PRESIDENT AND CABINET THERE

Canton, O., Oct. 1.—The McKinley mausoleum, the tribute and gift of a nation to the memory of the martyred president, William McKinley, was dedicated, in the presence of hundreds of distinguished men from all parts of the United States, in the presence of representatives of foreign countries, and in the presence of a crowd of approximately 50,000, gathered from all parts of the country.

A feature of the dedication was the presence of the president of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt, Vice President Fairbanks, members of the president's cabinet, United States senators and governors of several states.

Addresses were delivered by President Roosevelt, Justice William R. Day, McKinley's secretary of state, and Governor Andrew L. Harris, of Ohio.

The president of the day was Governor Harris, who was introduced by Justice Day. The introduction of the president of the day was followed by an invocation by Rev. Dr. Frank M. Bristol, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Church, of Washington, D. C.

The opening address was then given by Justice Day. This was followed by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the grand army band, of Canton, the Canton Singers' club, and the entire assemblage.

Governor Harris then delivered an address, which was followed by the unveiling of the bronze statue of William McKinley, by Miss Helen McKinley, of Cleveland, the only sister of the late president.

James Whitcomb Riley read a poem composed for the occasion.

This was followed by the address of President Roosevelt.

The program was closed by the singing of "America" and benediction by Right Rev. Ignatius F. Horstman, bishop of Cleveland.

Immediately upon the close of the program, President Roosevelt and party visited the interior of the tomb.

This was followed by a visit by the invited guests, and then the general public was admitted. Thousands passed through the tomb.

This tomb, built at a cost of over $600,000, is the donation of over 1,000,000 Americans. It is intended as a memorial to William McKinley, a war president and soldier and first citizen who gave up his life in the execution of his duty.

The mausoleum contains the bodies of President McKinley, Mrs. McKinley and their only children, Ida and Mary, who died in infancy.

The President and Mrs. McKinley's bodies are in bronze caskets in the sarcophagi, while the bodies of the children are in caskets placed in niches in the wall of the tomb. The tomb is a work of simple art designed by H. Van Buren Magonigle, of New York, and it is situated on Monument Hill, a spot high and picturesque and close to his old home in this city.

RECORD YEAR FOR TOMATOES

Lewes, Del., Sept. 30.—Never before in the history of lower Delaware have there been so many tomatoes grown as this year's crop. The canneries have been tremendously overtaxed, and many canners have found it necessary to resort to various ruses to keep the farmers from hauling in the fruit. Farmers who made contracts early in the season have the advantage over their neighbors who took chances on the open market, as there is no sale for uncontracted fruits. They take comfort in the fact that the tomato is a most excellent fertilizer, and do not entirely regret having to leave thousands of tons to rot in the fields.

Death For Two at Crossing.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 30.—Mrs. H. G. Munsell and Mrs. Henry Holmes, both of Springfield, Mass., here to attend the Millennial Dawn Tract Society convention, were killed on Main street by a Norfolk & Western railroad shifting train. The police had to interfere to prevent Mrs. Holmes' husband jumping into the dock.

Suicide Asked Forgiveness.

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 30.—Writing a note to his sons, in which he implored their forgiveness before taking the fatal draught, Charles Dry, about 55 years old, committed suicide by swallowing two ounces of carbolic acid in a lively stable here. His body was discovered in a hay loft a few hours later.

STEEL SAFE MISSING

Contained Records of Liquidating Trustees of Oil Trust.

New York, Sept. 28.—Frank B. Kellogg, conducting the suit of the United States for the dissolution of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, made another hunt in the hearing of the oil case to discover a trail that would lead to the finding of the long-sought books of the Standard Oil trustees and liquidating trustees. When the hearing was concluded, Mr. Kellogg said that he was closer to the books, from which he hopes to prove that the oil combine never underwent a legal dissolution, than he had been at any time since the government's action was commenced.

Charles White, the assistant secretary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, said on the witness stand that when he went to the secretary's office to assume his new duties there were two steel safes in the office. One of them contained the books and records of the Standard company, the witness said; what was in the other safe he did not know. Mr. White said that no one told him the nature of the contents of the second safe, which was removed two weeks after he had been there. From whom the order came or where it was taken to, the witness said he could not answer. Mr. White said that he had never seen the records of the Standard Oil trustees or the liquidating trustees showing the various transfers of stock in the trust and liquidating period. Mr. White said he had hunted for the records recently, but was unable to find them.

NOT A CANDIDATE

Governor Stuart Not in Race For United States Senator.

Harrisburg, Oct. 1.—Governor Stuart issued the following statement: "In response to recent articles that appeared in the Public Ledger, I desire to say that I am not and will not be a candidate for the office of United States senator, nor will I permit the use of my name in any manner whatsoever for that or any other public office. Those who voted for me expected that if elected I would serve my term as governor, and if my health is spared that is what I shall do. This decision is irrevocable. My friends will respect my wishes and others must."

