While Edward Cramer was taking his traction threshing outfit through an alley in State College borough one day last week he got too close to a telegraph pole with the result that a steam valve was torn off the engine. The escaping steam made quite a racket but the fires were pulled and repairs made without anybody being injured.

Messrs. Atherton, Barnes, Passmore and Rowland, of Phillipsburg, are behind the movement to build a fifty thousand dollar opera house in that place. As now planned the building will be 66x100 feet in size, will be built of buff brick and equipped throughout in the most up-to-date manner. It will be designed to have a seating capacity of from nine hundred to one thousand people.

On Sunday afternoon a special freight train over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania met with a slight wreck at the junction of the Nittany Valley railroad. The train was coming toward Bellefonte at a moderate rate of speed and when near the junction the rails spread. One car was derailed and another one had one truck off the tracks when the train was stopped. Nothing was broken and it did not take very long to replace the cars on the tracks and repair the damage to the road.

Reynolds Shope, the lumberman, recently purchased a tract of timber land in the foothills of the Allegheny mountains about two miles north of Curtin, on which there is a good growth of white pine and oak. During the summer Mr. Shope has been operating on a tract in the lower end of Nittany valley but now has the timber at that place practically all cut into marketable lumber and in the near future he will move his mill from Nittany valley to the tract in Bald Eagle, where he will operate during the winter.

Just when the corn and potatoes were beginning to show the effect of the long drought and garden truck and other vegetation were looking quite dried up Jupiter Pluvius very considerably got busy last Friday and during that day as well as on Saturday enough rain fell to help the corn and potatoes considerably as well as freshen things up generally. Now if we only get rain about once a week the scare-heads who have been predicting the destruction of the corn and potato crops on account of the drought may be compelled to pull in their horns in the same way those did who said the hay crop would be very small.

It has been decided to hold the Kreider (variously spelled Kridner, Kryder, Crider, Cryder, etc.) family reunion in Funk's Grove, at Warriorsmark, on Thursday, September 5th, 1907. Rev. Isaac Kreider, an old Centre county but now of Dunansville, Pa., after years of research, has succeeded in tracing the family from Lebanon county back through Germany to Switzerland, the early home of their ancestors. Rev. Kreider is, undoubtedly, better acquainted with the early history of the family than any other member. He is now in the east looking up old records and obtaining information that will enable him to give the most complete history of the family ever given. He will be present and you cannot afford to miss what he will have to say at that time.

When Mrs. Margaret Howell Jefferson Davis Hayes, of Colorado Springs, Col., daughter of the President of the Confederacy, learned that a member of the fighting Fifteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry, attending the reunion in Colorado Springs, had hung upon the walls of the Antlers hotel a copy of the old proclamation offering a reward of $300,000 for the arrest of her father and other Confederate leaders for alleged complicity in the assassination of President Lincoln, she immediately raised a protest to General William J. Palmer, the host of the reunion. Before her protest had been received, however, General Palmer had heard of the proclamation and ordered that it be taken down out of deference to Mrs. Hayes, who is the wife of J. A. Hayes, a banker, and prominent in Colorado Springs society.

VANVALIN.—Dr. Waldo C. VanValin, who spent most of his life at Unionville, this county, but about a year ago left with his family and a number of others to found a Free Methodist colony at Colville, in the State of Washington, died at his home in that place last Saturday as the result of a stroke of paralysis. He was sixty-eight years of age. During the years he spent in Unionville he became widely known not only in that place but throughout the Bald Eagle valley, and his services as a physician were constantly in demand. A number of years ago he became a member of the Free Methodist religious society and was so enthused with their doctrine that he left his home and friends to go to far off Washington to help establish their religion in that State.

He was married at Unionville thirty-seven years ago and is survived by his wife and the following children: Clyde, of Unionville, who is a dentist and has an office in this place; Forrest, Ralph, Arthur, Raymond and Miss Olive, at home. He also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Frank, of New Jersey; Oliver, of Johnsonburg; James, of Kansas; Willard, of Jeanette, and Mrs. Clara E. Elder, of Tyrone. The funeral occurred on Tuesday, the remains being buried at Colville.

