ewlin's Stepfather Makes a Partial Confession.

West Chester, Pa., June 25.-Irwin Lewis, stepfather of 5-year-old Mary Newlin, whose body was found buried in a pit in the barnyard at her home, near here, on Friday, was committed to prison, following an inquest in the case, on a formal charge of murder. Before the inquest Lewis made a partial confession to District Attorney MacElree, in which he said that the child fell from the top of a wagon shed and was killed. He said he saw her fall and when he went to pick her up she was dead. He feared he might be accused of killing her and he tied a burlap bag over her head, fastened a cord about her neck and buried her in the pit in the barnyard, where he covered the body over with refuse.

At the inquest, which was held at Avondale, a small village near the Lewis home, U. S. Gifford, the coroner's physician, who made a post mortem examination of the body, testified that death was caused by suffocation or asphyxiation, and there was nothing in the condition of the body to show that the child had sustained such injuries as to cause death. District Attorney MacElree then repeated the partial confession of Lewis, and the jury returned a verdict that the child came to her death at the hands of Irwin Lewis. Mr. MacElree testified as follows: "On the Friday evening of the finding of the body I questioned Lewis for hours. At 10 o'clock I said to him: 'Now, Lewis, I'm going to go. I'll give you one last chance. I can't promise you anything.' "Then he told me that when he went home to feed the chickens at 5 o'clock in the afternoon he saw little Mary on the second floor of the wagon shed. She fell off, he said, and when he ran over to her she was dead. "He then admitted burying her and ended by saying: 'My God, what would my wife and mother and sister think of what I've said?' "'The case is pretty bad against me, isn't it?' I said: 'Yes, Lewis, it is pretty bad.'

"I secured the admission from Lewis that he buried the body when ! convinced him that I had a witness who had seen him hoe the refuse over the shallow grave. He then told me that he had buried the little girl, but tried to make me believe that her death had been accidental, insisting that he had not murdered her."

Immediately after the inquest Lewis was taken before Justice of the Peace Lipp, where a formal case was made out against the accused, and he wa committed to prison, being brought

The condition of the body when found and the testimony of the coroner's physician leave little room for doubt, according to the district attorney, that the child was buried alive and was smothered in the grave.

CONFESSES IN TERROR

Prisoner Tells Officials He Murdered

Girl Who Rejected Him. Pottsville, Pa., June 22.—Stricken with fear by a bolt of lightning which struck in the yard of the county prison here, Charles Wawsen, of Shenandoah, arrested on the charge of killing his girl sweetheart of 16 years, cowered in his cell pleading for mercy, and when taken to the prison office confessed to the officials that he had shot the girl because she had refused his suit. He also confessed that $400 had been hidden by him, and that his story of being robbed of $800 was untrue. Wawsen has been shamming insanity since his arrest, and his case had been postponed until September for the purpose of endeavoring to effect a cure. He is acting perfectly sane, but is in terror of being hung for his crime.

Scranton, Pa., June 24.-While William Baton and his 4-year-old son, of Duryea, were walking along the main street of Duryea, near here, an arc light fell from a bracket just as they were passing under it. Baton was holding the hand of his son at the time and he put up the other to ward off the blow. His hand came into contact with a live wire, and the current of 2300 volts passed through his body to that of the son. Both fell unconscious to the ground and the child died with in 20 minutes.

Rev. Carpenter and Rev. Fischer Are Reconciled to Their Wives.

Dover, Del., June 25.-After an absence of several weeks, in which the excitement to a great extent had subsided over his having written a letter intended for a young lady, a member of the Holiness church, but by mistake sent to the recorder of deeds here Rev. Carpenter returned to his former charge at Harrington, and to an unusually large audience, made public confession of his wrongdoing and asked the forgiveness of his con gregation, impressing on them that he was truly penitent and intended from this time on to lead a different life, and, if desirable to them, to return as pastor of the flock.

There were no words of condemna tion for Rev. Carpenter, but on the other hand he was received with a warm welcome and assurances of confidence in his sincerity as a reformed

Many a woman has to lie down several times a day because she "feels faint" or has a "spell of dizziness." Perhaps she tries to "do something" for her trouble. Dizziness is in the head, and the head is treated. The faintness seems to be caused by the heart and the heart is attended to. But the condition grows no better.