MRS. ROOT FOR CANTEEN

Urges Congressman to Vote For Its Establishment in Army.

St. Louis, Sept. 28.—When Secretary of State Root and Mrs. Root and their daughters passed through here en route to Mexico, Mrs. Root, in a brief statement, declared herself emphatically in favor of the re-establishment of the army canteen. Addressing herself particularly to Congressman Henry S. Canfield, of St. Louis, who, with others, made a brief call in Secretary Root's private car, she urged him to vote for the re-establishment of the canteen in the army, and advised him not to be deterred from that purpose by possible protests from the wives of constituents.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Brother and Sister Accused of Slaying Wealthy Uncle.

Newcastle, Pa., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Alice Reebie and her brother, Charles Wellendorf, were arrested at Edenburg, near here, charged with the murder of their uncle, Ernest Bauman, who was found near his home shot through the head. The arrests caused surprise.

The week following Bauman's death Mrs. Reebie and Wellendorf were taken into custody, charged with conspiracy to murder, but were released under $5000 bail each. Bauman was worth about $15,000, and Mrs. Reebie was his sole heir.

Right On.

Wisejey—It must be a great pleasure to tell a joke to an acrobat. Soft-bo—Why? Wisejey—Because he tumbles so easily. —Morristown (Pa.) Times.

Not Envious of Success.

From the Pittsburg Post.

The real indictment against the Standard Oil company, and one to which it has already pleaded guilty in its admissions at the recent court hearings, as well as by its stock and dividend showings, is that of inordinate and excessive profits. For the last twenty years the country has been amazed at the growth of certain fortunes and the accretions which have come to certain financial interests and combinations. Economists have risen in the land to proclaim that no man can make as much money as a thousand or more of the country's richest are doing, and get it rightfully.

Their case has been pretty well proved by the inquiry into the fortunes derived from railroad and trust activities, and in the exploitation of public utilities and public resources in lands, mines and forests. Our commercial progress has been so fast that it has found many things not unlawful which, clearly judged by the standards of general welfare, are not right. It is unjust to the masses of our people to say that this present harrying of Standard Oil interests is due to mere envy of the Rockefeller wealth and success. This is wholly untrue. It is due to the instinct of self-preservation. The more these greedy, lawless money kings get the more they seem to want.

Standard Oil now reaches out into a score of other commercial interests to which it brings not only the relentless spirit and effective methods of the original enterprise, but a momentum of capital against which nothing can stand unless the aggressor be restrained.

CLAIM OF $123.46 FOR SALE! DO YOU WANT IT? This office offers to the highest bidder an unpaid balance against the estate of the late Governor D. H. HASTINGS, amounting to ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SIX DOLLARS and thirty-three cents, less $12.87, for which judgment has been obtained. The claim is an honest and undisputed account for advertising, job work and subscription to this paper. There are no allegations that any of the items are over-charged, nor is there any plea that the work was not ordered done, or not done. So that every charge in the entire account will be guaranteed correct. It is due, however, to those who may be inclined to become bidders, that they should know that while the justice and correctness of this claim is admitted and the estate alleged to be worth any amount from a quarter to a half-million of dollars, yet the administrators—who are also its heirs and beneficiaries,—have refused payment, simply because they could plead the limitation and thus avoid the payment of an honest debt. The above amount may not be worth much as a cash asset, it may be of some value, perchance, as a reminder that there are others than the ordinary "dead beat" and "debt jumpers," who seek the technicalities of the law to save the payment of just obligations. No bond will be asked from bidders. Any "old thing," will be considered good when compared with a wealthy estate that won't pay a just debt. Address, WATCHMAN, Bellefonte, Pa. 52-29-1f

BALTIMORE OLD HOME WEEK.

Maryland is sending invitations to her sons and daughters scattered everywhere to come to a grand reunion, and is making extensive preparations to give them when they come, a week of right royal entertainment.

New Baltimore, sprung Phoenix-like from the ashes of the fire of 1904, will make of Old Home Week, October 13 to 19, one continual round of patriotic and civic display.

There will be an electrical pageant, a magnificent military and naval display, a gathering of patriotic societies, a parade and ball by the fraternal orders, a big concert, and a night carnival.

There will be also a special pilgrimage to Annapolis on "Peggy Stewart Day," Saturday, October 19, when visitors will have an opportunity to inspect the magnificent new buildings of the United States Naval Academy and the remodeled State House, so full of historic associations.

The Homecomers will have the advantage of specially low railroad rates. The Pennsylvania Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Baltimore, October 12 to 14, good for return passage until October 21, inclusive, from all stations on its lines north and east of Shrewsbury, Principio, and Port Deposit, at a considerable reduction from the regular fare.

Every former Marylander, whose address is known will receive a special invitation, issued by Governor Warfield, and the whole week will thrill with the hospitality for which the Old Line State is so famous.