EMERICK.—James Emerick, one of the oldest residents of Altoona, died at his home in that city at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening after a month's illness of senile debility. Deceased was born in Nittany valley, this county, in 1822, and was thus close to eighty-five years of age. He was a wagon-maker by occupation and after following his trade in this county for forty years moved to Altoona twenty-six years ago where he has lived ever since. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and is survived by his wife, six sons and two daughters, as follows: John, of Bellefonte; Thomas, of Pittsburg; William, George, James D. and Frank, of Altoona; Mrs. Eliza Walters, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Wm. Caltabangh, of Altoona. Funeral services were held at his late home in Altoona yesterday evening and this morning the remains will be brought to Bellefonte for interment.

RICHARDSON.—Members of the congregation of St. John's Episcopal church in this place were very much shocked last Saturday when they learned of the death and burial of Mrs. Hannah T. Richardson, mother of Rev. Edwin G. Richardson, of this place, and who was well known by most of the congregation during her several visits here. Her death occurred at Alexandria Bay, Va., and was the result of an attack of typhoid fever. She died on Wednesday of last week and the remains were buried in Baltimore on Friday. In addition to her son she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Lawrence B. Kemp, of Philadelphia.

MULHOLLAND.—Daniel B. Mulholland died at his home in Pine Glenn on Monday, August 19th, of general infirmities. He was born in Boggs township, October 16th, 1822, and was thus almost eighty-five years of age. When the Civil war broke out he was one of the first to answer the call of his country and as a member of company E he served all through that fearful struggle. He is survived by three sisters, one half sister and one half brother. The funeral was held on August 22nd, interment being made in the Advent cemetery.

TAYLOR.—Mrs. Margaret Taylor, wife of W. A. Taylor, of Birmingham, died on Thursday evening of last week of stomach trouble after an illness of over two years. Deceased, whose maiden name was Margaret Roop, was born in Buffalo Run valley, this county, and was sixty-two years of age. She was a devout christian woman and had been a member of the Methodist church for fifty years. Surviving her are her husband and two sons. The remains were buried in the Birmingham cemetery last Saturday.

CRAWSHAW.—David, the eleven-year-old son of Emanuel Crawshaw, of Philadelphia, died on Sunday after only three days illness with typhoid fever. His mother died six years ago but in addition to his father he leaves one brother and a sister. The funeral was held at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

On Tuesday Edward Reasner, of Waddle, came to Bellefonte on his way out to a lumbering camp, on the Allegheny mountains and naturally stopped in town to take a look around. His looks were most frequently bestowed on the interior of the bar rooms and just a little before one o'clock he came out of the Bush house, got in his wagon and started over towards Thomas street. His team started to run and when they got across the railroad Reasner endeavored to turn them down toward the freight depot while the horses wanted to go straight up the street with the result that they straddled a telephone pole. The wagon tongue hit the pole, was broken and Reasner was thrown out between the horses but the only thing about him that was injured was a pint bottle which fell out of his pocket and was broken. He was afterward arrested and locked up but was released an hour or two later.

On Tuesday evening liverman Albert Thompson drove a crowd of twenty-five young men and women on a straw ride over Nittany mountain to the Krape home near Centre Hall. Of course they all had a good time and because of this had no regrets for the lateness of the hour of their arrival home, which was four o'clock Wednesday morning. Misses Emma and Mary Smith were hostesses of the party.

Miss Helen Ceder entertained the Tumble club on Tuesday afternoon and yesterday Miss Anna Shoitlidge entertained the club in honor of her guest, Miss Sterrett.

If you have a Democratic neighbor who is sick, or is a little negligent in such matters, or away from home, see to it that his name is upon the registry before the closing of the list on the 4th of September.

The various labor unions of Bellefonte will picnic at Hecla park next Monday, Labor day. A base ball game will be one of the principal features while a band has been engaged to furnish music for the day.

The Marion Supply company is the name of the new firm that has opened a grocery store in the room in the Brown building on Bishop street. Stanley Plachec and John Kohrvalz, formerly of Tyrone, are the proprietors.

The Centre county Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its convention in Phillipsburg this year on September 9th and 10th. One of the prominent speakers secured for the occasion will be Mrs. Oliver Pond Amies, state recording secretary and lecturer.

Sept. 4th. Do you ask why we point to that date? If you are not Registered on or before that day, you may lose your vote. It is the last day for this important matter. Democrats, attend to this.

