A WEEK'S NEWS CONDENSED Unique Exhibit by State of Pennsylvania at Jamestown Exposition.

Fleeting centuries are as but a day in the all absorbing corner of the Education building at the Jamestown exposition, wherein is displayed the magnificent exhibit of the Commercial museum of Philadelphia, under the auspices of the Pennsylvania state commission. There one may in imagination barter with the Phoenicians of 500 years before Christ in the commercial exchange of pearls, gold dust, tin, alabaster, malachite, figs, dates, almonds, fine linen, myrrh, sandalwood, dragon blood, olive and palm ofl and slaves, samples of each of these and many other articles of Phoenician commerce being on exhibition in this section, the slaves being represented by miniature figures, and it is noticeable that their color was not always black.

Thus the commerce of the passing centuries passes in review, and to the limited articles of trade of the Phoenicians are added in the early centuries of the Christian era such things as silk, hog bristles, cork, lemons and oranges, tea, rice, beads, etc. There the Romans appear as the bright and shining stars in the commercial world, the Phoenicians and Egyptians having given way to the sway of the Caesars. With the Romans came such articles of commerce as salt, wrought iron, brass, sheepskin, ivory, camels' hair, raisins, pongee silk, aloes, oak galls, honey, figs, spikenard and dates. The exhibit of articles representing the trade of nations, interesting in the extreme though it is, would not be complete without the accompanying exhibit, showing by photographic representation and model the various methods or means of transportation of commerce past and present. Upon the walls of the section allotted to this exhibit are hung representations of the handcarts of Japan, the laden ponies of Asia Minor, the yak wagons of dromedaries of Siam, the camels of Egypt, the dogs and reindeer of Alaska and Siberia, the llamas of the Anof other equally interesting and unique representations of commercial ways and means. Then there are reproductions of fast flying freight trains of different nations and models of water craft used in commerce from ancient to modern times. These models are in themselves worthy of hours of study. There are Venetian galleys, Arabian dhows, the drakers of the Norsemen, Egyptian punts. Carthaginian galleys. Malay proas, Bolivian balsas, Japanese junks Phoenician galleys, Babylonian sea horses, Egyptian triremes, Spanish galleons and caravels, Italian nef, Dutch galleots, Polynesian sea camels, New Caledonia prahu and American clip pers. The exhibit is one of comparison and contrast, a grand lesson in the study of commerce and commercia relations, the whole giving a vivid im pression of the mutual interdependence of nations of the present day.

THE U. OF P. EXHIBIT.

Pennsylvania's Great College Wel Represented at Jamestown.

Guarded by two bronze wrestlers and artistically decorated with the col lege colors, the exhibit of the Univer sity of Pennsylvania in the Education building at the Jamestown exposition is one of the most complete in the di vision.

The exhibit occupies one entire cor ner of the building. Along one side are heavy bookcases containing speci men volumes from the university ii brary.

On top of the cases are numer ous busts and bronze figures, many of priceless value, while on the wall above is a very fine collection of maps charts and pictures illustrative of the work of the institution.

High up on the wall on a little shell is a massive bust of Benjamin Frank lin, founder of the university. On one of the bookcases there are two bronze figures modeled after statues found in the ruins of Herculaneum, which was destroyed by Vesuvius.

What has proved of great interest is a model of the first college buildings, plain and crude, constructed in the early days of the institution. In contrast with these buildings are shown pictures of the magnificent equipment of the present day, which is equal to that of any like university in the country.

WE KILLED A POLICEMAN

Cumberland, Md., Oct. 7 .- The first lynching in the history of Cumberland, which occurred Sunday morning, has been the topic of discussion, though scarcely of condemnation.

The shooting of Policeman August Baker, on Thursday night, by William Burns, a negro desperado, while the latter was resisting arrest, created a great deal of excitement, owing to the excellent reputation of the officer and his well known kindly disposition. His death on Saturday morning was followed' by threats against the negro, these coming as much from those of his own race as from the whites. Few, however, thought a lynching possible, and the police paid no attention to the rumors that were affoat. Only Deputy Sheriff Adam Hendley was at the jail when a crowd of less than a hundred men, a few of whom were disguised in one way or another, appeared and demanded the keys. These being refused, a telegraph pole was used as a battering ram and entrance to the building was forced. Other negroes, in neighboring cells, were careful to guide the lynchers to that of Burns', and here again the battering ram was used. The lynchers found their victim crouching behind his cot, and, seizing him by the feet, dragged him up and down stairs and into the kicked and shot to death. Rev. W. Cleveland Hicks, an Episcopal clergyman, did his best to save the negro and afterward protected his body until the arrival upon the scene of Judge A. Hunter Boyd and the police. Judge Boyd called the crowd to disperse, and in this was promptly obeyed. The body was removed to an undertaking stablishment, and 10,000 persons are estimated to have viewed

Georgia and her Hypocrisy.

