermyn, of Plymouth, were suffocated in a sand pit at that place. The two boys, together with Willam Cummings, another youngster, were playing in the pit when several tons of loosened sand fell on them. The Cummings boy was not entirely buried and he was rescued, but the other two youngsters were beneath the sand haif and hour, and life was extinct when they were extricated.

Ground to Pieces on Rallroad. Lancaster, Pa., June 14.-Portions of a man's body were found scattered along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks for a distance of 100 feet at Gap. When the Philadelphia accommodation arrived at Christiana it was found the brakes were not working properly, and an investigation disclosed portions of a man's body and clothing wedged in the rigging. Papers found on the body bore the name of B. J. Quinn, Richmond, Va.

Killed Chlidren With Whisky. New York, June 17 .- Alcoholism was given as the cause of death of three children of an immigrant family arriving on the Cretic. It was said their mother, in ignorance, gave them too much whisky when they became ill on the voyage

When Benjamin Franklin wrote "A penny saved is a penny earned," he did not mean a penny skimped for our daily living or from our necess. ties. That is not "a penny saved" in the best sense. It is a penny stolen from yourself. A penny saved is a penny rescued from waste. An hour taken from needed sleep is not an hour saved, but an hour stolen. An hour taken from idle gossip and turned to some good account-that is an hour saved. And it is the same way with our money and our products. There is no economy in self denial. It is the duty of every man and woman to live the fullest and best life possible, to get the most they can out of life, to nourish the body and mind and soul and to develop them to the highest possible degree. This cannot be done by skimping. Economy is necessary, but we must not mistake what econmy is. We must save the wastes, stop the leaks; but, having saved, we must put our savings to some good use, else we are like the miser with his gold-a detriment to society instead of a good .- Exchange. The London Police Whistle.

What is the most powerful weapon a man can carry against the possible dangers of nocturnal London? For general utility and for special emergencies you cannot-at least such is one night rambler's experience-beat the ordinary police whistle. In addition to its services as a cab caller-one for a growler, two for a hansom-there are times, happily extremely rare, when it may prove a tower of strength. One such occasion the writer can recall. About two hours after midnight in a quiet byway. An agitated elderly gentleman at an open door, which he is afraid to enter. The lock has been forced, and within may be-burglars! Have you seen a policeman? No. But three blasts on the whistle and the deserted pavement swarms with them. From every corner one arrives, and the house is surrounded. The home going citizen knows not by what forces he is encompassed till he sounds that whistle in his or some one else's emergency.-London Standard.

When the Snuffbox Went Round. A curious characteristic of the earlier days of club life was the almost universal practice of snuff taking and its very slow replacement by the use of tobacco. It was part of a gentleman's education to manipulate a snuffbox elegantly, and the possession of a number of costly specimens of these receptacles was indispensable, explaining why snuffboxes of every variety in gold, silver, enameled and jewel incrusted, are nowadays so largely found among the curiosities of the collector. There were snuffboxes kept full in every room in the clubhouse, and the frequent call for it by an irritable old member was one of the hits in Bulwer Lytton's play "Money." The supply of snuff was made gratis to members. The cost amounted to £20 or £30 a year, and as the indulgence in tobacco in this form gradually gave way to that of smoking the expenditure was thought unnecessary .- Fortnightly Review.

Children of Old Egypt.

Children are much the same all over the world in their love of games and play-hings. And what is still stranger is the fact that they loved these thousands of years ago, just as they do today.

They possessed dolls, made of wood; and, like those of the present time, they differed a good deal in their make.

Egyptian children, ages ago, amused themselves by working figures of men and animals moved by strings. One of these animals moved by strings. One of these was a funny little figure of a man bending over a sloping table with a lump of something, probably dough, between his hands. His arms and legs were jointed, and by the pulling of a string he was made to roll the dough along the table.

Among the animals they copied in their toys were the crocodile and the cat. Very often they made the lower jaw of the animal hang loose upon hinges, and they fast-

Egyptian children played with balls, as, indeed, the grown-up people did, too. The Egyptians loved painting, and covered the walls of their places with pictures of their daily life. These are still to be seen, clear and bright, as if they were painted only a little while ago. Some of these pictures show us men and women playing with balls; so we know that playing at ball was balls; so we know that playing at ball was

There are a great many medicines which will act on the bowels and liver with satisfactory results for the time being. Those who buy and use such medicines, without caring for more than immediate results are very apt to find themselves at last the victims of a medicine which has broken down their strength. In the use of laxatives, the future benefit should be taken into consideration. The excellent laxative qualities of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, are the more appreciated because their effects are curative. They don't make victims of the pill habit.