NOW

C. K. Sober, of Lewisburg, who has a big forest of paragon chestnut trees on Irish mountain, is sending out notice to his customers that the indications are that his crop of chestnuts this year will be much larger than in any previous year. Only a few of these chestnuts were sold in Bellefonte last year as Mr. Sober shipped almost his entire crop to California where he received six dollars a bushel for them.

On Sunday Edward Harper was taken suddenly ill with appendicitis and so severe was the attack that it was necessary to take him to the hospital and perform an operation Monday afternoon. It was found that the disease had progressed to an alarming stage but the patient withstood the operation very well and his condition now is such that if no complications set in there are good hopes of his recovery.

W. E. Meehan, state fish commissioner, with his daughter, were Bellefonte visitors on Wednesday. Mr. Meehan came here to inspect the work at the Bellefonte fish hatchery where fourteen new concrete ponds are now being built and the old ones raised about a foot. Mr. Meehan stated that it is the intention to build at least sixty ponds at the Bellefonte hatchery, which will make it one of the largest fish breeding plants in the country.

Outside of the big Centre-Clinton counties business men's picnic that of the Tyrone business men's association at Hecla park yesterday was the biggest gathering of the season. It took two trains, or about twenty cars to transport the crowd from Tyrone to the park, and in addition to the Tyroneites quite a number were present from Bellefonte, Lock Haven and towns throughout Nittany valley. The committee in charge had prepared such an elaborate program of innocent amusements that there was not a dull ten minutes during the entire day. John D. Sonrbeck, of this place, furnished the refreshments and this was enough to assure everybody plenty to eat.

On Tuesday afternoon William Hampton, a young man employed at the Brand house, was in the Brown store room building where the new grocery has been opened up. In looking around he came across an empty gasoline can and without considering the consequences held a lighted match over it. The gas from the can caused quite an explosion, setting Hampton's clothes on fire and before the flames could be extinguished his face and arms were terribly burned. He was taken to the Bellefonte hospital where he is being given every attention possible. Two other young men who were standing nearby had their hair and eyebrows singed but luckily escaped serious injury.

On Monday evening Tony Torsell, the cobbler who mends shoes in his shop on west High street, started on his bicycle to go to his home at Colville. He was spinning along at a lively clip and when rounding the curve at the Thomas residence on Thomas street he ran into two Italian organ grinders. In addition to carrying their organs and a monkey the Italians were loaded with potatoes and lard and naturally there was a spill all around. Torsell went up in the air and flew about fifteen feet before he struck the ground while the Italians, monkey, organs, potatoes and lard were scattered around promiscuously. Fortunately neither of the men were hurt but they indulged in a lot of jests and talk that if it had been said in pure English would no doubt have produced a very blue atmosphere.

LYON FAMILY REUNION.—The third annual reunion of the Lyon family will be held in Schenck's grove, one mile east of Howard, on Thursday, September 5th. The program will include addresses by several prominent speakers, a base ball game and music by the Beech Creek drum corps. While the gathering will be a reunion of the Lyon family, the public in general is invited to attend. The officers of the association are as follows: President, John Schenck; vice president, Samuel Lyon; treasurer, William Lyon; secretary, John Lyon; assistant secretary, Harry Lyon.

BELLEFONTE ACADEMY OPENING.—The Bellefonte Academy will open for the Fall term on Wednesday, September 11th, at nine o'clock, with a large attendance of pupils and a well selected corps of experienced and successful teachers. The improvements recently made promise to make this the most pleasant and satisfactory year in the history of the Academy. The main building will be used by the students of the Academic and B. Intermediate departments, while the primary school will be conducted in the J. P. Hughes foundation hall, formerly known as the Beezer property, under the direction of Miss Helen E. Overton, assisted by Miss Jennie Harper, and perhaps another teacher yet to be selected.

The corps of teachers for the main building is as follows: Rev. Jas. P. Hughes, A. M., mathematics and bookkeeping; Jas. R. Hughes, A. M., Latin, Greek and oratory; Miss Helen E. Overton, primary work; Franklin T. Cole, B. S., mathematics; Miss Isabella S. Hill, Ph. B., English; Arthur H. Sloop, A. B., mathematics and science; Sherwood E. Hall, A. B., Latin and history; George L. Whiteford, B. S., civics, physical geography, mathematics and bookkeeping; Adolph B. Benson, B. S., French, German and Spanish; Rev. J. A. Allon Platts, Ph. D., bible lectures.