Undoubtedly one of the most miserable shams in the history of State legislation has recently been accomplished by Geor-

Great stress has been laid upon the fact and it is clothed with importance, since it tends to show the emotional signs of the times that Georgia has jumped from local option to Prohibition. Now by law liquor cannot be made, or sold, or given away, and even the drug stores are prohibited from supplying to the sick or the dying any stimulant with the exception of pure alcohol. If a physician finds that champagne, now so frequently used in the sick room and in hospitals, or braudy is neces-sary the law demands that the patient shall die rather than liquor prescription shall be filled at the drug store.

The crafty politicians who are riding into power and graft on the top wave of this prohibition sentiment in the South in their zeal even struck at the religion of our Lord and Saviour, since the law forbids the ad-ministration of wine in churches in conection with the holy sacrament.

But how came Georgia to enact such a sweeping interdict? There is always one side to a story and this one has two. To pass prohibition it had to be based upon street, where, within a few yards of ed one day by a vote of ten to one, and mark you the very next day the legislature passed an act disfranchising the negro. Here was a questionable political deal and a bargain that was manipulated and accomplished by the politicians both within and without the church.

Now mark again the subsequent action of this same Georgia Legislature. Within a week following its bysterical adoption o prohibition by a vote entirely unanimous it passed a club act taxing every social olub which dispenses liquors to its mem-hers three hundred dollars.

And the politicians now smile while the deceived clergyman and his church member who were used in the dram to rob the negro of his vote are measuring the breadth and the depth of their bunco. But the hotels do not smile, nor does the farmer who all his life has been making his own peach brandy which he drinks with the addition of a drop of honey.

Upon the first of January, 1908, the bar of every hotel must be closed—even the rooms as to liquors, the drug stores save as

But around the corner, or at the next cross-road will be the club. Home life next year will not be known to Georgia, in so far as the men are cancerned, and it will soon reach the club life of the wom-

How easy to form a club. Rent a room charge each member fifty cents for his key. He takes in his friends, pays for the drinks, and afterwards livides the expense. This is not gentlemanly, but it is the pace set by hypoorisy.

Every "wet" member of the Legislature voted for the $300.00 club tax hill; every "dry" member did likewise. Why? Because they thought the negroes could not form clube and pay a tax of $300.00. But we shall see! In Georgia since 1865 they have advanced more than the white race, hence the jealousy, the persecution, a State's hypoe-

"Puck" recently published a fine cartoon on its front page. It was the fat man of Georgia, raised on his liquor, drinking to the lean man from Maine. Georgia was imbibing from a bottle marked "Lemon Phosphate,"—the man from Maine, tall, lean and lank, was imbibing from a bottle marked "Cold Tea." And thus by pocrisy, through the laws assailing personal liberty, extends from Maine to Georgia

It is due, however, to those who may be inclined to become bidders, that they should know that while the justness and correctness of this claim is admitted and the estate alleged to be worth any smount from a quarter to a half-million of dollars: yet the administrators—who are also its heirs and beneficiaries,—have refused payment, simply because they could plead the limitation and thus avoid the payment of an honest debt.

The above amount may not be worth much as a cash asset. It may be of some value, perchance, as a reminder that there are others than the ordinary "dead beat" and "debt jumpers," who seek the technicalities of the law to save the payment of just obligations.

No bond will be asked from bidders. Any "old thing," will be considered good when comparred with a wealthy estate that wont pay a just debt.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD BULLETIN.

BALTIMORE OLD HOME WEEK.

Maryland is sending invitations to her sons and daughters scattered everywhere to come to a grand reunion, and is making extensive preparations to give them when they come, a week of right royal entertainment.

New Baltimore, sprung Phoenix-like from the ashes of the fire of 1904, will make of Old Home Week, October 13 to 19, one continual round of patriotic and civic display.

There will be an electrical pageant, a magnificent military and naval display, a gathering of patriotic societies, a parade and ball by the fraternal orders, a big concert, and a night carnival.

There will be also a special pilgrimage to Annapolis on "Peggy Stewart Day," Saturday, October 19, when visstors will have an opportunity to inspect the magnificent new buildings of the United States Naval Academy and the remodeled State House, so full of historic associations.

The Homecomers will have the advantage of specially low railroad rates. The Pennsylvania Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Baltimore, October 12 to 14, good for return passage until October 21, inclusive, from all stations on its lines north and east of Shrewsbury, Principio, and Port Deposit, at a considerable reduction from the regular fare.

Every former Marylander, whose address is known will receive a special invitation, issued by Governor Warfield, and the whole week will thrill with the hospitality for which the Old Line State is so