Students from the country and the county towns can secure special student rates on all the railroad lines, if they desire to attend the Academy. The school schedule is arranged to suit the railroad schedules.

THE GRANGE PICNIC.—In just two weeks from tomorrow the thirty-fourth annual encampment of the Grangers of Central Pennsylvania will be informally opened at Grange park, Centre Hall, and the committee in charge announce that preparations are being made to entertain one of the largest crowds in years. Another large building is being built for the exhibition of agricultural and horticultural products, and the entire arrangement of the camp will be so revolutionized that it will be hardly recognizable with that of former years. The announcement that cash premiums will be paid for every meritorious product of the farm, orchard, garden and vineyard is an innovation that ought to assure a very large line of exhibits.

The usual number of eminent speakers will be present every day during the week while the evening entertainments will surpass anything ever seen at the park. All railroads in Pennsylvania will sell excursion tickets to Centre Hall and return. Detailed information of the encampment can be had by addressing the chairman, Hon. Leonard Rhone, Centre Hall.

CAN'T VOTE.—Young men who voted on age last fall must be registered or they cannot vote in November. Others, who have paid a State or County tax within two years may be able to swear in their votes, if their names have been overlooked and are not upon the voting list, but the voter who cast his first ballot last year has no possible chance to do this. He has never paid a tax—his name will be upon no duplicate, consequently he cannot pay the necessary tax, that he is required to qualify by. By failing to register he practically and effectively disfranchises himself. Democrats should remember this and make it their business to know that the name of every young Democrat who voted on age in 1906, is upon the polling list of 1907. And this must be attended to before the evening of September 4th.

ONE DOLLAR EACH FOR NEWSPAPERS. Jerry Roan, of Benner township, must have felt as rich as Rockefeller last week, according to the following item in last Saturday's Philadelphia Press:

A dollar apiece was the price paid for newspapers by Jerry B. Roan, of Bellefonte, Pa., yesterday to the boys near the corner of Fifteenth street and South Penn Square. Roan came here yesterday to have a good time, and he was having it until Reserve Policeman Burnside put a stop to his antics and locked him up at the City Hall to sober up. Roan made his appearance at the corner mentioned about 3 o'clock. He would go into a saloon, get a drink, come out and buy a paper of the first newsboy he met, paying $1 for it. Then he would take a walk around the block, get another drink and buy another paper. When the policeman heard what was going on he went and put Roan under arrest so that he would not squander all his money. Roan did not know how much he had given away, but thought it was about $40. He still had $21 left, which will be enough to take him home.

HARRY RERICK BADLY HURT.—Harry Rerick, rural mail carrier for the Bellefonte postoffice, met with an accident on Tuesday afternoon in which he was so badly injured that he will be laid up for six weeks or two months. He was coming to Bellefonte from Colville about 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon and when near the Bellefonte Central railroad freight depot his horse frightened and ran away. Rerick attempted to stop the animal when it began kicking, and kicked itself loose from the buggy. Rerick was jerked out of the vehicle with such force that his leg was broken and he was badly cut and bruised about the body.

Dr. Hayes was telephoned for and went out in his automobile and took him to the Bellefonte hospital where the fractured bone was set and his other injuries properly attended to and at this writing he is resting as comfortably as possible.

An ice house should be so constructed as to have double wall (or air space) surrounding that portion above ground and the cost of such is but little compared with the protection afforded. There should also be double doors. It is not difficult to keep ice in a building above ground if the double walls are used and the ice securely packed.

The Union Sunday school picnic last week at the Sand springs along the shores of Penns creek, a short distance above town, was a very delightful and interesting occasion, largely attended and hugely enjoyed by every one present. The long table of over two hundred feet in length, and furnished with a wonderful profusion of nearly all the good things of earth presented a very inviting and beautiful sight. It was certainly a very elaborate and elegant dinner, to which all did ample justice. After dinner the children amused themselves with games and romping on the grass, while the older heads engaged in social conversation and discussing the latest fads in dress and hats. Early in the afternoon the weather became threatening and commenced with a slight sprinkling of rain, admonishing all to wend their way homeward previous to a possible heavy shower. In an hour the grounds were deserted, and the Union picnic was at an end.
